National Women's Studies Association and Simmons College

Present

2000 SUBVERSIONS

Women's Studies
and the Twenty-first Century
The National Women's Studies Association

Twenty-First Annual NWSA Conference

June 14 - 18, 2000
Simmons College, Boston, MA
The National Women's Studies Association

and

Simmons College, Boston, MA

Welcome you to the Twenty-First Annual
NWSA Conference

2000 Subversions:
Women's Studies and the Twenty-first Century

June 14 - 18, 2000
Simmons College
See you next year in
Minneapolis, MN, June 13-17, 2001

Special embedded conference:
The Future of Women’s Studies: Is It Feminist?

For more information visit the conference website at www.nwsa.org/nwsa2001/
(under construction - available soon)

Visit NWSA on the web at www.nwsa.org
Hosted by alabanza.com

NWSA publications and memorabilia available at the Book Exhibit
Table of Contents

Welcome from Daniel Cheever, President, Simmons College .......................... 8
Welcome From Christina Brinkley, NWSA 2000 Conference Chair ................. 9
Welcome from Berenice Carroll, NWSA President 1999-2000 .......................... 10
Conference Overview
NWSA Information .......................................................... 17
NWSA Planning Committees and Volunteers ................................................. 18
Cultural Events - Thursday, June 15 ................................................. 19
Cultural Events - Saturday, June 17 .................................................. 20
Writers' Series ................................................................. 21
Film Series ........................................................................ 27
Program Administration and Development Pre-Conference - Thursday, June 14, 2000 ................................................................. 31
Opening Ceremony and Keynote Address: Lani Guinier ............................... 32

Concurrent Sessions

Thursday
- Thursday 8:00 am ................................................................. 34
- Thursday 9:30 am ................................................................. 38
- Thursday 11:00 am ................................................................. 42

Thursday Plenary, 1:30 - 3:30 pm
Agendas for Feminist Education ...................................................... 47

Concurrent Sessions
- Thursday 3:45 pm ................................................................. 49
- Thursday 5:15 pm ................................................................. 53
- Friday 8:00 am ................................................................. 56
- Friday 9:30 am ................................................................. 60
- Friday 11:00 am ................................................................. 64
- Friday 12:30 pm ................................................................. 69
- Friday 2:00 pm ................................................................. 73

Friday
- Friday 3:30 - 5:30 pm Gendered Politics of Peace and War .......................... 77

Concurrent Sessions
- Saturday 10:15 am ............................................................... 79
- Saturday 1:30 pm ............................................................... 82
- Saturday 3:00 pm ............................................................... 85
- Saturday 4:30 pm ............................................................... 89

Professional Development Institute .................................................... 92
- Opening Plenary 9:00 - 10:30 am ............................................................... 93
- Sessions - 10:45 am ............................................................... 94
- Lunch Session, Saturday 12:00 ............................................................... 95
- Keynote, Saturday 1:00 pm ............................................................... 96
- Sessions - 2:15 pm ............................................................... 97
- Closing Panels - 3:50 pm ............................................................... 98

NWSA Dana Shugar Lesbian Studies Institute ........................................ 99
- Opening Plenary ............................................................... 100
- Luncheon Keynote Address ............................................................... 101
- Lesbian Studies Institute Concurrent Sessions ........................................ 102
- Saturday 10:15 ............................................................... 103
- Saturday 1:30 ............................................................... 104
- Saturday 3:00 ............................................................... 105
- Saturday 4:30 ............................................................... 106
- Concurrent Sessions ............................................................... 107
- Sunday 8:30 am ............................................................... 108

Sunday Plenary, 10:00 - 12:00 pm
Transformations ........................................................................ 109
- Advertisers, Book & Craft Exhibitors ................................................... 110
- Subject Index ........................................................................ 111
- Presenter Index ........................................................................ 112
June 14, 2000

Dear Conference Participants,

Welcome to Boston, our historic and culturally diverse city. In this new millennium, we are delighted to host the National Women’s Studies Association’s conference here at Simmons College. This is the largest conference that we have ever hosted during our one hundred years as a College.

Since 1899, Simmons College has been and will continue to be committed to educating women for enriching careers and independent lives. Our alums take pride in saying that they found their voices and leadership abilities at Simmons, where they were not "elbow[j] out of the way" by men. They have become ambassadors, Pulitzer Prize winners, and presidents of major corporations.

We are proud of our extraordinary faculty members in African American Women’s Studies, Women’s Studies, and Gender and Cultural Studies, who have expertise in several disciplines that range from art to economics to philosophy and sociology. Our faculty members offer more than forty courses specific to women’s studies to our students each year. Many courses encourage community building and activism. It gives us great pleasure to watch our students become tireless activists and play a significant role in improving the quality of life for women and the larger society.

On behalf of the Simmons community, we hope that you will enjoy the NWSA’s twenty-first conference and your visit to Boston.

Sincerely,

Daniel S. Cheever, Jr.
President
June 14, 2000

Dear Conference Participants:

The African American Studies Department extends a sisterly welcome to you. We are delighted that the National Women’s Studies Association, along with its culturally diverse caucuses, selected Simmons College as the site for its 21st annual conference.

Our department is comprised of mostly women faculty members, who are extraordinarily talented and who have expertise in African American Women’s Studies and other disciplines that range from film to sociology. In addition, we have conducted research and served as fellows in places as far away as Sierra Leone, Kenya, and Thailand. Our curriculum includes courses that range from “Critical Race Feminism/Womanism” to “Race, Sex, and Culture: Contemporary Film Images of Women of Color.”

We encourage our students to correct and challenge racist, sexist, and classist “pseudo scholarship,” to question why women of color have been omitted or distorted in various discourses, to become activists, and to collaborate with and support women-centered organizations and businesses.

To underscore the importance of African American Women’s Studies as a discipline, our department publishes Abafazi, a refereed academic journal that was founded in 1991. It is a distinctive journal that focuses exclusively on issues about black women throughout the Diaspora. Published twice a year, Abafazi features interviews, critical essays, art, literature, and book reviews. A few of our institutional subscribers include the Schlesinger Library at Harvard as well as Mills, Bryn Mawr, Ferrum, and Dartmouth colleges.

Recently Abafazi collaborated with the Women of Color Caucus of the NWSA in order to sponsor an essay contest for women undergraduate and graduate students of African descent. The recipients of our first annual essay awards, Erica Waples and Dionne Patricia Stephens, will present their insightful papers at the Women of Color Caucus’s Special Session on Friday, June 16 at 11:00 at Wheelock College. Please join us in congratulating them.

On behalf of the department, we hope that you will enjoy the conference as well as your stay in Boston.

In sisterhood,

Christina Brinkley
Chair
Della Scott
Editor, Abafazi
Dear Conference Participants,

Welcome to the 2000 NWSA Conference, the twenty-first national conference held since the founding of the association. The conference theme, “2000 Subversions: Women’s Studies and the Twenty-First Century,” calls upon us to carry forward the transformative momentum of women’s studies inside and outside the academy, in local and global contexts. We hope you will find that the multiple events of the conference help us towards that goal.

This year we return to a campus-based conference, and we are profoundly grateful to Simmons College for its generous offer to host the conference and the splendid cooperation we have received from so many at the College. We especially thank President Daniel Cheever for his outstanding support. The debt we owe to Christina Brinkley, Chair of the African American and Africana Women’s Studies Program, for undertaking to chair the conference planning and oversee the coordination of the conference this year, is beyond words. Nor can words be adequate to thank our NWSA Conference Coordinator, Bea Thompson, for her tireless work with Christina Brinkley and numerous others in all aspects of scheduling and preparing the program for the conference. At Simmons College, Adrienne Gordon, Diane Hammer, Carol Stewart, Elizabeth Amelia Hadley, and others noted elsewhere in this program book, have shared the heavy burden of on-site planning and operations. The NWSA 2000 Conference has also had an exceptional range of cooperation from other departments at Simmons and neighboring institutions, particularly Wheelock College. We especially thank Jane Hardin and Gail Dines for their work in making possible the Professional Development Institute and Laura Roskos of the Radcliffe College Graduate Consortium in Women’s Studies for coordination and sponsorship of our Friday plenary session. We are also deeply grateful to the officers and members of the New England Women’s Studies Association who have devoted countless hours to the planning of the program, the cultural events, and the writers’ series and provided the funding for a travel award program to enable students to attend. It is heartening and impressive to observe the strong community support that has been engaged for this national conference of NWSA.

The conference program reflects the intellectual, educational, and activist vitality of NWSA and its diverse constituencies. This year our plenaries seek to shape agendas for feminist scholarship and education, linking academy and community on multiple levels of intellect and action. The sessions and workshops address these issues and also carry forward directions set in last year’s conference, continuing the challenging debates on interdisciplinarity, feminism and post-colonialism, and women’s studies students. We address the changes that are already taking place, in theory and practice, in “women’s studies” and “feminist theory,” broadening our understanding of the meaning of those terms to encompass recent developments in gender studies, queer theory, womanist studies, and other challenging trends. We search out “2000 subversions” of injustice and violence, global and local, and we share visions, knowledge, methods, pedagogy, and theory to create and build our women’s studies programs.

Welcome to NWSA 2000!

Berenice Carroll, President, 1999-2000
Tuesday, June 13
8:00 - 5:00 pm NWSA Registration, Faculty Staff Room, MCB
1:00 - 9:00 pm Governing Council, Special Functions Room, MCB

Wednesday, June 14
8:00 - 9:00 pm NWSA Registration, Faculty Staff Room, MCB
8:00 - 5:00 pm Program Administrators Pre-Conference
8:00 - 8:45 am Continental Breakfast, MCB Lobby
8:45 - 9:00 am Welcome Keynote, C103
9:00 - 10:30 am Breakout Sessions
  - Women's Studies Ph.D., E209
  - Getting Started, E305
  - Faculty Issues, L504B
  - Budgets & Fundraising, S251B
10:30 - 10:45 am Break
10:45 - 12:00 pm Diversifying Women's Studies (panel session), C103
12:00 - 1:30 pm Lunch
1:30 - 2:15 pm Roberta's Rules of Order - Julia Balen, C103
2:15 - 5:00 pm Business Meeting, C103
4:30 - 5:30 pm New Member Orientation
5:15 - 6:00 pm Program Administration & Development Reception
7:00 - 9:30 pm Opening Ceremony and Keynote Address (Lani Guinier), Holmes Sports Center Gym
  9:45 - 11:45 pm Reception Following Keynote Address, Alumnae Hall

Thursday, June 15
8:00 - 7:00 pm NWSA Registration, Faculty Staff Room, MCB
8:00 - 6:00 pm Book Exhibit, Conference Center
8:00 - 9:00 pm Film and Video Series, C101
8:00 - 9:15 am Concurrent Sessions
9:30 - 10:45 am Concurrent Sessions
12:00 - 1:15 pm Concurrent Sessions
1:30 - 3:30 pm Plenary: Agendas for Feminist Education, Holmes Sports Center Gym
1:30 - 5:30 pm NWSA Journal Editorial Board Meeting, Special Functions Room, MCB
3:45 - 5:00 pm New Member Orientation, L504A
3:45 - 5:00 pm Concurrent Sessions
5:15 - 6:30 pm Concurrent Sessions
5:30 - 7:00 pm Indiana University Press Reception, Lower Fens Cafe, MCB, lower level
5:30 - 7:30 pm World Premier Film Screening: The Edge of Each Others Battles: The Vision of Andre Lorde
6:30 - 7:30 pm President's Reception for Students
6:30 - 8:00 pm Nuestros Cuerpos, Nuestras Vidas Reception
7:00 - 9:00 pm Performance Artist: Linda Carney, S183
8:00 - 10:00 pm Cheryl Wheeler

Friday, June 16
8:00 - 7:00 pm NWSA Registration, Faculty Staff Room, MCB
8:00 - 6:00 pm Book Exhibit, Conference Center
8:00 - 9:00 pm Film and Video Series, C101
8:00 - 9:15 am Concurrent Sessions
9:30 - 10:45 am Concurrent Sessions
11:00 - 12:15 pm Concurrent Sessions
12:30 - 1:45 pm Concurrent Sessions
2:00 - 3:15 pm Concurrent Sessions
3:30 - 5:30 pm Plenary: Feminist Action and Intellect, Holmes Sports Center Gym
5:45 - 7:00 pm Reception for Authors Cynthia Enloe and Rita Arditti, Special Functions Room, MCB
5:45 - 7:00 pm Reception Radcliffe Graduate Consortium in Women’s Studies
6:00 - 7:30 pm Shabbat, Alumnae Hall
7:00 - 9:00 pm Writers Series: Cynthia Enloe and Rita Arditti
7:00 - 9:30 pm FEMSPEC Salon, S251A
8:00 - 9:00 pm WhoSheBe?
9:30 - 11:00 pm Karen Williams (Women of Color Caucus/Lesbian Caucus Fundraiser)
Conference Overview

Saturday, June 17
8:00 - 5:00 pm NWSA Registration, Faculty Staff Room, MCB
8:00 am - 6:00 pm Book Exhibit, Conference Center
8:00 am - 9:00 pm Film and Video Series, C101
10:15 - 11:30 am Concurrent Sessions
1:30 - 2:45 pm Concurrent Sessions
3:00 - 4:15 pm Concurrent Sessions
4:30 - 5:45 pm Concurrent Sessions
3:00 - 4:00 pm Constituency Council Meeting, S183
4:00 - 6:00 pm Special Film Event: Fire, Fauzia E. Ahmed and Joyti Puri, C101
4:15 - 5:45 pm Membership Assembly, Reed Auditorium, Mass. College of Pharmacy
5:00 - 6:00 pm Summer Solstice Ritual, Residence Campus Quad
6:00 - 7:30 pm Writers Series: Blanche Wiesen Cook, Library Browsing Room, (Reception follows)
9:00 - 1:30 am Saturday Night NWSA Dance

Professional Development / Continuing Education Seminar Series, Saturday, June 17
8:00 - 9:00 am Registration and Coffee, Faculty Staff Room, MCB
9:00 - 10:30 am Plenary: Violence in School/Violence in Schooling, Reed Auditorium, Mass. College of Pharmacy
10:45 - 12:00 Concurrent Sessions: Background, History and Knowledge
12:00 - 12:45 Lunch: Discussion - Jane Hardin & Sandra Caruso
1:00 - 2:00 pm Keynote Address: An Empowering Curriculum as an Alternative to Violence, Reed Auditorium, Mass. College of Pharmacy
2:15 - 3:30 pm Concurrent Sessions: Strategies for Change
3:50 - 5:00 pm Closing Panels: Strategies for Change

Lesbian Studies Institute, Saturday, June 17
8:30 - 10:00 am Opening Plenary, Holmes Sports Center Gym
10:15 - 11:30 am Lesbian Studies Institute Concurrent Sessions
11:45 - 1:15 pm Lunch - Keynote Address: Academics vs. Activists: Can't We Get Along, Holmes Sports Center Gym
1:30 - 2:45 pm Lesbian Studies Institute Concurrent Sessions
3:00 - 4:15 pm Lesbian Studies Institute Concurrent Sessions
4:30 - 5:45 pm Lesbian Studies Institute Concurrent Sessions
6:00 - 8:00 pm Lesbian Studies Institute Reception

Sunday, June 18
8:00 - 9:00 am NWSA Registration, Faculty Staff Room, MCB
8:30 - 9:45 am Concurrent Sessions
10:00 - 12:00 pm Plenary: Transformations
12:00 noon Conference Ends
1:00 - 5:30 pm Governing Council, Special Functions Room, MCB

Caucus, Task Force, Interest Group, Business Meetings

Wednesday, June 14
10:30 - 12:30 pm Jewish Women's Caucus, E209
10:30 - 12:30 pm Lesbian Caucus, E305
10:30 - 12:30 pm Women of Color Caucus, L504B
9:30 - 12:30 pm Women's Centers Caucus, S251B
1:30 - 3:30 pm Joint Caucus Meeting, C101
3:30 - 4:30 pm Caucuses Wrap-up Meetings
  Jewish Women's Caucus, E209
  Lesbian Caucus
  Women of Color Caucus, L504B
  Women's Centers Caucus, S251B

Thursday, June 15
3:45 - 5:00 pm New Member Orientation, L504A

Friday, June 16
7:30 - 8:30 am Lesbian Caucus, C218
7:30 - 8:30 am Women's Center Caucus, E209
Conference Overview

7:30 - 8:30 am Aging & Ageism Caucus
7:30 - 8:30 am Disability Caucus, W201
7:30 - 8:30 am Jewish Women's Caucus, W203
7:30 - 8:30 am Women of Color, W205
8:00 - 9:00 am Community College Caucus, Wheel 12
8:00 - 10:00 am SUNY Women's Council, Wheel 13
9:30 - 10:30 am Student Caucus, Wheel 24A
11:00 - 12:00 pm Catholic Interest Group, Wheel 13
12:30 - 1:30 pm Academic Discrimination Advisory Board, Wheel 12
2:00 - 3:00 pm Feminism & Activism Interest Group, Wheel 13
2:00 - 3:00 pm Spirituality Task Force, Wheel 21
5:45 - 6:15 pm Independent Scholars Task Force, Wheel 24A

Saturday, June 17

7:30 - 8:30 am NWSA Regional Meetings
   - Rm. E209 - Great Lakes: Illinois, Michigan, Wisconsin
   - Rm. W201 - Mid-Atlantic: Delaware, District of Columbia, Maryland, New Jersey, Pennsylvania
   - Rm. W203 - Midwest: Iowa, Kansas, Missouri, Nebraska
   - Rm. W205 - New England: Connecticut, Maine, Massachusetts, New Hampshire, Rhode Island, Vermont
   - Rm. C106 - North Central: Indiana, Kentucky, Ohio, West Virginia
   - Rm. L306 - Pacific Southwest: California, Hawaii
   - Rm. L308 - Rocky Mountain/Southwest: Arizona, Colorado, Nevada, New Mexico, Utah, Wyoming
   - Rm. S222 - South Central: Arkansas, Louisiana, Oklahoma, Texas
   - Rm. S251A - Southeast: Alabama, Florida, Georgia, Mississippi, North Carolina, South Carolina, Tennessee, Virginia
   - Rm. S251B - Upper Midwest: Minnesota, North Dakota, South Dakota

Saturday, June 18

8:30 - 9:45 am Women of Color Caucus, E209

NOTE: MCB - Main Campus Building
NWSA accomplishes its work through the efforts of member volunteers, with the able paid support of an executive administrator and her part-time staff in the national office, and a half time Conference Coordinator who manages the conference program database, the website and other work associated with the conferences. Responsibility for projects, including programming for the national conference falls to elected officers and governing council members, committee chairs and members, and other volunteers from various constituencies within NWSA. What this means is that NWSA is all of us, and we need people to volunteer—for committee membership, to strengthen regional associations, to join and energize sub-groups within NWSA. In addition, we would like more members to run for office, to encourage their programs and departments to pay for an institutional membership in NWSA, and to give consideration to hosting the national conference.

The Governing Council and NWSA’s Mission

The officers and members of the Governing Council welcome suggestions, financial support, constructive criticism, and volunteers to help with the work of the association. The volunteers who make NWSA possible are committed, in the words of the Constitution ratified in the spring of 1999, “to further the social, political, and professional development of Women’s Studies throughout the country and the world, at every educational level and in every educational setting.” This is a large and even global mission, and it only becomes a reality when members volunteer for service in NWSA. The Constitution continues, “To this end, this organization is committed to being a forum conducive to dialogue and collective action dedicated to feminist education and change.” NWSA members from different identity groups and disciplinary backgrounds work in coalition with each other in order to ensure a future for Women’s Studies both in the academy and in the community.

Regional Women's Studies Associations

Regional women’s studies associations exist to strengthen networks among the approximately 900 women’s studies programs, departments, women’s centers and their affiliated community organizations. If you do not know the region to which you belong, see the list that follows this section. At the regional sessions you will nominate your regional representative who goes to the Constituency Council and also have an opportunity to network with neighboring region colleagues, students and activists. Regional meetings will be held Saturday morning, 7:30 - 8:30. Room assignments are as listed below in ‘Regions of NWSA’.

Regions of NWSA

- Rm. E209 - Great Lakes: Illinois, Michigan, Wisconsin
- Rm. W201 - Midwest: Iowa, Kansas, Missouri, Nebraska
- Rm. W203 - New England: Connecticut, Maine, Massachusetts, New Hampshire, Rhode Island, Vermont
- Rm. W205 - New York: New York
- Rm. C106 - North Central: Indiana, Kentucky, Ohio, West Virginia
- Rm. L306 - Pacific Southwest: California, Hawaii
- Rm. L308 - Rocky Mountain/Southwest: Arizona, Colorado, Nevada, New Mexico, Utah, Wyoming
- Rm. S222 - South Central: Arkansas, Louisiana, Oklahoma, Texas
- Rm. S251A - Southeast: Alabama, Florida, Georgia, Mississippi, North Carolina, South Carolina, Tennessee, Virginia
- Rm. S251B - Upper Midwest: Minnesota, North Dakota, South Dakota

Caucuses, Task Forces, and Interest Area Groups

Caucuses have a long history in NWSA, beginning with the founding conference in 1977; they reflect the desire of some NWSA members to affiliate in sub-groups which reflect our diversity of identities. According to the 1999 revised Constitution and Bylaws, CAUCUSES designate groups that are under-represented within society or NWSA as an organization. TASK FORCES are oriented towards an issue or problem that can be solved through action. INTEREST AREA GROUPS are oriented toward those who wish to meet around a common scholarly interest. NWSA has acted from the beginning on the belief that members whose identities, voices, and points of view may be numerically under-represented within NWSA might not find an organizational base or be able to make themselves heard without caucus representation. Task Forces however, do not require representation within the governance structure, and can accomplish their projects without its intervention. INTEREST AREA GROUPS accomplish their goals primarily through the development of regular conference programming. Currently active caucuses and task forces, and any group that specifically asked for time...
National Women’s Studies Association

to discuss formalizing a caucus or task force, have scheduled meetings at this conference. If your group does not already have a time and place, and wishes to have a meeting, contact the NWSA registration table, and we will try to accommodate your request.

Governing Council, Constituency Council, and the Membership Assembly

The Governing Council (GC) is composed of the elected officers, 3 elected Members-at-Large, 5 elected Representatives by/from the Constituency Council (including the Chairs of the Women of Color and Lesbian Caucuses), and Chairs of the Standing Committees. The GC meets twice a year (in January, and in June, before and after the conference) to establish policy for NWSA; between GC meetings, the Executive Committee (composed of the elected officers and Conference Chair) is authorized to make decisions on behalf of the GC and NWSA.

The Constituency Council (CC) is composed of the elected representatives of the caucuses and regions. It is chaired by the NWSA President Elect, Annette Van Dyke. The CC elects three members of its body to the GC at a meeting that takes place after all contributing groups have met.

The Membership Assembly (MA) meets annually at the conference to hear reports from the officers and other members of the GC, to vote on any constitutional amendments that have been proposed and duly circulated, and to consider approving recommendations and resolutions from the membership or from regions, caucuses, or task forces directed to the Governing Council. Members of record 60 days prior to the meeting may participate in, and vote at, the meeting. The Constituency Council meeting will be Saturday, June 17 at 3:00-4:15pm in Room S183. The Membership Assembly meeting follows at 4:30-6:00pm in Reed Auditorium, Massachusetts College of Pharmacy.

How to Submit Recommendations and Resolutions at the Membership Assembly

Recommendations and resolutions, if approved by the Membership Assembly, are addressed to the Governing Council for further endorsement or implementation; the GC takes up recommendations and resolutions at its meeting immediately following the close of the conference.

- A recommendation is an expression of concern or principle; it does not require action on the part of NWSA, although it may recommend writing a letter, sending a telegram, or making a similar educational gesture, endorsing the substance of the recommendation.

- A resolution urges the Governing Council to develop and/or implement policies, procedures, or plans of action; a resolution involves a commitment of the Association’s resources, either in money or in time of the officers of the organization. Sponsors of recommendations and resolutions should consider and include in the proposal the following categories as appropriate: cost (and source of funding); responsibility for implementation (and to what extent the sponsors are willing to do the work); timetable (and who is responsible for meeting deadlines); and specifics (names, addresses, e-mail, phone numbers, etc.). Recommendation/Resolution Forms are available at the Conference Registration Desk throughout the conference. Completed forms must be returned to the registration desk by Friday, June 16 at 4:00pm.

If you have further questions during the conference, please contact the current NWSA President Elect, Annette Van Dyke, University of Illinois Springfield, <Vandyke.Annette@uis.edu>; or after the conference, contact 2000-2001 President Elect, Magdalena Garcia-Pinto, University of Missouri, <Garcia-PintoM@missouri.edu>
National Women's Studies Association

Membership Information

Membership in NWSA is open to anyone interested in promoting Women's Studies education in the community, schools, colleges and universities. Membership dues range from $25 for students, adjunct and activist members to $95 for individual membership to $1200 for a life membership. Institutional memberships range from $70 to $200 to $800 for a five-year membership.

NWSA National Office
7100 Baltimore Blvd. Suite 500
University of Maryland
College Park, MD 20740
301-403-0525 Fax: 301-403-4137
www.nwsa.org

National Staff Members
Loretta Younger, National Executive Administrator
Beatrice Thompson, Conference Coordinator
Valda Lewis, Editor of NWSAction
Reba Davis, Catherine Powell, Amy Howard,
Stephanie Schulz-Gigliotti

NOTE: NWSA is a 501 (c)3 organization as classified by the IRS. This means that in order to keep our status as a tax-exempt, non-profit organization, we are prohibited as an organization from engaging in political activities. While it is far from certain that NWSA members and the IRS would agree on the meaning of the phrase “political activity,” NWSA must restrict its external advocacy or actions to those that clearly fall within the rubric of our educational mission. Although NWSA itself may be prohibited from engaging in political activity, this does not restrict the speech or action of NWSA’s membership. Persons or groups wishing to enlist the advocacy of NWSA’s membership may circulate petitions at the conference and/or may purchase mailing labels from the national office in order to communicate directly with members. Persons or groups outside of NWSA may not solicit conference attendees for financial support.

Governing Council 1999-2000
Executive Committee
President - Berenice Carroll
President Elect - Annette Van Dyke
Secretary - Mary Davidson
Treasurer - Diana Scully
Conference Chair - Ellen Cronan Rose

GC Members at Large
Miriam Kalman Harris
Magdalena Garcia-Pinto
Wendy Kolmar
Linda Lopez McAlister
Ines Senna Shaw

GC Committee Chairs
Communications - Mary Davidson

Conflict Resolution - Kathleen Crowley-Long,
Trisha Franzen, Patsy Schweickart, Virginia Cyrus,
Marilyn Hoder-Salmon, Judith Fetterley, Robin Powers
Continuing Education - Helen Bannan
Elections - Gail Cohee
Ethics & Equity - Bette Tallen
Membership - Dorothy Miller
Personnel - Maria Gonzalez
NWSA 2000 Conference - Christina Brinkley

Constituency Council Representatives to the GC
Valda Lewis - Lesbian Caucus
Carol Robinson - Student Caucus
Patricia Washington - Women of Color Caucus
Barbara Horn - Community College Caucus
Pamela Menke - New England Region

Caucus, Task Force & Regional Representatives to the CC
Aging & Ageism Caucus - Sharon Jacobson
Community College Caucus - Judith Roy
Disability Caucus - Margaret Howe, Virginia Bemis
Jewish Women’s Caucus - Susan Koppel, Penny Rosenwasser, Katalin Fabian
Program Administration & Development - Jacquelyn Zita, Ann Schonberger
Women’s Centers Caucus - Kelli Zaytoun Byrne
Educational Outreach - Helen Bannan
Women of Color Alternate - Bonita Hampton
Coordinator for Academic Discrimination Task Force Disbursements - Annis Pratt
Academic Discrimination Task Force - Sharon Leder
Catholic Interest Area Interest Group - Lorine M. Getz
Spirituality Area Interest Group - Terri Ann Bengiveno
Feminism & Activism Area Interest Group - Karen Bojar
New England Region - Pam Menke
New York Region - Jeannette McVicker
North Central Region - Colette Morrow
Mid-Atlantic Region - Tania Ramalho
Upper Midwest Region - Virginia Norris
Great Lakes Region - Emily Berry
Rocky Mountain/Southwest - Marylea Carr

NWSA 2000 - 2001 Executive Committee
President - Annette Van Dyke
President Elect - Magdalena Garcia-Pinto
Secretary - Mary Davidson
Treasurer - Diana Scully
Conference Chair - Ellen Cronan Rose

Regional Representatives
Great Lakes - Emily Berry
sauta@umich.edu
1010 Catherine, Apt. 207
Ann Arbor, MI 48104
NWSA LIFE MEMBERS

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Name</th>
<th>Email</th>
<th>Institution</th>
<th>Location</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Ambler, Effie</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Bellairs, Priscilla B.</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Bingham, Sally</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Braine, Lila</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Brewer, David L.</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Brinkley, Christina</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Brown, Janet E.</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Carroll, Berenice A.</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Cooper, Virginia M.</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Coyner, Sandra</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Crowe, Edith L.</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Cyrus, Virginia</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Dasso, Judith</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Davidson, Mary</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Del Rey, Pat</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>DeSole, Gloria</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Duesterhoeft, Diane M.</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Dzamba, Anne O.</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Farley, Tucker Pamela</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Fetterley, Judith</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Fowlkes, Diane L.</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Frank, Francine</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Fultz, Lucille P.</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Gerber, Barbara</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Gilbert, Kathie S.</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Goldman-Price, Irene C.</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Goldsmith, Margo L.</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Gozembba, Patricia A.</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Gurko, Jane</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Hall, Pamela M.</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Harding, Sandra</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Inoue, Teruko</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Johnson, Judith</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Kanner, S. Barbara</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Kennedy, Elizabeth Lapovsky</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Kolodny, Annette</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Kramarce, Chenis</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Leone, Vivien</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Lewis, Elissa</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>MacPike, Loralee</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Mansfield, Sue</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Maria, Bethania</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Matthews, Barbara C.</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>McIntosk, Kathleen</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Messer-Davidow, Ellen</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Moses, Yolanda T.</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Musil, Caryn McGnehe</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>O'Neill, Sylvia T.</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Osborne, Nancy Seale</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Rothenberg, Paula</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Rothschild, Joan</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>
Rudolph, Karen M.
Samuel, Pat
Scheffey, Melissa
Schweickart, Patrocinio
Sherman, Sarah
Siegel, Rachel Josepofowitz
Spivak, Gayatri Chakravorty
Sitzel, Judith
Strauss, Mary Jo
Taub, Nadine
Taylor, Barbara G.
Thompson, Patricia J.
Ueno, Chizuko
Walker, Heather
Worcester, Nancy
Yamaguchi, Ayako
Yamaguchi, Noriko
Zimmerman, Bonnie

