Dear NWSA Conference Participant:

"They just don't get it," said one feminist in frustration and wonder at the level of resistance to a feminist vision of how things ought to be in the world. "They think we mean reformation, when we say transformation."

NWSA welcomes you to our eleventh national conference, "Feminist Transformations," where the difference between the two is quite clear. For the next five days, we will be exploring the range, varieties, and consequences of transformation. What does it mean in our personal lives? How do we intend to restructure our institutions? How can education be a catalyst for transformation? How has Women's Studies transformed knowledge? What keeps us from risking transformation?

The fact that feminist educators have indeed succeeded at some important level in transforming education can be measured by the intensity of the current conservative backlash. They do not like what we have done and are determined to keep us from doing more.

But unlike our opponents, feminist educators believe that social change is at the root of what we do. That habits of the mind or heart can be altered by knowledge. That knowledge can liberate. That liberation is not something to be feared. And that social institutions can be altered, in both minuscule and mighty ways.

NWSA invites you to join with us as we connect lives, colors, countries, and continents to transform our worlds, not simply reform them.

In sisterhood

TO: NWSA Conference Participants:

I am happy to welcome you to Baltimore and the 1989 National Women's Studies Association Annual Conference. I hope that while you are attending the conference you will have an opportunity to tour Baltimore and the surrounding area.

The Towson State University community is proud of its active Women's Studies Program and in the successful implementation of the Women's Studies Curriculum Transformation Project. The Project has added both an increased appreciation of the contribution of women's scholarship throughout the curriculum and has contributed to the continuing vitality of that curriculum. Offering insights into the contributions of all of our citizens, without regard to gender, is a continuing challenge which confronts all academic programs in the country.

Towson State University extends to you our warmest welcome and best wishes for a successful conference.

Sincerely,

Hoke L. Smith
President

THANK YOU FROM THE CONFERENCE PLANNING COMMITTEE

Welcome to the Eleventh Annual Conference of the National Women’s Studies Association, Feminist Transformations. Rather than suggest what you may expect over the next five days, we invite you to read through this Program Book. We have been continually impressed by the breadth and diversity of the presentations; by the extent of participation of women across the country and around the world; and by the creativity and good humor of the hundreds of persons we have talked with throughout the year. We are proud to have been a part of all this, and we are delighted to finally say, ‘here it is.’

We particularly want to acknowledge the support of Towson State University and its Women’s Studies Program. The many people who have worked throughout the year are reflected in the following committees, but we would like to specifically express our appreciation to Hoke L. Smith, President of Towson State University; to Robert Caret, Provost of Towson State University; to Annette Chappell, Dean of the College of Liberal Arts; and to Ted Johns, Assistant Director of Events and Conference Services.

We also want to thank the Towson and Baltimore communities for lending their support and energies to this year’s conference, and extend our appreciation to the women at Baltimore’s 31st Street Bookstore who have worked on the Book Exhibit throughout the year.

We also want to acknowledge the guidance and assistance of Sally Gordon, past National Conference Director; Caryn McTighe Musil, NWSA’s National Director; and Marlene Longenecker, Chair of NWSA’s Steering Committee—all of whom deserve at least a full page here and all of whom have convincingly taught the value of keeping things short. We also greatly appreciate the contributions and long hours of everyone in NWSA’s National Office—Carol Combs, Sharon Neufeld, Astrida Levensteins, Ellen Dublin Levy, and Joann Speer.

Finally, we wish there were a gracious way to thank each other. Each of us feels an immense sense of accomplishment and good will toward each other, and we are truly glad to have had the opportunity to work together. We hope you will be challenged throughout the next five days, and we certainly hope you will have a good time.

A broad based feminist organization, NWSA was founded in 1977 to enhance the development of Women's Studies and promote feminist education in both the classroom and community. Through scholarship that unites women, curriculum that includes women, and quality education for all, NWSA seeks to influence national and global policies that affect women's lives. By supporting NWSA, you support:

* A National Clearinghouse on Women's Studies
* Graduate Scholarships in Women's Studies
* A National Conference
* Conference Scholarships
* Regional Conferences
* A Women's Studies Program Directory
* NWSA Journal, a quarterly scholarly publication
* NWSAAction, a quarterly newsletter
* A Pre-k-12 National Network
* A $1,000 Manuscript Award
* Women's Studies Program Development
* Educational programs in the community
* Production of audio and video educational tapes
* Development of curricular resources
* A National Network of Women's Centers
* The Women's Studies Archival Project

The governing body of NWSA. Members may also choose to affiliate with any of the twelve recognized caucuses of the Association, all of whom also have representation on the Council. NWSA also has fourteen task forces organized to address a specific, focused issue.

NWSA policy is set by the Delegate Assembly which meets at the annual conference. Delegates are elected by the members of each region and caucus. Policies set by the Delegate Assembly are implemented by the Coordinating Council and the staff of the National Office. The Coordinating Council, which meets twice a year, elects a Steering Committee to serve in an administrative capacity during its quarterly meetings and throughout the year. The National Director, appointed by the Council, is the year-round executive officer of the Association.

Membership Information

NWSA membership is for the calendar year, January 1 through December 31. While membership includes membership in the regions, caucuses, and task forces, some units find it necessary also to request nominal dues to defray the costs of newsletters and other activities.

Membership Benefits:

* Membership Directory
* NWSAAction four times per year
* Women's Studies Program Directory
* 47% discount on NWSA Journal
* Discount rates for selected feminist periodicals
* Discount on National Conference registration
* Membership network of nearly 4,000 feminist educators

If you haven’t yet joined NWSA, consider doing so at the conference. The cost to further feminist education through your membership is $55 per member. Your assistance in helping us meet this cost by committing your economic fair share is appreciated. No individual will be excluded from membership because of inability to pay.

Group Membership: $100

Individual Membership is available on a sliding scale:

* $800 Life Membership
* $100 Sustaining Membership
* $75
* $55
* $25

NWSA wants to hear from conference participants through informal as well as more formal sessions. The Speak Out is designed as a kind of town meeting, a place where each of us can raise issues, large or small, that are important for NWSA to address. The Speak Out is scheduled for June 16, 1989 between 6:30 pm and 7:30 pm in Susquehanna Room 2 of the University Union.

Members of the Coordinating Council will be present at the Speak Out to hear and to participate in the debates and discussions resulting from conference participants who bring their concerns and suggestions to the floor. CC members are part of this dialogue, since it is their responsibility to carry out the mandate of the Delegate Assembly in relation to NWSA policy. The goal is continued improvement in communication between those who have genuine concerns about NWSA and those who are responsible year-round for implementing the Association’s policies.
DELEGATE ASSEMBLY INFORMATION

HOW TO MAKE THE DELEGATE ASSEMBLY WORK FOR YOU: HELPFUL INFORMATION FOR DELEGATES

The Delegate Assembly (DA) is held during each national conference to establish working priorities for the coming year and to determine general NWSA positions on various issues. The DA meets in two sessions on two consecutive days. Delegates receive an outline of the procedures used in the Assembly as well as copies of all reports and proposed Resolutions and Recommendations.

