Assistant Stage Manager: Baakari Wilder

THROUGH THE DISTANCE
Choreography: Vannia Ibarguen
Costume Design: Stephanie Shaw
Video by: Vannia Ibarguen and Betty Skeen

Through the Distance was born as an idea based on the last seven years of my life after living in four different cities and visiting more than 12 different countries. Through this journey, I have made amazing friends and seen extraordinary places but the hardest part was always to leave them behind. I would love being able to bring them with me, to have close to me all the people who I care about the most. Pack them and check them at the airport? Probably not an option.

Technology offered me a way to stay in touch with those people and those places, but it has been always limited. When will technology allow me to bring them with me? When will I be able to go to them whenever I want disregarding where I am?

SECTION ONE “Doubt”
Why separate miles from your friends and family? Why migrate? Why change? It is challenging to leave your place and go to another. A decision must be made. Some sort of sacrifice is necessary. Hopefully a rewarding experience is awaiting you wherever you are going.

Music: “When Angel Died” by Pauchi Sasaki
Performance by: Vannia Ibarguen

SECTION TWO “Migration”
Communities and groups break up and sometimes they never join again. One by one, everybody leaves saying good bye, leaving the place empty.

Music: “Oso II” by Pauchi Sasaki and “La Vie Quotidienne” by Yann Thiersen
Performance by: Christina Jackson, Molly Kirkup, Kathryn Lerner, Noelle Ribsam, Emily Schwarz, Kristen Vlacancich

SECTION THREE “Departing”
Once decided, it is time to pack your things, your feelings and your dreams. You will need them all where you are going.

Music: “Wayno y Harawi” by Shin Sasakubo
Sound Editing by: Eduardo Vargas
Performance by: Vannia Ibarguen

BIRDS OF A FEATHER, SECTION I: NESTLING
Choreography: April Gruber
Japanese Fan Dance: Saki Kawakita
Performance by: Alexandra Daniello, Jessica Goldberg, April Gruber, Saki Kawakita, Lauren Knudsen and Rachel Jordan Wolfe
Music: Satomi Saeki, Alcvin Takegawa Ramos, Radiohead, Andrew Bird, Barbara Bonney and Daniel Bernard Roumain

The traditional Japanese fan dance, Takasago, featured in this piece tells the story of the red crowned cranes’ annual migration from the Japanese city of the same name.

INTERMISSION

BIRDS OF A FEATHER, SECTION II: DREAMS OF FLIGHT
Choreography and Video: Dawn Springer
Performance by: April Gruber
Music: “I am a Cinematographer” by Palace Brothers. Performed by Karinne Keithley with Josh Keithley.
SECTION FOUR “Mentiras”
Fight between two girls because of love, jealousy and insecurity. Distance creates misunderstandings, lack of communication. The body language is missed. How well you can hate at the distance?

Music: “El Angel” by Astor Piazolla
Performance by: Kathryn Lerner and Emily Schwarz

SECTION FIVE “Through the Distance”
Distance creates absence of physical contact. You can bring yourself and the beloved one to a common space, to see him, hear her, but you cannot touch, smell or taste through technology. At least not yet.

Music: “Legions” by Zoe Keating
Performance by: Vannia Ibarguen
Live performance via Skype by: Antonio Ayesta from Magdeburg, Germany

SECTION SIX “Virtual Closeness”
What if, through the distance, you are able to see people from other places, look at them in the eyes and interact with them? What if technology brings your friends to you even if they are far away?

Music: “La Quebrada” by Pauchi Sasaki
Performance by: Christina Jackson, Molly Kirkup, Kathryn Lerner, Noelle Ribsam, Emily Schwarz, Kristen Vlacancich
Video performance by: Adriana Arrunategui and Elizabeth Munoz from Lima, Peru. Lauren Cosentino, Sara Loder and Megan Schaffer from Long Beach, California

EPILOGUE
The future. Will technology really defeat the distance? Will people be able to meet each other through the distance?

Performance by: Christina Jackson, Molly Kirkup, Vannia Ibarguen, Kathryn Lerner, Noelle Ribsam, Danilo Rivera, Emily Schwarz, Kristen Vlacancich

Join us for a post-performance Talk Back with the artists.

April Gruber would like to extend her heartfelt thanks...

To Mom and Dad for your unconditional love and support. There will never be words to fully express my awe and gratitude for all you did to make me the woman I am today. You taught me how to work hard and follow my dreams — this moment is possible because of you. You are simply amazing and I am so honored to be your daughter. I love you more than you will ever know.