NWSA Institutional Members

Agnes Scott College, Decatur, GA
Albion College, Albion, MI
Allegheny College, Meadville, PA
Alma College, Alma, MI
Amherst College, Amherst, MA
Ann Arundel Community College, Arnold, MD
Aquinas College, Grand Rapids, MI
Arizona State University, Tempe, AZ
Atlanta-Fulton Public Library, Atlanta, GA
Augsburg College, Minneapolis, MN
Augustana College, Rock Island, IL
Avila College, Kansas City, MO
Ball State University, Muncie, IN Barnard College, New York, NY
Bates College, Lewiston ME
Bentley College, Waltham, MA
Bethune Cookman College, Daytona Beach, FL
Boston College, Chestnut Hill, MA
Boston Public Library, Boston, MA
Boston University, Boston, MA
Bowdoin College, Brunswick, ME
Bradley University, Peoria, IL
Brandeis University, Waltham, MA
Bridgewater State College, Bridgewater, MA
Bryn Mawr College, Bryn Mawr, PA
Bucknell University, Lewisburg, PA
California Lutheran University, Thousand Oaks, CA
California Polytechnic State University, San Luis Obispo, CA
California State University, Fresno, CA
California State University, Fullerton, CA
California State University, Long Beach, CA
California State University, Northridge, CA
California State University, Stanislaus, Turlock, CA

California University of Pennsylvania, California, PA
Casper College, Casper, WY
Central Washington University, Ellensburg, WA
Century College, White Bear Lake, MN
Cerritos College, Norwalk, CA
Chatham College, Pittsburgh, PA
City University of New York, New York, NY
Claremont Graduate University, Claremont, CA
Clarion University of Pennsylvania, Clarion, PA
Clark University, Worcester, MA
Colby College, Waterville, ME
College of Charleston, Charleston, SC
College of New Jersey, Ewing, NJ
College of St. Benedict, St. Joseph, MN
College of St. Catherine, St. Paul, MN
College of St. Mary, Omaha, NE
College of Saint Rose, Albany, NY
College of William & Mary, Williamsburg, VA
Colorado College, Colorado Springs, CO
Colorado State University, Ft. Collins, CO
Connecticut College, New London, CT
Cornell University, Ithaca, NY
Dartmouth College, Hanover, NH
Davidson College, Davidson, NC
Denison University, Granville, OH
DePaul University, Chicago, IL
DePauw University, Green Castle, IN
Duke University, Durham, NC
East Carolina University, Greenville, NC
East Stroudsburg University, East Stroudsburg, PA
Eastern Conn. State University, Willimantic, CT
Eastern Washington University, Cheney, WA
Edgewood College, Madison, WI
Elmira College, Elmira, NY
Emory University, Atlanta, GA
ERA Summit, Roberta Francis, Chatham, NJ
Feminist Majority Foundation, Arlington, VA
Florida Atlantic University, Boca Raton, FL
Florida International University, Miami, FL
Florida State University, Tallahassee, FL
Franklin & Marshall College, Lancaster, PA
George Washington University, Washington, DC
Georgetown University, Washington, DC
Georgia State University, Atlanta, GA
Gettysburg College, Gettysburg, PA
Goucher College, Towson, MD
Graduate Theological Union, Berkeley, CA
Greenfield Community College, Greenfield, MA
Gustavus Adolphus College, St. Peter, MN
Hamlin University, St. Paul, MN
Hartford College for Women, Hartford, CT
Harvard University, Cambridge, MA
Hofstra University, Hempstead, NY
Humboldt State University, Arcata, CA
Illinois Wesleyan University, Bloomington, IL
Indiana State University, Terre Haute, IN Indiana University of Pennsylvania, Indiana, PA
Indiana University, Bloomington, Bloomington, IN Indiana University, South Bend, South Bend, IN Indiana University/Purdue University, Ft. Wayne, IN Institute Women's Research Policy
Iowa State University, Ames, IA
Ithaca College, Ithaca, NY
James Madison University, Harrisonburg, VA
Joliet Junior College, Joliet, IL
Kansas State University, Manhattan, KS
Keene State College, Keene, NH
Kent State University, Kent, OH
Kingsborough Community College, Brooklyn, NY
Kutztown University, Kutztown, PA
Lafayette College, Easton, PA
Lehigh University, Bethlehem, PA
Lehman College, Bronx, NY
Lewis & Clark College, Portland, OR
Louisiana State University, Shreveport, Baton Rouge, LA
Loyola University Library, New Orleans, LA
Lycoming College, Williamsport, PA
Macalester College, St. Paul, MN
Mansfield University, Mansfield, PA
Massachusetts College of Lib. Arts, No. Adams, MA
Massachusetts Institute of Tech., Cambridge, MA
McNeese State University, Lake Charles, LA
Merrimack College, North Andover, MA
Metropolitan State College, Denver, CO
Miami University, Oxford, OH
Michigan State University, Lansing, MI
Michigan Women's Studies Association, Lansing, MI
Middle Tennessee State University, Murfreesboro, TN
Middlebury College, Middlebury, VT
Millersville University, Millersville, PA
Mills College, Oakland, CA
Minneapolis Comm. & Tech. Coll., Minneapolis, MN
Minnesota State University, Mankato, MN
Monmouth University, West Long Branch, NJ
Moravian College, Bethlehem, PA
Mount Holyoke College, South Hadley, MA
NWSA Journal, Boone, NC
National Women's Studies Association, College Park, MD
New Jersey City University, Jersey City, NJ
New School University, New York, NY
North Carolina State University, Raleigh, NC
North Dakota State University, Fargo, ND
Northeastern Illinois University, Chicago, IL
Northeastern University, Boston, MA
Northern Arizona University, Flagstaff, AZ
Northern Illinois University, DeKalb, IL
Northern Kentucky University, Highland Heights, KY
Oberlin College, Oberlin, OH
Ohio State University, Columbus, OH
Ohio University, Athens, OH
Ohio Wesleyan University, Delaware, OH
Old Dominion University, Norfolk, VA
Oregon State University, Corvallis, OR Pace University, New York, NY
Pacific Lutheran University, Tacoma, WA
Pacific University, Forest Grove, OR Peace College Library, Raleigh, NC
Penn State University, University Park, PA
Portland State University, Portland, OR
Prince George's Community College, Largo, MD
Princeton University, Princeton, NJ
Principia College, Elsah, IL
Princeton University, Princeton, NJ
Providence College, Providence, RI
Purdue University, W. Lafayette, IN Purdue University, Calumet, Hammond, IN Queens College CUNY, Flushing, NY
Quinnipiac College, Hamden, CT
Quinsigamond Comm. College, Worcester, MA
Radcliffe College, Cambridge, MA
Radcliffe Inst/Harvard University, Cambridge, MA
Regis College, Weston, MA
Rhode Island College, Providence, RI
Richard Stockton College of NJ, Pomona, NJ
Rider University, Lawrenceville, NJ
Rutgers University, Douglass, New Brunswick, NJ
Saint Joseph College, West Hartford, CT
Saint Joseph's University, Philadelphia, PA
Saint Mary's College, Notre Dame, IN
Sarah Lawrence College, Bronxville, NY
Salem State College, Salem, MA
San Diego State University, San Diego, CA
Scripps College, Claremont, CA
Seton Hall, South Orange, NJ
Seton Hill College, Greensburg, PA
Shippensburg University, Shippensburg, PA
Simmons College, Boston, MA
Simmons College, African American Studies, Boston, MA
Simmons College, Graduate School of Mgmt, Boston, MA
Skidmore College, Saratoga Springs, NY
Smith College, Northampton, MA
Sonoma State University, Rohnert Park, CA
South End Press, Cambridge, MA
South Dakota State University, Brookings, SD
Southern Connecticut State University, New Haven, CT
Southern Illinois University, Edwardsville, IL
Southern Methodistic University, Dallas, TX
Southwestern University, Georgetown, TX
St. Lawrence University, Canton, NY
St. Olaf College, Northfield, MN
| State University College, Oneonta, NY | University of Maryland, College Park, MD |
| SUNY - Brockport, Brockport, NY | University of Massachusetts, Amherst, Amherst, MA |
| SUNY - Buffalo, Buffalo, NY | University of Massachusetts, Dartmouth, N. Dartmouth, MA |
| SUNY - Fredonia, Fredonia, NY | University of Michigan, Ann Arbor, MI |
| SUNY - Genesco, Genesco, NY | University of Minnesota, Minneapolis, MN |
| SUNY - New Paltz, New Paltz, NY | University of Minnesota, Duluth, MN |
| SUNY - Plattsburgh, Plattsburgh, NY | University of Minnesota, Minneapolis, MN |
| Swarthmore College, Swarthmore, PA | University of Missouri, Columbia, MO |
| Syracuse University, Syracuse, NY | University of Missouri, St. Louis, MO |
| Temple University, Philadelphia, PA | University of Montana, Missoula, MT |
| Texas A&M University, College Station, TX | University of Nebraska, Lincoln, NE |
| Texas A&M University, Corpus Christi, TX | University of Nebraska, Omaha, NE |
| Texas Tech. University, Lubbock, TX | University of Nevada, Las Vegas, NV |
| Texas Woman's University, Denton, TX | University of Nevada, Reno, NV |
| The Fund for Women Artists, Florence, MA | University of New Hampshire, Durham, NH |
| Towson University, Towson, MD | University of New Mexico, Albuquerque, NM |
| Triangle Interests 3% Gallery, Philadelphia, PA | University of New Orleans, New Orleans, LA |
| Trinity College, Hartford, CT | University of North Carolina, Asheville, NC |
| Tufts University, Medford, MA | University of North Carolina, Chapel Hill, NC |
| Tulane University, New Orleans, LA | University of North Dakota, Grand Forks, ND |
| Union Institute, Washington, DC | University of Northern Iowa, Iowa City, IA |
| University at Albany-SUNY, Albany, NY | University of Oregon, Eugene, OR |
| University of Akron, Akron, OH | University of Penn, Philadelphia, PA |
| University of Alabama, Birmingham, AL | University of Pittsburgh, Pittsburgh, PA |
| University of Alabama, Huntsville, AL | University of Puget Sound, Tacoma, WA |
| University of Alaska, Fairbanks, AK | University of Redlands, Redlands, CA |
| University of Alaska, Anchorage, AK | University of Rhode Island, Kingston, RI |
| University of Arkansas, Fayetteville, Fayetteville, AR | University of Scranton, Scranton, PA |
| University of California, Berkeley, CA | University of South Carolina, Columbia, SC |
| University of California, Davis, CA | University of South Carolina, Spartanburg, SC |
| University of California, Irvine, CA | University of South Florida, Tampa, FL |
| University of California, LA, Los Angeles, CA | University of Southern Maine, Portland, ME |
| University of California, Santa Cruz, CA | University of Texas, Austin, TX |
| University of Central Florida, Orlando, FL | University of Tulsa, Tulsa, OK |
| University of Cincinnati, Cincinnati, OH | University of Vermont, Burlington, VT |
| University of Colorado, Colorado Springs, CO | University of Washington, Seattle, WA |
| University of Colorado at Boulder, Boulder, CO | University of Western Ontario, London, Ont, Canada |
| University of Connecticut, Storrs, CT | University of Wisconsin, Eau Claire, Eau Claire, WI |
| University of Dayton, Dayton, OH | University of Wisconsin, Madison, Madison, WI |
| University of Delaware, Newark, DE | University of Wisconsin, Milwaukee, Milwaukee, WI |
| University of Detroit Mercy, Detroit, MI | University of Wisconsin, Oshkosh, Oshkosh, WI |
| University of Georgia, Athens, GA | University of Wisconsin, Platteville, WI |
| University of Houston, Houston, TX | University of Wisconsin, Whitewater, Whitewater, WI |
| University of Houston, Clear Lake, Houston, TX | University of Wisconsin System, Madison, WI |
| University of Illinois, Chicago, IL | University of Wyoming, Laramie, WY |
| University of Illinois, Urbana, Champaign, IL | Utah State University, Logan, UT |
| University of Iowa, Iowa City, IA | Vanderbilt University, Nashville, TN |
| University of Kansas, Lawrence, KS | Vassar College, Poughkeepsie, NY |
| University of Kentucky, Lexington, KY | Virginia Commonwealth University, Richmond, VA |
| University of Louisville, Louisville, KY | Virginia Tech, Blacksburg, VA |
| University of Maine, Farmington, ME | Viterbo College, LaCrosse, WI |
| University of Maine, Orono, ME | Wake Forest University, Winston-Salem, NC |
| University of Maryland, Baltimore County, MD | |
National Women’s Studies Association

Washington State University, Pullman, WA
Washington University, St. Louis, MO
Weber State University, Ogden, UT
Webster University, St. Louis, MO
Wellesley College, Wellesley, MA
Wells College, Aurora, NY
Wesleyan University, Middletown, CT
West Valley College, Saratoga, CA
West Virginia University, Morgantown, WV
Western Kentucky University, Bowling Green, KY
Western Michigan University, Kalamazoo, MI
Western Washington University, Bellingham, WA
Westfield State College, Westfield, MA
Wheaton College, Norton, MA
Wichita State University, Wichita, KS
Widener University, Chester, PA
William Paterson University, Wayne, NJ
Williams College, Williamstown, MA
Wittenberg University, Springfield, OH
Women Make Movies, New York, NY
Women of Color Resource Center, Berkeley, CA
Wright State University, Dayton, OH
Yale University, New Haven, CT
York College of Pennsylvania, York, PA
Ceremonies and Celebrations

The Jewish Caucus is issuing a special invitation to all women, Jewish and non-Jewish, to attend Shabbat, Friday, 6:00 - 7:30 - Alumnae Hall.

On Saturday, 6:00 - 7:00, the Spirituality Task Force will sponsor a Summer Solstice Ritual outdoors on the Residence Campus Quad.

Cultural Events

Cultural events tickets may be purchased at the conference registration desk.

Film Series

Films will be shown in Room C101 unless otherwise indicated. See the Film Series section of the program book for times and descriptions.

Press and Media Representatives

Members of the press and media representatives with appropriate identification should come to the Conference Registration Desk to receive a press pass and information concerning how to contact officers, conference speakers, and NWSA representatives.

Reminder to Participants and Presenters

Conference attendees are requested to refrain from wearing scented products that may trigger reactions in chemically-sensitive persons. NWSA requests that presenters provide large print copies of their presentation material and/or visual to assure access to all participants.

Smoking

Simmons College is a smoke-free campus.

Special Ribbons

Members of the Governing Council will be wearing red ribbons attached to their name tags; conference volunteers will be wearing green ribbons. If you need assistance or directions, please look for someone wearing a green or red ribbon. Plenary speakers will be wearing white ribbons, and NWSA life members will be wearing gold ribbons.

Writers’ Series

See the Writer’s Series program in this publication for times and locations of the various authors and scheduled sessions. The Writer’s Series is open to all conference registrants at no additional charge.

Transportation

Boston is served by Logan International Airport, MBTA local train service, local buses and Amtrak.

Simmons College

For a century Simmons College has educated women for enriching careers and useful, independent lives. Simmons enrolls approximately 3600 students, 1300 undergraduates and 2300 graduate students. The graduate programs and schools include the Graduate Program in Gender and Cultural Information Science, Management, and Social Work. Simmons also offers coeducational graduate programs in children’s literature, communications management, and education.

Fitness

Holmes Sports and Fitness Center, located in the residential quad (next to the dining hall), is available to conference attendees for $5 a day cash. The Center has a swimming pool, a hot tub and sauna, a weight-training room, a running area, and more.

Photocopying

Please check with the registration desk if you need to photocopy materials.

Book Exhibit

The Book Exhibit, including displays by publishers, organizations, and crafts people, is located in the Book Exhibit and Marketplace. Exhibit hours are Thursday 9am - 6pm; Friday 9am - 7pm; and Saturday 9am - 6pm.

NWSA Sale Items

Stop by the NWSA table in the Book Exhibit. Be sure to get a copy of the (updated) Guide to Graduate Work in Women’s Studies, 2000.

Childcare

Childcare is provided by Parents in a Pinch, Inc., 617-739-5432x110 and must be prearranged.

Disability

NWSA is committed to providing reasonable accommodations for all conference participants who need assistance. If you have contacted NWSA prior to the conference to arrange assistance, please identify yourself to someone at conference registration. Persons with disabilities seeking accommodations while at the conference but who have not previously arranged for assistance also should identify their needs to conference registration. Every effort will be made to provide a reasonable accommodation.
National Women's Studies Association

NWSA Planning Committees and Volunteers

Conference Chair
Christina Brinkley, Simmons College

NWSA National Conference Planners
Beatrice Thompson, Conference Coordinator
Berenice Carroll, NWSA President, 1999-2000
Diana Scully, NWSA Treasurer

Plenary committee member and conference planning chairs as listed below.

Plenary Committee Members
Christina Brinkley, Berenice Carroll, Phoebe Farris, Linda Garber, Elizabeth Kennedy, Wendy Kolmar, Susan Koppelman, Bethania Maria, Linda Lopez-McAlister, Michele Oshima, Ellen Cronan Rose, Laura Roskos, Annette Van Dyke, Patricia Washington, Phyllis Weisbard

2000 Conference Planning Committee Chairs
Conference Chair - Christina Brinkley
Administrative Assistant - Adrienne Gordon
Conference Coordinator - Beatrice Thompson
Site Facilities Coordinator - Diane Hammer
Book Exhibit Chair - Kathryn Lanier
Disability Coordinator - Bette Tallen, Diane Hammer
Plenary Committee - Berenice Carroll
Program Committee Chair - Andrea Humphrey, Jean McAtee
Film Series - Elizabeth Hadley
Writers Series - Pat Ould
Dana Shugar Lesbian Studies Institute - Valda Lewis
Professional Development Co-Chairs - Jane Hardin, Gail Dines
Registration and Name Tags - Loretta Younger
T-Shirts and Art Work Design - Christle Rawlins-Jackson, WomanMade Products, Inc.
Budget and Contracts - Diana Scully
Campus Housing and Meals - Carol Stewart
Audio Visual Support - Simmons College
Website - Beatrice Thompson
Program Book Design - Beatrice Thompson

Book Exhibit
Chair: Kathryn B. Lanier
Adrienne Gordon, Simmons College
Marie McHugh, Simmons College

Community Organizations
Chair: Jan Cannavan, Independent Scholar
Claire Cummings, Clark University, Newberry College, Simmons College, and Surviviors, Inc.
Betty Reid Mandell, Bridgewater State College
Frida Maeher, Wheaton College
Anne Mulvey, UMASS-Lowell
Amy Pett, Clark University
Jo Triglia, Bentley College
Anne Wiley, Greenfield Community College

Cultural Events & Writers' Series
Chair: Pat Ould, Salem State College
Mary Duffy, Middlebury College Women's Center
Jyl Lynn Felmam, Brandeis University
Katie Hogan, Marcia Lagerway-Commeret
Robin Melavlin, Bridgewater State College
Michele Oshima, MIT/Program in Women's Studies
Jill Teitelman, Simmons College

NWSA Dana Shugar Lesbian Studies Institute
Chair: Valda Lewis
Colette Morrow
Pat Washington, San Diego State University

Facilities and Logistics
Co-Chair: Diane Hammer, Simmons College
Christina Brinkley, Simmons College
Diane Armstrong, Simmons College
Gail Dines, Wheelock College
Terese Galuska, Massachusetts College of Pharmacy
Denise Correa, Simmons College

Film Series
Chair: Elizabeth A. Hadley, Simmons College

Program Book, Registration, & Related Materials
Beatrice Thompson, Conference Coordinator
Loretta Younger, NWSA Executive Administrator
Nancy Campbell-Patterson, UMASS-Amherst
Della Scott, Simmons College, Abafazi Journal
Kathy Tomasek, Wheaton College

Program Committee
Chair: Andrea Humphrey, Tufts University
Carol Biewener, Simmons College
Christina Brinkley, Simmons College
Nancy Campbell-Patterson, UMASS-Amherst
Gail Dines, Wheelock College
Connie Griffin, Boston College
Sadie Fischesser
Nat Assoc.for Women in Catholic Higher Education
Ann Proines, UMASS-Boston
Victoria Johnson, Bates College
Susan Jordon, Fisher College
Jennifer Klein Morrison, Regis College
Cristina Malcolmson, Bates College
Marsha Marotta, Westfield State College
Pamela Menke, Regis College
Marilyn Monterro, Massachusetts Department of Education
Ruth Nemzoff, Bentley College
Erika Pilver, Westfield State College
Diane Raymond, Simmons College
Laura Roskos, Graduate Consortium in Women's Studies at Radcliffe College
Ann Schonberger, Universiy of Maine
Heather Stalabom, Regis College
Jill Taylor, Simmons College
Heather Walker, Graduate Consortium in Women's Studies at Radcliffe College

Program Cover Art
Christle Rawlins-Jackson

Professional Development Institute Workshop (Violence in School/Violence in Schooling)
Jane Hardin, Simmons College
Gail Dines, Wheelock College

Simmons College Conference & Special Events
Carol Stewart
Michael Fesko
Rita Beal
Amy Schneider
Linda Osborn-Blaschke

T-Shirts Screening
WomanMade Products, Seneca Falls, NY

Volunteer Coordinator
Diane Hammer, Simmons College
Loretta Younger, NWSA Executive Administrator

17
Work Exchange
Loretta Younger, NWSA Executive Administrator

Special thanks for Generous Financial Support
New Words Book Store
Graduate Consortium in Women's Studies at Radcliffe College
MIT Program in Women's Studies
Brandeis University
Tufts University
Wellesley College
JamaicaWay Books and Gifts

Travel Scholarships Grants Provided by
New England Women's Studies Association and NWSA
Co-Chairs: Helen Bannan, University of Wisconsin-Oshkosh
Patricia Washington, San Diego State University
Ann Froines, University of Massachusetts-Boston
Berenice Carroll, Purdue University

Thank You!
Cultural Events

Cultural Events - Thursday, June 15

LINDA CARNEY - 7:00 - 9:00 PM • S183
MC - Claire Cummings

The Secret Childhood Diary of a Welfare Mother

The Secret Childhood Diary of a Welfare Mother is Linda Carney’s one-woman spoken word show which is both humorous and heavy. It is an hour and fifteen minutes long with no intermission. It combines diary entries from her childhood (growing up Irish, Catholic, and poor in Boston) with spoken word poetry that show how childhood experiences influenced both the choices and self-esteem of the adult woman. The show points out the illusion of self-sufficiency and choice, especially for poor women and girls in our society; and, it sheds unwavering light on issues such as “domestic” violence, child abuse, the devaluing of care work, and institutionalized misogyny and how all of these combined resulted in socialized poverty.

Linda Carney is a professional performance artist, director, poet, playwright, and free-lance writer. She has read and performed her work throughout New England. She performs both comedy and her own one-woman shows in a wide variety of settings. Her theater credits include Stella in Harold Pinter’s The Collection, Chaya in Joshua Sobel’s Ghetto, “Dragons” in Jane Martin’s Talking With, which she also directed. As a political and cultural activist, Linda Carney teaches poetry and performance workshops to low income women, single mothers, battered women, teens, and youth at risk. She serves as editor for Survival News, a newspaper for and by low-income women and activists working for economic justice. She is flexible, versatile, and professional, using humor, wit, poetry, and satire to expose her target and her own feminist sensibilities.

There are many, many additional credits that could be listed. Linda Carney herself feels that her most significant contribution to the world and greatest accomplishment in life is parenting and loving her ten-year-old autistic son, Philip. Don’t miss this outstanding and talented woman.

Free event.

CHERYL WHEELER - 8:00 - 10:00 PM
MC - Jill Teitelman, Simmons College

Born in Baltimore, MD, Cheryl Wheeler straddles the line between folk and country. Cheryl’s concerts are more like what you would find at a comedy club than expect to find at a folk music concert. She will tell a story that has you rolling in the aisles, and then sing a song that leaves you wiping tears from your eyes. Her entire concert is an emotional roller coaster. From her albums you can tell that she is a gifted songwriter with a beautiful voice and a natural story teller with a fantastic sense of humor.

In 1983, Cheryl released a self produced EP called Newport Songs. Her first two albums, Cheryl Wheeler in 1986, and Half a Book in 1991 were on an independent label, North Star. Her third album, Circles & Arrows, was originally released on Capitol in 1991. Her fourth album Driving Home was on Philo in 1993. Rounder later reissued Circles & Arrows in 1995, followed by Mrs. Pinocci’s Guitar in 1995, and Sylvia Hotel in 1999. Cheryl’s songs are often emotional portraits of people. The songs that touch people the most are her songs about relationships, such as “Arrow,” “Aces,” and “But the Days and Nights Are Long.” Tickets $15. Visit Cheryl on the web at www.cherylwheeler.com

PURCHASE YOUR CULTURAL EVENTS PASS AT NWSA REGISTRATION DESK

*ALL EVENTS - $29 * CHERYL WHEELER - $15 * KAREN WILLIAMS - $12 * WHO'SHEBE? - $5
Cultural Events

Cultural Events - Friday, June 16

 SHABBAT - 6:00 - 7:00 PM - ALUMNAE HALL *****

WHO IS SHE BE? - 8:00 - 9:00 PM
MC - Michele Oshima, MIT Program in Women’s Studies

These four women from the Boston area bring with them a diverse blend of musical experiences and envision, creating a unique sound, amalgamating the classic, soulful jazz vocal styles of the Billie Holiday genre with the contemporary swing and funk grooves of today. WhoSheBe? believes in raising the profile of women in music, and hopes to share the beauty of jazz. Tickets $5. Visit WhoSheBe? on the web at www.gracechung.com/whoshebe/

KAREN WILLIAMS - 9:00 - 11:00 PM
MC - Joy Sapinoso, San Diego State University

The Women of Color Caucus and the Lesbian Caucus joint fund-raiser. Affectionately known as the “Diva of Comedy” and the “Queen of Improv,” Karen Williams is the creator and facilitator of the Humor-at-Large Workshop Series, founder of the National Women’s Comedy Conference, past president of the Association of Women’s Music and Culture, and former Board Member of AIDS, Medicine and Miracles. Humor, says Williams, is one of the simplest ways we can lighten our sexual psychic loads. Karen’s humor will empower everyone towards greater self-awareness, self-love, and self-acceptance. Williams has established the HaHA Institute, which is deeply and sincerely committed to the study and active use of humor in the healing process. HaHA Institute offers humor-related workshops, lectures, keynote and motivational speeches for private corporations, federal and state agencies, non-profit entities, colleges and universities, and special events, as well as on-line tutoring for interested individuals. Tickets $12.

Sponsored in part by the International Institute of Humor and Healing Arts (HaHa Institute), POB 32147, Cleveland, OH 44132; 216-289-7079; haha@multiverse.com; www.hahainstitute.qpg.com

FEMSPEC SALON - 7:00 - 9:30 PM - S251A

FEMSPEC, an interdisciplinary feminist journal dedicated to critical and creative work in the realms of science fiction, fantasy, magical realism, and other supernatural genres presents a salon - a space where writers, scholars and artists specializing in the non-realist genres of magical realism, fantasy, surrealism, etc. can gather to share their most recent creative visions. Gloria Orenstein and Batya Weinbaum, propose FEMSPEC as an annual Friday night event at NWSA.

Cultural Events - Saturday, June 17

SUMMER SOLSTICE RITUAL - 6:00 - 7:00 PM - RESIDENCE CAMPUS QUAD
Sponsored by the Women’s Spirituality Task Force
Writer’s Series

THURSDAY, JUNE 15, 2000

11:00 AM - 12:15 PM - WHEELOCK 14
Convener: Patricia Ould, Salem State College
Jean Gould

Dutiful Daughters: Caring for Our Parents as They Grow Old

Often called the “sandwich generation,” “dutiful daughters” are women caught in the middle of two generations needing care: their parents and their children. Yet this label fails to reflect the real and complicated experiences of the women who care for their parents. Gould and contributors to Dutiful Daughters, Cathleen Calbert, Martha Henry, Florence Ladd, Sandell Morse, and Pat Gozemba, will read their personal accounts demonstrating the wide range of caregiver experiences. Photo credit: Tomasz Adach.

12:30 PM - 1:30 PM - WHEELOCK 14
Convener: TBD
Amy Hoffman

Hospital Time

A view of AIDS from the perspective of the author’s experiences taking care of a less-than-ideal male friend. Photo credit: Susan Fleischmann.

3:30 PM - 4:45 PM - WHEELOCK 25
Convener: TBD
Ruth Harriet Jacobs

Button, Button Who Has the Button?

This play, which will be cast from the audience, is a loosely connected series of scenes in which women of diverse ages and backgrounds speak to each other about their sorrows, joys, fears, and hopes. The author draws on her own experiences and family background, especially the lives of her mother and her Russian immigrant grandmother. The title, of course, comes from the familiar children’s game; but its underlying significance derives from the immigrant grandmother’s button jar, filled with buttons that evoke visions of her long and arduous life. So the button becomes symbolic of the experiences of various women as they reveal themselves throughout the play.
7:00 PM - 9:00 PM - C103
AUTHORS JEAN HARDISTY AND KIANA DAVENPORT
SPONSORED BY NEW WORDS BOOKSTORE
Convener: Jean MacRae
Jean Hardisty
Mobilizing Resentment: Conservative Resurgence from the John Birch Society to the Promise Keepers
From the founder and executive director of Political Research Associates comes a critical and in-depth portrait of the rank and file who make up the right. A veteran watchdog of the right, Hardisty examines conservatives' motivations for involvement - concerns over race, feminism, lesbian and gay rights, and the traditional role of families - and how the organizations of the right formed in reaction to the opening of the social contract.

Kiana Davenport
Song of the Exile
Beloved Cambridge and Hawaiian writer Kiana Davenport, author of Shark Dialogues, brings us a haunting novel inspired by World War II's imprisoned "comfort women" - the euphemism for war-camp sex slaves. In this stunningly original work, Davenport creates a timeless epic of love and survival about a native Hawaiian jazz musician who searches across three continents for his lost love and about her endurance amidst the horrors of war.

6:30 - 8:30PM RECEPTION - C106
NWSAers are invited to attend a reception to celebrate the publication of Nuestros Cuerpos, Nuestras Vidas, the Spanish language adaptation of Our Bodies, Ourselves.
Sayre Sheldon

Marcia Lagerwey-Commeret

Wilma Ditmar Lagerwey: Stories From the Homefront During World War II

Marcia Lagerwey-Commeret will be reading from World War II letters of her mother, Wilma Ditmar Lagerwey. These letters, lost for fifty years under the basement steps, served as a partial basis for Lagerwey-Commeret's dissertation: Radiant Texture(s): The Creative and Intellectual Spaces in the Lives and Art of Three Women. Written in a literary voice by an everyday woman, the letters cover a variety of themes and events. Lagerwey-Commeret's work brings to light an intellectual, creative voice that, along with many women's voices of this era, was tragically repressed and hidden.