Delegates should come to the Second Floor Lounge of the University Union to receive their voting credentials between 6:00 pm and 7:30 pm on Friday, June 16, 1989, or between 7:30 am and 9:00 am on Saturday, June 17, 1989. The DA Orientation is scheduled to be in Chesapeake Room 3 of the University Union on Saturday, June 17, 1989, between 12:30 pm and 1:30 pm. The first Delegate Assembly meeting is from 1:30 pm until 5:30 pm, Saturday, June 17, 1989, in Chesapeake Room 3 of the University Union.

In the first session, delegates will be oriented to the DA process, receive a budget report and then divide into small groups to consider proposed Resolutions and Recommendations to the Coordinating Council (CC).

At their second meeting, the DA will meet 1) to vote on the budget report, 2) to vote on a Consent Calendar consisting of Resolutions and Recommendations placed on it by the small groups and 3) to discuss and vote on all remaining Resolutions and Recommendations. The second meeting of the Delegate Assembly is Sunday, June 18, 1989 between 9:00 am and 12:00 pm in Chesapeake Room 3 of the University Union.

WHAT IS THE DIFFERENCE BETWEEN A RESOLUTION AND A RECOMMENDATION?

A Resolution is an expression of concerns or principles; it does not require any action beyond writing a letter, sending a telegram, or some similar gesture. Example: a resolution to send greeting s to the women attending the International Conference in Nairobi.

A Recommendation to the Coordinating Council, if adopted, directs the Coordinating Council (CC) to develop policies, procedures, or plans of action; it may involve a commitment of the Association's resources either in money or in the time of National Office personnel or CC members. Examples: Recommendations that 1) the Coordinating Council establish an award for significant contributions to feminist education, or 2) that the NWSA Journal publish responses to the National Commission reports on public education.

HOW TO PROPOSE A RESOLUTION OR RECOMMENDATION

For your convenience, a form for proposed Resolutions and Recommendations is included in the program book for you to tear out or duplicate. Resolutions and Recommendations may be turned in on Friday, June 16, 1989 between 12:00 pm and 1:00 pm or between 6:00 pm and 7:30 pm, and on Saturday, June 17, 1989 between 7:30 am and 9:00 am in the University Union Second Floor Lounge.

When you hand in either a Resolution or a Recommendation, you need to provide 200 copies for DA members. If you have questions about the procedures, speak to someone at the NWSA membership table on the second floor in the University Union before the final deadline.

When submitting a Resolution or Recommendation, sponsors should carefully consider:

Cost: This is especially important in the case of Recommendations. How much will it cost to implement? What will the money be used for? Who is to pay it? Even if the costs are very small, it is important to state them, so that the delegates can judge whether it is feasible for NWSA to take on the project.

Because NWSA's fiscal year began October 1, our budget is already in place with financial commitments to meet current and projected needs. These circumstances make it especially important for sponsors of Recommendations to carefully consider the financial requirements of proposals as well as possible outside funding sources for proposed projects.

Responsibility for Implementation: If the sponsor(s) of a Resolution or Recommendation are not designated as the people who will do the work, who is to do it? Has the proposal been discussed with that person?

Timetable for Implementation: When does the work have to be done? When must it be completed (by the next national conference, before an election, etc.)?

Specific Information Needed: Have you included the names, addresses, phone numbers, locations, etc., that will be needed for this Resolution or Recommendation to be carried out?

BOOK EXHIBIT
The NWSA '89 Book exhibit has two locations: Susquehanna Room I, to your right as you enter the University Union on the Second Floor; and the Potomac Lounge, also on the Second Floor of the Union. In addition to exhibits of feminist and alternative books and information, it includes a selection of craft items. Exhibit hours are:

- Thursday: 9:00 am - 6:00 pm
- Friday: 10:00 am - 7:00 pm
- Saturday: 10:00 am - 7:00 pm
- Sunday: 9:00 am - 1:00 pm

Massage Therapists Available
The NWSA '89 Book Exhibit also welcomes massage practitioners performing seated massage. They are available in the Potomac Lounge and in Susquehanna I to do Chair Massage at minimal rates for NWSA participants.

BUSINESS MEETINGS
All NWSA caucuses, task forces, and regions will have the opportunity to meet before the first session of the Delegate Assembly. A list of meeting times and places is listed in the program book under "Business Meetings." Caucus, task force, and regional meetings are open to all conference participants.

CHILD CARE
Child Care is available to those who have made reservations prior to the conference. The Child Care Center is conveniently located in Lida Lee Tall Learning Resources Center (next to the University Union).

COMPUTER LAB
Towson State University has available a computer lab with IBM compatible equipment on the first floor of the University Union. Persons must show a valid driver's license, and the cost is $1.75 per hour.

CONFERENCE OFFICE
The NWSA '89 Conference Office is located in Room 312 in the University Union. The office will be staffed from 9:00 am through 7:00 pm throughout the conference. Please come to the office or call us at (301) 321-3681.

CULTURAL EVENTS
Conference registrants who have purchased a cultural events pass may attend all cultural events at no extra charge. Cultural events are included with each day's listings of activities in the front of the program book. You may purchase a cultural events pass for $10 at the registration area.

DELEGATE ASSEMBLY
The Delegate Assembly is held during each national conference to establish working priorities for the coming year and to determine NWSA positions on various issues. Detailed information is included in the program book under "Delegate Assembly Information."

SERVICES FOR PERSONS WITH DISABILITIES
Services for persons with disabilities will be coordinated in the conference registration area on the Second Floor of the University Union. Registrants who have not made previous arrangements should sign up at the Differently Abled Services table or contact the Conference Office (Room 312 of the University Union) immediately upon arrival.

NWSA '89 has reserved Room 309 of the University Union for use by the Disability Caucus throughout the conference. (NOTE: This room will not be available 7:30 - 8:30 am daily; and 6:30 - 7:30 pm on Friday.) The Disability Caucus will be meeting Wednesday, June 14, from 1:00 - 4:00 pm, and will hold its first regularly scheduled caucus meeting Thursday evening, 6:30 to 7:30 pm. Please inquire at the Differently Abled Services table for other meeting times to be arranged by the Disability Caucus. Room 309 is available throughout the day and evening for informal as well as scheduled meeting times.

NWSA '89 extends our appreciation to Evee Smith, Coordinator of the Disability Caucus, and to other Caucus members who have provided information and support to this year's conference planners.

EMERGENCY HEALTH SERVICES
Please call the Towson State University Police at 321-2133 or dial 911 in case of emergencies. The Towson State University Police are available 24 hours a day.
ENVIRONMENTAL ALLERGIES
Increasing numbers of people are seriously allergic to environmental substances such as tobacco smoke, perfume, and recently dry cleaned clothes. We ask that conference participants please be considerate of these conditions by avoiding such substances throughout the conference.

FILM SERIES: Frames of Mind
The NWSA '89 Film Series will be run throughout the conference in Van Bokkelen Hall. Films are noted in the daily listing of activities and are indexed by title in the back of the program book.

We also have included in the Frames of Mind Index those sessions which address film, video, and television.

FREE HOUSING
A limited amount of free housing will be available in private homes and for conference registrants with sleeping bags. Please see the Free Housing Table at conference registration for additional information.

HOTELS
The conference hotels are the Sheraton Towson Conference Hotel (301) 321-7400 and the Quality Inn in Towson (301-228-5151). Both hotels are approximately three (3) miles from campus, and persons will need to provide their own transportation.

MAIL/POST OFFICES
There is a Post Office on the first floor of the University Union.