To Alyssa, my little sister, whose childhood shyness caused Mom to enroll you into dance classes. I vividly remember attending your first performance and realizing that’s what I want to do! Thank you for allowing me to follow your lead. I love you and am so proud to share this passion with you.

To my dancers — for your hard work, commitment and contributions throughout this process.

To Dawn Springer and Saki Kawakita for taking this leap of faith with me. Your gift of movement and dedication to this project leaves me speechless. I am honored.

To my thesis committee: Anne Warren, Sharon Mansur, Paul Jackson and Dawn Springer for your thoughtful guidance and encouragement.

To all my family and friends — Each of you are in my heart throughout this performance and always. Thank you for your unending love and support.

Vannia Ibarguen would like to extend sincere thanks...

To Eduardo, for his love and support in every single aspect of my life.

To Maya, my beautiful 11-month-old daughter, whose smile is all I needed in times of despair! To her, for being the light Eduardo and I needed in our life.

To Mom and Dad, for making me the person who I am.
To Karen, for her bright academic advice and extraordinary coaching during these three years. She has been extremely supportive as mentor and friend. For being always online and available “through the distance.” ☺

To Paul, for sharing his great knowledge and for making my crazy ideas real.

To Nejla, who is an inspiration of artistry and dedication. She taught me with her amazing dance the art of the solo performance. Thanks for trusting me to assist her performing in the United States, Mexico and Turkey.

To Mimi, who always believed in me as choreographer, and who gave me the right advice putting me always back on the right track to continue creating.

To Sharon, Anne, Dawn, for their prompt and always right-on choreographic advice.

To Betty, Lauren, Diedre, April, my fellow graduate students, without them life at school would have been incomplete and boring. I have learned from all of you and I consider your friendship the most valuable thing I have gotten through the MFA program.

To my amazing dancers who were able to get through the whole preparation and rehearsal process without getting insane because of me. I strongly respect your art and performance.

To all my friends and family for listening to me, giving me advice, love and support.

To April Gruber, for being an amazing dancer and teacher. For believing in me and my work and for always being there when I needed you.

To all my friends and family for their support and love. Without you this would not have been possible.

To my wonderful family and friends who have been there for me through thick and thin.

To my wonderful roommate, Becca, for making our time together so memorable.

To my wonderful cats, Luna and Luna, for being my constant companions.

To my wonderful dog, Max, for being my constant companion.

To my wonderful teachers, Mr. Johnson and Mrs. Smith, for believing in me and for always being there when I needed you.

To my wonderful friends, who have been there for me through thick and thin.

To my wonderful family, for always supporting me and for always being there when I needed you.

To my wonderful cats, Luna and Luna, for being my constant companions.

To my wonderful dog, Max, for being my constant companion.

To my wonderful teachers, Mr. Johnson and Mrs. Smith, for believing in me and for always being there when I needed you.

To my wonderful friends, who have been there for me through thick and thin.

To my wonderful family, for always supporting me and for always being there when I needed you.

To my wonderful cats, Luna and Luna, for being my constant companions.

To my wonderful dog, Max, for being my constant companion.

To my wonderful teachers, Mr. Johnson and Mrs. Smith, for believing in me and for always being there when I needed you.

To my wonderful friends, who have been there for me through thick and thin.

To my wonderful family, for always supporting me and for always being there when I needed you.
in both Dance and Journalism here at the University of Maryland. Alexandra made her debut at the Clarice Smith Performing Arts Center as a community cast member in David Dorfman Dance’s production of Underground and since then she has appeared in Where Colors Blend into Sounds and in numerous performances with Ballet Company M. Alexandra would like to thank April for taking her under her wing and giving her this opportunity to perform.

JESSICA GOLDBERG has been dancing since she was three years old with the Tappan Zee Dance Group. Within this small studio, she joined the Teen Repertory Company, working with numerous guest artists. During her senior year of high school, she joined Evolve Dance Company for its first year ever. Since her senior year, Jessica has interned and taken classes at Alvin Ailey American Dance Theatre. Jessica joined Ballet Company M her first semester at Maryland. She is excited about the idea of being more involved in the dance department and wants to thank April for allowing her to “spread her wings!”

SAKI KAWAKITA was born and raised in Hyogo, Japan. In her native country, she intensively studied dance and traditional Japanese dances. She came to the United States to study Dance and Performing Arts at Southern Utah University where she was in more than 20 performances, including Cabaret, Lyric Kings and Oliver, among others. Kawakita has worked at The John F Kennedy Center for the Performing Arts where she assisted in the programming, development, implementation and marketing of special events, educational publications, performance discussions and the Exploring Ballet with Suzanne Farrell summer intensive program. She currently works at The Washington Ballet @ THEARC as an instructor, school coordinator, DanceDC assistant and administrative assistant.