Helen Epstein

A Journalist Researches Her Mother's History in Central Europe

Helen Epstein is the author of Where She Came from: A Daughter's Search for Her Mother's History and five other non-fiction books. When Helen Epstein's mother died suddenly in 1989, she became the eldest person in her family and the only one who spoke Czech, the family language. Half a year later, Communism collapsed in Czechoslovakia, making it possible for her to research her family and community history. The result is a study of three generations of working women that covers most of the 19th and 20th centuries and one model for reconstructing women's lives for those who start out with only anecdotes rather than documentation.
Revisioning Ourselves, Revising Our Work: The Political is Personal

For those of us who’ve lived out loud in the world through our writing, the act of revision, of “seeing again” both ourselves and our written work, is challenging, complex, and, at times, quite unsettling. In this session Joan Bolker will look again at A Room of One's Own Is Not Enough, an essay on women’s voicelessness, using it as a case study of why and how we might “change our minds” in the powerful realm where the personal and the political are inextricably linked. Participants will talk about different sorts of revision and then do some writing, so please come prepared with the appropriate writing implements.

Blanche Cleans Up

Barbara Neely is a novelist and short-story writer. Her first novel, Blanche on the Lam, won the Agatha, the Macavity, and the Anthony--three of the four major mystery awards for best first novel; as well as the "Go On Girl" Book Club award for a debut novel. Neely’s second novel also received critical acclaim. In Blanche Cleans Up, Blanche is suckered into standing in as a cook-housekeeper in a Boston Brahmin household. Sex and politics mix with environmental hazards and phony spirituality to create a festering canker of scandal and murder.
Cynthia Enloe
Maneuvers: The International Politics of Militarizing Women's Lives

In Maneuvers, the author of Bananas, Beaches, and Bases gives the reader a global tour of the process called militarization. Through an examination of gays in the military, the history of “camp followers,” the politics of women who have sexually serviced male soldiers, married life in the military, military nurses and the recruitment of women into the military, Enloe reveals the many ways the military affects the lives of women.

Rita Arditti
Searching for Life: The Grandmothers of the Plaza De Mayo and the Disappeared Children of Argentina

This astonishing book traces the courageous actions of a group of women who challenged the ruthless dictatorship that ruled Argentina from 1976 to 1983. Acting as both detectives and human rights advocates in an effort to recover their grandchildren, the Grandmothers identified 57 of an estimated 500 children who had been kidnapped or born in detention centers. Through extensive interviews with twenty grandmothers and twenty-five others connected with their work, Arditti has created a powerful testament to the courage, persistence, and strength of these “traditional” older women.
Writer’s Series
SATURDAY, JUNE 17, 2000
1:00 PM • 2:15 PM • WHEELOCK 25
Convener: Mary Duffy, University of Vermont, Middlebury
Letta Neeley
book title

Rhea Cote Robbins
Wednesday’s Child
A creative, non-fiction account of a woman growing up in the Franco-American culture, and its effect on her life.

3:00 PM • 4:15 PM • WHEELOCK 21
Convener: Carol Biewener
Jyoti Puri
Woman, Body, Desire in Post-Colonial India: Narratives of Gender and Sexuality
Based on interviews with more than fifty middle- and upper-class Indian women, this groundbreaking study sheds light on important issues of class, nationhood, gender, and identity in India. Woman, Body, Desire in Post-Colonial India has been described as “one of the few books that brings together post-colonial and sexuality studies” in addition to the interrelation of globalism, nationality, and gender. Puri covers previously neglected topics such as menstruation, gay and straight sexual experience, sexual harassment and assault, marriage and motherhood.

Pramila Venkateswaran
Women’s Pens, Wombs, and Other Milestones
Join a poet on a journey exploring issues women writers experience: the process of composing, juggling mothering and writing, challenging patriarchal institutions such as marriage and religion, and witnessing the wonder in the experiences of the female body.

5:30 - 7:00 PM • LIBRARY BROWSING ROOM
Convener: Berenice Carroll, NWSA President
Blanche Wiesen Cook
Eleanor Roosevelt, Volume I 1884-1933, Volume II 1933-1938
An informal “Conversation with the Author.” Blanche Wiesen Cook, a brilliant writer and historian, a renowned scholar and activist, is a Distinguished Professor of History and Women's Studies at the John Jay College and the Graduate Center of the City University of New York. Her 1979 Signs article, “Women Alone Stir My Imagination: Lesbianism in the Cultural Tradition,” had a generative impact in the development of Lesbian Studies. She has been deeply engaged in struggles for peace and global justice, freedom of information, and women’s rights and human rights. She is the author and editor of numerous books including Crystal Eastman on Women and Revolution: The Declassified Eisenhower, and her acclaimed multi-volume biography of Eleanor Roosevelt which has won the Los Angeles Times book prize, the Lambda Literary Prize, and NOW’s Feminist of the Year Award. Her discussion focuses on the theme of “Eleanor Roosevelt’s Legacy of Resistance and Confrontation.”

BOOK SIGNING FOLLOWS. RECEPTION SPONSORED BY PENGUIN BOOKS
Film and Video Series

Film Series

NWSA wishes to thank Women Make Movies, Inc. and First Run/Icarus Films for making their films available for viewing during the conference.

Women Make Movies, Inc. (WMM)
Order Department
462 Broadway, Suite 500L
New York, NY 10013
212-925-0606 Fax: 212-925-2052

First Run / Icarus Films (FRJIF)
153 Waverly Place, Sixth Floor
New York, NY 10014
212-727-1711; 800-876-1710  Fax: 212-255-7923

Films screened in Room C101

THURSDAY, JUNE 15

A Place Called Home (30:1998) 8:00 am
Persheng Sadegh-Vaziri. Video, color, subtitled. WMM

Persheng Sadegh-Vaziri grew up an American Community schoolgirl in pre-Revolution Tehran then lived and worked in the US for nineteen years. This film explores Persheng's controversial decision to move back to Iran, revealing complex layers of expatriate, national and cultural identities.

And Still I Rise (30:1993) 8:40 am
Dir. Ngozi Onwurah. England. Video. WMM

Essential viewing for those interested in African American studies, women's studies, media studies and popular culture, this film intercuts historical and media images with hard hitting contemporary views of women of African heritage as they struggle to create a new and empowered perspective.

Black Women On: The Light, Dark Thang (52:1999) 9:20 am
Celeste Crenshaw and Paula Caffey. Video, color. WMM

Both entertaining and transformative viewing, this film combines personal interviews and historical footage with literary and dramatic vignettes candidly examining the politics of color and the longstanding "caste system" that permeates black society.

Calling the Ghosts: A Story about Rape, War and Women (63:1996) 10:30 am
Dir. Mandy Jacobson and Karmen Jelincic. Video, color, subtitled. WMM

Friends since childhood, lawyers Jadranka Cigelj and Nusreta Sivac were two "ordinary modern women" in Bosnia-Herzegovina until their neighbors imprisoned and tortured them in the notorious Serb concentration camp of Omarska. Once released, they rallied other brutalized women and successfully lobbied to have rape included in the international lexicon of war crimes by the UN Tribunal at The Hague.

Covered: The Hejab in Cairo, Egypt (25:1995) 11:45 am
Tania Kamal-Eldin. Video, color, subtitled. WMM

Interviews with Islamic women of different ages and backgrounds reveals that decisions to wear the hejab are complicated by far more than Islamic tradition, religious fundamentalism, and growing nationalism in a phenomenon that is poorly understood outside the Muslim world.

Daring to Resist: Three Women Face the Holocaust (57:1999) 12:20 pm
Martha Lubell and Barbara Attie. Video, color, subtitled. WMM

Enriched by archival footage, home movies, and previously unpublished photographs, this gripping documentary explores the recollections of three Jewish women who, as teenagers in occupied Holland, Hungary and Poland, actively resisted Nazi round-ups of local Jewish citizens.

Don't Fence Me In (55:1998) 1:25 pm
Nandini Sikand. Video, color. WMM

Against the broader backdrop of modern India, Krishna Sikand's childhood in pre-independence Bombay as the daughter of a well-to-do Bengali family and her post-colonial experiences as an academic, journalist, and poet are highlighted by letters to her daughter and poems about key life moments.

...But I Was A Girl (69:1998) 2:30 pm
Toni Boumans. Video, color. FRJIF

Controversial, because of her homosexuality, Frieda Belinfante (1905-1995), born in Amsterdam, was the first female conductor of her own symphony orchestra in Holland, joined the resistance during WWII, then resumed her musical career in Hollywood where she formed her own orchestra.

Golden Threads (56:1999) 3:50 pm
Lucy Winer and Karen Eaton. Video, color, closed caption. WMM

The life of ninety-three year old lesbian activist Christine Burton, founder of a global networking service for mid-life and elder lesbians, exuberantly overturns stereotypes and fears of aging. (Produced for the Independent Television Service (ITS) with funds from the Corporation for Public Broadcasting.)

The Edge of Each Others Battles: The Vision of Audre Lorde  5:30 - 7:30 pm
Jennifer Abod

Premier film screening for NWSA.

The video addresses themes important to Lorde's work: the role of culture in political transformation, Black Feminism, Black Lesbian Feminism, the erotic, inclusion, internationalism, and the importance but difficulties of working across differences for grassroots empowerment.

Honey Moccasin (47:1998) 7:45 pm
Dir. Shelley Niro. Canada. Video, color. WMM

Part of the Smoke Signals film series examining Native identity in the 1990's, Honey Moccasin is a comedy/thriller about the Smokin' Moccasin Bar and The Inukshuk Cafe rivalry, featuring the travails of Honey Moccasin, a crusading investigator, and Zachary John, a closeted drag queen/powwow clothing thief.

Crimes of Honour (44:1998) 8:40 pm
Directed by Shelley Saywell. Video, color. FR/IF

Across the Islamic world, women are killed for losing their virginity, refusing an arranged marriage or leaving a husband, even if they were raped, abused, or simply rumored to have strayed. This film profiles three women fighting to protect human rights and assist Islamic women in danger of femicide.

FRIDAY, JUNE 16

Made in Thailand (30:1999) 8:00 am
Eve-Laure Moros and Linzy Emery. Video, color. WMM

Recently industrialized, Thailand contributes a cheap 90% female labor force to the expanding global economy. Survivors of the catastrophic 1993 Kader Toy Factory fire help lead women’s efforts to unionize garment and toy production workers in multinational corporations and reduce the tragic human costs.

Kim’s Story: The Road from Vietnam (48:1996) 8:40 am Shelley Saywell. Videotape, color. FR/IF

The Pulitzer Prize winning photo of a nine-year old napalm-burned Vietnamese girl running naked and screaming toward the viewer became an icon of war horror. The child became Canadian Kim Phuc, filmed here on her journey to Washington DC’s Vietnam War Memorial on a mission of forgiveness and healing.

On the Eighth Day (2x51:1992) 9:40 am
Dir. Gwynne Basen. Canada. Video, color. WMM

Part I examines the development of new reproductive and genetic technologies that pose disturbing questions about their affect on women and society. The second part, Making Perfect Babies, critiques applied genetic technology and the social and economic pressures affecting its development and use.

Stolen Moments (92:1977) 11:30 am
Margaret Wescott. Video, color. FR/IF

Because of inadequate documentation, the existence of lesbians throughout history has been suppressed. Weaving together lost threads of lesbian history, writers Joan Nestle, Leslie Feinberg, Judy Grahn, Nicole Brossard, and Audre Lorde discuss sexual politics, feminism, life, and love.

Performing the Border (42:1999) 1:10 pm
Ursula Biemann. Video, color, subtitled. WMM

Set in the Mexican-U.S. border town of Ciudad Juarez, where U.S. multinational corporations produce electronic and digital equipment, candid interviews with female Mexican factory and sex workers, activists and journalists investigate the growing feminization of the global economy.

The Pill (45:1999) 2:00 pm
Erna Buffie and Elise Swerhone. Video, color. WMM

This impressively researched history of The Pill examines the pharmaceutical industry’s willingness to risk women’s health with a magic contraceptive bullet. Featured are Gloria Steinem and Barbara Seaman, author of The Doctors’ Case Against the Pill, a cause célèbre in the campaign for informed consent.

Rachel’s Daughters: Searching for the Causes of Breast Cancer (107:1997) 2:55 pm
Dir. Allie Light and Irving Saraf. Produced with Nancy Evans. Video, color. WMM

From the makers of the Oscar-winning In the Shadow of The Stars, this fascinating documentary follows a group of breast cancer survivor activists on a personal mission to unearth the causes of breast cancer in an engaging detective story and detailed analysis of the science and politics of this epidemic.

Why Men Don’t Iron (156:1998) 4:50 pm
Produced by Anne Moir. Video, color. FR/IF

This controversial three-part series explores some long-established gender myths by examining social forces that interact with biology in one specific environment (at school, at work, and in the home).

Episode 1, Learning the Difference, illustrates gender differences in learning patterns with a series of field observations of four to seven-year olds and a family raising sons and daughters from a gender-equal standpoint.

Episode 2, The Brain at Work: reveals how biology plays a role in men’s drive to succeed more than it does for women, and why this may explain the lack of women in the boardroom.

Episode 3, The Emotional Difference, explores expectations that equal opportunity would make gender roles interchangeable as men took on more responsibility in the home and understanding emotional needs improved.

The Righteous Babes (50:1998) 7:35 pm

Performance footage and interviews of rock icons like Sinead O’Connor, Madonna and Ani DiFranco and analysts like Camille Paglia and Gloria Steinem documents how 1990’s feminism thrived through the revolutionary medium of rock music, despite ‘Girl Power’ Spice Girls-style commercialization.

Step by Step (56:1998) 8:35 pm
Joyce Follet. Video, color. WMM

Set against a backdrop of decades of war, prosperity and reform, their stories beautifully illustrate the continuity and diversity of 20th-century feminism, as the participants describe the labor, civil rights, and political movements of the ’40s and ’50s that led them to take independent action for women.

SATURDAY, JUNE 17

Terra Nullius (21:1992) 8:00 am
Dir. Anne Pratten. Australia. Video, color/b&w. WMM

A young Aboriginal girl is forcibly removed from her own family to a white foster family where she is repeatedly abused. Her story tragically illustrates the connection a generation of Australian Aborigines makes between assimilationist policies, race and sex violence and cultural genocide.

Woman Being (20:1997) 8:30 am
Dir. Wen-Jie Qin. Video, color, subtitled. WMM

Interviews and footage from Chinese glamour photo studios and television explore the rise of a new super-feminine, highly sexualized ideal of beauty and sexuality in modern China as a flood of Western pop culture is adversely affects Chinese women's expectations and self-worth.

"Women's Lives and Choices" (3 Films 28 min. each) 9:00 am
Prod. Daniel Riesenfeld. WMM

   Women of Brazil often chose sterilization and abortion as forms of birth control, which sparks this analysis of the relationship between reproductive rights and socio-economic inequalities.

   After Lali Devi of India poisons herself and two of her daughters, activist Shyamkali dedicated herself to raising awareness about legal rights and the impact of male sex preference on Indian women.

   In Nigeria, Africa's most populous country, the Ibu Eze ceremony featured here celebrates mothers of many children, despite family planning efforts and the highest infant and maternal mortality in the world.

Yuri Kochiyama: Passion for Justice (57:1994) 10:40 am
Dir. Pat Saunders and Rea Tajiri. Video, color. WMM

The story of this remarkable woman's compassionate multicultural vision chronicles her contribution to significant events of the 20th century, including the Black Liberation movement, the struggle for Puerto Rican independence.

Dear Dr. Spencer: Abortion in a Small Town
(25:1998) 11:50 am
Danielle Renfrew and Beth Seltzer. Video, color. WMM

In 1923, Dr. Robert Douglas Spencer performed his first abortion on a coal miner's wife in Ashland, Pennsylvania. For fifty years, the small coal-town churchgoers seemed to ignore young women streaming in and out of Dr. Spencer's office and protected him from state police probes.

New Directions: Women of Thailand (26:1997) 12:30 pm
Joanne Burke. Video, color, subtitled. WMM

This film follows Rotjana Phraesrithong, a young social worker in Klong Toey, Bangkok's largest slum, whose innovative programs promote schooling for children and the struggle of the housewife volunteers of the Duang Prateep Foundation against the spread of AIDS and other health problems.

Diamonds in the Dark (60:1999) 1:40 pm
Olivia Carrescia. Video, color. FR/IF

From a border village to Bucharest, archival clips and interviews portray ten Romanian women's struggle to survive Ceausescu's post-communist regime during which lack of heat and electricity and long lines for food were the lightest of burdens borne by women hidden behind a wall of silence for 40 years.

The Heart of the Matter (52:1994) 2:50 pm
Gini Reticker and Amber Hollibaugh. Video, color. FR/IF

Janice Jirau, an HIV-positive African-American woman, reveals why she was infected and how she responded. Her testimony and comments from other HIV-positive women emphasize that exploring larger issues of women's sexuality is key to understanding the increase of AIDS among women.
erhood in the absence of a suitable mate. The burgeoning sperm industry are examined.

THURSDAY, JUNE 15
8:00 am A Place Called Home
8:40 am And Still I Rise
9:20 am Black Women On: The Light, Dark Thang
10:30 am Calling the Ghosts: A Story about Rape, War and Women
11:45 am Covered: The Hejab in Cairo, Egypt
12:20 pm Daring to Resist: Three Women Face the Holocaust
1:25 pm Don’t Fence Me In
2:30 pm But I Was A Girl
3:50 pm Golden Threads
5:30 - 7:30 pm The Edge of Each Others Battles: The Vision of Audre Lorde
7:45 pm Honey Moccasin
8:40 pm Crimes of Honour

FRIDAY, JUNE 16
8:00 am Made in Thailand
8:40 am Kim’s Story: The Road from Vietnam
9:40 am On the Eighth Day
11:30 am Stolen Moments
1:10 pm Performing the Border
2:00 pm The Pill
2:55 pm Rachel’s Daughters: Searching for the Causes of Breast Cancer
4:50 pm Why Men Don’t Iron
7:35 pm The Righteous Babes
8:35 pm Step by Step

SATURDAY, JUNE 17
8:00 am Terra Nullius
8:30 am Woman Being
9:00 am “Women’s Lives and Choices” (3 Films)
10:40 am Yuri Kochiyama: Passion for Justice
11:50 am Dear Dr. Spencer: Abortion in a Small Town
12:30 pm New Directions: Women of Thailand
1:05 pm New Directions: Women of Zimbabwe
1:40 pm Diamonds in the Dark
2:50 pm The Heart of the Matter
4:00 - 6:00 pm Special showing of “FIRE”
6:10 pm Ringl and Pit
7:20 pm The Life and Times of Sara Baartman: “The Hottentot Venus”
8:30 pm Ms. Conceptions
All directors, chairs, and coordinators of women’s studies programs with institutional membership to NWSA are members of the Program Administration and Development Committee. This is the Committee’s second year of operation, although program administrators have been holding pre-conferences as a caucus for many years. Last year, the Committee elected co-chairs and nine members of the PA&D Advisory Council. This year, we will see the progress made by the Advisory Council on a number of crucial issues, including the pressing need to increase the number of women of color among women’s studies students, faculty, and especially program administrators.

In support of that effort, the PA&D Advisory Council has initiated The Women of Color Leadership Project. For 2000 we ask all administrators to invite, both to our pre-conference and to the larger NWSA conference at Simmons College, a woman of color from their campuses who has interest in becoming a women’s studies program director. It’s a wonderful opportunity to make a concerted effort to bring more of the leadership of women of color to women’s studies programs.

8:00 - 8:45 CONTINENTAL BREAKFAST - MAIN COLLEGE BUILDING LOBBY

8:45 - 9:00 WELCOME KEYNOTE - C103 - JACQUELINE ZITA AND ANN SCHONBERGER, co-chairs PA&D COMMITTEE

9:00 - 10:30 BREAK-OUT SESSIONS

The Women’s Studies Ph.D. - E209

A panel will discuss the current and developing state of women’s studies Ph.D. programs and bring PA&D members up to date about plans for a mid-year conference on the Ph.D. Co-sponsored by the National Women’s Studies Association and the National Council for Research on Women slated for 2001.

Getting Started - E305

This discussion led by experienced program administrators is designed to help newer or prospective programs get off the ground. Topics to be discussed include: what a women’s studies program should look like; what form of organization should it take (department? program?); and how to develop program objectives.

Faculty Issues - L504B

Lots of faculty development issues have emerged over the years, including those related to department lines, joint appointments, affiliated faculty, and cross-listed courses. This discussion will address participants’ questions and focus on two key questions: what qualifies one to teach in women’s studies and how do we establish relevant criteria for faculty and courses.

Budgets and Fundraising - S251B

This discussion will address the bottom line—from the minimum resources necessary to maintain viable women’s studies programs/departments to techniques of fundraising.

10:30 - 10:45 BREAK

10:45 - 12:00 - C103

Diversifying Women’s Studies: What Works

This panel focuses on changes within women’s studies since the 1990 NWSA conference at Akron, where controversies about diversity threatened to destroy the association altogether. Panelists will discuss structural changes that have occurred in recruiting students and faculty, offering financial support to students, and supporting women of color Ph.D.’s to get hired, tenured, and promoted.

12:00 - 1:30 LUNCH (INCLUDED IN REGISTRATION FEE)

1:30 - 2:15 - C103

Roberta’s Rules of Order

Tired of invoking that man’s name whenever guidelines for civil discussion are required? Julia Balen of the University of Arizona has refashioned “Robert’s Rules” into something feminists can love. She will share her new rules for order with the PAD Committee.

2:15 - 5:00 BUSINESS MEETING (INCLUDES 20-MINUTE BREAK AT 3:30) - C103

5:15 - 6:00 WINE AND CHEESE RECEPTION

Members of all NWSA Caucuses and committees attending pre-conference are invited. Sponsored by Simmons College Center for gender in organizations and Tufts University Women’s Studies Program.
Opening Ceremony and Keynote Address

HOLMES SPORTS CENTER GYM
WEDNESDAY, JUNE 14, 2000, 7:00 P.M.

PRESIDING
Christina Brinkley, Chair, Africana Women’s Studies Program, Simmons College.
NWSA 2000 Conference Chair

MUSICAL WELCOME BY THE BOSTON WOMEN’S RAINBOW CHORUS

The Boston Women’s Rainbow Chorus seeks to give voice to the diverse experience of women throughout history and across cultures worldwide. As lesbians and bisexual women, together with our female allies, we seek to represent the unrecorded legacy of today’s women for the women of tomorrow. As a group, we constantly aim to resolve the inherent tensions between artistic excellence and political integrity by promoting pride, appreciation, and acknowledgment of our diverse individualism. Through the performance of a broad spectrum of choral music, we tirelessly rise to dispel the myths that divide us from our power, ourselves, and each other. The Boston Women’s Rainbow Chorus ventures to facilitate the integration of our community with the larger world community through our musical contributions and in the shared celebration of our ideals and beliefs.

WELCOMING REMARKS
Daniel Cheever, President, Simmons College

PRESENTATION OF NWSA AWARDS AND SCHOLARSHIPS

NWSA GRADUATE SCHOLARSHIP AWARD
Kimberly L. Heikkila, University of Minnesota
G.I. Gender: Vietnam War-Era Veterans and U.S. Citizenship

JEWISH WOMEN'S CAUCUS SCHOLARSHIP AWARD (CO-RECIPIENTS)
Penny Rosenwasser, California Institute of Integral Studies
Internalized Jewish Oppression

Aleisa Fishman, American University
Suburban Jewish Women

LESBIAN CAUCUS SCHOLARSHIP AWARD (SPONSORED BY GAY.COM)
Yi-Miao Huang
Together: Diasporic Taiwanese Lesbian Communities in the U.S.

WOMEN OF COLOR CAUCUS/ABAFAZI SCHOLARSHIP AWARDS
Undergraduate Award: Erica Waples, Yale University
To Be Seen and Heard: A Look at Homophobia Within the Black Community

Graduate Award: Dionne Patricia Stephens, University of Georgia
Putting Sisters in the Center: Using Womanist Theory and Bronfenbrenner’s Ecological model of Human Development to Examine Young African American Women’s Sexual Education Processes

REFLECTIONS ON 2000 SUBVERSIONS: NWSA AND THE ‘21ST CENTURY’
Berenice A. Carroll, NWSA President 1999-2000

32
Lani Guinier, the first black woman tenured professor at Harvard Law School, is the author of a new book, Lift Every Voice: Turning a Civil Rights Setback into a New Vision of Social Justice. Guinier came to public attention in 1993 when President Clinton nominated her to be the first black woman to head the Civil Rights Division of the Department of Justice and then withdrew her name without a confirmation hearing. The experience prompted her to write her personal and political story, which uses the nomination debacle as a window on the civil rights movement past, present and future.

Guinier is a graduate of Radcliffe College and Yale University Law School. During the 1980s she was the head of the Voting Rights program at the NAACP Legal Defense Fund where she litigated cases throughout the South. In 1988, she joined the faculty of the University of Pennsylvania Law school, where she co-authored a book on women and legal education titled Becoming Gentlemen. She has been recognized for her achievements with many awards, including the 1995 Margaret Brent Women Lawyers of Achievement Award from the ABA Commission on Women in the Profession, the 1994 Rosa Parks Award from the American Association for Affirmative Action, the 1999 Big Sisters Award, and the 1995 Champion of Democracy Award from the National Women’s Political Caucus.

Guinier, whose views on democracy and voting rights were widely misinterpreted and vilified during the battle over her nomination as Assistant Attorney General for Civil Rights, was denied an opportunity to speak for herself at the time. Her experience led her to use her public platform to speak out on issues of race, gender and democratic decision-making. She has written extensively in The Tyranny of the Majority and numerous articles in law reviews and public media about new ways of approaching such problems as affirmative action, the “testocracy,” and race conscious districting. Lift Every Voice is a powerful work of scholarship and a thought-provoking memoir.

---

RECEPTION - ALUMNAE HALL

A reception will be held in Alumnae Hall immediately following Professor Guinier’s keynote address.

Keynote and Reception Sponsored by
- National Women’s Studies Association
- Simmons College, African American Studies
- ABAFAZI Journal
- Simmons College, Women’s Studies
- Simmons College, Graduate Program in Gender and Cultural Studies
- Brandeis University Women’s Studies Program
- Program in Women’s Studies at MIT
- Harvard University Women’s Studies Program
- Wellesley College Department of Women’s Studies.

We are most grateful for their generous support.
Thursday, June 15, 2000
8:00am - 9:15am

Concurrent Sessions

Thursday 8:00 am

OUR OTHERS, OURSELVES: WHITE WOMEN ENCOUNTERING THE “OTHER”

L301

Kristin M. Langellier, University of Maine, Orono

_Telling Our Grandmothers’ Stories: The Traditional Ethnic Woman_

How do we tell our ethnic grandmothers’ stories without mythologizing them as goddesses, superwomen, or victims? The author examines recent race/ethnic theories and the ‘traditional ethnic woman’ through the example of the Franco American grandmother.

Shealeen Meaney, SUNY-Albany

_If You Want to Know Things: Nomadic Narratives and Feminist Subjectivity_

This project takes up current questions in travel theory, feminist epistemology, and subjectivity through the interrogation of women’s texts of geographic instability in the first half of the twentieth century. The author addresses questions of how conceptions of authenticity and knowledge are informed by existent romantic visions of the road begin to put stresses on the assumption of agency and radicalism so easily read into such narratives.

THE COUNTRY WITH NO MILK

L504B

This multimedia performance evokes four women whose lives span the history of the Soviet Union, weaving stories they tell about food with slide images and bread weighed out to represent the daily ration during wartime. By sustaining community, they survived deprivation, exhaustion, uprooting, and the suppression of anger and speech.

Lee Sharkey, University of Maine, Farmington

Amy Hesby, University of Maine, Farmington

Jocelyn Barrett, University of Maine, Farmington

Karine Esayan, University of Maine, Farmington

Faye E. Joost, University of Maine, Farmington

Sharon Parker, University of Maine, Farmington

THE GENDERED POLITICS OF WORK

C104

Anne McLeer, George Washington University

_The Representation of the Nanny-Mother Relationship in the Televised Louise Woodward Murder Trial_

The author analyzes the representation of the nanny-mother relationship as it was constructed by the televised trial for murder of nanny Louise Woodward, as well as in journalistic and television reports of the trial and reports of public opinion concerning the case.

Clinton Fink, Purdue University

Chun-Hui Sophie Ho, Purdue University

_Playing for a Living: The Women’s Orchestra Movement as an Instrument for Social Change_

The women’s orchestra movement, beginning in the 1870s, was an important step toward equal employment for women instrumentalists, who were virtually excluded from professional orchestras in the 19th century. The all-women’s orchestras helped promote social change by creating alternative institutions.

Sondra Brandler, Brooklyn, NY

_The Way We Were: Older Women Reflect on Their Experiences as Workers in the 1920s and 1930s_

The author reports on a research study conducted with a sample group of women in their eighties and nineties who had been working outside their homes during the period from 1920-1939. How can we better understand the work experiences of women in the 1920s and 1930s in terms of family issues, the nature of work, issues of sexual harassment, gender inequities, and attitudes toward working women.

WOMEN ON-LINE: THE INTERNET AS A TEACHING AND CONNECTING TOOL

E207

Alison George, Tufts University

_OurWeb: Connecting Women to the Internet and Each Other_

As an inexpensive and often free resource the Internet may offer a partial solution to inequities of information access. OurWeb is a study of women’s knowledge of access to and use of the Internet with an analysis of differences along socio-demographic lines. The author also evaluates the effectiveness of workshops as a tool for women’s empowerment.

Janet Armentor, Oregon State University

_Recreating the Wheel: Gender Construction On-Line_

While it is theoretically possible for computer mediated communication to challenge social identity construction, it may provide a more efficient and disguisable method of gendering. The author’s intent is to explore text-based interactions on the Internet and to suggest several ways that, as an identity, gender still matters in this media form and how participants create and recreate gender through real time interactions.

Manisha Nordine, University of Minnesota

_Voices From the Gaps: Teaching Women Writers of Color Online_

A presentation of Voices From the Gaps (a website dedicated to women writers of color) as a pedagogical tool used to teach both research and writing in literature classes at the advanced high school and college levels.

COMING OF AGE EMPowered IN THE WOMEN’S STUDIES CLASSROOM

E209

Bonnie MacDonald, Rhode Island College

_Coming of Age Films and Female Agency: Working Towards a Pedagogy of the Imaginary Domain_

The best-selling book _Reviving Ophelia_ warns us that despite thirty years of feminism, teen-age girls are at risk. They are in physical and emotional pain as they attempt to negotiate identity in this consumer-based, female-commodifying culture. This author calls for developing pedagogy of the Imaginary Domain of youth.
Concurrent Sessions

Thursday, June 15, 2000
8:00am - 9:15am

Erin Crawford Cressy, Miami University
Ann Fuehrer, Miami University
Relating Self-Efficacy to Empowerment in an Introduction to Women’s Studies Classroom

The authors examine the relationship between self-efficacy and empowerment in the Introduction to Women's Studies classroom. They discuss the implications of these results while also making connections with the teacher's experiences in relation to learning goals and pedagogy focusing on enhancing voice and developing knowledge in the classroom.

Lesley Bogad, Syracuse University
Unpacking the Discourse of the American Dream: Youth, Power and the Potential of Women's Studies

Tools for structural analysis are rarely available to young people in this country, given the powerful discourses of individualism and the American Dream that pervade the institutions of schooling and popular culture. What kind of role can we, as a Women’s Studies community, play in making political analysis available to young people so that they can take on a project of social justice through the lens of structural critique?