MEAL TIMES at Glen Dining Hall
Breakfast: 6:30 a.m. - 9:00 a.m.
Lunch: 11:00 a.m. - 2:30 p.m.
Dinner: 5:00 p.m. - 7:30 p.m.

MESSAGES FOR CONFERENCE PARTICIPANTS
Participants staying in dormitory housing can have telephone messages left with the front desk of that dormitory. Dormitory rooms do not have telephone service in each room, but pay phones are available on each floor. Messages for participants received by the conference office will be posted on a bulletin board in the registration area of the University Union.

NAME TAGS
Each conference registrant will be issued a name tag which will serve as identification and as a pass to conference cultural events. For reasons of security, we request that conference participants wear their name badges at all times. If you lose your name tag, please come to the conference office (Room 312 of the University Union) for a replacement.

NWSA INFORMATION AND MEMBERSHIP
An NWSA membership table is in the registration area on the second floor of the University Union.

PARKING
Parking is available on the Towson State University campus at no charge to conference participants. With the exception of a few controlled (by gate) areas, all parking facilities are open. Persons who will not be using their cars throughout the conference are encouraged to use the parking lots next to the Towson Center, so that persons who travel daily are able to use more convenient parking facilities.

PRESS POLICY AND FACILITIES
Members of the press registering for the conference will be given a packet of special information and guidelines, as well as an outline of services available to them. NWSA welcomes members of the press and asks conference participants to be as cooperative as possible in assisting members of press (identified by their name tags) while covering conference events. Members of the press are welcome at all plenary sessions, daily sessions, and cultural events. Committee meetings, caucus and task force meetings, and sessions that involve sharing private, personal information may be closed to the press. The decision to close meetings or sessions will rest with the convener of the meeting, or moderator and participants of the session, or with the NWSA National Director. Reporters and photographers are asked to cooperate with this policy out of respect for the wishes of those individuals and for the goals of the Association. For more information, please check with the Conference Office.

The Press Room is Room 311 of the University Union.

Recognition of Achievement in Honor of the 20th Anniversary of the San Diego State University Women’s Studies Program

Concert by Saffire: Uppity Blues Women

The Washington Post describes Saffire as “friendship, creativity, and an abundance of talent ... a blues trio that even people who don’t like blues can’t resist.” The group has been together since 1984 and has performed to enthusiastic crowds throughout the Virginia/D.C. area. Saffire, composed of Earlene Lewis, Ann Rabson, and Gaye Adegbalola has a large and diverse repertoire ranging from old blues standards to pop and rock and roll. Whatever your musical tastes, hearing the Uppity Blues Women will be sure to inspire and delight.

An Evening of Poetry and Politics
READINGS BY JUNE JORDAN AND HATTIE GOSSETT
Friday, June 16, 8:00 pm
University Union Chesapeake Rooms

Introductions by Margo Okazawa-Rey, University of Maryland at Baltimore

June Jordan is author of several award-winning books (the novel His Own Where was chosen by the New York Times as one of the Outstanding Books of the Year in 1971, and in 1972 was a finalist for The National Book Award). Her poems, articles, essays, and reviews have appeared in Black World, First World, Ms., The New Republic, The Nation, The Village Voice, Encore, Essence, Partisan Review, and American Poetry Review. Represented in numerous anthologies, she is a member of the Board of Directors for The Center for Constitutional Rights, and of The Board of Governors for The New York Foundation for the Arts, and of The Board of Directors of The Nicaraguan Cultural Alliance. June Jordan is Professor of English at the State University of New York at Stony Brook and directs both the Poetry Center and the Creative Writing Program.

Hattie Gossett, in her new book Presenting ... Sister NoBlues (Firebrand Books, 1989), “takes on the madness and sweetness of contemporary twentieth century urban life” and “plays the dozens on the patriarchy, plotting its ultimate doom as she moves toward new life.” Hattie Gossett will be reading and performing selections from Presenting ... Sister NoBlues.

COMMON GROUND/
DIFFERENT ROOTS
Thursday, June 15, 8:00 pm
University Union Chesapeake Rooms

Focusing on the intersection of gender and race/ethnicity in women’s lives, this reading and discussion raises issues about diversity and commonality, unity within multiplicity. The speakers are writers, editors, and scholars who have all contributed to and edited anthologies dealing with the dual experience of gender and ethnicity.

Bernice Mennis, whose vision sparked the creation of this event, was a plenary speaker in “Pain, Survival, Triumph: Voices of Poor and Working Class Women” at the 1987 NWSA conference. She lives in Ft. Ann, New York, and teaches at Vermont College’s Adult Degree Program and at Comstock and Washington Correctional Facilities for Skidmore’s University Without Walls. Bernice’s writing has been published in Sinister Wisdom, Nice Jewish Girls, Tribe of Dina, Conditions, Sojourner, and Women: A Journal of Liberation.

Cherry Muhanji’s book Tight Spaces (Spinsters/Aunt Lute, 1988), written with Kesho Scott and Egyirba High, won this year’s American Book Award. A “mix of autobiography, fiction, poetry, it is about stages in Afro-American wimmin’s ... lifestyles” (as described by Doris Davenport in the December, 1988 Women’s Review of Books). Cherry writes about herself: “At 46 I entered the University of Iowa. At 50 I will, at the graduate level, enter Eastern Washington University in the M.F.A. program. At 60 I should be ready to begin life. At 70 I’m gonna be a hell ava woman.”

Shirley Geok-Lin Lim is co-editor of The Forbidden Stitch: An Asian American Women’s Anthology (Calyx Books, 1988). She has also written Crossing the Peninsula and Other Poems (1980); Another Country and Other Stories (1982); No Man’s Grove and Other Poems (1985); Modern Secrets: New and Selected Poems (1989) and Literature and Nation: Studies in Literature in English from the Philippines and Singapore (1989). She now teaches at Westchester Community College in New York.

Melanie Kaye/Kantrowitz is co-editor of The Tribe of Dina: A Jewish Women’s Anthology (Beacon, 1989). She has also written We Speak in Code: Poems and Other Writings (Motherroot, 1980). She was editor and publisher of Sinister Wisdom from 1983 to 1987 and her works have been published in the following anthologies: Lesbian Love Stories, Blood to Remember: American Poets on the Holocaust, Women: Creators of Social Change, and Nice Jewish Girls, among others. She now lives in Montpelier, Vermont.

The theme of Common Ground / Different Roots Writers Series will continue on Saturday, June 17, 1:00 pm, at the University Union Art Gallery.
HOME GROWN WRITERS

The Home Grown Writers Series features artists of the Baltimore and Washington areas.

Margaret Blanchard, poet and novelist, is one of the ten Irish-American poets published in Unlacing. An editor of Women: A Journal of Liberation for nine years, she now teaches Women's Studies and writing at Towson State University. In addition to Wandering Potatoes and Who?, she is working on a third novel, Queen Bea.

Inez Martinez, Professor of English at Kingsborough Community College, received a N.Y.F.A. Award in Fiction. Her recently completed novel, Versabe Luna, a bildungsroman of a lesbian, evokes the magic of nature, particularly of her native Southwest, and the mysteries of love and self.

Irena Klepfisz is the author of Keeper of Accounts and co-editor of The Tribe of Dina, a Jewish women's anthology (Beacon Press, 1989). She is an activist in the Jewish and the Lesbian-Feminist communities and a founder of the Jewish Women's Committee to End the Occupation of the West Bank and Gaza.