LAUREN KNUDSEN has been dancing since she was three years old with Mid-Atlantic Center for the Performing Arts. At the age of 11 she joined their Pre-Professional Ballet Program. She began competing in the Youth American Grand Prix at the age of 12, performing classical variations as well as contemporary modern pieces choreographed by Ashley Canepa and Deborah Engerman. Lauren joined Ballet Company M her first semester here at Maryland. She looks forward to becoming more involved in the dance department and would like to thank April for this opportunity to perform.

In addition to her own choreography, Dawn has performed in works by Karinne Keithley, Regina Rocke and Aynsley Vandenbroucke Movement Group. She has been a performing member with Theater et al, resident theater company of The Chocolate Factory in Long Island City. Dawn holds an MFA from Hollins University/The American Dance Festival. She is from Lake Geneva, Wisconsin. www.dawnspringer.com.

This is RACHEL JORDAN WOLFE’s second time on the UMD stage; she debuted as a dancer in The Maryland Opera Studio’s Eugene Onegin in the spring of 2009. She trained in dance and musical theatre at the Mid Maryland Performing Arts Center starting at age five and plans to continue to pursue dance, theatre and music as she earns a degree in Dance and Theatre here at the University. Rachel is thrilled to be a part of this beautiful work and wants to thank April for this wonderful opportunity to dance on the UMD stage.

ABOUT THE ARTISTS – THROUGH THE DISTANCE

VANNIA IBARGUEN (Co-Director/Performer) started doing ballet when she was ten. She has danced since then but she started doing it on a full-time basis after finishing her undergraduate program in Engineering. As dancer, she has performed in Peru, Argentina, Mexico, Cuba, Hong Kong and the United States. She was a Soloist at the Ballet Municipal de Lima, the largest ballet company in Peru, and she was a finalist at the XIII International Ballet Competition in Peru. In 2003, Vanna was appointed as an instructor for the Dance Department at the University of Lima, Peru, and later was awarded a scholarship by UNESCO to study Contemporary ADRIANA ARRUNATEGUI (Lima, Peru) is a ballet and contemporary dance performer and choreographer. Adriana holds a Bachelor's degree in Psychology and is a ballet teacher in Lima, Peru. She has received ballet, dance therapy and choreography education in Peru, Argentina, Mexico and the United States. Adriana is experienced in dance improvisation, psycho-corporal dance therapy and somatic techniques in dance and movement. She also belongs to the Volunteer Artists Network of Peru dedicated to providing children with a space for artistic expression within the most humble neighborhoods and cities of the country. Adriana has performed with renowned ballet and contemporary dance choreographers and directors like Mikhail Koukashiev (Russia), Fernando Bujones (Cuba), Renato Zanella (Italy), Patricia Alzuarena (Argentina) and Jorge Rizardi (Argentina).

ANTONIO AYESTA (Magdeburg, Germany) was born in Trujillo, Peru. Antonio started his ballet studies with the Cuban master Daniel Santos in 2001. Later, he was part of the Ballet Municipal de Trujillo Company, dancing there during almost three years as Soloist. At the same time, he obtained his degree in Systems Engineering at the Northern Private University in Trujillo. In 2003 Antonio was part of the SoloDanza Festival organized in Lima as Soloist. In 2004 he started working as principal dancer at the Ballet Municipal of Lima. In 2006 he traveled to New York City to take dance classes in modern jazz and ballet. In 2007 he moved to Estonia to dance with the Vanemuine Theater and in 2008 he was selected to be part of Magdeburg Ballet in Germany, where he is currently working.

LAUREN COSENTINO (Long Beach, CA) is a Dance Major at California State University, Long Beach. She is pursuing a BA in Dance, and hopes to one day receive an MA in Dance/Movement Therapy. Lauren danced for most of her life, until taking a break in high school for two years. After two years, her eyes were opened to the wonderful opportunity dance provided to reach and help others and decided to commit the rest of her education to growing as a dancer. She has found her niche in the dance
ABOUT THE ARTISTS

SARA LODER (Long Beach, CA) stumbled into dance when she was five years old studying tap, jazz, ballet, tumbling and everything she could get her feet into. The seed of modern dance was planted in her studies at Riverside City College in Southern California where her studies included student and faculty performances, American College Dance Festivals and every dance opportunity made available to her. She is presently studying at California State University Long Beach in her last year for her BA in Dance and continues to stumble joyfully every day that she can.