RE-EXAMINING IDENTITY IN PRE-MODERNISTS TEXTS
C308

Eileen Razzari Elrod, Santa Clara University
Speaking of Submission, Silence and Suffering: Identity and Authority in Early American Women’s Spiritual Autobiography

The author examines early American spiritual autobiographies by Abigail Abbott Bailey and Jarena Lee. Each writer gains and renegotiates her identity in the context of the conventional Christianity to which she earnestly subscribes. The author examines the way each woman comes to understand and articulate her resistance to two very different sorts of experiences of suffering. She argues that the different levels of agency and autonomy in these two texts are fundamentally linked to the two writers’ ideas and assumption about God and themselves.

Kathryn Boundy, Florida Atlantic University
Word Workings: Feminist Activism in the Realms of Language

The author focuses on the ways in which three feminist utopian novels maneuver through and beyond the postmodern experiences of technological/spiritual alienation, environmental destruction, and loss of historical connection to offer radically alternative, communally focused visions of social life.

Rachel Kranson, Jewish Theological Seminary of America
Unraveling ‘Otherness’ in Genesis, Ruth, and Ruth Rabban

Many feminist studies of “Ruth” have pointed out Ruth’s status as ‘doubly-other’, as she is ‘both a woman and a foreigner’. The author aims to prove that the category of ‘double-other’ matters, and to show how this category is produced in Biblical and Exegetical texts.

SURVIVING THE PATRIARCHAL CANON, READING, TEACHING AND LIVING FEMINIST TEXT
W201

Nancy Paxton, Northern Arizona University
Subverting the Modernist Canon: Learning From Rape in British Novels of the 1920s

By demonstrating how literary modernism crowded out more realistic depictions of rape in early twentieth-century British literature that reflected major political and symbolic conflicts of their time. The author shows how this literature can be used to critique the extreme individualism implicit in current therapeutic models used to analyze rape in our time.

Patricia Willis, SUNY-Albany
Teaching to Disempower ’Woman’: A Critical Pedagogy for Examining Several Literary and Artistic Incarnations of the Lady of Shalott, Salome, and Other Patriarchal Texts

Women in patriarchy suffer unjustified negative characterizations by society that impugn their ‘nature’ as women. The author explores pedagogical ways to help students unthink and to question gendered portraits of ‘woman’ and women by critically reading texts, works of art, and movie classics.

Susan Hubert, Western Michigan University
Surviving the Sentence of History: Lessons From the Life of Janet Frame

The author presents a consideration of Janet Frame's autobiographical narratives and the lessons they offer about the dangers of patriarchal, colonial, and psychiatric dominance. Frame's life poignantly illustrates the personal and societal costs of sexism, classism, psychiatric oppression, and the suppression of the imagination through social and ideological conformity.

ACTIVISM IN CULTURAL INTERSTICES
S251A

Cecilia Campoverde, Florida Atlantic University
Opening Doors to Illiterate Women: The El Triunfo Guatemala Project

What are the challenges of meeting the broad needs of feminist education in multiple settings in the new century? How can academics and communities build alliances? One approach is through social work, which looks at building skills and identifying potential of illiterate women in the countryside of countries such as Guatemala. The author outlines the “El Triunfo” project which consists of working with illiterate women in identifying their potential, skills, level of performance, training them in basic bookkeeping skills, and finally providing small loans for their new micro-enterprises.

Kenia Fernandez, SUNY-Stony Brook
Annie Fernandez, Montclair State University
Woman to Woman: An Effective Approach to Mentoring Recent Immigrants
Concurrent Sessions

Thursday, June 15, 2000  8:00am - 9:15am

Mentoring programs are often known for their unrealized potential. The ‘Woman to Woman’ Mentoring Project implemented for recently arrived Cuban women provided a successful model for culturally sensitive mentoring.

Linda Steet, University of Michigan

Underexposure / Overexposure: National Geographic’s Arab Women

The author offers a critical analysis of National Geographic’s representation of Arab women. The author’s deep analysis of the magazine’s patriarchal rhetoric and photography includes a slide presentation.

WOMEN AND THE MILITARY

C302

Kathy Ferguson, University of Hawaii

Phyllis Turnbull, University of Hawaii

Gender, Race and Militarism in Hawaii

The presenters explore the way the military claims space and creates order in Hawaii and at the ways that Native Hawaiians, feminists, peace activists, and environmentalists resist that order. The friction between the dominant military order and the alternative voices create a space for creative thinking and acting.

Mire Koikari, University of Hawaii-Manoa

Politics and Polemics of Transnational Feminism: Reanalyzing US Gender Reform in Occupied Japan, 1945-1952

The author examines the roles U.S. women occupiers played during the U.S. occupation of mainland Japan from 1945 to 1952 and argues that the U.S. occupation of Japan was an instance of U.S. imperialism. In addition, U.S. women occupiers’ discourses and practices reflected and reinforced U.S. assertion for imperial hegemony in post-war Japan.

INTERVENTION AND TREATMENT IN DOMESTIC VIOLENCE

C106

Elesha L. Ruminski, California University of Pennsylvania

Breaking the Silence That Promotes Violence: Discussing the Use of Communication to Stop Sexual and Domestic Abuse Using “The Color Purple” and “The Piano”

Literature, film, or women’s studies courses can analyze “The Color Purple” and “The Piano” to emphasize the use of communication to break lifelong patterns of abuse. In a safe, supportive environment film can wield visually powerful images and messages about violence, which will educate and empower viewers.

Laura Chessin, Virginia Commonwealth University

Images of Safety: The Building of a Safe Community

“Images of Safety” is a project integrating photography with oral history to document the unique community of a safe shelter for victims of domestic violence. The primary intent is to define safety in a concrete way, and offer insight into how a community of safety is created.

Marguerite E. Strobel, The Hastings Center

Violence Medical Ethics and Domestic Violence Intervention: A Feminist Analysis

The manifestation of domestic violence injuries in the clinical setting does not dictate the physician’s professional responsibilities for intervention, thus giving the need for an ethical analysis of domestic violence intervention. Using feminist ideas of empowerment, care, healing, and liberation, the author addresses the medicalization of domestic violence and the professional obligations of physicians for intervention.

TEACHING THE VAGINA MONOLOGUES: ART, COMMUNITY, AND EMPOWERMENT IN THE WOMEN’S STUDIES CLASSROOM

L501A

This panel explores the distinctive ways that studying The Vagina Monologues can build a sense of community and feminist empowerment in the Women’s Studies classroom. This presentation represents collaboration with several students, who share their creative work, vagina monologues.

Anne D’Alleva, University of Connecticut, Storrs

Julie Wernau, University of Connecticut, Storrs

Margaret Montgomery, University of Connecticut, Storrs

Natalie Peluso, University of Connecticut, Storrs

Terri Anne Simpson, University of Connecticut, Storrs

STORIES OF TRANSFORMATION: AN INTERGENERATIONAL PANEL OF STUDENTS TELLS HOW WOMEN’S STUDIES CLAIMED/CHANGED THEIR LIVES

L501B

This panel, led by students of various ages, looks at how college courses help awaken feminist consciousness. In examining past selves that they now barely recognize and in looking at their current successes and interests, the panelists hope their stories will encourage a broad-based discussion.

Barbara Horn, Nassau Community College, Moderator

Holli Dunayer, Adelphi University

Johanna Mastrototaro, CUNY-Queens College

Kelly McNally, SUNY-New Paltz

WOMEN’S EDUCATIONAL MEDIA: THAT’S A FAMILY!: ADDRESSING FAMILY DIVERSITY IN ELEMENTARY CLASSROOMS AND BEYOND

E303

The makers of IT’S ELEMENTARY introduce THAT’S A FAMILY!, the first media resource available that integrates information about gay and lesbian families into the full spectrum of diversity. A participatory discussion with the director will inspire attendees to think of new ways that can address diversity issues with children.

Beth M. Miller, Wellesley College
HIDDEN FROM HISTORY: REDISCOVERING LIBERAL RELIGIOUS WOMEN
L504A
Panelists explore the impact of liberal religious women on history and the impact of liberal religion on the lives of women by considering two nineteenth-century New England women and the participation of Universalist and Unitarian women in movements for reform in education, racial justice, and religion.

Dorothy May Emerson, Unitarian Universalist Women's Heritage Society
Standing Before Us: Unitarian Universalist Women and Social Reform
Joan W. Goodwin, Brookline, MA
Up From the Footnotes: Sarah Alden Bradford Ripley
Sarah Barber-Braun, Southold, NY
Subversion of Silence: Phebe Ann Coffin Hanaford
Elizabeth A. Harding, Somerville, MA, Discussant

HEEDING THE CLITORIS: EXERCISES ON WOMEN'S SEXUALITY FOR THE INTRODUCTORY WOMEN'S STUDIES CLASSROOM
L506B
There is more to the clitoris than meets the eye and so much more to women's sexuality than is taught in most college classes. Where on campus can students learn about these topics from a feminist perspective? Introductory Women's Studies! Participants will receive a packet of exercises and handouts.

Dian Ulner, Community College of Vermont

POLE TO POLE: IMAGES OF WOMEN IN THE ARCTIC AND ANTARCTIC
W203
The earth's most extreme geographical locations (the North Pole and the South Pole, the Arctic and the Antarctic) have been and still are potent sites for the construction and reproduction of gender. This panel will explore images of women in the Arctic and the Antarctic, focusing on popular media, literature, visual arts, and other sources. Panelists critically examine some of the ways in which contemporary and historical texts of all kinds have 'imagined' women at the ends of the earth.

Gretchen Legler, University of Alaska, Anchorage
Gender on Ice: Women in the Frozen South
Jean Breining, University of Alaska, Anchorage
Alaskan Haida Women's Stories: Food, Spirits, and Cultural Survival
Joy Morrison, University of Alaska, Fairbanks
Media Representations of Women in the Arctic and Antarctic
June Namias, University of Alaska, Anchorage
Through British Eyes: Captain Cook's Men's Views of Aleutian Women
Phyllis A. Fast, University of Alaska, Fairbanks
Literary Images of Alaska's Indigenous Women

HOW GREEN IS YOUR CURRICULUM?
S183
Bring your syllabus or other resources for a session devoted to exploring the presence of environmental issues in Women's Studies courses. The website "The Greening of Women's Studies" http://www.facstaff.bucknell.edu/gcarr/greening continues to evolve as a permanent resource for Women's Studies providing a substantial selection of bibliographies, syllabi, essays, and a directory of scholars.

Glynis Carr, Bucknell University
Alane Brown, Fort Lewis College
Jane Caputi, Florida Atlantic University
Kathleen L. Nichols, Pittsburgh State University

LIVED AMBIGUITIES: ENACTING FEMIQUEER PEDAGOGIES
S251B
This panel asserts that postmodernity in Women's Studies complicates a 'feminist' pedagogy. To illustrate, we examine the notion of 'femiqueer pedagogies', pedagogies that combine components of feminist and queer pedagogies.

Kenda L. Broad, University of Florida
Feminist + Queer = Femiqueer?
Mary K. Bloodsworth, Washington State University
Lived Ambiguities: Teaching (the) In-Between
Sara L. Crawley, University of Florida
Butch Dyke Teaches Introduction to Sociology: Making Myself the Road Show

FILM SESSION
Rachel Raimist, Los Angeles, CA
Nobody Knows My Name. Documentary.
An intimate journey into the lives of women "living hip-hop" -- poets, performers, and visionaries working to tell truths and dispel rumors, to help women uplift themselves. Discussion following screening.

TEACHING WOMEN AND LEADERSHIP: PLANTING SEEDS FOR CREATING A FUTURE
L504B
In Fall 1998 and Fall 1999, the Women's Studies Program at the College of Charleston offered a course titled "Women and Leadership" that explicitly linked the academy and the community. Our combination of in-class material on leadership, gender and feminism with out-of-class experiences, designed to help students discover their developing leadership aspirations, will be presented.

Jeri O. Cabot, College of Charleston
Mary Seabrook Albenesius, College of Charleston

37
<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Concurrent Sessions</th>
<th>Thursday, June 15, 2000</th>
<th>9:30am - 10:45am</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Thursday 9:30 am</td>
<td>TEACHING WHAT YOU’RE NOT: FACULTY REFLECT ON THE RESULTS OF A MULTICULTURAL WOMEN’S STUDIES SUMMER INSTITUTE&lt;br&gt;L501A</td>
<td>Questions about multicultural teaching in monocultural settings, raised during a summer institute and subsequently, will be discussed with the panel and the audience. Information about the institute will be available.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>FEMINIST ECONOMICS: THE TRAVALS OF MARKETS&lt;br&gt;C302</td>
<td>Members of the International Association For Feminist Economics (IAFFE) address important issues concerning women and work in market economies by considering the impact of ‘welfare reform’, women’s participation in alternative economic activity, women and social security, and how gender identity may constitute a mediating factor for discrimination.</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>That Dirty Word: Feminism and the Media in the New Millennium&lt;br&gt;S222</td>
<td>This roundtable considers the uses, misuses and abuses to which the label feminism has been subjected. Discussion will emphasize the ways uses of the label have been influenced by the American mass media. The panelists will each present a perspective, ranging from the label’s historical development to its reception by Nineties students and its dissemination by various media.</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>WOMEN AND THE BIBLE: FEMINIST THEORIES AND METHODOLOGIES&lt;br&gt;C308</td>
<td>Sponsored by the Jewish Women’s Caucus&lt;br&gt;This panel explores and assesses the status of specific women and the representation of femininity in general in the Hebrew Bible. Are women presented as others? How can we establish whether or not their representation reflects a historical reality or a biased ideology? These and other questions will be addressed by this panel.</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>OUR MISTAKES, OUR SUCCESSES: SENIOR FACULTY SHARE ACADEMIC EXPERIENCES AND ADVICE&lt;br&gt;S251A</td>
<td>Sponsored by the Academic Discrimination Advisory Board&lt;br&gt;The academic path is full of pitfalls and rewards. This session features a panel of senior women’s studies faculty who will share stories about their mistakes and their successes. Less experienced faculty and graduate students are likely to find these faculty’s advice and stories very valuable as they reflect experiences in common to women in academia.</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>WOMEN AND LANGUAGE: COMMUNICATION AND IDENTITY&lt;br&gt;C104</td>
<td>Using discourse analysis and ethnographic interviews, this panel will examine how women use language to extend and support interaction and to establish identity. Panelists further examine the gendered interpretation of mixed-sex conversation.</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>TRANSFORMATIONS&lt;br&gt;L504B</td>
<td>Four feminist educators from the University of Hartford relate how they have transformed their courses and programs through listening to the voices of women students. Transformations range from individual assignments to the redesign of an entire college curriculum. Also, through self-exploration, internships, and hands-on projects, students ap-</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>
ply theoretical knowledge to real life community issues.

Jane Barstow, University of Hartford
Working Women and the College Schedule
Kathleen Heinrich, University of Hartford
Adult Self-Perception: Imposter to Scholar
Leslie Lindenauer, University of Hartford
A Woman's Hall of Fame and University Culture
Mala Matacin, University of Hartford
The Women's Studies Classroom

YOUNG WOMEN AND ABORTION: CONFRONTING THE REALITY OF PARENTAL INVOLVEMENT LAWS

L301

This session addresses difficulties faced by teens who cannot involve parents in their decision to terminate a pregnancy. Using research with teens, reasons for non-involvement, and the role of other adults, including school personnel, in the decision-making process will be discussed as well as options for expanding teen abortion rights.

J. Shoshanna Ehrlich, University of Massachusetts, Boston
Jomic Ann Sabino, Cambridge, MA

FEMINIST BELLYDANCE: NOT AN OXYMORON

C106

In lecture, performance, and voluntary group participation, the presenter, a.k.a., Zajal (as professional bellydancer) will share the history, forms, techniques, and feminist implications of this ancient art currently practiced by thousands of women across the U.S. and in many other countries.

Katharyn Howd Machan, Ithaca College

WOMEN'S STUDIES: REFLECTIONS ON SCHOLARLY IDENTITY AND INTERDISCIPLINARITY

E206

This panel discussion focuses on: (1) how women's studies faculty members view themselves as scholars, and (2) their relationship to the disciplines. Drawing on findings from a national study, panel members discuss factors influencing the scholarly identities and choices of publication outlets of women's studies faculty.

Susan J. Bracken, Pennsylvania State University
What Personal and Environmental Factors Shape Scholarly Identities?
Deborah A. Burghardt, Clarion University
How Do Women's Studies Faculty Define Themselves as Scholars?
Lynne I. Goodstein, Pennsylvania State University
How Do Women's Studies Faculty Present Their Work to the World?

ART HISTORY / ART / WOMEN'S STUDIES: FORGING NEW LINKS

E303

The roundtable examines categories, barriers, and opportunities to link Women's Studies with Art and Art History disciplines. Discussion will emphasize factors that may contribute to successful interdisciplinary activity and practical ways to replicate such factors. The roundtable is an initial effort to launch ongoing open discussion about these issues.

Mary Jo Aagerstoum, University of Maryland, Co-Chair
Mary Ross Taylor, Wimberly, TX, Co-Chair
Caroline A. Jones, Boston University
Deborah Willis, Center for African American History and Culture
Elissa Ather, University of Maryland, College Park
Harmony Hammond, University of Arizona, Tucson
Marsha Meskimmon, Loughborough University, UK
Patricia Reilly, Santa Clara University
Susan Fisher Sterling, National Museum of Women in the Arts
Simone Leigh, Brooklyn, NY

FROM PRIVATE TO PUBLIC: DOMESTIC VIOLENCE AND CULTURAL INTERPRETATION

E305

Domestic violence has legal, psychological and cultural implications—apart from the physical implications of the brutality itself. By studying the reverberations among these implications, this panel addresses the problem of what domestic violence means as a public versus a private problem, and the related issue of group versus individual identity in the social construction of domestic violence.

Kristin Kelly, University of Connecticut
Constructing the Meaning of Domestic Violence: Privacy, Individualism, and Legal Interventions
Robin Adele Greeley, University of Connecticut
Domestic Violence and Visual Representation: The Death and Works of Ana Mendieta
Michelle Williams, University of Connecticut
Domestic Violence As a Cultural Norm: Influence of Race, Racism, and Oppression
Mary Crawford, University of Connecticut, Discussant

HOW DIVERSE REALLY IS WOMEN'S STUDIES: WOMEN OF COLOR TRYING TO FIND A PLACE

L501B

The first part of the discussion (problems) focuses on the problems that women of color face within their respective departments and within women's studies departments as a whole. The second part of the roundtable (solutions) focuses on strategies for dealing with the problems discussed in the first part. This roundtable asks hard questions about the diversity or lack thereof within women's studies. How diverse are the students, faculty and courses? If women's studies are to thrive in the 21st century, then women of color, whether heterosexual or homosexual, must be able to participate at all levels. DOUBLE SESSION (part one)

Dalia Adbel-Hady, University at Albany
Joaanne Fernandez, University at Albany
<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Concurrent Sessions</th>
<th>Thursday, June 15, 2000</th>
<th>9:30am - 10:45am</th>
</tr>
</thead>
</table>

Laura Castillo, National Community for Latino Leadership, Inc.
Marcia Hernandez, University at Albany
Nicole J. Johnson, University at Albany
Norma Pol, University at Albany
Rosann Santos, University at Albany
Yulitza S. Franklin, University at Albany

IT'S MORE THAN JUST FREE TIME: LEISURE AND GENDERED HEGEMONY, EMBODIMENT AND SPACE S183

The authors discuss leisure as a context that transmits and transforms gender ideologies, critiques the embodiment of leisure for women with disabilities and examines the leisure spaces of old lesbians. Panelists discuss leisure as a context that transmits and transforms gender ideologies, critiques the embodiment of leisure for women with disabilities and examines the leisure spaces of old lesbians.

Diane M. Samdahl, University of Georgia
Leisure and Gendered Hegemony
Susan L. Hutchinson, University of Georgia
Beauty Queens or Jocks?: Critiquing Representations of Leisure In the Lives of Women With Disabilities
Sharon Jacobson, SUNY-Brockport
Physical, Metaphysical, and Metaphorical: Space As a Context For Leisure In the Lives of Old Lesbians

WOMEN'S STUDIES THROUGH THE EYES OF PH.D. CANDIDATES I: TENSIONS OF INTER/DISCIPLINARITY, COMMUNITY, THE ACADEMY AND BEYOND E209

Emerging Ph.D. programs in women’s studies have taken various forms ranging from free-standing degree programs to collaborative programs to programs within non-traditional institutions. This panel offers a glimpse of some of the tensions that emerge in each of these settings as experienced and analyzed by those who study within them. DOUBLE SESSION (part one)

Susanne Luhmann, York University, Chair
Sara L. Crawley, University of Florida
Department, Discipline or Study?: Balancing the Liberal Arts Educational Structure With Research Interests

Lori Allen, The Union Institute
Women's Studies: "Non-traditional" Education in a "Non-traditional" Institution
Janell Hobson, Emory University
The Un/Disciplined Field of Women's Studies: Transgressing Boundaries and Extending Education in Feminist Scholarship

ABORTION MAY BE LEGAL, BUT WHO CAN GET ONE L506B

When abortion was legalized it changed women’s lives. However, restrictive legislation and lack of funding make abortion unavailable to many women. The sharp decrease in abortion providers and in abortion services, while less publicized, threatens to make the right to abortion a hollow promise. Strategies to address this crisis will be discussed.

Susan Yanow, Abortion Access Project
Marlene Fried, National Network of Abortion Funds

IN SISTERHOOD? A ROUND TABLE DISCUSSION ON WOMEN’S STUDIES AND ACTIVISM L504A

Sponsored by the Feminism & Activism Interest Group. This session evolves out of a forum in the fall/winter 1999 issue of Women’s Studies Quarterly questioning the relationship between women's studies and activism, especially how such a relationship has changed with each new generation of women's studies practitioners and with an increasingly conservative political context.

Janet Zandy, Rochester Institute of Technology
Ann Froines, University of Massachusetts, Boston
Anne S. Orwin, Rochester Institute of Technology
Diane Hope, Rochester Institute of Technology
Jaime M. Grant, Union Institute
Pauline Bart, University of California, Los Angeles
Sonita Sarker, Macalester College

CONSTRUCTING WOMEN’S VOICES IN CONTEMPORARY JEWISH TEXTS E207

Jewish Women’s Studies has emerged as a compelling framework for the gendered analysis of Jewish literary, historical and social texts. Presenters evaluate the state of the field and outline future research agendas in Jewish Women’s Studies. Future research encompasses dynamic interdisciplinary efforts that reflect the latest trends in Women’s Studies more broadly.

Norma Baumel Joseph, Concordia University
Challenges in Jewish Women’s Studies Finding a Woman’s Voice in Jewish Legal Texts
Jyl Lynn Felman, Brandeis University
Constructing a Contemporary Ethnic Gendered Voice in Jewish Women’s Autobiography
Sylvia Barack Fishman, Brandeis University
Constructing Memory and Personhood in Jewish Women’s Fiction
Susan Kahn Brandeis University, Respondent

GETTING PUBLISHED: SOME IDEAS AND ISSUES WHEEL 24A

In this workshop the presenters draw on their experiences as members of the editorial board of Feminism & Psychology: An International Journal to provide information about the publishing process, issues involved, opportunities for getting published, and increasing your chances of getting your writing accepted.

Anne Woollett, University of East London
Harriette Marshall, University of Stratfordshire
Hannah Frith, University of West of England
INCLUSIVE PEDAGOGY: USING PRINCIPLES FROM ARTS-IN-EDUCATION AS A VEHICLE FOR LEARNING IN THE WOMEN’S STUDIES CLASSROOM
L504B

This workshop is intended to introduce participants to the arts as a method of learning in the women’s studies classroom. The session focuses on the use of a broad range of the arts including theatre, poetry, and visual arts. The use of arts allows students to explore issues from a more inclusive perspective.

Lori F.W. Wynters, New York, NY

GETTING INSTITUTIONALLY FUCKED BY THE STATE: A FEMINIST APPRAISAL OF THE INS AND OUTS OF WELFARE REFORM’S PHALIC MENTALITY
WHEELock 25

Welfare reform policy in the U.S. - enacted through the Personal Responsibility and Work Opportunity Reconciliation Act of 1996 (PRA) and Temporary Assistance to Needy Families (TANF) - is grounded in a number of U.S. institutions. This panel will interrogate that grounding situated among three of these most important institutions; the family, education, and the media. Recognizing that these institutions are intricately interconnected, panelists explore the unique ways that subjection to the formulation, implementation, and evaluation of public welfare reform policy affects welfare reliant mothers.

C. Ditmar Coffield, Ohio State University
So you wanna go to college: Welfare Reform, Higher Education, and the Reproduction of Gender, Race, and Class Inequality

Sandy Smith Madsen, Emory University
The Backlash Strikes at Feminism’s Achilles Heel - Welfare Reform: The Fear that Where Black Women Lead, White Women Follow

Rebecca Burtchaell, University of Washington
Are Women “Better Off?”
Concurrent Sessions

Thursday, June 15, 2000
11:00am - 12:15pm

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Session</th>
<th>Title</th>
</tr>
</thead>
</table>
| C106    | SUPER POWER!:: RECLAIMING FEMALE SEXUALITY
Jane Caputi, Florida, Atlantic University
Cuntipotence: On Female Potency
The author presents images and enactments of cultural yearnings for female potency, found, for example in feminist art, in popular culture icons such as Oprah and Diana, and in devotion to divine figures such as the Mexican Virgin of Guadalupe. This slide presentation documents evidence of the sexualization of female potency in various ancient and contemporary global mythic traditions. |
| E206    | Vibrators Versus Viagra: The Intersection of Gender and Sexual ‘Dysfunction’
Nicole Carrubba, Castleton, VT
Pussy Galore as a Feminist Icon?: An Analysis of the ‘Girls’ of James Bond
The longevity of films of the cinematic character of James Bond has been attributed to the films' responsiveness to political and cultural changes. However, according to most critics their portrayal of women has remained static and one-dimensional. The author examines the ‘women of James Bond’. |
| E206    | Interruption and Nourishment: A Qualitative Inquiry into Teaching Introductory Women’s Studies as a Graduate Student
Lucy Bailey, Ohio State University
The author describes initial findings in a small qualitative study of graduate students at Ohio State University and their experiences teaching introductory Women's Studies as part of their graduate career. Of particular interest is how teaching serves to both interrupt and nourish their own graduate studies as they negotiate multiple subject positions and competing responsibilities. How can institutions better facilitate the professional development of this vibrant, creative but often invisible teaching force? |
| C104    | Educating for Commitment and Healing
Cate Siejk, Gonzaga University
The author describes how she works to create a teaching and learning practice that embraces students as whole persons, cultivates their sense of openness and engagement, and helps them to balance the past with a continuous attentiveness to the present and the needs of the future. |

---

Jane Rinehart, Gonzaga University
Cooking Up a Conversation, Brewing Change
The author describes pedagogical decisions about seminar design, course materials and requirements, and evaluates how these worked out in one ‘real life’ semester of good and not-so-good moments including several methods for promoting student awareness of the ways that social activism and research enrich and challenge each other.

Older Women and Vitality
E207
Elaine Miller, SUNY-Brockport
Subversive Cyclists: A Tran-America Bicycle Tour for Women Over 50
"Chief of all the dangers attending this new development of feminine freedom is the intoxication which comes with unfettered liberty" (from a 19th century writer). Twenty women over fifty bicycle California to Florida, 58 days, 3,100 miles, subverting notions of what women, especially ‘older women’ are up to.

Susan Bracken, Pennsylvania State University
Gretchen Gierach, Pennsylvania State University
Phyllis Kernoff Mansfield, Pennsylvania State University
Women’s Ways of Well-Being: What Does Being Healthy Mean to You?
The authors of this paper explore and describe women’s responses to the question “What does being healthy mean to you?” within individual and societal contexts.

Vicki Meyer, DePaul University
Putting Menopause in Perspective: Challenging the Medicalization of Midlife Women
Menopause, a normal physiological process that occurs in all women, is becoming medicalized. Research linking menopause with chronic diseases and the use of hormones with their reduction will be critiqued. The pervasive gender biases in biomedical research, which have constructed menopause as a deficiency condition, and the impact this has on the well-being of women will be explored.

The Ivory Tower and Beyond
C104
This panel addresses some of the experiences of Black women teaching at college preparatory schools and Jewish women studying at liberal arts colleges. The discussion focuses on how pedagogy and mentoring influence the activism of different groups grappling with similar questions in contrasting situations.

Adam Gaynor, Jerusalem, Israel
How Can You Live In Maine and Still Be Warm: Notes From Jewish Exiles to the Northland
Tasha M. Hawthorne, The Pembroke Hill School
Is It Possible to be a Black Professional Woman and Tracy Chapman’s Sister?
Concurrent Sessions

Thursday, June 15, 2000

From Asherah to Sophia to Wonder Woman: Sexuality, Representation, and the Goddess C302

This panel examines the use of discourses that both construct and restrict representations of female power and the female divine. Panelists focus on three different locations of discourse: ancient representations in the Hebrew Bible, newspaper accounts of the 1993 Christian Re-Imagining conference, and the character of Wonder Woman as rendered in comic books, web sites, and popular psychology.

Alison Kafer, Claremont Graduate University
- Feminist Icon, Lesbian, Goddess Worshipper, or Bimbo?: Power, Sexuality, and the Wonder Woman

Dana Newlove, Claremont Graduate University
- Sex and the Single Deity: Representation of the Goddesses in the Hebrew Bible

Zandra Wagoner, Claremont Graduate University
- Heresy Hunters and the Invention of the Goddess Sophia

Young Women Negotiating and Resisting Identities S251A

This panel examines a number of issues for young women growing up in the inner city in UK at the end of the millennium. Drawing on two interval studies of young women’s identities-in-transition in relation to their cultural identities, we discuss some ways in which young women negotiate and resist the ways in which their identities are regulated as gendered, sexualized and racialized, and their implications for theorizing and researching young women.

Anne Woollett, University of East London
- Negotiating Cultural Identity: A Case Study of an Indian/Asian Young Woman

Helen Malson, University of Western Sydney
- Embodied Subjectivities in Transition: Young Women’s Negotiations of Gendered, Sexualized and Racialized Identities

Hannah Frith, University of West of England
- Buying Into Identity: Young Women Negotiating and Subverting the Meaning of Clothes

Teaching and Learning About Sexual Violence: Subverting the Popular Culture W205

Panelists address teaching and learning about subverting the popular culture with regards to the exploitation, subjectification and objectification of females. Topics include teaching about violence against women, teaching about incest, a critical analysis of pro-wrestling, and Telenovelas.