Helen Lee is a short story writer living in the Washington, DC area. Her writing centers around the issues of race and sexual orientation that have affected previous generations of her family. Her stories were published in Calaloo this spring.

Patricia Sukural is a poet with the writing program of the State University of New York at Stony Brook.

Saturday, June 17
7:30 pm - 9:30 pm
Lecture Hall

Clarinda Harriss Lott teaches writing at Towson State University. Her most recent book of poems, The Night Parrot, was brought out in Fall, 1988, by Salmon Publishing (Galway, Ireland). She edits and directs the New Poets Series, Inc., a publishing company specializing in "first books" by outstanding younger writers. Lott writes op-ed columns monthly for The Sunday Sun and reviews books for Irish America and several Washington DC newspapers.

Alma Roberts is a poet, playwright, and writer of children's stories. She is the founder and current director of New Breezes Writers' Forum in Baltimore.

Susan Fradkin's short stories have appeared in Plainswoman, Jewish Currents, Common Lives/Lesbian Lives, and The American Voice, among others. She recently completed a novel about the return of Amelia Earhart.

Pamela DiPesa works at the University of Baltimore where she teaches writing and coordinates a tutoring program. Her poetry and prose have been published in anthologies and small magazines.

Sunday, June 18
11:00 am
University Union Art Gallery

Amanda Joyce, a native of Nashua, New Hampshire and long time resident of the Baltimore Women's Community, writes short stories and novels. Her latest novel is Hook Bay Stories.

Janet Calico is a Baltimore fiction writer who will be reading from her novel, Gifts. Ms. Calico does creativity workshops for the International Women Writers Guild and for Creative Channels: Personal Growth Through the Arts.

Julie Checoway is a graduate of Harvard University, the Iowa Writers Workshop, and the Writing Seminars at Johns Hopkins University. Her work is forthcoming in The Three Penny Review and The Iowa Review.
We are pleased to introduce the NWSA '89 Dialogue Series, which was created in response to conversations with NWSA members. We agree that the conference should offer more opportunities for broad based discussion on topics of concern, interest, and importance to NWSA members, and we have simply scheduled a time and a place where these discussions will take place. The topics for this year's Dialogue Series also have come from NWSA members.

Each Dialogue will have facilitators whose responsibility will be to introduce the topic and to help direct discussion of Dialogue participants. There are no scheduled presentations. The Dialogues are intended to provide a time for informal discussion among participants.

Writers Series
Common Ground / Different Roots
8:00 pm
University Union Chesapeake Rooms

Focusing on the intersection of gender and race/ethnicity in women's lives, this reading and discussion raises issues about diversity and commonality, unity within multiplicity. Common Ground will feature readings by Melanie Kaye Kantrowitz, Shirley Geok-lin Lim, Patricia Monaghan, and Cherry Muhanj. Bernice Mennis will introduce the writers and serve as moderator for an open discussion which will follow the presentations.

Concerts
Womanfolk
6:30 pm
University Union Rathskeller

Womanfolk sings the songs from the Eastern European area called the Balkan region, made up of Yugoslavia, Bulgaria, and Macedonia. The songs reflect issues in women's lives—working in the fields, the celebration songs, traditional marriage and courting songs. The songs are often metaphorical and each song will be introduced to put together the sound of each song. The group sings a cappella, frequently singing around one drone note, which is typical of that region.

Women’s Composers Orchestra
8:00 pm
Towson Fine Arts Center Concert Hall

The Women Composers Orchestra with Guest Conductor Emily Freeman Brown, will present a concert of music for chamber ensemble featuring works by Amy Cheney Beach, Joan Tower, and Pulitzer Prize winner Ellen Taaffe Zwilich. The Women Composers Orchestra, founded in 1985 as the Maryland Women's Symphony, presents orchestral and chamber music of women composers, past and present, with the goal of establishing this repertoire in the musical mainstream.

Guest Conductor, Emily Freeman Brown, is currently Conductor of the Eastman Opera Theatre and Associate Conductor of the Eastman Philharmonia in Rochester, New York. She has been a Guest Conductor with the Rochester Philharmonic Orchestra, the Syracuse Symphony, the Heidelberg Castle Festival (West Germany), the Chicago Civic Orchestra, and the Minnesota Composers Forum.

Dance
"Solo Dances" by Barbara Rinaldo and Nini Melvin
7:30 - 8:30 pm
Burdick Dance Hall

Barbara Rinaldo is Assistant Professor of Dance at Towson State University. Her choreography has been described as "a spectacular balance between an undeniable driving set of forces and the individual ability to reach beyond to a higher truth." (Ann Arbor News)

Nini Melvin received her master’s degree in dance from Temple University. Ms. Melvin has performed with independent choreographers and has been described as having “a truly innate lyricism … a natural.” (Philadelphia Inquirer)

CRITICAL QUESTIONS:
TWO DECADES OF FEMINIST SCHOLARSHIP

Thursday, June 15
9:00 am - 11:00 am
Towson Center

Hazel Carby
Patricia Hill Collins
Linda Gordon
Sandra Harding
Catharine R. Stimpson

"Critical Questions" will present an overview and evaluation of Women's Studies after twenty years. Plenary speakers will address the significance of feminist scholarship, its political and intellectual impact, the commitment of feminist scholarship to issues of race and class, and the relationship between scholarship and social change/political action. Each plenary speaker will be available during the afternoon sessions for extended discussion on these and other topics. We invite conference participants to attend these sessions and continue the discussions on feminist scholarship.

Hazel Carby is Professor of English and Afro-American Studies at Yale University. Her book Reconstructing Womanhood: The Emergence of the Afro-American Woman Novelist (Oxford University Press, 1987) is due out in paperback this June.

Sandra Harding is Professor of Philosophy and Director of Women's Studies at the University of Delaware. She is the author of The Science Question in Feminism (Cornell and Open University Presses, 1986), which won the Jessie Bernard Award of the American Sociological Association in 1987 and was selected as one of the five best books of 1986 by the Socialist Review. She is the editor of Can Theories be Refuted (Reidel Publishing Company, 1976), and Feminism and Methodology: Social Science Issues (Indiana University Press, 1987), and Sex and Scientific Inquiry (with Jean O'Barr; Chicago University Press, 1987). Sandra Harding serves on the editorial boards of a number of journals, including Signs, Hypatia: A Feminist Journal of Philosophy, and The Women's Review of Books.

Patricia Hill Collins is Associate Professor and Acting Chair of the Department of Afro-American Studies, and Associate Professor of Sociology at the University of Cincinnati. She is the author of Black Feminist Thought (Unwin Hyman Press, forthcoming) and of numerous articles including "The Social Construction of Black Feminist Thought" and "Race, Gender, and Class in Analyses of Black Family Life: A Comparison of Two Works" (both forthcoming, 14 (4) Signs, summer, 1989). Patricia Hill Collins serves on the editorial boards of the NSWSA Journal, Signs: Journal of Women in Culture and Society, and Gender and Society. She is currently conducting a research project involving a telephone survey and in-depth life history interviews on the Black mother/daughter relationship.