ELIZABETH MUNOZ (Lima, Peru) Dancer, choreographer and founder of Evidencia — Cultural Association in Peru, where she teaches modern dance, acrobacy, ballet and aerial dance. She danced for many years with the Ballet Municipal de Lima in Peru, and later she travels to explore the different expressions of dance in Cuba, Argentina, Mexico and the United States.

MEGAN SCHAFFER (Long Beach, CA) dabbled in dance while growing up in Riverside, California. She began formal training at the tender age of 18 while at Riverside Community College and ultimately transferred and received her BFA in dance from California State University, Long Beach. She currently resides in Tucson, Arizona, investigating her creative endeavors in the beautiful desert.

NOELLE RIBSAM is from Ocean Township, New Jersey. She is a junior at the University of Maryland after transferring from Towson University. She is working toward a double degree in dance and kinesiology (pre-physical therapy). She has been dancing since the age of five and has participated in many summer dance programs including American Ballet Theatre, Paul Taylor, Washington Ballet and Central Pennsylvania Youth Ballet. She has worked with choreographers and instructors such as Victoria Hall, Peter Anastos, Septime Webre, Vincent Thomas and Linda Denise Fischer-Hall. She plans to continue dancing and pursue a career in physical therapy.

EMILY SCHWARZ is a senior majoring in Dance and Dietetics. She was born and raised in Ecuador where she completed her secondary education. Emily became an active member of the nationally recognized dance company, Ceibadanza, at the age of ten and has performed throughout Ecuador and neighboring countries. While a student department at CSULB, is enjoying the journey so far and cannot wait to see what else is in store! She is so thankful for the support her family and friends have provided, and the continual blessings the Lord has poured out along the way.

CHRISTINA JACKSON has won awards, titles and scholarships from New York City Dance Alliance, West Coast Dance Explosion, LA Dance Force and many more. She was also the recipient of the NAACP ACTSO regional Gold Medal Award. Still at a young age, Christina has graced many stages with her presence at venues such as The Radio One Music Awards, the Baltimore Symphony Orchestra’s Holiday Spectacular, Expressions 25th Anniversary at the Hippodrome Theatre, The Capitol Movement Project, Congressional Black Caucus Gala, Alvin Ailey’s summer intensive “Summer Sizzler” show, Peabody’s Spring Dance Concert, Disney World’s “Stars of Tomorrow,” The Best of D.C. and many more. She has worked with astounding artists such as Tony Powell, Joey Dowling, Barry Hughson, Rodger Cunningham, Cornelius Carter, Adrain Bolton, Helanis Wilkins, Tim Roberts, Jenny Hyde, Dan Karaty and many more. She is currently a full-time student at the University of Maryland College Park on a dance scholarship as a Public Relations and Dance major.

MOLLY KIRKUP is a junior dance major at the University of Maryland. She has had the privilege to perform in many shows during her time in the Department. She would like to thank her mother and brother for their inspiring strength and love. She would also like to thank her friends for their support and putting up with the smelly dance kid. Finally, she would like to thank Vannia for including her in many of her projects throughout the past two years; it has been a blessing. Pazy amor.

KATHRYN LERNER has been a dedicated dancer at the Hampton Bays School of Dance, on Long Island, from a very young age. She somehow managed to find time to graduate Valedictorian of her high school class. She is pursuing a dual degree in Dance and English, minoring in Middle East Studies. Her University of Maryland credits include Women’s Work and Other Stories, and with the theatre department, Shakespeare’s The Winter’s Tale. You can check out her new blog at http://claricesmithcenter.umd.edu/2009/c/engage09/student-blogs. Thanks, Vannia!
at UMD, Emily has performed in Maryland Dance Ensemble concerts and at the American College Dance Festival. She has also been awarded the Creative and Performing Arts Scholarship, the Smith Award and the Meriam Rosen Scholarship.

KRISTEN VLACANCICH is a junior at the University of Maryland majoring in dance and psychology. She is a CAPA scholarship recipient in the Dance Department at the university. She was involved in the Capital Movement Project last fall, and has performed in the Maryland Dance Ensemble. Kristen has worked with choreographers such as Alvin Mayes and Cynthia Muller. She has an extensive dance training background in all styles from her dance studio on Long Island. She is looking forward to her future in the dance department, and possibly pursuing a career in Dance Therapy.