Carole Sheffield, William Paterson University
- Transforming Students’ Attitudes About Sexual Violence

Arlene Holpp Scala, William Paterson University
- Incest: Reading “Bastard Out of Carolina” with Jane Caputi’s Pop Culture Lens

Jill Zinckgraf, William Paterson University
- Pornographizing the Popular Culture: An Analysis of Pro-Wrestling as Pornography

Maria Rodriguez, William Paterson University
- Violence Within the Pop Culture: An Analysis of Latina Soap Operas as Misogyny

Transformations of Desire: Beyond Traditional Scripts of Literature, Art and Aesthetics L504B

This panel presents three interrelated approaches to women’s desire, a force that reinscribes traditional narratives, images and theories in order to re-figure women’s creative power. Using examples from fiction, art and feminist aesthetics, we explore some ways that women are changing the idea of desire.

Elizabeth Cannon, University of Wisconsin-Oshkosh
- What “Violent Violets” Want: Desire For Subjectivity in Contemporary Women’s Fiction

Marguerite Helmers, University of Wisconsin-Oshkosh
- Liminal Figures: Electronic and Organic Reading: A Feminist Transformation of Aesthetics

Cravings: Growing Up Jewish and Female in the Midwest C308

This performance is from the author’s memoir Cravings about growing up Jewish and female in the Midwest. The voice is ethnic and erotic, poststructural (nonlinear) in style and tone lending a sense of linguistic anarchy to the narrative itself. In spoken word, performance style, the author delivers Cravings.

Jyl Lynn Felman, Brandeis University
- Cravings.

East Meets West: The Transformation of Feminist, Gender and Queer Theory in 20th Century Russia and Eastern Europe Wheel 24A

The future of feminist, gender and queer theory study relies on the investigation of cross-cultural and international aspects of theory development. This panel interrogates the formation of theory across national and ideological borders, in the context of the Russian and East European experience.

Erin Kasprzak, Indiana University
- Feminism, Communism, and the West: Constructing Feminism in 20th Century Eastern Europe

Julie Thomas, Indiana University
- Sexology as an International Scientific and Cultural Exchange and Its Influence on Gender Role Formation: The Soviet Union and the United States in the

---

43
THE GENERAL UNIVERSITY COMMUNITY LIFE

This panel examines the curriculum, employment, classroom interactions, and the implications of these complex and interrelated issues for the general university community.

Ann Sheperdson, University of Vermont
Kelli Zaytoun Byrne, Wright State University
Jo Trigillio, Bentley College
Alaina Boston, Lesbian Avengers

THE ROLE OF WOMEN'S CENTERS AND WOMEN'S COMMISSIONS IN ADDRESSING CAMPUS DIVERSITY INITIATIVES

Sponsored by the Women's Centers Caucus

The issues of diversity, racial equality, and women's and minorities status are significant on most university campuses. This panel will present some examples of how women's centers and women's commissions work with other diversity-related campus initiatives.

Kelli Zaytoun Byrne, Wright State University
Ann Sheperdson, University of Vermont
Creating an Equitable Campus Environment: Can Diversity and Women's Commissions Work Together?
Gina Kozik-Rosabal, University of Colorado, Boulder
Kathleen Holgerson, University of Connecticut, Storrs
Working Across and Against the Isms: The Women's Center as a Cultural Center
Victoria Kill, Seattle University

Hanging Out Together: Race and Gender Diversity Initiatives

WILPF'S NATIONAL PROGRAM CAMPAIGNS: 2000-2003

E303

Founded in 1915, the Women's International League for Peace and Freedom (WILPF) is the oldest and largest international women's peace and justice organization in the world. Since World War I, WILPF has taken action to oppose the root causes of war, and to promote peace, social justice, racial equality and women's empowerment. Presenters address the issues and goals of specific campaigns. A brief history of WILPF will be included at the beginning of the session.

Kathryn Kasper, WILPF, Discussant

Leadership and Outreach Coordinator, WILPF, U.S. Section

Mary Zepernick, WILPF
Challenging Corporate Power: Asserting the People's Rights Campaign Leadership
Yoshiko Ikuta, WILPF
Ellen Barfield, WILPF
Disarm! Dismantling the War Economy Campaign Co-Chairs
Chris Ballin, WILPF
Uniting for Racial Justice, Truth, Reparations, Restoration and Reconciliation (UFORJE) Campaign Co-Chair

FAULTLINES IN THE ACADEMIC LANDSCAPE: THE POLITICS OF LESBIAN AND GAY STUDIES AT AN URBAN UNIVERSITY

L301

For three years the Women's Studies Program of New Jersey City University deliberated becoming a Women's and Gender Studies Program. The main reason for this change was to house a nascent lesbian and gay studies program that would otherwise have had no other institutional anchor. The papers in this session address some of the complexities of developing a Queer Studies program at an urban university, including curricular innovations, publishing conundrums, and the coming-out concerns of a faculty member affiliated with the program.

Barbara Rubin, New Jersey City University
From the Editorial Edge: Confronting the Issues Producing a Newsletter on Lesbian and Gay Studies
David Blackmore, New Jersey City University
Rainbow-Colored Cupcakes for International Dessert Day?: Some Lessons for Curriculum Development in Lesbian and Gay Studies at the Urban University
Mirtha Quintanales, New Jersey City University
Missing Ellen: Reflections of a Latina Lesbian Feminist on the Politics of the Academic Closet
Liza Fiol-Matta, New Jersey City University

Where We Go From Here: Negotiating the Domains of Gender Studies

TEACHING AND RESEARCH ON GENDER AND GLOBALIZATION

W206

Globalization is a process that brings people and places closer together and simultaneously produces new inequalities and hierarchies. This panel addresses the challenges and pitfalls that are part of teaching and researching globalization using feminist perspectives.

Jill M. Bystydzienski, Iowa State University
Integrating Globalization Into Women's Studies Courses
Heather Dell, Rosemont College
Sex Work and Globalization: International Organizing Through AIDS Awareness Programs
Tania Ramalho, William Paterson University

Globalization and Capitalism: Questions For the Classroom
Concurrent Sessions
Thursday, June 15, 2000
11:00am - 12:15pm

Clare Bratten, University of Wisconsin, Madison
Cyber Cherry Blossoms: Online Sexual Tourism and Mail Order Brides

Leslie King, University of Maine, Orono
Linking the Distant and the Local: Using Novels to Teach About Gender and Globalization

HOW DIVERSE REALLY IS WOMEN'S STUDIES: WOMEN OF COLOR TRYING TO FIND A PLACE
L501B
The first part of the discussion (problems) focuses on the problems that women of color face within their respective departments and within women's studies departments as a whole. The second part of the roundtable (solutions) focuses on strategies for dealing with the problems discussed in the first part. This roundtable asks hard questions about the diversity or lack thereof within women's studies. How diverse are the students, faculty and courses? If women's studies are to thrive in the 21st century, then women of color, whether heterosexual or homosexual, must be able to participate at all levels. DOUBLE SESSION (part two)

Dalia Adbel-Hady, University at Albany
Joanne Fernandez, University at Albany
Laura Castillo, National Community for Latino Leadership, Inc.
Marcia Hernandez, University at Albany
Nicole J. Johnson, University at Albany
Norma Pol, University at Albany
Rosann Santos, University at Albany
Yulitza S. Franklin, University at Albany

SHOPPING FOR SUBJECTS: CONFIGURING IDENTITY IN FEMINIST EDUCATION
S183
This panel will address critical literacy strategies for reading teen magazines, personal recovery texts and women's websites, and discuss the distinctions between discourses 'for women' and feminist discourses, which seek to intervene in, rather than comply with, dominant culture.

Allison Craig, Delmar, NY
Shopping For (Feminist) Music: The "Women's" Music Market
Deanna DiCarlo, SUNY, Albany
Shopping For 'Self Help' in Personal Recovery Literature
Hyoejin Yoon, SUNY, Albany
Shopping for Solutions in Websites 'For Women'

WOMEN'S STUDIES THROUGH THE EYES OF PH.D. CANDIDATES II: METHODOLOGIES, CURRICULA AND KNOWLEDGES AT THE INTERSECTIONS OF INTERDISCIPLINARITY AND SOCIAL DIFFERENCES
E209
This panel engages a set of central concerns that emerged with the creation of free-standing Ph.D. programs in women's studies, namely, how to think and make work women's studies multiple commitments to interdisciplinarity, the consideration of social differences (race, class, sexuality, etc.) and social changes at the level of methodology, curriculum and pedagogy. DOUBLE SESSION (part two)

Karen Flynn, York University
Women's Studies, History and Lost Subjects

Kate Campbell, York University
Challenging Visions: Student Reflections on Graduate Women's Studies Curricula

Susanne Luhmann, York University
Difficult Knowledge in Women's Studies: Teaching and Learning About/From Race and Sexuality

SAFE PLACES: EDUCATING FOR CHANGE IN THE 21ST CENTURY
L506B
Through the use of narratives and the interactive theatre techniques of Augusto Boal the participants and the audience will collaboratively explore the meaning of safe places as a form of change for the twenty-first century. We will also explore the challenges and resistances encountered in doing this type of work.

Sarah Stockbridge, Goucher College
Jaspreeet Chowdhary, Agnes Scott College
Susan Stocker, Goucher College

PREMIER FILM SCREENING FOR NWSA
11:30 AM - 1:30 PM IN ROOM C103

Judy Norsigian, Boston Women's Health Book Collective Patchwork Production, Ken Schneider and Marcia Jarmel, Producers

Born in the USA
A documentary about childbirth in America. It is lively, honest, and addresses all the issues that women, and couples looking forward to birth, want to consider: not only safety, but also power and powerlessness in childbirth, women's right to control the territory in which they give birth, the meanings of pain in northern industrial culture and how these changes in the powerful process of birth-giving if a woman has skilled and loving emotional support, and the importance of woman-to-woman help through a peak experience in life.

WRITERS SERIES - WHEELOCK 14
Convener: Patricia Ould, Salem State College
Jean Gould
Dutiful Daughters: Caring for Our Parents as They Grow Old

Often called the “sandwich generation,” “dutiful daughters” are women caught in the middle of two generations needing care: their parents and their children. Yet this label fails to reflect the real and complicated experiences of the women who care for their parents. Gould and contributors to Dutiful Daughters, Cathleen Calbert, Martha Henry, Florence Ladd, Sandell Morse, and Pat Gozembba, will read their personal accounts demonstrating the wide range of caregiver experiences. “From the diversity of voices and experiences, a number of common themes emerge. Among them is the healing that can occur between daughter and parent as the roles of dependency are reversed.

WOMEN'S STUDIES ABROAD

S222

Denise Cuthbert, Monash University
Maryanne Dever, Monash University

Play Down the Women's Thing: Rethinking Women's Studies, Careers, and Employers

The authors propose that by addressing in a serious and informed way students' post-graduation aspirations and experiences they may open up productive avenues for renewed dialogue between the academy and the world beyond it, something which has been centrally important to the development of women's studies programs and to their relationships with larger feminist movements and projects.

Denise Cuthbert, Monash University

Doing it Differently: Reflections on a Decade of Doctoral Programs in Women's Studies in Australian Universities

The author gathers together new qualitative and quantitative data on the history, scope and shape of the Women's Studies Ph.D. in Australian universities, drawing on the experience of administrators, supervisors, advisors, examiners and candidates from more than a dozen doctoral programs in order to provide answers to many pertinent questions. Does the Australian experience differ from experience elsewhere; what can we learn from each other?
AGENDAS FOR FEMINIST EDUCATION: LINKING ACADEMY AND COMMUNITY IN 2000 AND BEYOND

PRESIDING
Annette Van Dyke, University of Illinois at Springfield
NWSA President-Elect

What are the challenges of meeting the broad needs of feminist education in multiple settings in the new century? How can we best link the concerns and the energies of academy and community, build coalitions and alliances? The speakers in this plenary session address these questions on several levels of feminist theory, education, and action.

LOURDES BENERIA
WHAT DAVOS AND SEATTLE MEAN FOR WOMEN: FEMINIST PERSPECTIVES ON GLOBALIZATION

Lourdes Beneria is Professor of City and Regional Planning and Women’s Studies at Cornell University and Director of the Gender and Global Change Program. A noted economist, her academic research has often been combined with work at several UN and other international agencies. In 1978-79, she was Coordinator of the Program on Rural Women at the International Labor Office in Geneva, Switzerland, and she has been a consultant with the United Nations Development Program (UNDP), and other organizations. A former Director of the Latin American Studies Program at Cornell, her work has concentrated on gender and development, women’s paid and unpaid work, the gender dimensions of structural adjustment programs and globalization, with particular focus on Spain and Latin America. She is author and editor of books and articles on these issues, and is now working on a book on Gender and the Global Economy.

Professor Beneria will highlight the reasons why global issues such as the social construction of markets, trade liberalization, and debt repayment are feminist issues. The feminization of the international labor force is likely to change women’s relationship to “economic rationality” and “market oriented behavior” while also providing women with new possibilities to affect action and policy towards human development.

MARGO OKAZAWA-REY
ENGAGING THE HEAD, HEART, AND HANDS: ACTIVIST WOMEN’S STUDIES EDUCATION

Margo Okazawa-Rey is Professor of Social Work at San Francisco State University and Director of its Institute for Multicultural Research and Social Work Practice. She is also a member of the core faculty of the Union Graduate Institute, and currently shares the Jane Watson Irwin Chair in Women’s Studies at Hamilton College. She holds a doctorate from Harvard University Graduate School of Education. Her recent publications include Women’s Lives: Multicultural Perspectives, co-edited with Gwyn Kirk, and Beyond Heroes and Holidays: Practical Guide to Anti-Racist, Multicultural Curriculum and Staff Development, co-edited with Enid Lee and Deborah Menkart. She is working on a special issue of Social Justice on globalization and militarism, and an anthology of multiracial alliances for social change, both co-edited with Gwyn Kirk.

Professor Okazawa-Rey’s presentation will draw on her recent work with the Institute for Multiracial Justice, San Francisco, to bring together communities of color to define and promote a progressive politics; and on her work as a member of the Bay Area Okinawa Peace Network, and a founder-member of the East Asia-U.S. Women’s Network Against Militarism.

CONNIE PANZARINO, JAMAICA RAIN, MA
ABLEISM, IMPERFECTION, AND THE CELEBRATION OF DIFFERENCE

Concetta Panzarino is a lesbian with a progressive neuro-muscular disease called Spinal Muscular Atrophy Type II which allows her only movement of her right thumb and facial muscles. She earned her B.A. from
Plenary Session

Hofstra University in 1969 and holds a Master’s degree in Art Therapy from New York University. Ms. Panzarino is also a professional artist, and lectures nationwide to educate on the subjects of ableism, disability, homophobia, sexism and the ethics of genetic engineering.

Following her health related resignation as director of the Boston Self Help Center, Ms. Panzarino served on their board. She also sat on the boards of the Disability Law Center, the Project on Women and Disability, and the Boston Center for Independent Living. She is now on the editorial board of Access Expressed of Very Special Arts and is President of the board of the Educational Services Center of the Hotel Workers Union.

Because her disability began to limit her travel to conferences and speaking engagements, she decided to write her autobiography, The Me in the Mirror, which serves to educate persons with and without disabling conditions. She has also co-authored Rebecca Finds a New Way and authored Follow Your Dreams, and Tell It Like It Is, books for children with spinal cord injuries and spinal cord diseases.

At present Ms. Panzarino uses a ventilator to breathe and daily full-time attendant care to run her household, write, paint, garden, and cook in the Italian gourmet style that she loves. She is currently doing live radio shows nationally by telephone, continuing to write about her unique life, and has recently collaborated on a play, The Me in the Mirror, which is about her life. The play was part of the Boston women and theatre festival 2000.

NOTE!! Please take special note for this session of our request that conference participants refrain from wearing scented products that may trigger reactions in chemically-sensitive persons.
Foncurrent Sessions Thursday, June 15, 2000

Thursday 3:45pm

THE DIVERSION OF GENDER: SILENTLY GENDERED LABOR STRUGGLES IN THE ACADEMY

C104

Angela Bowen, California State University, Long Beach

Challenges: Women of Color Within Women's Studies and Lesbigaytrans Studies

The presence of women of color faculty in Women's Studies and black lesbians within Lesbigaytrans Studies creates expectations by departments, institutions, students—and the faculty of color themselves—which might be unrealistic. Hiring is one step; utilizing their skills to their full advantage is the next. How do we get there?

Cynthia J. Mesh, Wellesley Center for Research on Women

Faculty Moms Speak Up: Challenging Gender Inequality in the Faculty Ranks

Academic faculty ranks are largely dominated by men, especially at the full professor level. One of the major difficulties facing women in academia is combining professorship with motherhood. The author reports preliminary data from a study collecting the stories of faculty women’s experiences with maternity and adoption leave, told by the women themselves.

Hilda Hernandez-Gravelle, Simmons College

Redefining the Borderlands: Latina Administrators in the Academy Promoting Multicultural Development

Within communities of color, only a small percentage of those eligible are enrolling in colleges, and the gap between the success of white students and students of color is widening. Multicultural development is a process by which academic institutions seek to enhance the enrollment and retention of students of color. The author examines administrators and the multicultural agenda.

NATIONAL LEADERSHIP

C302

Ann Cordilia, University of Massachusetts, Boston

Elaine Morse, University of Massachusetts, Boston

Shizuko Suenaga

The Academy Promoting Multicultural Development

The Academy Promoting Multicultural Development is a process by which academic institutions seek to enhance the enrollment and retention of students of color. The author examines administrators and the multicultural agenda.

RAPE POLICY

C106

Heidi Block, Lasell College & Northeastern University

Why the U.S. is a Rape-Prone Society: A History of Women as Property in the U.S. and its Influence on the Current Justice System's Response to Acquaintance Rape

The author explores the societal and legal history of women as property in the U.S. The author proposes that although the laws with regard to U.S. women's status have changed, the view of women as property (of someone other than themselves) has remained in the justice system and is perpetuated through the activities of police, prosecutors and judges.

Lisa Sharlach, University of California, Davis

State Rape: A Cross-National Study of the State and Rape Policy

The state may inflict upon individuals who belong to disfavored political groups shame and degradation, in addition to physical harm. One example of state-perpetrated violence that harms the psyche as well as the body, and the community as well as the individual, is rape. The consequence of state rape is to keep stigmatized identity groups politically subordinate.

SUBVERSIVE VOICES, SUBVERSIVE CHOICES: WOMEN'S NARRATIVES IN LIFE AND LITERATURE

S251B

Exploring women's writing strategies in personal narratives, non-fiction, and literature, this panel reveals subtle patterns of cultural critique. Locating women's subversive voices in various genres, panelists show how women reinterrogate, reform, and redefine their personal experiences and render the significance of their lives, despite the limitations of culture.
Concurrent Sessions Thursday, June 15, 2000 3:45pm - 5:00pm

Stacey C. Short, Texas A&M University
A Womb of Her Own: The Struggle Towards a Feminist Perspective on Birth Control

THE MARRIAGE OF THEORY AND PRACTICE: COLLABORATIONS BETWEEN WOMEN'S STUDIES AND WOMEN'S CENTERS
S222
Sponsored by Women's Centers Caucus
This panel presentation focuses on specific ways Women's Studies and women's centers have worked together on two very different university campuses—Virginia Tech and Duke University. Using specific examples, panelists discuss the opportunities and challenges that arise from collaborative work to bridge the gap between theory and practice.

Laura Gorflke, Women's Studies at Virginia Tech
Penny Burge, Women's Center at Virginia Tech
Sharon Snow, Virginia Tech
Same Goals, Intersecting Paths
Donna Lisker, Duke University Women's Center
Collaborating for Change at Duke

BRIDGING WOMEN'S STUDIES AND COMMUNITY IN THE 21ST CENTURY: MEETING THE CHALLENGE OF PROMOTING FEMINISM IN A CONSERVATIVE ENVIRONMENT
E209
This panel articulates one Women's Studies program's challenge to the discipline-ary structure of academics by relating feminist research and coalition-building in the surrounding community. Our panel shows a new generation of feminists claiming theory as a crucial component of political practice.

Eva Ludwiga Szalay, Weber State University
Bridging Women's Studies and Community Through Research Methodologies Coursework
Carrie Wagner, Weber State University
Sexual Terrorism in the Media: Undermining Common Perceptions
Emilie Turner, Weber State University
Creating Feminist-Gay and -Lesbian Alliances Between High School and University Student Populations
Michelle Stephens, Weber State University
Mapping Enrollment Patterns of Female Students at an Alternative High School: Trends and Implications

FEMINIST PRAXIS AND THE POLITICS OF PLACE, SPACE, AND POSITIONALITY
C308
This panel relates politics of positionality and reflexivity to the construction and reproduction of different scales of gendered, place-based struggles in the 1st and 3rd worlds by focusing on feminist research ethics, housing policies, and ecofeminist discourse.

Margalit Chu, St. Louis, MO
Locating Positionality: Questions About Feminist Research Ethics

Jodi Horne, Minneapolis, MN
Rights to Place, Rights to Community
Elizabeth Lunstrum, Minneapolis, MN
Academic Ecofeminism and the (Forgotten) Importance of Place

HOW TO PUBLISH AND PROMOTE A BOOK
W206
Two writer-scholars, who have published twenty books between them, tell how to get a book contract, how to negotiate with or without an agent, how to work with editors, create book tours, get reviewed, and make sure you reach your intended audience.

Emily Toth, Louisiana State University
Susan Koppelman, Tucson, AZ

MARY DALY: HER PHILOSOPHY AND THE CURRENT POLITICS AROUND HER LEGAL BATTLE WITH BOSTON COLLEGE
S251A
Mary Daly has been one of the founding mothers of feminism and has been a central figure in attracting women to the feminist movement. Her work has revolutionized the way we think about philosophy, religion, the global nature of patriarchy, language and the utopian feminist vision. Each of the participants in the roundtable discussion will focus on some aspect of her philosophy and backlash against radical feminism in the academic and public spheres.

Jane Caputi, Florida Atlantic University
Mary Daly, Boston College
Emily Culpepper, Redlands University
Frances Cheland, New England College
Gail Dines, Wheelock College
Gretchen Van Ness, Attorney
Katherine Boundy, Florida Atlantic University
Lorine M. Getz, University of North Carolina, Charlotte
Marina Banchetti-Robino, Florida Atlantic University

TEACHING ABOUT WOMEN'S HEALTH ACTIVISM IN WOMEN'S STUDIES: LINKING THE ACADEMY AND THE COMMUNITY TO BUILD GREATER AWARENESS OF FEMINIST CRITIQUES AND AGENDAS
E206
Feminist health activists from different generations will describe specific ways to incorporate material about women's health activism into women's studies curriculum. Presenters will represent a diverse range of educational and advocacy organizations, including those working in communities of color in different parts of the country.

Judy Norsigian, Boston Women's Health Book Collective
Adrienne Asch, Wellesley College
Venus Gines, Georgia State Women's Studies Institute
Paula Caplan
<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Concurrent Sessions</th>
<th>Thursday, June 15, 2000</th>
<th>3:45pm - 5:00pm</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>FEMINIST GROUP PROCESS - THERE IS A BETTER WAY</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>E303</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>This workshop offers both theoretical models and concrete how-to practice for making sure that the best decisions possible are made within a reasonable time-frame, with as little pain and as much pleasure as possible.</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Julia Balen, University of Arizona</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>FEMINIST LESSONS IN ART SCHOOL AND BEYOND: 'FRAMING' LINKS BETWEEN SELF AND COMMUNITY (TODAY AND TOMORROW)</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>L504B</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>The 70s Feminist Movement impacted the art world enormously. Today, what theories and practices does feminism provide to educators teaching the production and interpretation of visual art? How do these lessons: question boundaries separating the art world from everyday life; and frame links between self, personal history, and community?</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Melinda Mayer, University of North Texas</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Kate Hunt, University of North Texas</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Culture, Sexuality, and Steel: Feminism in the Art School Studio</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Connie Newton, University of North Texas</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Feminism in Art Education: The Inquiry Model and Community</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Jennifer Ellen Way, University of North Texas</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>New Genre Public Art: Practicing Feminism Through a Social Art</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>WOMEN: BODY AND STATE</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>L501A</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Lenore Kuo, University of Nebraska</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Who Owns Women’s Bodies?: Bodily Autonomy, Bodily Integrity and the State</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>The author discusses two principles of feminist social policy analysis arguing that appeals to the ‘right to bodily autonomy’ should be defended by feminists but that appeals to the ‘right to bodily integrity’ should be rejected by feminist policy analysts.</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>V. Pushpa Kumari and K. Geetha, Assam University</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Law and Transformation of Women’s Status Towards Equality</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>In India, the first movement for women’s rights centered around three major problems, infant marriages, enforced widowhood and property rights for women. This study examines the impact of legal rights on the status of elite and poor women in urban and rural areas and suggests measures for improving the status of women.</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>BOX AND BEYOND: BODIES, IMAGERY, TECHNOLOGIES AND FEMINIST THEORY</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>L501B</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>This panel examines a range of issues central to current debates within feminist scholarship that emerge through feminist studies of ‘the body’. The presentations combine work in anthropology, philosophy and feminist political theory.</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Kathryn Forbes, California State University, Fresno</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Sometimes You Just Want a Real Man: Visions of European Sexuality in Tourist Discourse</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Janet Slagter, California State University, Fresno</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Trading Eggs in a Bull Market</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Loretta Kensinger, California State University, Fresno</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Feminism’s Gaze: Looking at Pornography Through Texts on Liberal, Radical, and Socialist Feminisms</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Nadia Elia, Brown University, Discussant</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>GLOBALIZED BODIES IN THE 21ST CENTURY: WHERE ARE THE WOMEN?</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>WHEELOCK 14</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Panelists discuss how at the turn of the century women’s bodies are theorized. Topics covered include wild bodies, fertile bodies, indigenous epistemologies, and surviving Cyberbodies and clones.</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Susan Hawthorne, University of Melbourne</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Wild Bodies: Bodies That Break the Rules</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Laurel Guynmer, Deakin University</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Fertile Bodies: Too Fertile or Not Fertile Enough</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Diane Bell, George Washington University</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Australian Indigenous Epistemologies: Embodying the Land</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Renate Klein, Deakin University, Australia</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Surviving Cyberbodies and Clones: Embodied Feminist Resistance</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>ENACTING FEMINISM IN THE ACADEMY: A FISHBOWL OF CURRENT ISSUES</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>L301</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Sponsored by the Academic Discrimination Advisory Board</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>To enact feminism in the university, we will discuss how graduate students in Women’s Studies can get started in the field, strategies for feminist faculty in gaining tenure with a focus on disciplines that present special obstacles, the need for part-time feminist faculty to organize, and ways to maintain feminist politics without selling out. DOUBLE SESSION (part one)</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Sharon Leder, Nassau Community College</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Bonita Hampton, William Paterson University</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Julie Parker, University of Massachusetts, Dartmouth</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Sharon Jacobson, SUNY-Brockport</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>INTERNET RESOURCES FOR WOMEN’S STUDIES: A GUIDED TOUR</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>S183</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>As information online continues to proliferate, many women’s studies scholars, students, teachers and activists may find that negotiating the Internet has become too time-consuming or frustrating. We offer a guided tour of information-rich websites geared towards women’s studies, as well as digitized collections of original sources.</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>
Concurrent Sessions

Thursday, June 15, 2000 3:45pm - 5:00pm

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Speakers</th>
<th>Title</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Joan Korenman, University of Maryland, Baltimore County</td>
<td>WMST-L and CWIT as Cybersources</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Phyllis Holman Weisbard, University of Wisconsin, Madison</td>
<td>Virtually Yours: Digital Collections of Primary Sources</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Sandra Shattuck, University of Maryland, Baltimore County</td>
<td>Wiring the Women’s Studies Classroom</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

THE FUTURE WAITS. OUR JOURNEYS BEGIN. THE CHANGING PARADIGMS OF FEMINIST STUDIES L506B

This panel invites conference participants to explore the future of feminist studies from four different perspectives—practical, spiritual, ethical, and intercultural. We argue that by taking a risk and incorporating these controversial classroom techniques, educators will launch Women’s Studies into the future. Our survival is worth this risk.

Bonnie Orkow, University of Denver
Making the Invisible Visible: A Case of Ethics for Mandatory Teaching of Gendered Communication

Derek Sweet, University of Denver
Casting a Circle: Rhetoric, Reality, and Renewal

Monique Myers, University of Denver
Dynamics and Diversity: A Case for Teaching Intercultural Dialog in Women’s Studies Courses

Tess Pierce, University of Denver
‘Practical Magic’: A Case For Women’s Studies Classroom Labs. The Educator’s Survival Guide

MOTHERS & DAUGHTERS — FATHERS & DAUGHTERS WHEELock 25

This workshop emphasizes why and how the two courses, Fathers & Daughters and Mothers & Daughters, are vital components of a Women’s Studies program. This workshop will provide college faculty with a wealth of teaching ideas, research, and literature to incorporate into their own courses or writing.

Linda Nielsen, Wake Forest University
Mary DeShazer, Wake Forest University

PROFESSIONALIZATION IN WOMEN’S STUDIES: PROBLEMS AND POSSIBILITIES WHEELock 24B

Department, center, or program? Full-time faculty lines or joint appointments? Women’s Studies as a career or a component of a discipline based career? Should women’s studies programs be ranked? Such questions are related to the professionalization of women’s studies, and they will be the focus of this roundtable discussion led by members of the Program Administration and Development Committee of NWSA.

Inez Martinez, Kingsborough Community College
Sally L. Kitch, Ohio State University
Concurrent Sessions

Thursday, June 15, 2000

5:15 pm - 6:30 pm

Growing into Cultural Images: The Effects of Popular Culture on Adolescent Women

L309

Kristen Luschen, Syracuse University

Preserving “Goodness”: Popular Culture, Education and Adolescent Female Sexuality

The author explores popular discourses of “good/bad” girls, particularly as they are articulated around the contested construction of the pregnant teen. Questions will be raised as to how these popular discourses shape school policy and classroom practice.

Sharon R. Siegel, Syracuse University

Speaking From Experience: Negotiating Meaning(s) in Teen Magazine Production and Consumption

The author weaves together interview data from readers and editors of teen magazines to illustrate the contradictions and convergences between how editors view their responsibility to represent teenage life, and how readers negotiate and subvert these representations.

Performativity: Reconsidering the Privilege of Writing

Wheeler 24B

Anne Millard Daughtery, University of Kansas

Cecilia and Scarlet Do Lunch: Women Composers of Film Music

The author examines and analyzes the contribution of women composers of film music and ponders the marriage of feminist film theory and feminist musicology in the representation of gender through music designed to accompany a movie. Film music by women urges further discourse on the reading of sound texts.

Kirsch Dickson, The University of California, Riverside

Staging the Festival of American Political Progress: Reading the Liberated and Liberating Femininity of Madonna, Martha Graham and Isadora Duncan

The author interrogates the historical and political significance of dance as a cultural practice for women. In the body of the dancing American girl, boundaries between leisure practices, medical and scientific disciplines and moral/political education are blurred and the American commitment to the dream of upward mobility is sensualized and popularized.

Susan Cumings, Emory University

Women’s Autobioexpression: A New Genre for the New Millennium

This slide-illustrated presentation questions the privileging of writing as a form of creative self-expression by displacing the term ‘autobiography’ in favor of a more inclusive term, ‘autobioexpression’. Examples of women’s autobioexpression will include paintings, blends of prose and drawing, and poetry from North American women of three different ethnic backgrounds.