Catharine R. Stimpson is Professor of English, Dean of the Graduate School, and Vice Provost for Graduate Education at Rutgers, The State University of New Jersey (New Brunswick). Now the editor of a book series for the University of Chicago Press, she was the founding editor of Signs: Journal of Women in Cultural and Society from 1974-80. She was the first director of the Women's Center of Barnard College and of the Institute for Research on Women at Rutgers. The author of a novel, Class Notes (1979, 1980), the editor of seven books, she has also published over 115 monographs, essays, stories, and reviews. A selection of essays, Where the Meanings Are, appeared in 1988. Catharine Stimpson is now Chair of the Ms. Magazine Board of Scholars; Chair of the National Council for Research on Women; and 1st Vice President of the Modern Language Association. Her book on Gertrude Stein is under contract to the University of Chicago Press.

This workshop will explore the ways in which feminists are transforming the institution of motherhood. The presentations will include examinations of how the mother is constructed by twentieth century women novelists and their readers, and will conclude with an open discussion to redefine motherhood.

This session addresses the impact of the suppression of women's rights, using illiteracy and issues of reproductive freedom as examples.

Panel members will discuss contemporary images of African-American women as portrayed in the media, popular culture, the arts, and in language.

This panel will discuss the new health morality, equating health and social worth with "ideal weights"; and the cultural connections among health, eating, and body image.

This workshop will offer an overview and literary and social analysis of some of the major scholarly and literary works by and about women with disabilities, and offer guidelines in evaluating works in this area and ideas on incorporating this topic into the curricula.

Feminist Perspectives on Transforming Ethics

The question we are interested in asking is this: given present feminist insights, what aspects of traditional ethical notions can or should feminists preserve, albeit in a transformed way. We suspect many key concepts of traditional ethics must be reconstructed rather than discarded if feminist ethics are to be sustained.

Theatre
Women's Works: short pieces performed by young local artists
3:00 pm - 4:00 pm
Fine Arts Center Concert Hall

- Not Titled .... Lissa Johnson
  A woman examines from a black perspective what effect the media, especially television, has on self-image and behaviour.
- Reflected Fantasies .... Maira DeMay, Laura Hackman, Shannon Hepburn, and Clea Montville
  Four women who have never met each other look in the mirror of a public restroom and, gathering together, begin to discuss their fantasies.
- A Black Woman Speaks .... Phadelma Ashley
  This performance piece, written by Beah Richards tells "what separates black women from white women - and what must change in order for sisterhood ... to become a reality." (Margaret Wilkerson, 9 Plays by Black Women)
- The Dragon Current .... Lisa Gillespie, Jackie Underwood, and Sue Houghton
  Through the use of dance, live music, prose/poetry and masks, this original theatre piece explores the concept of spiritual transformations. Native American masks, myths, and ritual as applied to performance is the basis from which this piece is formed.

Homage to Candida: Three Voyages to El Salvador
by Helen Fehervary
3:30 pm - 5:00 pm
University Union Art Gallery

Helen Fehervary, of The Ohio State University, will read from her autobiographical and historical essay, HOMAGE TO CANDIDA. The book attempts to make the connection to a historically "anonymous" victim of war in El Salvador who nevertheless has a personally remembered life and thus a history: Candida, the biological mother of the author's adopted child. The book is ultimately about the experienced relationship between two mothers, each of them representative of a different world: North and South, White and Indian, middle-class and peasant, educated and illiterate, privileged and oppressed, living and dead. HOMAGE TO CANDIDA is about "Northern" guilt, "Third World" oppression, and the difficult process that is the attempt to move beyond both of these poles.

JOURNEYS IN OUR LIVES: LEARNING FEMINISM

Friday, June 16
9:00 am - 11:00 am
Towson Center

Moderator: Michelle Brodsky, Smith College
MyKela Loury, Spelman College
Abby Markowitz, Towson State University
Eden Torres, University of Minnesota
Lauren Wilson, San Diego State University

We welcome the first NWSA plenary to feature Women’s Studies students from programs across the country. Panel members will discuss their personal, political, and professional transformations through Women’s Studies; the influence and affect of Women’s Studies on life inside and outside the academy; and the changes panel members would suggest for Women’s Studies Programs. We invite conference participants to continue this discussion with the plenary speakers at a session scheduled for 1:00 pm.

Michelle Brodsky is a May 1989 graduate of Smith College, where she majored in Women’s Studies. She has served as an elected member to NWSA’s Coordinating Council since 1984 and is currently Coordinator of NWSA’s Student Caucus. She was Co-Coordinator of the Smith College Women’s Resource Center from 1985-86, and was host of a weekly radio show, "Left of Center," in Northampton, Massachusetts. Michelle is an active member of the Western Massachusetts Association for the Deaf and Hearing Impaired, and will enter a program at Northeastern University this fall to become certified as an ASL interpreter.

MyKela Loury has just completed her sophomore year at Spelman College, where she majors in pre-medicine chemistry. Next year she will attend Vassar College as part of the Spelman College Domestic Exchange Program. MyKela Loury has received numerous scholarships and awards, including the Spelman College Academic Scholarship, the United Negro College Fund Scholarship, the National Black Business and Professional Women’s Association Scholarship. MyKela Loury serves as Sophomore Class Parliamentarian at Spelman College, and plans to become a pediatrician, promoting self pride and self respect to youth in the community.

Abby Markowitz graduated this May from Towson State University with a major in Women’s Studies and a minor in English. She plans to pursue non-profit work for organizations dealing primarily with issues affecting women and children. Before completing her undergraduate degree, Abby Markowitz worked for two years for Maryland Citizen Action, a state-wide consumer lobby. While a student at Towson State, Abby Markowitz produced a radio talk show entitled "Woman Watch" and served as editor and producer of Centering, the newsletter of the Women’s Center of Towson State University. Abby Markowitz has served on various University committees, and has contributed greatly to the planning and preparation for NWSA '89.

Eden Torres graduated summa cum laude this June with a double major in Chicano Studies and Women’s Studies from the University of Minnesota. She will be entering a doctoral program this fall, with a four-year fellowship in American Studies at the University of Minnesota. Before entering college, Eden Torres worked as a hospital aide, a sales clerk, an artist’s model, and taught folk dancing. She has been writing for 25 years and has been published in Tonantzin, Journal of the Guadalupo Arts Center, Nuevos Horizontes, Visiones, Los Tejanos, Mujeres de San Francisco, and Halibi. Eden Torres describes herself as a Chicana with familial roots in South Texas and the Midwest, with the magic of the Rio Grande and the timelessness of the Mississippi flowing through her heart.

Lauren Wilson is a recent graduate of San Diego State University, which has the oldest Women’s Studies Program in the country. Lauren graduated with a major in Women’s Studies and a minor in English, and was the coordinator of San Diego’s Women’s Resource Center from 1986 to 1989. She was recipient of the Friends of Women’s Studies Scholarship in 1987, and received honorable mention for the Ford Foundation National Research Fellowship in 1989. Lauren Wilson is starting a doctoral program at the University of California at San Diego this autumn, concentrating in Black Women’s American Literature.

*linked session

The structure, language, values, and modes of discourse of the dominant American culture is white. This linked session provides Afro-American, Latina, Native American, and Asian American women a space to share their experiences of the family both as cultural havens against racist oppression and as captivities of sexism and heterosexuality.