The Power of Women to Subvert the Community: Women’s Global/Local Organization in Mexico and Palestine/Israel

C104

This panel explores the way that women in the margins confront globalization processes, redirect developments in civil society, and create and maintain frame alignments with other social protest movements locally and internationally. We draw from fieldwork in sites of multicultural hybridity and national struggle.

Ayala Emmett, Rochester University

Sex and Gender as Raw Political Material: Local Women Negotiate Globalization

Shany Payes, Oxford, England

The National Impact of Local Activism: Women’s Role in the Development of Palestinian Society in Israel

Batya Weinbaum, Cleveland State University

Utopian and Dystopian Moments in Women in Black Organization, Palestine/Israel BAT/GLO

Gloria Orenstein, University of Southern California, Discussant

Mary Fambrough, Case Western University, Discussant

Crossing Cultural Borders with Nuestros Cuerpos, Nuestras Vidas: Lessons from the Latin American Translation/Adaptation of “Our Bodies, Ourselves”

C106

In this roundtable discussion, we will present what we learned about the cultural and sociopolitical context of women’s health information, through the experience of translating and culturally adapting the feminist health text, “Our Bodies, Ourselves”, in collaboration with groups of women’s health activists in both hemispheres.

Ester Shapiro, University of Massachusetts, Boston

Maria Morison Aguiar, Boston Women’s Health Book Collective

Maria Marmo Skinner, Boston Women’s Health Book Collective

She, Me, We: The Feminist Experience of Bringing Voices Out of Silence Through Collaborative Editing

Wheeler 14

Can feminists survive collaboration and still remain friends? Two different sets of “survivor-collaborators” tell how writing about another women has revised the script of their own lives and friendships.

Margaret Barfield, Pepperdine University

Constance Fulmer, Pepperdine University

Editing the Autobiography of a Shirtmaker by Edith J. Simcox

Fran Grace, University of Redlands

Cynthia Cornell Novak, Pepperdine University

M. Madeline Southard: How Working On Her Works On Us
SERVICE-LEARNING IN WOMEN'S STUDIES
C308
Sponsored by Feminism & Activism Interest Group. The possibilities for service learning differ depending upon institutional settings and constraints. This session focuses on service learning in Women's Studies courses in an urban setting, at a community college and in the university setting. Faculty perspectives as well as those of students and community partners will be presented.

Melissa Kessler Gilbert, Portland State University
Urban Feminism: Service-Learning in Women's Studies (A Faculty Perspective)
Catherine Sameh, Community Partner
A Community Partner Perspective
Sally Eck, A Student Perspective
Karen Bojar, Community College of Philadelphia
Service Learning and Women's Studies at the Community College
Kerrissa Heffernan, Brown University, Discussant

CONSTRUCTIONS OF WHITE WORKING-CLASS WOMEN: ECONOMIC CRISIS, MUSIC, AND STRATEGIES OF RESISTANCE
L504A
This session addresses how white working-class women simultaneously experience race, gender and class.

Lois Rita Helmbold, San Jose State University
Historical Constructions of White Working-Class Women
Victoria Byerly, San Jose State University
From "Stand by Your Man" to "Goodbye Earl": Country Music and the Construction of White Working-Class Feminist Consciousness, 1949-1999

TRANSFORMING THE SCIENCES THROUGH WOMEN'S STUDIES
E206
This panel will discuss the preliminary results of the NSF-funded curriculum transformation project “Educating the Science and Engineering Workforce in Collaboration With Women's and Gender Studies Programs: A North Carolina State University Initiative”. In particular, we will explore the successes and failures of our faculty development and assessment models.

Laura Severin, North Carolina State University
An Administrator's Perspective on Transforming the Sciences Through Women's Studies
Mary Wyer, North Carolina State University
Evaluating Curriculum Transformation
Mary Barbercheck, North Carolina State University
Successes and Failures in Creating ‘Transformed’ Curricula

WOMEN'S ORAL HISTORY PROJECT
WOMEN'S VOICES, WOMEN'S CHOICES: NEW HAMPSHIRE WOMEN'S

ORAL HISTORY PROJECT
WHEELOCK 25
A reader’s theater and presentations about New Hampshire Women's Oral History Project, a collection of oral histories that explore the diversity of women and their experiences around an important choice each narrator has made. Presenters also discuss the challenges, decisions and choices they have encountered in the process of doing feminist oral history.

Mary M. Moynihan, University of New Hampshire
Jennifer Carroll, New Hampshire Women's Oral History Project
Randi Ann Thomas, New Hampshire Women's Oral History Project

SEX, RACE & CLASS: GLOBALIZATION OF THE STRUGGLE FOR PAY EQUITY AND AGAINST ALL UNWAGED WORK
WHEELOCK 27
This workshop is facilitated by the Wages for Housework Campaign/Philadelphia. Topics include facts on pay equity, how welfare reform has impacted women's pay and other important issues surrounding women and work.

Phoebe Jones Schellenberg, Philadelphia, PA

THREE FACES OF MENOPAUSE
S222
This session presents the findings of three qualitative studies of menopause, the first of sixty-one predominantly white U.S. women, the second of fifty low-income, African American women, and the third, of forty-two native Kenyan women. Taken together, these studies provide a rich cross-cultural comparison of the menopause experience.

Phyllis Kernoff Mansfield, Pennsylvania State University, Moderator
Linda Kittell, Portage, PA
The Influence of American Cultural Values on White, Middle-Class Women’s Experience of Menopause
Elisha Nixon, Lafayette College
Experiences of Women Living in One Rural African American Community
Wanjir Kamau, Kenya, Africa
The Influence of Kikuyu Cultural Values on Agikuyu Postmenopausal Women of Central Kenya

SUBVERSIVE STRATEGIES AND MATERIALS IN TEACHING RACE AND GENDER STUDIES
W206
The panel presents methods to challenge ways of investigating primary issues in race and gender studies. Panelists argue that the subversion of dominant frames of reference leads to shocks of recognition in students. Subversive materials create new approaches to knowledge and innovative perspectives on issues.

Arlene Holpp Scala, William Paterson University
Unsettling Sex, Gender, and Sexuality Categories
Concurrent Sessions Thursday, June 15, 2000  5:15pm - 6:30pm

Tania Ramalho, William Paterson University
The Subversive Power of Schiffman’s ‘Sorceress’ in the Classroom

Richard C. Bartone, William Paterson University
Women Performing Subversion: Diamanda Galas, Karen Finley, and Holly Hughes

Donna Ezrol, William Paterson University, Discussant

NEW APPROACHES TO CAMPUS ACTIVISM: INNOVATIVE MATERIALS AND TECHNOLOGIES IN KNOWLEDGE-BASED ACTIVISM

S183

Sponsored by the Feminism & Activism Interest Group.
Exploding the so-called divide between academia and activism, representatives form the Feminist Majority Foundation will share strategies and successes for knowledge-based student activism. Presenters discuss a ‘study and action’ method of progressive organizing, newly developed Internet technologies, course credit for campus activism, and other methods for attracting a diverse group of students, faculty, and staff to what has traditionally been considered an ‘extracurricular’ activity.

Sarah Boonin, Feminist Majority Foundation
Silvia Henriquez, Feminist Majority Foundation

BRAVE NEW WORLDS: SUBVERSIVE TRAINING FOR UNDERGRADUATES IN A RURAL COMMUNITY: THE SVWIT MODEL

L506B

Women’s Studies’ minors are required to do a practicum which consists of training to be state certified sexual assault and domestic violence volunteers for the local women’s shelter, the Susquehanna Valley Women in Transition (SVWIT). The teaching of women’s studies becomes a subversive act requiring particular strategies when undergraduates attempt to apply feminist theory to service learning opportunities in a conservative, often isolated, rural area with a large community of Amish.

Rachana Sachdev, Susquehanna University
Susan R. Bowers, Susquehanna University
Simona Hill, Susquehanna University

ENACTING FEMINISM IN THE ACADEMY: A FISHBOWL OF CURRENT ISSUES

L301

Sponsored by the Academic Discrimination Advisory Board.
To enact feminism in the university, we will discuss how graduate students in Women’s Studies can get started in the field, strategies for feminist faculty in gaining tenure with a focus on disciplines that present special obstacles, the need for part-time feminist faculty to organize, and ways to maintain feminist politics without selling out. DOUBLE SESSION (part two)

Sharon Leder, Nassau Community College
Bonita Hampton, William Paterson University
Julie Parker, University of Massachusetts, Dartmouth
Sharon Jacobson, SUNY-Brockport

Premier Film Screening for NWSA
5:30 - 7:30 PM ROOM C101
Jennifer Abod

The Edge of Each Others Battles: The Vision of Audre Lorde

This film addresses the broad scope of poet Audre Lorde’s political vision. The video addresses themes important to Lorde’s work: the role of culture in political transformation, Black Feminism, Black Lesbian Feminism, the erotic, inclusion, internationalism, and the importance but difficulties of working across differences for grassroots empowerment. Each theme is introduced with one of Lorde’s phrases, as said by Lorde. It includes never seen before speeches and interviews with Lorde, some of which were presented/conducted at the historic conference “I Am Your Sister: Forging Global Connections Across Differences” (October 4-9, 1990, Boston MA) which honored Lorde’s life and work. Colorful and moving footage of conference events are interwoven with interviews of Lorde, conference participants, and the conference organizers, Angela Bowen and M. Jacqui Alexander. Alexander and Bowen link the video’s central themes and questions.
Concurrent Sessions

Friday, June 16, 2000

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Time</th>
<th>Session</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>8:00 am</td>
<td>THE GENDER ECONOMICS OF FAMILY&lt;br&gt;C104</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>Margorie Engel, Hamilton-Forbes Associates</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>Pockets of Poverty: The Second Wives' Club</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>The author discusses the financial insecurity of women in remarriages. By objective measurements, women in stepfamilies often find themselves cash-and-financial-security poor even though family income and net worth may be high. This suggests that the economic dependency of many wives in a remarriage is a hidden dimension of inequality and economic vulnerability in our society.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>COMPLICATING WOMEN: RE-VISIONING IDENTITY WITH FICTION&lt;br&gt;C302</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>Betilde Munoz, University of South Florida</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>56</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

---

Friday 8:00 am

THE GENDER ECONOMICS OF FAMILY

C104

Margorie Engel, Hamilton-Forbes Associates

Pockets of Poverty: The Second Wives’ Club

The author discusses the financial insecurity of women in remarriages. By objective measurements, women in stepfamilies often find themselves cash-and-financial-security poor even though family income and net worth may be high. This suggests that the economic dependency of many wives in a remarriage is a hidden dimension of inequality and economic vulnerability in our society.

Myra Marx Ferree, University of Connecticut

The Gender Economics of Family Abortion Discourse in Germany and the United States, 1970-1994

The author compares the framing of abortion as a gender issue in major newspapers in Germany and the U.S. between 1970 and 1994. The contrast of abortion rights as women’s rights rather than individual rights is examined.

Sandra Patton, University of Minnesota

‘Gettin’ Dissed: Race, Gender, and Disability in Welfare Reform’

The author considers representations of race, disability, and gender in public discourse regarding welfare ‘reform’—the August 1996 dismantling of the federal welfare system (AFDC). In public portrayals of poor mothers racial-ethnic identity and disability have been cast as immutable, irredeemable signifiers of difference and unfitness.

TEACHING WOMEN TO WORK: WOMEN’S STUDIES IN THE BUSINESS AND SCIENCE CLASSROOM

C318

Regine Bendl, University of Economics and Business Administration

Business Administration in Terms of Gender: A European Perspective

Since the seventies researchers and scholars of business administration at Anglo-American universities take women’s issues and gender-perspectives into account. The author aims at outlining the importance of women- and gender-oriented research work in business administration and stressing factors, which prevent Feminist Theory from entering business administration in universities in German-speaking countries.

Pat O’Brien, Cambridge Documentary Films, Inc.

Strength to Resist: No More Killing Us Softly (30:2000)

The film presents some important new perspectives from the work of Catherine Steiner Adair, Gail Dines and Val Batts, as well as from the ongoing work of Carol Gilligan and Gloria Steinem in addition to the contemporary voices of young women and girls.

ARTISTRY AND MATERIAL RESISTANCE: WOMEN AND TRADITIONAL FABRIC ARTS

C106

Natasha Whitton, Drew University

Quilters: A Pattern of Female Resistance

As we move into the next millennium, many of us carry memories of beloved female relatives in cherished heirlooms lovingly quilted years ago. The author explores the oral history of courageous pioneer quilters.

Valerie S. Rake, Ohio State University

The Quiltmaker as Artist: Creativity Inside and Outside the Domestic Context

The author focuses on the boundary between the ‘traditional’ quiltmaker and the ‘professional’ quilt-artist. The author explores how domestic concerns affect professional quilt-artists and how quilt making empowers ‘traditional’ women to claim family resources for their own use. This presentation complicates assessments of traditional and non-traditional, professional and amateur by challenging the boundaries between them.

REVOLUTION FOR PEACE: WOMEN’S POLITICAL MOVEMENTS AROUND THE GLOBE

E207

Fakhrri Haghani, Atlanta, GA

Narrative Literature as a ‘Medium for Transformation’ in Iranian Women’s Post-Revolutionary Writings: A Western Critical Literary Reading of “Tuba va Ma’na-ye Shab” by Shahrnoush Parsipour

This cross-disciplinary analysis reveals the transformation of a female experience into a feminist consciousness. By implying a Western feminist psychoanalytical reading, the author demonstrates that in the experience of creating art a metaphoric collaboration between the writer and the reader has been advocated which acts as a ‘communicable female identity’.

Jennifer Tiberghien, Stanford University

The Teaching of a Revolution: Sexual Education By Non-Governmental Organizations in Japan

Most analyses on women's studies in Japan have focused on two factors: research associations and academia. The author looks at feminist education by nonprofit, nongovernmental women’s groups with a focus on two issues of sexual violence: sexual harassment and domestic violence.

Alesia Garcia

Chicana Feminist Tribalism in the Twenty-First Century

The author will draw upon literary, cultural, and post-colonial theories in addition to providing clear definitions and contextualizations of terms such as 'indigenista', 'mes-tiza', and 'Xicana' while tracing the emergence of indigenista feminist theory.

COMPLICATING WOMEN: RE-VISIONING IDENTITY WITH FICTION

C302

Betilde Munoz, University of South Florida

56
The Personal is Political in Isabel Allende's "The House of Spirits" and "Of Love and Shadows"

From a gender perspective, and within the context of Feminist Theory, the author analyzes the feminine identities of these women, their personal struggles for liberation manifested in the form of sexual freedom as well as political and gender awareness and the parallel struggle for freedom and social justice for what is happening in their nation.

Charlotte Templin, Indianapolis, IN
The Fat Lady and The Gendered Body in Atwood's "Lady Oracle"

In Lady Oracle, Atwood uses images of the fat woman to create comedy about society's expectations for women and about women's internalization of society's values.

Ellen H. Douglass, Penn State University
Prototypical Quest and West African Goddesses in Audre Lorde's Zami, A Biomythography

In the writings of white Western feminists, the recovery of pre-patriarchal goddess figures is often complicit with essentializing and colonizing constructions of 'womanhood'. The author presents Audre Lorde's Zami as a model of an alternative variety of goddess mythology dedicated to the recognition that 'womanhood' comprises an irreducible range of culturally and historically specific roles and identities.

CURRENT ACTIVISM

E206

Deb Hoskins, University of Wisconsin-La Crosse
The Joy and Travail of Feminist Infiltration: Feminist Process, Sustainable Agriculture, and Food Activism

The ideas and values that define feminism's emphasis on process can, and should (and must), inform contemporary food activism. The author examines the reasons underlying a crisis at the local food coop, and explores how a new emphasis on process, rather than goals, can inspire members to build, rather than destroy.

Jesse Colleen Donahue, Saginaw Valley State University
Miles From Nowhere: Lobbying for Women at the State and Local Levels

Scholars of women and politics have found uniformly that legislators in state political institutions create policies that help women. In contrast, similar kinds of studies at the local level have revealed that local political institutions are less likely to produce women-centered policies. The author addresses the question: why does this discrepancy exist?

Somer Brodribb, University of Victoria
Connectivity Issue: Women and Democracy

The author aims to clarify the theoretical debates on difference, ideology and power with an increased understanding of practical questions: what shape will the issues of sex, race, class, nation, identity and history take in the next century? What are the contradictions and connections that must be engaged in a practical and theoretical analysis of democracy and solidarity?

FEMINIST SPIRITUALITY

E303

Jennifer Berlinda Thompson, Roosevelt University
Our Silences Will Not Protect Us: Alternative Constructions of Black Women's Erotic Identities

Womanist thinkers have done much to disrupt and challenge black theological silence on matters of sexuality. There is an urgent need to broaden the theological discussion in order to affirm the importance of human sexuality and promote healthier behaviors, attitudes, and relationships. The author seeks to advance constructive sexual discourse through the exploration of black women's erotic identities in literature and popular culture.

Kathleen Kautzer, Regis College
Reclaiming the Sacred: A New Breed of Messianic Feminism

The author relates a qualitative research study of newly emerging women's spirituality centers in the Boston area. The study analyzes intensive interviews with four founders of women's spirituality centers and observation of several events sponsored by these centers. The study examines obstacles and opportunities for creating feminist spirituality centers that emerge at the intersection of patriarchal and newly emerging religious or spiritually-oriented organizations.

Robin Powers, Gannon University
The Continued Presence of Goddess in Britain

Worldwide interest in Goddess is growing. The author describes how She remains hidden on Iona by the current strong Christian presence there and comparing/contrasting Iona with Glastonbury where She is honored.

THE EMERGENCE OF LOCAL FEMINISMS: CHALLENGES IN TEACHING CROSS-CULTURAL WOMEN'S STUDIES

C308

Questions will be presented for a roundtable discussion in these three ten-minute presentations: 1) Is 'Multiculturalism' Enough?: Questions About a Women's Studies Curriculum 2) Asian-American Women in the Classroom: Defining Their Communities 3) We Are Not All Submissive Marias: Voices and Leadership of Latina Women

Ann Froines, University of Massachusetts, Boston
Madhulika Khandelwal, University of Massachusetts, Boston
Ramona Hernandez, University of Massachusetts, Boston

REFLECTIONS ON RACE AND GENDER IN THE EVOLUTION OF FEMALE-BASED RELIGIONS—PRESCRIPTION FOR THE TWENTY-FIRST CENTURY

L506B

The evolution of voodoo in Louisiana as a female based religion continues today in spiritual practice where women practitioners dominate. The confluence of church and state is no coincidence especially where the maintenance of Christian patriarchy serves the slave based economic and political culture of the New World. Focusing on this small group of women in a narrow geographic area can provide answers.
Foncurrent Sessions 8:00am-9:15am Friday, June 16, 2000 to some recurring questions.

Barbara L. Bernier, Roger Williams University

SUBVERTING AERIAL DISTANCE: MORAL CONNECTION IN THE CLASSROOM—A WORKSHOP
W206

Ever notice how we can be theoretically adept and yet remain ineffectual in responding to oppression? Using Boal’s ‘Theater of the Oppressed’, we will practice solving real life moral dilemmas.
Betty Smith Franklin, Goucher College
Chris Warner, Boston College
Danielle Egan, Roslindale, MA
Jane Attanucci, Lexington, MA
Jaspreet Chowdhary, Decatur, GA
Kim Ludwigen, Merchantville, NJ
Nancy Laurel, Petson Goucher College
Susan Stocker, Baltimore, MD

THE WOMEN’S STUDIES DISSERTATION
L301

As the number of Ph.D. programs in Women’s Studies grows, the dissertation—the capstone of doctoral education—merits new consideration from a feminist perspective. This panel considers the relation of the dissertation to Women’s Studies as a discipline, exploring how its structure, intended audience, and purpose highlight and inform the present state of the field.

Cari Carpenter, University of Michigan
Dissertating in English and Women’s Studies: Reflections From the Field
Carrie Baker, Emory University
The Women’s Studies Dissertation in a Professional Field
Elizabeth Hackett, Agnes Scott College
Ph.D. Programs in Women’s Studies: Are They a Good Idea?
Theresa Braun Schneider, University of Michigan, Discussant

TRANSNATIONAL PERSPECTIVES ON FEMALE CIRCUMCISION: CULTURE, POLITICS, AND FEMINIST PRAXIS
L501A

This session focuses on the globalization of debates about female circumcision in the contemporary moment. Presenters discuss the debates in the African context, U.S. human rights, and U.S. intersex activism. The legacy of colonialism and the growth of global feminism and feminist NGOs will be considered along with the legal and activist transnational subjects of sexual surgeries.

Rogaia Mustafa Abusharaf, University of Connecticut, Storrs
African Women Speak on Female Circumcision
Inderpal Grewal, San Francisco State University
FGM and Gender-Based Refugee Asylum in the U.S.

Caren Kaplan, University of California, Berkeley
U.S. Identity Politics and Transnational FGM Discourse
Minoo Moallem, San Francisco State University, Respondent

FEMALE SPACE: CHALLENGING THE BINARIES IN LITERATURE AND THE VISUAL ARTS
L501B

Feminist responses to binary epistemological systems reveal the inability of such systems to adequately describe female experiences and gender identity. By focusing on three sites in literature and the fine arts, we will explore the larger women’s studies project that emerges from naming the inadequacies of binary models of understanding.

Victoria Triolo, College of St. Rose
The Incomplete Transcendence of Lady Philosophy in Boethius’ “Consolation of Philosophy”
Anne McEnaney, College of St. Rose
Resurrection Reality in H.D.’s “Trilogy”: An Ambi-Gendered Perspective
Lucy Bowditch, College of St. Rose
Revisiting the Mind/Body Problem in the Contemporary Arts Scene
Kathleen McGawan, College of St. Rose
Form vs. Meaning: Equine Images in the Art Work of Rothenberg and Butterfield
Leslie Lewis, College of St. Rose, Discussant

FEMINISMS FOR THE NEXT MILLENNIUM?
L504A

Who defines the boundaries ‘feminism’ as the central concept in women’s studies and the feminist movement? Is it possible to theorize the ‘subversion’ of feminism by self-identified feminists as a positive development for feminist activism and scholarship in the next millennium? This panel analyzes ‘post-Viagra feminism’, ‘pro-privacy feminism’, ‘pro-life feminism’ and ‘Third World feminism’.

Meika Loe, University of California, Santa Barbara
Post-Viagra Feminism: Counteracting ‘Dysfunctional’ Medical Models
Juliet Williams, University of California, Santa Barbara Pro-Privacy Feminism?
Laura Oaks, University of California, Santa Barbara
A Subversive Strategy to Undermine Women’s Reproductive Choice: The ‘Pro-Life Feminist Movement’
Ednie Kaeh Garrison, Washington State University
The Predicament of Feminist Consciousness in the U.S. at the Fin de Siecle

SKY GODDESSES, ANGELS, AND PRINCESSES: DISRUPTING SEXUALIZED IMAGES IN MAINSTREAM MEDIA
S183

These four presentations analyze and disrupt images of women in mainstream media in contemporary society. As women’s power has increased we witness a proliferation of disempowering images of women. Feminist critique of corporate media includes analyses of imposed sexualized images, the use of European-Christian dichotomy to characterize women, and successful resistance against these prescribed images.

Patricia Willis, University at Albany
Sky Goddesses: Corporate America’s Creation of the Sexualized Flight Attendant Image and the Radicalization of This Work Force

Nancy Michela, The Sage Colleges
‘RN’ Nurses Are Not ‘Ready Now’: Complacency and Accommodation in the Nursing Profession or ‘Angels of Mercy Have Lost Their Touch’

Deborah M. LaFond, University at Albany
The Angel Craze and ‘Dim-emes-toe Theologies: Rendering ‘Meaning’ to the Masses

Marcia Hernandez, University at Albany
Pocahontas: Gender and Race Analysis of a Children’s Story

WOMEN’S POETRY 1999/2000, FUTURE’S CONDUIT

WHEELock 14

Panelists present papers and discussion concerning poetry collections written by women which were or will be published during 1999 and 2000, and which anticipate 21st century poetic drifts and directions and possibilities, both stylistic and thematic. How will poetry participate in “carry(ing) forward the transformative momentum” (NWSA) of feminism?

Andrew Osborn, University of Texas, Austin
The Underneath of Jori Graham’s “Swarm” and “Lyric Aboutness”

Ellen Samuels, University of California, Berkley
Did You Think I Had No Family?: The Liberation Poetics of Adrienne Rich, Minnie Bruce Pratt, and Letta Neely

Mehera Dennison, Vanderbilt University
Ann Lauterbach’s Annotations to the 21st Century: “Say Dog”

D’Arcy Randall, University of Texas, Austin
Desire’s Millennium: Jill Alexander Essbaum’s “Heaven”

Sara Lundquist, University of Toledo

PERSONAL PHILOSOPHIES OF FEMINIST EDUCATION: A DISCUSSION BY SECOND GENERATION WOMEN’S STUDIES PROFESSORS

WHEELock 25

Three second-generation Women’s Studies professors articulate their philosophies of feminist education and pedagogy. These personal accounts discuss professional development from early influences to the impact of computer technology, changes in the field, in higher education, and in the population of students. Audience participation in the dialogue is encouraged.

Tania Ramalho, William Paterson University
Bonita Hampton, William Paterson University
Barbara Winkler, West Virginia University
<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Concurrent Sessions</th>
<th>Friday, June 16, 2000</th>
<th>9:30am - 10:45am</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Friday 9:30 am</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>WOMEN OF COLOR CAUCUS: SPECIAL SESSION</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>WHEELOCK 14</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>The Intersectionality of African American Women's Scholarship and Activism for Social Change</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Anna M. Agathangelou, Oberlin College</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>K.D. Killian, University of Houston, Clear Lake</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Christina Brinkley, Simmons College, Moderator</td>
<td>Patricia Washington, San Diego State University, Moderator</td>
<td>Erica Waples, Yale University</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Undergraduate Abafazi-WOCC Essay Award Winner</td>
<td>Graduate Abafazi-WOCC Essay Award Winner</td>
<td>Diana Patricia Stephens, University of Georgia</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Meghan Herner, San Diego State University</td>
<td>The Story of Lesbian Theory: Using Fiction to Resolve a Tension Within Lesbian Studies</td>
<td>Joy Valero Sapinoso, San Diego State University</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Maria C. Gonzalez, University of Houston</td>
<td>Chicana Queer Theory and Its Impact on a Cultural Movement</td>
<td>The author examines Lesbian Theory in the academy, focusing on 'high' theory and more classic lesbian feminist theories addressing a disconnection between these groups of theorists, and proposing that fiction is a tool that can reconnect the groups. The author uses an original story to illustrate the connection.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Lorine M. Getz, University of North Carolina, Charlotte</td>
<td>Despite the centrality of technology in modern society, serious dilemmas have been encountered in terms of theorizing about it, including the feasibility of making any generalizations given its diversity and varying outcomes. The author argues that a race, class, gender perspective offers a satisfying and coherent way of theorizing about technology.</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Eileen Leonard, Vassar College</td>
<td>Theorizing Technology: A Race, Class, Gender Analysis</td>
<td>Josephine Beoku-Betts, Florida Atlantic University</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>SEXUAL SUBVERTS: LINGUISTIC LESBIAN SUBVERSIONS OF SWEET CONSTRUCTS</td>
<td></td>
<td>African Women Scholars in U.S. Academic Institutions: Negotiating Spaces of Creative Resistance and Transformation in the Study of Women</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>C218</td>
<td></td>
<td>The author examines concerns raised by immigrant African women scholars in U.S. universities. It addresses how the distinctive experiences and perspectives of African women scholars inform their relationships with colleagues as well as curricular and pedagogical practices.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Joy Valero Sapinoso, San Diego State University</td>
<td>Mapping the World: The Outsiderhood of Elizabeth Bishop and Adrienne Rich</td>
<td>Lavinia D. Shankar, Bates College</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>The author explores the diversity of lesbian sexuality and its representations, seeking a redefinition of &quot;lesbian sex&quot; that deviates from the model of lesbian sex as gentle love making, sweet kisses, and tender touching by critically analyzing late 1990s lesbian erotica texts.</td>
<td>Jessica Lane, Bates College</td>
<td>Subverting Self/Other Binaries in Maxine Hong Kingston’s “The Woman Warrior” and Trinh T. Minh-Ha’s “A Tale of Love”</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Meghan Herner, San Diego State University</td>
<td>The author examines Adreinne Rich’s poem “North American Time” through the lens of Elizabeth Bishop’s often discussed poem “Brazil, January 1, 1502.” Since both poets return repeatedly to what we can learn from our own positions in the world, it becomes apparent that both poets’ concern with maps and locations allows them to ‘explore marginality, power and powerlessness’.</td>
<td>Lorine M. Getz, University of North Carolina, Charlotte</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Maria C. Gonzalez, University of Houston</td>
<td>Chicano literature was challenged in the early eighties by the works of two queer authors: Cherrie Moraga and Richard Rodriguez. It was their works that exposed the nostalgic search for a lost past, the dream of a unified Chicano community, and the belief in a universally accepted Chicano identity. The author proposes to review the current challenges to the now unstable realm of American literature and how the queer Chicana author completely destroys any possibility of any stability in American and Chicana/o literature.</td>
<td>Flannery O’Connor’s Subversive Use of Disability</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>The author examines Flannery O’Connor, literary theologian and arguably America’s greatest short-story writer, developed subversive insights regarding the relationship between physical disabilities and religious experience and how she used these understandings in unorthodox ways.</td>
<td>THE DISTINCTIVE TRAUMAS OF WOMEN IN WAR</td>
<td>Anna M. Agathangelou, Oberlin College</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Anna M. Agathangelou, Oberlin College</td>
<td>The Intersectionality of African American Women's Scholarship and Activism for Social Change</td>
<td>K.D. Killian, University of Houston, Clear Lake</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>K.D. Killian, University of Houston, Clear Lake</td>
<td>The work of the Abafazi-Women of Color Caucus Essay Award Winners will be showcased in this session as well as activist commitments to the betterment of Black Women and women of color in general and communities of origin. Don’t miss this special session. Refreshments will be served. DOUBLE SESSION (part one)</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>
Nationalism, Violence, and Health: Women's Narratives of War Trauma

Armed conflicts dramatically disrupt and irrevocably change the lives of women and people of color globally. The authors argue against the systematic reduction, by states and feminists, of rape as an act of genocide committed by a barbarous 'other', and posits that sexual violence is a crime against both women as 'individuals' at all times and communities at times of war.

Betty J. Powell, Mars Hill College
Let's Tell War Stories: Oral Histories From Women Survivors of the Vietnam War

The author presents one woman's account of the Vietnam war and its effect on her. Women's stories have conventionally registered themselves in the personal realm and have been shut out of most public discourse. With oral histories, we begin hearing women into speech.

Bang-Soon Yoon, Central Washington University
Japan's War Time Sex Slavery Issue and Women's NGO Activism in South Korea

The author analyzes South Korean women's NGO activism as it focused on Imperial Japan's war time rape case.

WOMEN'S STUDIES ENVIRONMENTS
S222

Lori Kurth, American Assoc. for the Advancement of Science
Jo Ellen Roseman, American Assoc. for the Advancement of Science
Ways Middle School Science Texts Contribute to Enhancing the Learning Environment for Students

The authors analyzed nine middle-school science textbooks to assess their contributions toward enhancing the learning environment. Most textbooks fall short of the criteria examined.

Suzanne Bergeron, University of Michigan, Dearborn
Creating an Interdisciplinary Curriculum: Team-Teaching Introduction to Women's Studies at the University of Michigan Dearborn

The author examines the various ways that a team-taught introductory class in women's studies has contributed to the creation of an interdisciplinary women's studies curriculum at the University of Michigan Dearborn.

Sanjukta T. Ghosh, Castleton State College
One Step Forward, Two Steps Back: The Drama of Directing a Women's Studies Program

The author presents a critical assessment of her own successes and failures in directing a Women's Studies Program at a small rural liberal arts institution. By locating our experience within a larger social milieu, the author presents a test case to examine the viability and institutionalization of traditionally ghettoized disciplines such as women's studies.

AGEISM 101: CONFRONTING AGEISM IN OUR LIVES
C106

This session is a consciousness-raising workshop to open discussion about the presence and impact of ageism in women's lives. This session focuses on different experiences and perceptions of aging. Participants will explore how society has negatively labeled old women and how we can overcome these stereotypes. DOUBLE SESSION (part one)

Alicia Nather, SUNY-Brockport
Deedy Breed, W. Chatham, MA
Sharon Jacobson, SUNY, Brockport

LINKING THE ACADEMY, NWSA, AND THE COMMUNITY: ACTIVISTS AND SCHOLARS BUILDING CROSS CLASS ALLIANCES THROUGH NWSA CONFERENCES OR HOW I FOUND ALL THOSE WOMEN STUDYING WOMEN
E303

Panelists deliver presentations on their experiences crossing the class and academy/community divides as activists and scholars in the context of women's studies and National Women's Studies Association conferences. Panelists discuss how attending a NWSA conference has affected their activism, their scholarship, and their class perceptions.

Claire Cummings, West Roxbury, MA
Building Cross Class Alliances and Raising Class Consciousness: Scholarship Meets Activism at NWSA Conference

Dottie Stevens, Mattapan, MA
A Welfare Rights Organizer Comes to the NWSA Conference and Finds That Human Rights Are Women's Rights

Linda Carney, West Roxbury, MA
The NWSA, Welfare Activism, Women's Studies, and Me: A Welfare Mother Making the Connections

TEACHING FEMINISMS: FEMINIST THEORY AND FEMINIST PEDAGOGY
C308

Reaching across the disciplines of Women's Studies and Education, panelists discuss "raising consciousness" about pedagogy for teaching feminism and feminist theory, and bring attention to the pedagogical question of furthering feminism(s) through reaching the next generation.

Frances Maher, Wheaton College
Practicing What You Preach: Feminist Pedagogies in a Feminist Theory Class

Lynda Stone, University of North Carolina, Chapel Hill
Feminist Theory Through a Backdoor: An Ethic of Caring and Beyond

Barbara Scott Winkler, West Virginia University
Teaching 'Feminist Theory/Feminist Action' in the Capstone Course

Carolyn DiPalma, Tampa, FL
Teaching Feminist Theory: Pressing Challenges and Thematic Trends
Foncurrent Sessions Friday, June 16, 2000 9:30am - 10:45am

How to Sustain and Establish Women's Studies at Community Colleges in Times of Cutbacks
L301

Black feminist critics from Audre Lorde to Cathy Cohen have offered a crucial model for teaching women's studies in the urban community college. Combining theory with our own experiences as feminist scholars, teachers, and administrators in the often-attacked City University of New York, we analyze the advantages of interdisciplinary pedagogy in addressing the enthusiasms as well as roadblocks to women's studies. Issues we will raise include: institutional policies, the amount of 'volunteer work' women and community college faculty live with, homophobia, attempts by politicians to limit access to education, and our classroom pedagogies.

Cheryl Fish, Borough of Manhattan Community College

How or What to Build: The Places for Women's Studies at the Urban Community College
Katie Hogan, LaGuardia Community College

Faggoty White Shoes: Using the Intersections of Oppression Model in the Community College Classroom
Nkechi Agwu, Borough of Manhattan Community College

Intervention Strategies Which Encourage Females to Consider Majoring in Mathematics Related Fields and Which Help to Narrow the Gender Gap in these Fields
Yi-Chun Tricia Lin, Borough of Manhattan Community College

Going Ethnic?: Building/Strengthening Women's Studies With(in) Ethnic Studies Challenging White Privilege

L501A

This session has been constructed in response to last year's productive roundtable on "The Ongoing Struggle Against Racism in Women's Studies" (NWSA, June 1999) which addressed racism and white privilege in Women's Studies programing, curriculum/pedagogy, teaching evaluations, and retention and promotion of women of color faculty.

Cyd Jenefsky, John F. Kennedy University
Ann Russo, DePaul University
Cheryl Wilson, University of Colorado, Boulder
Marlia E. Banning, Northern Arizona University

Defending Reproductive Rights: The "No on One" Campaign in Lewiston, Maine
L501B

In the fall of 1999, the "No on One Coalition" in Maine defeated the referendum ban on the so-called partial birth abortion mounted by right-wing Christian groups in the state. This roundtable discussion brings together community and campus organizers from Lewiston, Maine, to discuss strategies, successes, and suggestions for future campaigns.

Christina Malcolmson, Bates College
Deborah Simpson, Auburn, ME
Robin E. Dodson, Bates College
Rebecca Herzig, Bates College

Transformative Teaching in 'Introduction to Women's Studies' Courses
S183

As a means of facilitating exchange about the challenges involved in teaching introductory Women's Studies courses, we will present a sketch of a course that has grown out of our 3-year collaboration.

Elizabeth Hackett, Agnes Scott College
Melissa Peet, University of Michigan

A "Growth-in-Connection Paradigm" The Women's Studies Classroom Creating Change
C318

The Stone Center of Wellesley College posits a "growth-in-connection" / "self-in-relation" model of women's development which it distinguishes from the traditional "separation-and-individuation" paradigm. Our panel discusses the effects of the growth-in-connection model on their development as feminist scholars and activists.

Hedda Marcus, Nassau Community
Amy Marcus, Dartmouth College
Anna Katsavos, Nassau Community College
Jennifer Verasco
Louise Bencs
Marie Eisele Felix
Naomi Grossman

New Feminist Approaches to the Body: Global Perspectives
W206

In recent years we have seen an explosion of scholarship on the body. Social scientists and humanities scholars have 'discovered' the body—that it has a history and numerous cultural meanings. This roundtable on the body attempts to send discussion about the body in a new direction by looking at it across time and space.

Sarah Lamb, Brandeis University
Julia E. Rodríguez, University of New Hampshire
Linda Blum, University of New Hampshire
Susan Markens, Brandeis University
Nena Stracuzzi, University of New Hampshire
Adrienne Dana-Tabet, Brandeis University
Evelyn Hammonds, Massachusetts Institute of Technology
Afsaneh Najmabadi, Barnard College
Linda Rennie Forcey, SUNY-Binghamton

Women's Studies for Adult Learners: Alternative Currents in Feminist Education
W203

The Union Institute offers an exceptional home for Women's Studies scholars in its flexible, learner-centered course of study that does not require women to abandon their lives for residency at an academic institution. Utilizing a fishbowl format, learners, faculty, and graduates share their experiences of the Union Institute.
Concurrent Sessions

Friday, June 16, 2000

Jaime Grant, The Union Institute
Diana Onley-Campbell, The Union Institute
Diane Sullivan Hirsch, The Union Institute
Rita Arditti, The Union Institute
Sandy Mayo, The Union Institute

WOMEN’S STUDIES IN THE ARCHIVES: RESEARCH STRATEGIES
E207

This workshop focuses on practical approaches to archival research and addresses both finding and analyzing primary source material for a Women’s Studies research project. Researchers, writers, and archivists offer their strategies for navigating collections, refining research questions, incorporating interdisciplinary material.

Jennifer Steadman, Emory University
Elizabeth Engelhardt, Emory University
Frances Smith Foster, Emory University
Laura Micham, Emory University

THE RETIREMENT EXPERIENCE IN PROSPECT AND REALITY
E209

The panelists—a professor in counseling and psychological services, a rare book curator/professor of women’s studies, and an English professor with activist tendencies—pass on to younger members some wise thoughts about planning what one will and will not do in retirement.

Lucy M Freibert, University of Louisville
Barbara A. White, University of New Hampshire, Durham
Barbara W. Gerber, SUNY-Oswego

WOHSE STORY IS IT?: THE CHALLENGE OF ORAL HISTORY
L506B

This is a roundtable discussion on the ethical, theoretical, and practical issues related to the interviewing, recording, interpreting, and producing of women’s oral history. The panelists will speak from their experiences as feminist oral historians in projects that include interviews with Irish immigrant women, working class activists, veterans, and founders of a battered women’s shelter.

Mazie Hough, University of Maine
Carol Toner, University of Maine
Ardis Cameron, University of Southern Maine
Eileen Eagan, University of Southern Maine

VALUES AND GOALS IN FEMINIST MENTORING: ACADEMICS AND ACTIVISTS ROUNDTABLE
W201

Feminist mentors in both campus and community settings will discuss the values and goals of feminist mentoring that inform their work. We will share experiences illustrating the practice of feminist mentoring with traditional college students, adult learners, early career young women, and women and girls with disabilities.

Margaret T. Evans, SUNY-Empire State College
Harilyn Rousso, Disabilities Unlimited Consulting Services
Linda Nathan Marks, New York, NY
Mayra Bloom, SUNY-Empire State College
Mary Duffy, Chellis Women’s Resource Center

DECONSTRUCTING UNCritical HABITS OF MIND IN PEDAGOGICAL THEORY & PRACTICE
W205

This panel examines classroom practices seeking accountability, reflexivity, and transformation (of self, knowledge, and society); delineate how critical teaching/learning can entail deep discomfort; and explore how feminist pedagogy challenges knowledge practices/politics but can also unwittingly replicate uncritical epistemological habits that uphold the status quo. Thus, we explore the transgression and ‘caughtness’ within critical, feminist, anti-racist, and anti-ableist pedagogical theory/practice.

Sally Malone-Hawkins, Texas Woman’s University
Teaching to Transform: Questions of Epistemological Ruptures
Beth A. Ferri, Texas Woman’s University
Teaching In<ter>sections: Critiquing a Parade of Identities Approaches in Feminist Pedagogies
Vivian M. May, Texas Woman’s University
Teaching Omnipresent Absences: Epistemology, Violence, and Feminist Pedagogy

PAY WOMEN NOT THE MILITARY: THE STRUGGLE OF PROSTITUTE WOMEN AGAINST VIOLENCE WHEEL 25

What must be done for the safety and protection of sex workers and all other women and children? This workshop will put forward specific measures which would greatly improve safety including drawing the connections between the worldwide campaign for women’s rights and global struggles for human rights and peace.

Pat Albright, Crossroads Women’s Center
ALMOST TALKING: CHILDREN IN CHANGING FAMILIES

Miriam Johnson, University of South Carolina
Rita Rhodes, University of South Carolina

The author also examines the ways in which children's views of other populations-at-risk, for whom they identified both strengths and social injustice, were considered. This was in contrast to their perceptions of single parents. Students viewed single parents as suffering from much adversity, but did not acknowledge the oppression experienced by this group. This was in contrast to their views of other populations-at-risk, for whom they identified both strengths and social injustice.

M. Rivka Polatnick, University of California, Berkeley

Adding Children's Voices to the Debate on Family Values

The author's research explores how children (ages 10-12) think they have been affected by the work schedules and work/family conflicts of their employed mothers and fathers. The author also examines the ways in which children's views are studied, interpreted, and used to support different social and political agendas.

Nijole Benokraitis, University of Baltimore

Warning: Believing the Mother-Child Bonding Nonsense Can Be Dangerous to Your Health

Since World War II thousands of therapists, politicians, journalists, and scholars (including many feminists) have embraced the notion that an inherent glue bonds mother and child at birth and forever after. Such fiction encourages sexism, undermines fathers', siblings', and other caregivers' roles, promotes economic expediency, ad castigates non-traditional family forms and structures.

FRIDAY, JUNE 16, 2000

CONCURRENT SESSIONS

Friday 11:00 am

WOMEN OF COLOR CAUCUS: SPECIAL SESSION

WHEELOCK 14

The Intersectionality of African American Women's Scholarship and Activism for Social Change

The work of the Abafazi-Women of Color Caucus Essay Award Winners will be showcased in this session as well as activist commitments to the betterment of Black Women and women of color in general and communities of origin. Don't miss this special session. Refreshments will be served.

DOUBLE SESSION (part two)

Christina Brinkley, Simmons College, Moderator
Patricia Washington, San Diego State University, Moderator
Erica Waples, Yale University

Undergraduate Abafazi-WOCC Essay Award Winner
Dionne Patricia Stephens, University of Georgia
Graduate Abafazi-WOCC Essay Award Winner

Layli Phillips, Georgia State University
Sonja Shah, Author/Activist, Boston, MA
Assata Zerai, Syracuse University

ALMOST TALKING: CHILDREN IN CHANGING FAMILIES

Miriam Johnson, University of South Carolina
Rita Rhodes, University of South Carolina

A Study of Students' Perception of Single Parent Families and Social Injustice: A Woman's Issue

The authors report on a study of student perceptions of single parents. Students viewed single parents as suffering from much adversity, but did not acknowledge the oppression experienced by this group. This was in contrast to their views of other populations-at-risk, for whom they identified both strengths and social injustice.

M. Rivka Polatnick, University of California, Berkeley

Adding Children's Voices to the Debate on Family Values

The author's research explores how children (ages 10-12) think they have been affected by the work schedules and work/family conflicts of their employed mothers and fathers. The author also examines the ways in which children's views are studied, interpreted, and used to support different social and political agendas.

Nijole Benokraitis, University of Baltimore

Warning: Believing the Mother-Child Bonding Nonsense Can Be Dangerous to Your Health

Since World War II thousands of therapists, politicians, journalists, and scholars (including many feminists) have embraced the notion that an inherent glue bonds mother and child at birth and forever after. Such fiction encourages sexism, undermines fathers', siblings', and other caregivers' roles, promotes economic expediency, ad castigates non-traditional family forms and structures.
Concurrent Sessions
Friday, June 16, 2000
11:00am - 12:15pm

 describes her experience of linking the academy and the community in this international setting.

AGEISM 101: CONFRONTING AGEISM IN OUR LIVES
C106

This session is a consciousness-raising workshop to open discussion about the presence and impact of ageism in women’s lives. This session focuses on different experiences and perceptions of aging. Participants will explore how society has negatively labeled old women and how we can overcome these stereotypes. DOUBLE SESSION (part two)

Alicia Nather, SUNY-Brockport
Deedy Breed, W. Chatham, MA
Sharon Jacobson, SUNY, Brockport

THE POLITICS OF WELFARE REFORM
E207

Panelists present feminist analyses of: welfare rights as human rights; the race, class, and gender discourse of family by the religious right in the welfare debate; the myth of micro enterprise as an economic and policy solution for women’s poverty, and how gender constructs public opinion on welfare policy.

Diana Zoelle, Bloomsburg University
Jyl Josephson, Illinois State University
Women’s Welfare as a Human Rights Issue: The Kensington Welfare Rights Union’s Human Rights Campaign

Nancy Nienhuis, Harvard Divinity School
“Family Values” and the Language of the Religious Right in the Welfare Debate

Dorothy C. Miller, Wichita State University
Lemonade Stands on Main Street: Poor Women and Micro enterprise in the United States

Cynthia Deitch, George Washington University
Gender Differences, Gender Ideologies, and Public Opinion on Welfare

SURVIVOR NARRATIVES: SUBVERSIVE DISCOURSES ON CULTURAL EXILE
C308

Sponsored by the Feminism & Activism Interest Group. This panel explores testimonial and consciousness-raising novels from the second wave feminist movement, contemporary women’s prison narratives, and incest survivor narratives to illuminate the conceptual invisibility of women writing from cultural exile. Presenters provide critical analysis of the ways in which these narratives are necessary components in the struggle to counter silences and invisibility, and most importantly, how they create an imperative for social action.

Donna Bickford, University of Rhode Island
The Power of Witnessing: The Politics of Memory

Jennifer Keller, University of Massachusetts, Amherst
Experience. Knowledge and Authority in Incest Survivor Narratives

Donna Rowe, University of Maryland, College Park
Out of Sight, Out of Mind: The Politics of Contemporary Women’s Prison Narratives

MOTHERS OR MADWOMEN: MENTORING TEACHING ASSISTANTS IN THE INTRODUCTORY WOMEN’S STUDIES COURSE
E303

This panel discusses the art and craft of mentoring teaching assistants in the introductory Women’s Studies course. Power relationships between professors and teaching assistants will be addressed, including emotional and erotic tensions. Additionally, an experimental form of mentoring between graduate teaching assistants and undergraduate teaching assistants will be discussed.

Jyl Lynn Felman, Brandeis
Antje Ellermann, Brandeis
Carmen Nge, Brandeis

STUDENTS TEACHING STUDENTS: MOVING THE INTRODUCTORY WOMEN’S STUDIES COURSE TEACHING COLLECTIVE INTO THE 21ST CENTURY
L501A

This session explores the evolution and practice of the student teaching collective for the introductory Women’s Studies course, WS 213: “Women in Contemporary Society” at the University at Buffalo. Key to this discussion are issues of feminist pedagogy, empowering education, and the role of students as teachers.

Jessica Nathanson, SUNY-Buffalo
Jennifer Caruso, SUNY, Buffalo
Joanna Dickinson, Buffalo, NY
Ruth Meyerowitz, Buffalo, NY

TORTURE, TRANSFORMATION, AND RESISTANCE: WOMEN AND MEDICAL DISCOURSE
L501B

This panel examines women’s interventions into medical language, therapeutics, and institutions. Ranging from the 19th century to the present moment, and covering a broad range of disciplinary perspectives. This panel argues for women’s self-determination in the face of a medical establishment that has historically denied women agency.

Sarah Tillery, San Diego State University, Moderator
Jennifer S. Tuttle, San Diego State University
Professional Invalidism: Gender, Writing, and Resistance in Elizabeth Stuart Phelps’ Letters to S. Weir Mitchell, M.D.

Susan E. Cayleff, San Diego State University
The ‘Recovered’ Sect: Women in American Neuropathic Healing and Professionalism

Stacy L. Montemayor, San Diego State University
Torture, Mutilation and Medicine: The ‘Care’ Women Receive

Ceylan Cemali, San Diego State University
Cyclical Journeys Between LA and S5: A Reading of Trouble Ahead: Feminism, Science, and Radical Imagination

This panel explores the troubled relationship between women's studies and science through an exploration of feminist approaches to science, science fiction, cultural appropriations of scientific imagination, cyber-tech imagination, and textual imagination in biology. The panel will attempt to bridge the gaps between humanities and the sciences through an interdisciplinary feminist studies framework.

Linda Wayne, University of Minnesota
Science 'Fictions' and Women's Studies: From Radical Feminism to Radical Interdisciplinarity

Sidney Eve Matrix, University of Minnesota
Reconfiguring Digital Femininity: Technoscience, Cyberculture and the Cyborgian Imaginary

Jacquelyn Zita, University of Minnesota
Imagining the Female Immune System as Text

From Statue to Ecstasy: Women's Studies and the Revitalization of the Classics

This panel proposes to address the intersection between Women's Studies and Classical Studies. On the one hand, Women's Studies has required the expansion of the literary canon to include women authors who have been previously under-examined. On the other hand, the development of Women's Studies in general with its investigation of women's lives, the domestic sphere, gender norming and sexual politics, has revitalized the entire discipline of Classics.

Vicki Kirsch, Quinsigamond Community College
(Re)Creating Mythologies As a Tool For Transformation: Natalie Barney and Renee Vivien With Sappho and the Greek Goddess

Paula Garrett, Millsaps College
Godesses Instead of Gods: Grace Greenwood's Revision of Classical Mythologies

Viki Soady, Valdosta State University
A New Life: What Classics Owes to Women's Studies

Leanora Olivia, Millsaps College, Discussant

Beyond the Activist/Academic Divide: Critical Thinking About Non-Profits and NGOs

This panel is an attempt to intervene in the activism/academic and theory/practice binaries that are endlessly reiterated in Women's Studies. With the aim of generating a critical discourse on non-profits and NGOs in Women's Studies, this panel brings together scholarship on both U.S. non-profits and on NGOs in the "third world".

Frances Kunreuther, Hauser Center for Non-Profit Organizations, Harvard
From Movement to Management: Activists in the Non-Profit Sector

Victoria Sanford, Radcliffe
Maya Women, NGOs and International Funders: Who Can Best Decide What Local Communities Need?

Miranda Joseph, University of Arizona
Not For Profit? Constituting Communities for Capitalism

Serena Cosgrove, Northeastern University
Understanding Gender Relations in the Marketplace: Women, NGOs and Local Politics in Urban El Salvador

Inderpal Grewal, San Francisco State University, Discussant

Gender and Nationalism: Eritrean Women's Experience in Political Conflict

This workshop will examine how Eritrean women fared in a society where they are fully integrated and mobilized for the current border war conflict as they had been during the national liberation struggle. The presenter examines how gender and nationalism are both relational terms whose identity comes from its presence in a system of differences.

Segi Stefanos, University of Massachusetts, Boston

Performing Women: Staging Identity and Social Change

In looking at the work of Suzanne Lacy, Robbie McCauley, and the women involved in the off-off Broadway group, Caffe Cino, this panel seeks to uncover the ways in which a feminist politics informs the contributions of these artists to theatre and performance.

Wendell Stone, Louisiana State University
Forgotten Voices: Women, Caffe Cino, and the Emergence of Off-Off Broadway

Fakhrni Haghani, Georgia State University
Suzanne Lacy's "Whisper, The Waves, The Wind" and "The Crystal Quilt"

Carolyn Lea, Bowling Green State University
Robbie McCauley and "Sally's Rape": Testimony, Witnessing, and Dialogue

State of Emergency for Feminist Media in the 21st Century: Sojourner

Sojourner: The Women's Forum, one of the only remaining feminist monthly newspapers in the United States, will celebrate its 25th anniversary in September, 2000. Join with Sojourner staff/activists as we examine the centrality of feminist media to the women's movement; explore the national and international landscape that is increasingly hostile to the survival of independent female voices; and brainstorm and strategize with you about how we can come together to ensure the survival and vitality of progressive feminist media in the United States.

Karen Bullock-Jordan, Sojourner: The Women's Forum
Vicki Gabriner, Sojourner Feminist Institute
Amy Pett, Sojourner: The Women's Forum

66
Concurrent Sessions
Friday, June 16, 2000
11:00am - 12:15pm

WOMEN ORGANIZE! ACTION VIDEO & TEACHING
W206

The Women and Organizing Documentation Project was launched in 1997. In this workshop, participants will use the video and a draft discussion guide to conduct a simulated class. Join us in this workshop for an exciting visual, energizing verbal, and provocative intellectual experience. Come prepared to contribute your ideas and suggestions.

Rhoda Linton, The Union Institute
Jaime Grant, The Union Institute
Mary Lassen, Women’s Educational and Industrial Union
Meizhu Lui, Health Care For All
Angela Sanbrano, Central American Resources Center
Rinku Sen, Center For Third World Organizing
Rahdi Taylor, Women Make Movies

NEW DIRECTIONS IN FEMINIST THEORY: THE CASE OF THE FEMINIST CRITIQUE OF PORNOGRAPHY
S222

The aim of this panel is to discuss the ways in which recent feminist theory elaborates on earlier feminist critiques of pornography as a mechanism of the sexual subordination of women while confronting key political and theoretical issues that have congealed around the pornography debates over the last two decades.

Gail Dines, Wheelock College
The Political Economy of Pornography

Kathy Miriam, University of California, Santa Cruz
Representations of the Postfeminist Intellectual, Pornography and the Moral Imagination of Feminist Theory

Bonnie Mann
Pornography and High Art: Woman Hating and the Sublime

Jane Caputi, Florida Atlantic University, Discussant

WOMEN’S STUDIES STUDENTS LEARN FROM GLOBAL GRASSROOTS ORGANIZING
W203

This panel looks at the innovative forms grassroots activism takes in India and China and describes how students learn to deal with local issues using the theories and strategies of global action. The speakers will include the use of technology such as documentary films, e-mail, and the Internet.

Pramila Venkateswaran, Nassau Community College
Learning From Women’s Grassroots Activism in India

Meta Plotnik, Nassau Community College
Bottom-up or Top-down: Grassroots Organizing in China

Neela Bhattacharya Saxena, Nassau Community College
Fighting for Dignity and Struggling for Survival: Grassroots Women’s Movements in India

Julia Giordano, Nassau Community College
Gay and Lesbian Organizing in Global Context

FEMALE POLITICAL PRISONERS
L506B

Sponsored by the Feminism & Activism Interest Group.

In the struggle for human rights and women’s rights - women throughout history have been imprisoned for their subversive thoughts, speech, and actions. The presenters will show a film on present female political prisoners and discuss past and present women imprisoned for political reasons and activism’s role in the process.

Catherine Tabb Powell, University of Maryland, University College

WRITERS SERIES - WHEELOCK 25

Convener: Mary Duffy, University of Vermont, Middlebury

Suzanne Wise
The Kingdom of the Subjunctive

WHO IS THE ‘WOMAN’ IN THE BATTERED WOMAN SYNDROME?: AN IDENTITY-BASED CHALLENGE TO FEMINIST LEGAL ADVOCACY
C302

This session explores the assumptions about gender, identity, and agency underlying the battered woman syndrome self-defense. The categorical nature of the law has encouraged feminists to ignore the complexity of women’s experiences of battering, thereby negating women’s agency and ignoring the diversity of women’s experience of battering. To what degree should feminist advocates within the legal system rely on arguments with anti-feminist implications to free their clients?

Carrie Baker, Emory University

WHAT’S SUBVERSIVE ABOUT FEMINIST PEDAGOGY: THE USE OF FEMINIST PRACTICES IN UNEXPECTED PLACES
WHEELOCK 24A

Presenters in this session examine how pedagogical practices often labeled feminist have been employed, and in some cases co-opted, in three unusual places - accounting, statistical/quantitative research methods, and foreign language classes. Professors who teach in each of these areas will discuss how feminist pedagogy has been adopted in their field and classroom. The presenters will show how the seemingly most radical innovations can be used for functional ends.

Beth Kern, Indiana University, South Bend
Feminist Pedagogy in Wing-Tipped Shoes: A Decade of Worldwide Advocacy for Change in Accounting Pedagogy

Gail McGuire, Indiana University, South Bend
A Feminist Approach to the Quantitative Blues: Feminist Pedagogy in Statistics and Quantitative Methods Classes

Lesley Walker, Indiana University, South Bend
Radical Pedagogy Domesticated in the Foreign Language Classroom

WHAT ARE FEMINISTS SAYING ABOUT WOMEN AS PERPETRATORS OF VIOLENCE

WHEELOCK 24B

The issue of women perpetrating violence is too important to leave to the backlash and researchers who count ‘hits’ but forget context. This workshop will explore ways to start thinking/discussing context related to women as abusers in heterosexual dating and domestic violence, child abuse, and lesbian violence.

Nancy Worcester, University of Wisconsin, Madison
Concurrent Sessions
Friday, June 16, 2000
12:30pm - 1:45pm

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Time</th>
<th>Session Title</th>
<th>Presenter(s)</th>
<th>Institution(s)</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Friday 12:30 pm</td>
<td>SO WHY ARE JEWISH WOMEN ACTIVISTS??</td>
<td>Dina Pinsky</td>
<td>CUNY-The Graduate Center</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td>Personal Identities and Political Lives: Jews in the Women's Movement</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td>The author examines the interrelationships between Jewish identity, feminist identity, and gender in autobiographical writing by Jewish feminists. This literature reveals an attempt, among feminist Jews, to find a place within feminist identity politics.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>Tobin Belzer</td>
<td>Becoming Jewish Feminists: A Sociological Examination of Ten Case Studies</td>
<td>Brandeis University</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td>For Jewish feminists, whose liberation is located within the context of their patriarchal religion, theirs' is a complex balance of contradictions. The author aims to illuminate the various methods used by Jewish feminists to simultaneously act outside of their social world, while actively engaging in it.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td>Terri Susan Fine</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>Jewish Women and Political Activism: Psychosocial and Religioethic Approaches</td>
<td>University of Central Florida</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td>The author focuses on numerous factors contributing to Jewish women and political activism in the U.S. Special attention to the role that political psychology, political sociology, ethnic identity, and religious upbringing play in motivating Jewish women to take an active role in the political process is explored by the author.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>FEMINIST HISTORY</td>
<td>C308</td>
<td>Bonnie Nelson, Kansas State University</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>Sister Against Sister: Or, Millennium Madness</td>
<td></td>
<td>The conservative backlash against budding feminism at the end of the 18th century was as divisive as the one today. By looking back at the earlier controversy, and the ways it pit 'sister against sister', we may be better able to understand—and stem the tide of—our own backlash.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td>Catherine Raissiguier, University of Cincinnati</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>Gender, Race and Nationality: French Feminism in the 1930s</td>
<td></td>
<td>The author analyzes how, in the 1930s, French feminists participated in the production of racialized discourses about foreign women at the same time as they were struggling for the extension of women's rights internationally.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td>Yasmin Adeeb, Warwick University</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>A Guide to the Resources on Arab Women</td>
<td></td>
<td>Description of the bibliographic structure of the literature on Arab women. Looking at major bibliographies and collections, important journals and their sources, databases - bibliographic or otherwise.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>WOMEN OF COLOR</td>
<td>E303</td>
<td>Allison Wolf, Michigan State University</td>
<td>It's Not a Question of Color: Are White-Skinned Jewish Women White or Women of Color?</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td>Though this question has been debated in both academic and non-academic audiences alike, the author argues that the question itself is problematic.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td>Glynis Carr, Bucknell University</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>Some People are Treated Like Weeds: Transformations of Racist Discourse in African-American Women’s Writings</td>
<td></td>
<td>This “green” reading of botanical imagery in selected texts by African American women writers (Harper, Grimke, Hurston, Brooks, and Morrison) traces the reclamation and revision of botanical imagery, originally appearing in nineteenth-century white supremacist discourses, by nineteenth- and twentieth-century black women writers.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td>Mamie E. Locke, Hampton University</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>Deconstruct to Reconstruct: An Examination of African American Women in the Post Civil Rights Era</td>
<td></td>
<td>Within the framework of black feminist theory, this paper explores the condition of African American women in the post civil rights era. The basic premise is that if African American women are moved from marginalized status, then American society must be transformed, eliminating the patriarchal and racist undercurrents that stand as a wall to prevent ‘others’ from becoming an integral part of the system.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>PERSONAL NARRATIVE AS HEALING TOOL</td>
<td>E207</td>
<td>Danielle Bouchard, University of Minnesota</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>Narratives of Multiple Personality: Feminism and the Issue of Recovered Memory</td>
<td></td>
<td>Recovered memory debate rhetoric is characterized by the argument for or against the historical truth of such memories. Thus women who experience what they describe as recovered memory of sexual trauma are often characterized simply as passive victims of immoral therapists or as unproblematically empowered by the therapeutic experience. Multiple personality narratives provide insight into the ideological and structural relationship of gender to other categories of identity in contemporary U.S. society.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td>Marian MacCurdy, Ithaca College</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>Trauma Narratives—Stories of Writing and Healing</td>
<td></td>
<td>Since 1980 great strides have been made in the understanding of reactions to trauma. This presentation offers an outline of the neurobiology of trauma and how it affects learning and a brief history of the psychiatric profession's response to trauma and how that response has influenced higher education. The author then outlines a pedagogy for writers and for writing teachers which is based on a theoretical model to help survivors who choose to create written narratives of their traumatic experiences.</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

Rita Rhodes, University of South Carolina
Resilient Victims: Stories of Recovery by Formerly Addicted Women

This qualitative study explores the process of recovery for women who struggle with addiction to alcohol and/or other drugs. The study results indicate that women come to recovery in a variety of ways that are shaped by their experiences of race, class, and sexual orientation.