Transforming the Silence Through A Student Panel Alliance

Transforming the Silence Through A Student Panel Alliance

As student representatives, each panel member will address a different issue affecting the lives of women. The topical areas are bridged through one common concern: the sense of purpose in translating, transcending, and transforming that which is both personal and political.

Women and Power: Competition or Cooperation

Women and Power: Competition or Cooperation

From a perspective of feminist therapy (Radical Psychiatry) and progressive politics, this didactic and experiential workshop explores the ways in which women are using their power both personally and politically. In a society that cultivates competition, is it possible to be powerful and cooperative? This workshop analyzes competition and proposes a cooperative model for relationships among friends, family, co-workers, and political allies.

Laws Against Women: Health, Migration, and Prostitution

Panelists from Asia, Europe, North and South America, a majority of whom are prostitutes and ex-prostitutes, will speak about the effects of health, migration and prostitution laws on women's lives. All contributors to the newly released book, A Vindication of the Rights of Whores, these women will present analyses which de-isolate prostitution and prostitute women from other feminist issues and other stigmatized women.

Contemporary Frontiers for Feminists

This workshop is designed to address the issues of oppression related to women who are often treated as marginal to mainstream feminist thought and action. Speakers include an activist working with the homeless mentally ill, a woman who is physically challenged following a spinal cord injury, and a former prostitute.

Indigenous Population and Patriarchal Colonization: Cases of United States, Guam, and Canada

This session will address the impact of patriarchy and colonization on Native American women, Native Canadian women, and the Chamorro people of Guam.

Lesbian Studies

This session will provide resource information on the content of lesbian studies courses and the state of research concerning lesbians today. The panel will also share strategies for mainstreaming lesbian issues into traditional academic disciplines.

Women and Poverty

This session will address the ways in which programs to aid persons in poverty often uphold the patriarchy and keep women poor.

“Twelve: A One Act Performance Piece in Progress”
by Therese Murdza
2:45 pm - 3:45 pm
University Union Rathskeller

Meet Woman #1: “Let’s pretend we’re married and we have 19 babies and we have lots of jewels and we live happily ever after.”
And Woman #2: “My Aunt Salsbury on my mother’s side had 19 children. Then she died.”

Twelve is a performance piece in progress. “Twelve” explores personal power and the self-made illusion that any human being has supreme control over another.

Presentation / Performance by Mary Kay Blakely
Contribution Editor Ms. Magazine
“A Splendid Virtue Called Disobedience”
7:30 pm - 9:00 pm
University Union Rathskeller

While the rules and attitudes governing womanhood, marriage, motherhood, work, and aging change slowly -- and incompletely during our lifetimes -- we still have the option of changing ourselves. “Break the laws when the laws are wrong,” Harriet Tubman once declared. This is an evening for outlaws, for women who yearn for the facts of their lives to reflect the dreams in their heads. The first part of the program includes a discussion on the process of the changes in Mary Kay Blakely’s own life. The second half presents a coffeehouse performance,
“The Ugly Out,” an audience participation comedy written by Joan Uebelhoer.

Concerts
Sisters of One Eye: “Living Strong Throughout the Land”
7:30 pm - 9:30 pm
Fine Arts Center Concert Hall

Sisters of One Eye, a Washington D.C.-based company of “Visionary Performance Artists,” has appeared throughout the region to critical acclaim. “Sisters of One Eye was the high point of the festival. Truely inspired feminist performance art at its very best...if you ever get a chance to see them drop all other plans and go.” (Womanews, NYC) Works to be presented at NWSA ’89 include: Yah- Shen and the Golden Carp, a retelling of Cinderella, originally a Chinese folk tale with white face masks, a haunting piano score and a new twist to the story; and Caves - Ecofeminist, Organic, Revolutionary.
“Stones are the bones of the Mother, caves are the wombs of the Earth.” Musical score for cello keyboards, and voices.

Sisters of One Eye has worked in connection with many Women’s Studies programs and women’s groups in communities. For information concerning workshops and performances please contact Sandra Kammann, artistic director at 703-280-5299.

The Oh Sooo Politically Correct Players
followed by a Women’s Dance
9:30 pm - midnight
University Union Chesapeake Rooms

The Oh Sooo Politically Correct Players, a group of progressive do-gooders, write and perform social change satire to help raise money for worthwhile causes (and to help pay off the MasterCard bills). The players have created shows for such groups as the National Gay and Lesbian Task Force, the National Abortion Rights Action League, the Women and Law Conference, and the Ms. Magazine Fifteenth Anniversary Party.

Special Events
Claire Coss Reading from Lillian Wald
4:00 pm - 5:00 pm
University Union Art Gallery

Claire Coss will read from Lillian Wald. The book, edited by Coss, brings together two resources that create a vivid portrait of the major progressive activist and her era. Coss will read excerpts from her play, “Lillian Wald: At Home on Henry Street,” and speeches, letters, and leaflets by Wald herself.

NWSA ’89 Dialogue: Feminist Publishing: How to Bring
Political Feminist into the Classroom
4:30 pm
University Union Chesapeake Room 3
ANOU BANOU: The Daughters of Utopia
7:00 pm - 9:00 pm
Van Bokkelen Hall

In Hebrew, Anou Banou means "build the country by building themselves." In this 1983 documentary, filmmaker Edna Politi, herself a Lebanese Jew, has chronicled the lives of six Eastern European Jewish women who settled in Palestine in the 1920's. Politi traces the struggles of these women, through interviews and archival footage, to reconcile socialism, zionism, and feminism, and to build a new society in their ancient homeland. The film will be followed by a facilitated discussion.

Reception
Women: A Journal of Liberation
6:00 pm - 7:30 pm
University Union Art Gallery

Twenty years ago, the first issue of Women: A Journal of Liberation, the first national publication of the current women's movement, was published in Baltimore. Members of the collective which published the magazine for thirteen years will gather to celebrate this event. Contributors and subscribers at the conference are invited to join us.

Engendering Knowledge: Feminist Transformation of the Curriculum

Saturday, June 17
9:00 am - 11:00 am
Towson Center

Beverly Guy-Sheftall, Spelman College
Betty Schmitz, University of Maryland
Emily Style, Madison, New Jersey Public Schools
Susan R. Van Dyne, Smith College

"Engendering Knowledge" will present the history of curriculum transformation and its results and an overview of current projects, with an emphasis on the integration of women of color and work being done in secondary schools. Plenary speakers also will address how curriculum transformation has affected the discipline of Women’s Studies.

Beverly Guy-Sheftall is Associate Professor of English and Director of the Women’s Research and Resource Center at Spelman College. She is the author (with Roseann Bell and Bettye Parker) of Studying Black Bridges: Visions of Black Women in Literature (Anchor Press/Doubleday, 1979) and is a founder and co-editor of SAGE: A Scholarly Journal on Black Women. Beverly Guy-Sheftall serves as Vice-Chair of the Board for the National Council for Research on Women, is a member of the National Advisory Board for the Project on the Study of Gender and Education (Kent State University), and serves as consultant to the Ford Foundation project on "Integrating the New Scholarship on Ethnic Minority Women into the Liberal Arts Curriculum" (University of Wisconsin).

Betty Schmitz serves as Assistant to the President of the University of Maryland, where she oversees the development and implementation of a campuswide program to improve undergraduate women’s education and the campus environment for women. Previously, she was the Director of the Northwest Office of the Western States Project on Women in the Curriculum, at the University of Washington. Betty Schmitz is the author of Integrating Women’s Studies into the Curriculum: A Guide and Bibliography (The Feminist Press, 1985); and numerous articles including “Different Voices: Integrating the Study of Ethnic Minority Women into Undergraduate American Literature and U.S. History Courses” (with Johnella Butler, Radical Teacher, forthcoming). Betty Schmitz has served as principal investigator and administrator of curriculum projects funded by the Ford Foundation and by the Fund for the Improvement of Post Secondary Education.

Emily Style is Diversity Coordinator for Madison New Jersey Public Schools and is co-director, with Peggy McIntosh, of the National Project on Women’s Studies for High School Teachers. Emily Style has consulted widely on curriculum change and has attended and co-led Dodge Seminars, regional faculty development seminars in Women’s Studies for secondary school teachers, funded by the Geraldine R. Dodge Foundation and the Anna Wilder Phelps Fund.

Susan R. Van Dyne is Associate Professor of English and Director of the Women’s Studies Program at Smith College. She is the author (with Marilyn Schuster, Smith College) of Women’s Place in the Academy: Transforming the Liberal Arts Curriculum (Rowman & Allanheld, 1985), which has been widely used as a guide to innovative curriculum change projects in public and private institutions. Susan Van Dyne and Marilyn Schuster have given workshops at over 30 college campuses and 15 secondary schools, and are now collaborating on a book integrating gender, race, and class in the teaching of literature for the Modern Language Association’s “Options in Teaching” series. Susan Van Dyne is also completing a book on gender and creativity in Sylvia Plath’s Ariel poems for the University of North Carolina Press.

This workshop will examine three contemporary writers and two earlier writers who proposed close relationships between women of different generations not tied by family obligations or bonded by mother-daughter-granddaughter love. It will inquire about the unsatisfactory connections as well as the satisfactory ones.

This workshop is about reevaluating patriarchy’s Relationship Belief System, and freeing ourselves of its limiting assumptions and expectations while still keeping the women we love in our lives.

This session will inform participants about alternative defense and its empowering possibilities, to assist in developing strategies for applying this information to practical political agendas and educational initiatives. Panel members will also explain the legislative process and provide activist women with skills useful to lobbying congressional members.

This session will include a literature and research review; a self-assessment; images of women in power; stumbling blocks, such as patriarchal organizations and abuse of power; empowerment struggles; developing value and marketing the benefits; and expansion through promotion of diversity among women and new models that foster cooperation, empowerment, and equality.

This session will explore the notable absence of feminist theoretical perspectives in the field of public administration. We will consider norms of public service; interactive dynamics in the public sector; the enterprise of public management; and the administrative state.

This session will explain activities and experiences of a group called TAMIC (Toward a More Inclusive Curriculum), which represents seven schools in the Baltimore area, and will encourage a dialogue between university and high school faculties to work for curricular change.

Nancy Rich Marbury, St. Paul's School for Girls

269 Is there Life After Women's Studies?

Panel members, all of whom are past or present Women's Studies students at Towson State University, will discuss opportunities for graduate studies, development of career goals, and how Women's Studies programs prepare students for either or both of these options. This session also will include an opportunity to discuss failures and successes of various Women's Studies programs, emphasizing change for the future.

270 The Power of Words: Healing the Inner Wounds

All words have power. Some help us but many others hurt and stay with us, stored as metaphors in our bodies. We talk about some of these metaphors — being stabbed in the back, for example; but for other metaphors, we must search. This workshop will allow participants to experience the power of words and to begin the process of healing by locating and visualizing our metaphors, accessing the seeds of change and healing.

Karen Porter, Baltimore, Maryland
Maureen Kehoe, Baltimore, Maryland

271 Gender Issues in Psychotherapy and the Mental Health System

This session will address the relationships of sexism and racism within psychotherapy and the mental health field from historical and current perspectives.

Nikki Gerrard, Ontario Institute for Studies in Education
Double Jeopardy x 2: The Relationship Between Racism and Sexism in 1) Mental Health Systems and 2) in Psychological Theory and Training
Robin Solbach, Indiana University of Pennsylvania
Wendy Merrill, Indiana University of Pennsylvania
Sexism in Psychotherapy: Conceptual and Practical Implications

272 Female Socialization Through Sexual Abuse

Sexual abuse in general and incest in particular are mechanisms by which male-dominated cultures socialize women to femininity. This workshop will explore the consequences of sexual abuse in the intra-personal, inter-personal, and socio-political spheres.

Kathleen H. Ochs, Colorado School of Mines
Broken Bodies, Broken Minds: Sexual Abuse and Women's Sociopolitical Power
Margaret Duncombe, Colorado College
The Mother-Daughter Relationship in Incestuous Families
Please join us for a group discussion focusing on critical incidents from your own experience that illuminate both perceived problems in promoting educational equity for minority and female students and solutions that work. This study, commissioned by the National Education Association, will develop materials for teachers and counselors.

Friday Night Features from Studio D National Film Board of Canada

The Goddess Remembered
Friday, 8:25 pm / 16 mm, 58 min.
A film from Studio D, National Film Board of Canada

A documentary exploration of the women-centered beliefs and myths at the root of Western European religion in pre-patriarchal cultures when goddess worship prevailed and women were revered as the source of life, wisdom, and justice. Interviews with prominent American spokeswomen raise interesting questions about historical misreadings and misinterpretation of archaeological data as well as the connections between today's environmental crises and the loss of goddess cultures. The film features stunning location footage of archaeological sites in Greece and Western Europe.
Distributor: National Film Board of Canada

Reflecting two decades of feminist scholarship emerging from and supporting the women’s movement, the NWSA Journal will publish scholarship which continues to link feminist theory with teaching and activism. The Journal will raise critical and challenging questions in women’s studies for the decades ahead. The first issues feature the following articles, commentaries, and review essays, among others:

Ruth Bleier, “The Cultural Price of Social Exclusion: Gender and Science”
Minrose Gwin, “A Theory of Black Women’s Texts and White Women’s Readings”
Virginia Scharff, “Of Parking Spaces and Women’s Places: The Los Angeles Parking Ban of 1920”
Diane Herndi, “The Writing Cure: Charlotte Perkins Gilman, Anna O., and ‘Hysterical’ Writing”
Susan B. Murray, “The Unhappy Marriage of Theory and Practice: An Analysis of a Battered Women’s Shelter”
Laura Brown, “Lesbians and Family”
Nancy Hewitt, “The Economics of Family Life”
Carol Christ, “New Perspectives in Women’s Faith and Spirituality”
Stephanie Lahar, “Towards an Expanded View of Nature in Women’s Psychology”
Sandra Coyner, “Feminist Theory in Research and Teaching”
Susan E. Searing, “Sources and Resources in Women’s Studies”
Christine St. Peter, “Feminist Discourse, Infertility, and Reproductive Technologies”
Suzanna Rose, “The Protest as a Teaching Technique for Promoting Feminist Activism”
J. Michele Edwards, “Women and Music”

FORTHCOMING TITLE
THE SEXUAL LIBERALS AND THE ATTACK ON FEMINISM
edited by Dorchen Leidholdt, New York, USA and Janice G. Raymond, University of Massachusetts, Amherst, MA, USA
The first collection of truly radical feminist work, this volume includes articles from just about every world-renowned radical feminist--Andrea Dworkin, Sheila Jeffries, Catharine MacKinnon, Mary Daly, Kathleen Barry, Florence Rush, Gena Corea, and more. Attacking pornographers, pro-incest, and pro-sadomasochist "feminists" as liberals, this collection challenges the current fashion of sexuality books that have come out in the last five years.

THE WRITING OR THE SEX?
or why you don't have to read women's writing to know it's no good by Dale Spender, Coogee, Australia
Dale Spender questions the difference between female and male literature. Taking the view that the difference lies not within the writing itself, but in the response to the writing, Spender writes that men have been in charge of according value to literature, and that they have found the contributions of their own sex immeasurably superior.

REPRODUCTIVE AND GENETIC ENGINEERING
Journal of International Feminist Analysis
The Editors: Asian Editor Farida Akhter; Australian Editor Robyn Rowland; European Editor Renate D. Klein; Latin & North American Coeditors Rita Ardditi & Gena Corea; Managing Editor Janice Raymond
This exciting, multidisciplinary journal focuses on the new reproductive technologies and genetic engineering and their impact on women worldwide. The policy of this unique journal is to recognize the use and abuse of women as central to the development of reproductive technologies and genetic engineering and to highlight the relevance of the application of these technologies to the past, present and emerging social and political conditions of women.

WOMEN, SEX, AND ADDICTION
A SEARCH FOR LOVE AND POWER
by
Charlotte Davis Kasl, Ph.D.

$19.95

"Kasl has written a profound, valuable book. It is must reading for women and men who want to understand and heal codependency, sex, and romance addiction. This book will help millions of women — but don't limit it to women — men will also find tremendous value in the book. Women, Sex, and Addiction is a welcome addition to the field of addictions. Read it and get well."
— Jed Diamond, author of Looking for Love in All the Wrong Places

“This is a terrific book. There's a lot of wisdom in it and a lot to think about and learn. It sheds light on what happens to women in our society, how we survive it, and some roads to self-respect.”
— Andrea Dworkin

“Lucid, insightful, compassionate, funny — Charlotte Kasl's book will be required reading in my courses in feminist political theories and movements. I wish it could be required reading for the human race.”
— Joy Huntley, Ph.D., Professor of Women's Studies and Political Science, Ohio University

“Hope and compassion weave a thread through this bold and honest display of women's reality. Dr. Kasl clarifies the complexity of women's issues and offers simple and workable alternatives for recovery. This insightful resource will serve as a welcome guide in our programs treating women with eating disorders and sexual addictions.”
— Judy Smith, Supervisor of Fairview Southdale Treatment Programs, Edina, Minnesota

“Probably the single most significant text to date regarding women and sex addiction. The book now fills a void which has existed all too long in this particular subject area.”
— Edward Armstrong, Executive Director, National Association on Sexual Addiction Problems

Speaking of Gender
Edited and with an Introduction by Elaine Showalter

In recent years, the questions raised by feminist literary critics have opened up new areas of inquiry not only about the feminine, but also about the masculine. The essays presented here will serve as models of gender theory's place in literary criticism and interpretation. Among the contributors are: Sandra Gilbert, Eva Kosofsky Sedgwick and Valerie Smith.

The Healing Imagination of Olive Schreiner
Beyond South African Colonialism
Joyce Avrech Berkman

"I know of nothing that equals Berkman's intellectual biography in its thoroughness, subtlety, and richness. Every important aspect of Schreiner's career and thought is here: religious philosophy, racism, imperialism, evolutionary theory, socialism, sexual politics, pacifism, and even literary theory."—Deborah Epstein Nord, Harvard University

Illustrations, August 1989, $30

Tapestries of Life
Women's Work, Women's Consciousness, and the Meaning of Daily Experience
Bettina Aptheker

"A rich and open-ended exploration of the idea that women's loves, works, and resistance structure distinctive ways of knowing. Aptheker combines easy allusions to feminist theory with an impressively wide-ranging reading of women's stories. I am especially heartened by her rejection of factionalism and 'oppositional' thinking in favor of coalitions and a feminist practice respectful of many kinds of political differences."—Sara Ruddick, New School for Social Research

Paper $12.95, cloth $35

Women of Academe
Outsiders in the Sacred Grove
Nadya Aisenberg and Mona Harrington

An "excellent analysis of the underlying problems in the academic world that make it difficult for women to fight against the assumptions that have served the white male majority in that world so well. . . . My overview cannot convey the richness and liveliness of the tales narrated here—or the immediacy of the quotations from interviews that color the authors' thoughtful and valuable analysis."—Women's Review of Books
Paper $10.95, cloth $30

Bitter Milk
Women and Teaching
Madeleine R. Grumet

"Offers a unique discussion of women teachers' complex journey between the public and the private spheres of their lives and work. . . . This book will be a major resource for courses in women's studies and in disciplines such as education, philosophy, and anthropology."—Ayala Gabrieli, Susan B. Anthony Center, University of Rochester

Paper $12.95, cloth $30

Breaking Boundaries
Latina Writing and Critical Readings
Edited by Asunción Horno-Delgado, Eliana Ortega, Nina M. Scott, and Nancy Saporta Sternbach

"An absolutely unique and badly needed contribution to the field, in that it treats Latina writers of various ethnic backgrounds. There are anthologies of creative writing, but no critical text with this particular focus."—Yvonne Ybarra-Bejarano, University of Washington

Paper $12.95, cloth $40

Building Domestic Liberty
Charlotte Perkins Gilman's Architectural Feminism
Polly Wynn Allen

The book "contributes to a fuller evaluation of Gilman's remarkable career. This is a book to interest both historians and community activists, a pleasure to read."—Dolores Hayden, UCLA

Why Me?
Help for victims of child sexual abuse, even if they are adults now.
by Lynn B. Daugherty, Ph.D.
Sensitive, frank, important and informative book to begin the process of healing the psychological wounds of sexual abuse.
ISBN 0-941300-01-3 $7.95

Night Lights
by Bonnie Shrewsbury Arthur
Not your traditional lesbian romance, this novel tackles middle age lovers dealing with teen age children, AIDS hysteria, women in the priesthood and former President Reagan's brand of economics, with a light touch that may make you laugh out loud.
ISBN 0-941300-04-8 $9.95

Rowdy & Laughing
by B. L. Holmes
She's not gay, she's rowdy and laughing. After four children and 20 years of marriage, the author fell in love with another woman. These poems encompass the joy of life and being in love—for all people.

"CROSSING BORDERS... The Story of The Women's International League for Peace and Freedom"

"...a wonderful addition...challenges young people to rethink traditional, male versions of history," DR. JUDY ADAMS, Director of the Women's Oral History Project, Stanford U.

"...a deeply moving account of this pioneer group in the struggle for world peace and sanity." STUDS TERKEI, author and historian

Jane Addams and her peers in Europe were at the forefront of the social movements of their time—yet their efforts for peace during WWI have all but disappeared from the history books. "Crossing Borders..." brings their story to life, and is a testament to all women who have dedicated their lives to the fight for peace.

New and recent titles include:

The Woman in the Mountain: Reconstructions of Self and Land by Adirondack Women Writers
Kate H. Winter. Through the works of seven Adirondack writers, the book creates literary and theoretical contexts for these authors by focusing on the links between the landscape and the female imagination.