AN ORDINARY MIND ON AN ORDINARY DAY: THE PRIVATE LIVES OF PUBLIC WOMEN

Examining the private journals of four women, panelists consider how the methods and techniques of private writing differed from those of public writing, how our knowledge of a writer's private writings might influence our reading of her published work, what might be theorized about journal writing, and what might be theorized about women writers generally.

Women in Transition: Exploring Ways to Promote Success With Community College Students

Panelists describe a new program, designed to provide academic, advising and counseling support services for students entering a community college. Panelists will also relate the strategies used to heighten awareness campus-wide on serving women in transition, including providing information about welfare, poverty, and the impact of social class. Panelists describe the women in transition program at a community college, including academic coursework, advising and counseling support services and how they heighten campus-wide awareness of women in transition, especially regarding welfare, poverty and the impact of social class. Other topics include program development, community outreach strategies, and career resources as well as funding strategies.

Negotiating Authority, Authenticity, and Sexuality in the Classroom: Issues in Graduate Student Teaching

Graduate student teaching entails a variety of unique and complex issues. Not only are we faced with similar pedagogical concerns as tenured faculty, but age and the dual role of student and teacher pose additional complications. As relatively inexperienced instructors, these issues can be challenging and emotionally intense. As such, we would like to explore the issues surrounding authority, authenticity and sexuality in the classroom from the graduate student perspective. This roundtable explores the many realities and dilemmas associated with teaching as a graduate student and will present an array of perspectives from within the group.
QUEERING THE CLASSROOM: TEACHING THE CRITICAL REASSESSMENT OF IDENTITY

S222

This panel focuses on the roles sexual and gender identity play in the classroom, particularly with regard to anti-bias teaching and subverting mainstream understanding of 'normality'. The authors seek to challenge students' deeply held notions about 'normality', encouraging them to see themselves as participants in a relational system of power and privilege.

Jessica Nathanson, SUNY-Buffalo
By the Way, I'm Bisexual: Coming Out in the Classroom (Without Becoming the Course Material)

Cris Mayo, University of North Carolina, Greensboro
Teaching Against the Subjects of Homophobia

WOMEN'S STUDIES ADMINISTRATION IN THE 21ST CENTURY

W201

This panel of directors representing a variety of institutions—same-sex, historically black, and urban public—will address issues of identity, philosophy, and administration faced by many women's studies programs. Topics include creating a safe space for radical students at Historically Black Colleges, gender studies, male faculty, and department vs. program status.

Mary Carruth, Xavier University of Louisiana & University of Georgia, Discussant

Pamela Bromberg, Simmons College
From Program to Department: Strategies, Opportunities, Pitfalls

Joyce Zonana, University of New Orleans
Keeping the Women in Women's Studies: The Challenge of "Gender"

Sherie M. Randolph, Spelman College
Women's Studies at Spelman College: Creating a Space for Diversity

Shirley Yee, University of Washington
Building the Ph.D. Program in Women's Studies: Problems, Challenges, Opportunities

CONSTRUCTING KNOWLEDGES: FROM STATISTICS TO CONCEPTS TO PROPOSITIONS

S183

This panel subverts traditional constructs of knowledge as they appear in statistics, epistemological paradigms, and philosophical concepts by exposing elitist relations to difference.

Greta Bauer, University of Minnesota
(Mis)translations of Difference: From Statistical Theory to Popular Knowledge

Dawn Rae Davis, University of Minnesota
Dominating Epistemology: Knowing Bodies and Class Biases Persisting in the Prepositional Paradigm

Sara Hottinger, University of Minnesota
Becoming Feminist: Audre Lorde as Philosopher

IS WOMEN'S STUDIES STILL FEMINIST?

W206

This panel explores whether or not the quest for legitimacy in the academy has taken feminism out of women's studies. This roundtable discussion will suggest how to apply feminist ideals to the practice of women's studies.

Tricia Hendren, University of Minnesota
Lindsay Brice, University of Minnesota
Rebecca Dreke, University of Minnesota

RECLAIMING OUR INNER AUTHORITY: INTEGRAL SUBVERSION OF MYSTICISM FOR PRACTICAL APPLICATION

S251B

This panel, comprised of southern women, members of 'The Brigade of Light,' address and demonstrate how they individually and as group members are subverting key tenets of traditional mysticism to transmute, both physically and spiritually, aspects of American society. The Brigade of Light, founded thirty years ago in Charlotte, NC, by Marian Young Starnes, combines communal support for individual diversity in all respects, recognition of racial freedom, and transformation of social challenges into opportunities through the subversive use of metaphysical principles.

Lorine M. Getz, University of North Carolina, Charlotte
Framing the Discussion: Empowering Women Through the Subversion of the Metaphysical

Laura A. Kaye, Charlotte, NC
Seeing Us as We Are Through Stories and Photos

Sallie Nicholson, University of North Carolina, Charlotte
The Re-Emergence of Women as Healers

Beth Hallman, Dayton, OH, Discussant

WOMEN'S STUDIES GOING TO JAIL: THE POLITICS OF POWER AND RESISTANCE

E309

Panelists offer short presentations on the work they do in the Women's Division of the County Jail in Chicago in order to initiate a conversation about working with and for incarcerated women, focusing on questions about the ethics of conducting (or not) research and how to more effectively bridge Women's Studies programs to activist communities.

Laurie Fuller, Northeastern Illinois University
Getting Locked In: Linking Activism and the Academy

Erica Meiners, Northeastern Illinois University
On Knowing When Not to do Research

Ann Russo, Northeastern Illinois University
Poetry, Politics and Expanding Communities

FILM SESSION

POLITICS AND SOCIETY

S251A

Vivian Price, UC Irvine
Hammering It Out: Women in the Construction Zone
Concurrent Sessions

Friday, June 16, 2000

12:30pm - 1:45pm

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Panel</th>
<th>Title</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>PARADIGMS OF FEMINISM AND FEMINIST ORGANIZING:</td>
<td>REDEFINING OUR PAST AND OUR PRESENT</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>WHEELOCK 24B</td>
<td>WHEELOCK 24A</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Hampering It Out</td>
<td>In Denial: In the Classroom, In the Home, in the Workplace</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Sponsored by the Feminism &amp; Activism Interest Group.</td>
<td>Sponsored by the Feminism &amp; Activism Interest Group.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>FUNDRAISING FOR WOMEN’S STUDIES IN THE 21ST CENTURY</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>SPEAKERS</td>
<td>SPEAKERS</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Sadie Fischesser, Syracuse University</td>
<td>Erika Pilver, Westfield State College</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Process With Me: Articulating Feminist Activism and Histories</td>
<td>Retrofitting Feminism For the New Millennium</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Cheryl Najarian, Syracuse University</td>
<td>Shannon Simmons, Womanshelter Campaneras, Holyoke, MA</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Bodies as a Feminist Issue: The Eating Disorder Support Group as a Feminist Organization?</td>
<td>Four Million Screams Behind the Wall: Theory and the Practice of Domestic Violence</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Julie Childers, Boston College</td>
<td>Marsha Marotta, Westfield State College</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Doing Feminism: Midwifery as Feminist Praxis</td>
<td>Workplace Negotiating Home and Work: Rephrasing the Questions</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

Concurrent Sessions

Friday, June 16, 2000

12:30pm - 1:45pm

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Panel</th>
<th>Title</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>PARADIGMS OF FEMINISM AND FEMINIST ORGANIZING:</td>
<td>REDEFINING OUR PAST AND OUR PRESENT</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>WHEELOCK 24B</td>
<td>WHEELOCK 24A</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Hampering It Out</td>
<td>In Denial: In the Classroom, In the Home, in the Workplace</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Sponsored by the Feminism &amp; Activism Interest Group.</td>
<td>Sponsored by the Feminism &amp; Activism Interest Group.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>FUNDRAISING FOR WOMEN’S STUDIES IN THE 21ST CENTURY</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>SPEAKERS</td>
<td>SPEAKERS</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Sadie Fischesser, Syracuse University</td>
<td>Erika Pilver, Westfield State College</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Process With Me: Articulating Feminist Activism and Histories</td>
<td>Retrofitting Feminism For the New Millennium</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Cheryl Najarian, Syracuse University</td>
<td>Shannon Simmons, Womanshelter Campaneras, Holyoke, MA</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Bodies as a Feminist Issue: The Eating Disorder Support Group as a Feminist Organization?</td>
<td>Four Million Screams Behind the Wall: Theory and the Practice of Domestic Violence</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Julie Childers, Boston College</td>
<td>Marsha Marotta, Westfield State College</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Doing Feminism: Midwifery as Feminist Praxis</td>
<td>Workplace Negotiating Home and Work: Rephrasing the Questions</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

Parallel Sessions

Friday, June 16, 2000

12:30pm - 1:45pm

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Panel</th>
<th>Title</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>FUNDRAISING FOR WOMEN’S STUDIES IN THE 21ST CENTURY</td>
<td>SPEAKERS</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>WHEELOCK 14</td>
<td>SPEAKERS</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Sponsored by the Feminism &amp; Activism Interest Group.</td>
<td>Sponsored by the Feminism &amp; Activism Interest Group.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Drawing on the experience of six fundraisers from six women's studies programs, this workshop will guide participants through the obstacles that any program in any part of the country is likely to face and will suggest strategies for establishing a successful fundraising program. Opportunities to share ideas and air concerns will be provided throughout the session. DOUBLE SESSION (part one)</td>
<td>Drawing on the experience of six fundraisers from six women's studies programs, this workshop will guide participants through the obstacles that any program in any part of the country is likely to face and will suggest strategies for establishing a successful fundraising program. Opportunities to share ideas and air concerns will be provided throughout the session. DOUBLE SESSION (part one)</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Jane Olmsted, Western Kentucky University</td>
<td>SPEAKERS</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Dorothy C. Miller, Wichita State University</td>
<td>SPEAKERS</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Lillian J. Waugh, West Virginia University</td>
<td>SPEAKERS</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Liz Kennedy, University of Arizona</td>
<td>SPEAKERS</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Mary Ellen Reilly, University of Rhode Island</td>
<td>SPEAKERS</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Rose Norman, University of Alabama, Huntsville</td>
<td>SPEAKERS</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>
EVERYWOMAN: FEMINIST SPIRITUAL AND MORAL TRANSCENDENCE

Beth Bartlett, University of Minnesota, Duluth

Immanence and Transcendence: Albert Camus, Simone DeBeauvoir, and Contemporary Feminist Spirituality

The author examines the themes of immanence and transcendence in the thought of Albert Camus, Simone DeBeauvoir, and contemporary feminist spirituality. The author finds that feminist spirituality has much more in common with the work of Camus than that of his feminist contemporary, DeBeauvoir, and explores the implications of that connection.

Louise Goueffic, Toronto, Canada

Life in the Hethe-gear, and the Implications for Morality

This paper addresses the logic of life-in-the-Hethe-gear in view of its implications for morality as it concerns the symbol-making/thinking process.

Pamela M. Hall, Emory University

Towards a Feminist Moral Psychology

The author argues for the necessity of a specifically feminist account of the emotions and discusses what feminist moral psychology can bring to two issues crucial for ethics: the sociality of the emotions, and the relationship between 'reason' and feeling.

ROCKING THE CRADLE: READING TROUBLED MOTHERHOOD

Mae Henderson, California State University, Long Beach

Non-Mothering Mothers: An Examination of Women's Experience Within a Social Construct

"Non-Mothering" Mothers focuses on the phenomenon of women who have children but are not intimately involved in raising and/or nurturing them. This is an exploration of women's attitudes about motherhood, their decisions about mothering and the impact of those decisions on women's lives including their self-concept.

Vondora Wilson-Corzen, SUNY-Stony Brook

The Social Construction of Mothers in the New York Family Court System: A Comparative Analysis

A review of family court cases show that there are different constructions of what a good mother is depending on the woman's race/ethnicity and crime charged. The author demonstrates how culturally derived standards of parenting are biased against female parents of color.

WHAT'S COLOR GOT TO DO WITH IT?: PEDAGOGIES OF RACE

Hilary Lochte, D'Youville College

Nappy Hair: Multicultural (Dis)Connections in a Teacher Education Classroom

The author examines a classroom discourse on the 'Nappy Hair' controversy, within a graduate course on Teaching Children's Literature. The author examines the responses of predominantly white students when faced with this issue and its implications on the recognition of diversity within the classroom.

Janice Wolff, Saginaw Valley State University

Dangerous Minds: Teaching a Pedagogy of Whiteness

While the film "Dangerous Minds" may seem too popular or too 'Hollywood' to warrant serious attention, that very popularity calls for a closer look. Using Foucault's ideas about managing school populations, Morrison's theories of 'Africanist presence', and Giroux's perspectives on whiteness and pedagogy, the paper will problematize constructions of romanticized teacher practice.

Lili Kim, University of Rochester and SUNY-Buffalo

I Was Too Busy Fighting Racism That I Didn't Even Know I Was Being Oppressed as a Woman!: Challenges, Changes, and Empowerment in Teaching 'Women of Color and the American Experience'

The author discusses challenges and rewards in teaching a women's studies course focusing specifically on women of color, and offers insights into and practical suggestions on embracing multi-racial feminism and empowering women students of color.

COMPETITIVE DILEMMAS FOR WOMEN AND SPORTS AND MATH

Emily Roper, University of Tennessee, Knoxville

Competition Among Women in Sport: Questioning Its Appropriateness

While individual differences in competitiveness are quite obvious among sport participants, the experience of the competitive sportswoman is unique as she places herself at the center of two dichotomous forces. The author argues that within sport exists barriers and stereotypes that prevent the sportswoman from truly exploring her competitive spirit.

Jodi H. Cohen, Simmons College

The Influence of Athletics on the Math Classroom Participation of Girls

Questions have been raised about the issue of self-esteem in teenaged girls and its affects on school performance. This study examines the participation levels of seventh-grade girls in their mathematics classrooms in relation to their participation on competitive sports teams.

Katharine Kittredge, Ithaca College

Too Old for Title IX: The Adventures of One Woman and Twenty-one Men With Sticks

The author's personal experience as a feminist playing ice hockey in the all-male "beer leagues" in Binghamton, NY have provided an opportunity to examine her own attitudes toward gender performance and the physical potential of the female body.
ONGOING STRUGGLE AGAINST RACISM IN WOMEN'S STUDIES
E209
This panel examines racism and antiracism from three vantage points: the tradition of struggle against racism in NWSA; the journey of an African woman teacher and researcher in a predominantly white institution and the construction of curriculum, course titles and descriptions, and the interconnectedness of race, class, gender, and sexual identity.

Ann Russo, DePaul University
History of Antiracist Activism Within NWSA
Njoki M. Kamau, University of Minnesota, Duluth
An African Woman's Journey in Women's Studies
Laurie S. Fuller, Northeastern Illinois University
Antiracism and the Process of Shaping the Women's Studies Major

REPORTS ON LIFE AFTER THE WOMEN'S STUDIES PH.D.
C308
This roundtable builds on a conversation that began with last year's plenary session on the future of graduate education in women's studies. The four panelists, each of whom holds a Ph.D. in women's studies from Emory University, will discuss their respective career paths and the ways in which their training has or has not prepared them for life in the academy. This roundtable builds on a conversation that began with last year's plenary session on the future of graduate education in women's studies.

Allison Kimmich, Barnard College
Maria Bevacqua, Minnesota State University
Sheila Hassell, Hughes University of Dayton
Vivian May, Texas Woman's University

SUICIDAL TENDENCIES: COMPLICATING FEMINIST READINGS OF SUICIDE
L501A
Combining literary analysis with the perspectives of women of color, women in the sciences, and Virginia Woolf's fictional world, this panel raises questions and issues that seek to complicate and question the standard feminist reading of suicide as an act of rebellion.

Alyssa Colton, SUNY-Albany, Chair
Katy Ryan, University of Massachusetts, Amherst
Bodies In Revolt: Colonialism, War, and Women
Carmine Esposito, University of Connecticut
To Whom All's One Now: Reading Virginia Woolf's Suicide
Charlotte DeBaere, Claremont, CA
Suicide: The Only Escape

LIVING AND WORKING AS INDEPENDENT SCHOLARS
W205
Sponsored by the Independent Scholars Task Force. Independent scholars from NWSA and the National Coalition of Independent Scholars will discuss what working outside the academy is like. Each panelist will describe her work and address one or more issues with which she has had to contend. This session may be of particular interest to frustrated adjunct faculty.

Becca Chase, Independent Scholar
Alicia Zavala Galvan, National Coalition of Independent Scholars
Harriet Feinberg, National Coalition of Independent Scholars
Jennifer Kramer, National Coalition of Independent Scholars
Priscilla Stuckey, Independent Scholars Task Force

YHENTA U: GEVALT—ADVICE, Gossip, Meddling, Trashin, Kibbitzing, Kvetchin, Kvelling, Shmozing, Utzing, and Geshres—Not to Mention the Hand Gestures! - How (Some) (Jewish) Women Communicate
W203
Sponsored by the Jewish Women's Caucus
Communication style concerns those faced with the invitation/demand to assimilate to (maximize) (survival) (opportunities). As groups assimilate into 'the larger culture' do cross-cultural absorption mitigate or mask cross-cultural misunderstandings, fears, hostilities? DOUBLE SESSION (part two)

Susan Koppelman, Independent Scholar
Andrea Lapin, University of Pittsburgh
Bette Tallen, University of Central Florida
Dina Pinsky, CUNY-The Graduate Center
Emily Toth, Louisiana State University
Penny Rosenwasser, California Institute of Integral Studies

SEX, LIES AND FEMINIST PEDAGOGY: THEORIZING SELF-DISCLOSURE
E207
Panelists address student and/or teacher disclosure of sexual information as part of a feminist pedagogical process; how lesbian sexuality, sexual abuse, sex work and other socially charged areas of experience present practical teaching problems as well as the opportunity to theorize self-disclosure in the classroom. Discussion follows.

Berenice Fisher, New York University
The Public-Private Distinction in Feminist Pedagogy: Sexuality as a Test Case
Marie Lovrod, CUNY, Hunter College
Sexual Abuse, Disclosure and the Politics of Knowledge
Susan Rakosi Rosenbloom, New York University
Tina Fetner, New York University
Student Sex Workers and Teaching Underground
NWSA CAUCUSES: LINKS TO SOCIAL JUSTICE ACTIVISM
E209
Sponsored by Women’s Centers Caucus.
Panelists representing the Disability Caucus, Lesbian Caucus, Ageism Caucus, Jewish Caucus, Women’s Center Caucus, and Women of Color Caucus will present how issues of ableism, heterosexism, ageism, anti-Semitism, activism, and racism are connected. The Caucuses work in addressing interlocking systems of oppression have moved NWSA toward a more inclusive definition of women and raised issues of social justice within Women’s Studies as a discipline.

Juli Parker, University of Massachusetts, Dartmouth
Carol Robinson, Student Caucus
Penny Rosenwasser, California Institute of Integral Studies
Patricia Washington, San Diego State University
Sharon Jacobson, SUNY, Brockport
Valda Lewis, Wichita State University
Anita Silver

CREATING MEANING: INTERDISCIPLINARY PERSPECTIVES ON CROSS-CULTURAL WOMEN’S NARRATIVES
W201
Women’s stories articulate experiences as arenas of power and knowledge. Stories testify to women’s strength and vulnerability to enlarge recognition of the variations and contingencies in women’s existence. Panelists present and analyze narratives of women’s personal experiences from different cultural spaces that elaborate personal, social, and political transformations.

Carol Pearson, North Dakota State University
Creating Selves as Historical Subjects: Women’s Testimonial Literature in Central America
Kathleen Slobin, North Dakota State University
African Women’s Stories of Resistance and Accommodation
Lee Sharkey, University of Maine, Farmington
To Tell Their Stories: Mother Russia and the New Soviet Woman

A DEMONSTRATION OF READING WOMEN’S LIVES: AN ELECTRONIC DATA BASE RESOURCE FOR TEACHING WOMEN’S STUDIES
S183
Faculty from Ohio State University will demonstrate how to customize instruction for women’s studies courses through Reading Women’s Lives, an innovative electronic database of women’s studies curriculum materials used in over 40 colleges and universities and published by Pearson.

Mary Margaret Fonow, Ohio State University
Ara Wilson, Ohio State University
Cindy Burack, Ohio State University
Elizabeth Allen, Ohio State University

Lucy Bailey, Ohio State University
Nancy Campbell, Ohio State University
Pamela Fletcher, Ohio State University

THE POLITICS OF SINFUL PLEASURE: FOOD, SEX, BEAUTY AND CONSUMERISM
S222
As feminists, we intellectually understand the evils of consumer capitalism and the desires they create in us. Yet, we often find ourselves indulging in the very pleasures we know are sinful, and if that were not bad enough, we go back for more.

Jo Trigilio, Bentley College
The Feminist Beauty Tips You Have Been Waiting For Rachael Dresbeck, Portland Community College
My Body Tells Me What to Eat, and Other Myths of the Feminist Omnivore
Kathy Miriam, University of California, Santa Cruz
Rethinking the Power of Pleasure or, Why Don’t Feminists Have a Theory of the Good Life?

COMMUNITY-BASED RESEARCH ON FEMALE GENITAL MUTILATION
S251A
This session explores the importance of maintaining and even increasing the focus on women of other cultures to deepen our understanding of the complexity of ‘women’s identities’ in a global world. Research documents communities’ perceptions and beliefs about female genital mutilation (FGM) and the factors that could facilitate its elimination.

Susan Bloodworth, Program for Appropriate Technology in Health-PATH

LOWELL WOMEN’S WEEK: BRIDGING CAMPUSES & COMMUNITIES
C218
This presentation highlights the many successful and creative ways that Lowell Women’s Week has brought together women and girls from educational and community settings across Lowell, as well as difficulties associated with inclusive coalition building. There have been multiple positive personal, professional and political outcomes.

Anne Mulvey, University of Massachusetts, Lowell
Audrey Ambrosino, Lowell National Historical Park
Maria Cunha, Middlesex Community College
Marlowe Miller, University of Massachusetts, Lowell
Maxine Farkas, Brush Gallery

SUBVERTING THE PATRIARCHAL ORDERS THROUGH LITERATURE
W206
Panelists analyze subversion present in women’s literary works. Topics include subverting the patriarchal order, survival and self-identity

Guilermina Walas, Eastern Washington University
Concurrent Sessions
Friday, June 16, 2000
2:00pm - 3:15pm

Subversion/Redemption: Bloria Anzaldua's "New Mestiza"
LaVona Reeves, Eastern Washington University

Poets of Restraint Subvert the Patriarchal Order
Sally Winkle, Eastern Washington University

Subversion and Gender Identity in Christa Wolf's "Self-Experiment"

WRITERS SERIES - WHEELOCK 25
Convener: Claire Cummings

Sayre Shelding

Her War Story: Twentieth Century Women Write about War

Sayre P. Shelding chose the twentieth century for this collection of women's war writing because women's roles in war changed dramatically in that century. The twentieth century redefined the meaning of combat and expanded the territory of war to include women in larger numbers than ever before. Women took an active part in war whether or not by choice, often by moving into occupations previously closed to them. Women covered wars for their newspapers, wrote war propaganda for their governments, published their wartime diaries, described fighting alongside men, and used wartime experience for their fiction and poetry. Women writers also chose the right to imagine war, just as men for centuries had written about war without actually experiencing it.

Marcia Lagerwey-Commeret

Wilma Ditmar Lagerwey: Stories From the Homefront During World War II

Marcia Lagerwey-Commeret, Ph.D. in Women's Studies from Clark University will be reading from World War II letter of her mother, Wilma Ditmar Lagerwey. These letters, lost for fifty years under the basement steps, served as a partial basis for Lagerwey-Commeret's dissertation: Radiant Textures: The Creative and Intellectual Spaces in the Lives and Art of Three Women. Written in a literary voice by an everyday woman who was unable to finish college due to a heart condition, the letters cover a variety of themes and events including connection and separation, anxiety and hope, labor and delivery, and daily life as a single mother with a newborn. Lagerwey-Commeret's work brings to light an intellectual, creative voice that, along with many women's voices of this era, was tragically repressed and hidden by a social, political, and religious culture that often did not value women's thoughts and expressions.

Helen Epstein

Where She Came From: A Daughter's Search for her Mother's History

Helen Epstein is an affiliate of the Harvard Center for European Studies, her book, Where She Came From, is a non-fiction study of three generations of Czech Jewish women from the 1850s to 1948 set against the cultural history of Central Europe.
Plenary Session
Friday - 3:30 - 5:30 pm

Friday Plenary, 3:30 - 5:30 PM
Holmes Sports Center Gym

Feminist Action and Intellect: The Gendered Politics of War and Peace
Sponsored by the Graduate Consortium in Women's Studies at Radcliffe

Presiding
Kathleen Weiler and Modhumita Roy, Tufts University

At the close of the 20th century, the gendered politics of war and peace remain gruesomely timely as a focus of feminist action and intellect. How can we best direct feminist research, education, and action to subvert and transform the destructive, misogynist, and racist dynamics of contemporary globalization and militarization? What are the connections between the worldwide campaign for women's rights and global struggles for human rights and peace? This panel explores some theoretical and institutional frameworks for engaging in feminist peacework. Speakers will reflect on what has enabled them to move beyond a narrow conception of an academic/educational career to engage in a political way in the struggle for social justice and a vision of "positive peace."

Elise Boulding

Elise Boulding, a leading figure in peace education and global peace action, is Professor Emerita of Sociology at the University of Colorado and former Secretary General of the International Peace Research Association. She is author and editor of numerous widely known books and articles, including The Underside of History: A View of Women Through Time (2 vols.); Building a Global Civic Culture: Education for an Interdependent World; Building Peace in the Middle East: Challenges for States and Civil Society; The Future: Images and Processes (with Kenneth Boulding); and the most recent, Cultures of Peace: The Hidden Side of History.

Dr. Boulding has been active with numerous peace action and peace education organizations since the 1950s. A shaping force in the field of peace studies, she helped launch the first Center for Conflict Resolution in the U.S.; the International Peace Research Association; and the Consortium on Peace Research, Education and Development.

A scholar-activist, she was international chair of the Women's International League for Peace and Freedom in the late 1960s, and has served on the board of the United Nations University, the International Jury of the UNESCO Prize for Peace Education, and was a member of the commission recommending the establishment by Congress of a U.S. Peace Institute. A member of the Society of Friends, she is an Advisor to the Friends Peace Team Project.

Valentine Moghadam

Valentine Moghadam is Director of the Women's Studies Program and Associate Professor of Sociology at Illinois State University. Her research focuses on gender issues in the political economies of the Middle East and North Africa. She is author or editor of many books including Gender and National Identity: Women and Politics in Muslim Society; Women, Work, and Economic Reform in the Middle East and North Africa; Identity Politics and Women: Cultural Reassertions and Feminisms in International Perspective; and Patriarchy and Economic Development: Women's Positions at the End of the Twentieth Century. Her recent articles have appeared in the Journal of Women's History, Women's Studies Quarterly, Gender and History, Gender and Society, and the Journal of International Communications, as well as in a host of edited volumes. She has served as a consultant to the United Nations Division for the Advancement of Women and was responsible for the design and implementation of two large scale Women in Development programs under the auspices of UNU/WIDER.
RADHA KUMAR

Currently a senior fellow with the New York-based Council on Foreign Relations, Radha Kumar has held fellowships at the Rockefeller Foundation, the Institute for War and Peace Studies at Columbia University, the World Institute of Economics Research (Helsinki), and the Institute of Development Studies (Sussex University). From 1992 to 1994, she served as the Executive Director of Helsinki’s Citizen Assembly in Prague. She is the author of A History of Doing: An Illustrated Account of Movements for Women’s Rights and Feminism in India, 1881-1990; and Divide and Fall?: Bosnia in the Annals of Partition.

BETTY BURKES

Betty Burkes is a former U.S. section president of the Women’s International League for Peace and Freedom. Her work with WILPF began as part of the anti-War Toys Project. An educator and founder of the Montessori Paradise School in Wellfleet, Massachusetts, she is also a founder of Fighting Racism, Educating for Ethnic Diversity (FREED). Burkes writes a monthly column for the Cape Cod Newspapers and co-hosts a talk show on WOMR, a local public radio station. She is a recipient of the annual NAACP Community Service Award, the American Association of University Women Turtle Award, and the Drylongso Award for consistent and courageous contributions in the struggle against racism.

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>5:45 pm to 7 pm</th>
<th>Library Browsing Room</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Reception for Friends and Alumnae of the Graduate Consortium in Women’s Studies at Radcliffe</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>
EXPANDING ON "DOUBLE CONSCIOUSNESS": RACE AND GENDER IN 19TH CENTURY AFRICAN AMERICAN WRITING
E206
Pamela Glenn Menke, Regis College
Behind the 'White Veil': Dunbar-Nelson, Nineteenth-Century Southern Local 'Color', and Why Feminists Should Care
The author explores the interweaving of African-American identity and southern fictional form in two Dunbar-Nelson stories. The author focuses on stories of racial "passing".

Pam VanHaitsma, Saginaw Valley State University
Slavery's Treatment of Women: Differing Representations in Jacobs' "Incidents In the Life of a Slave Girl" and Craft's "Running a Thousand Miles For Freedom"
The author explores how these novels represent slavery's treatment of women.

FEMINIST GOWNS ENGAGE WITH TOWN: COMMUNITY AND UNIVERSITY IN PARTNERSHIP THROUGH SERVICE LEARNING
L306
Babette S. Hanish, Burlingame, CA
Women, Disability and Aging: The Connections Regarding Health and Well-Being
Despite being one half the population, women's inferior status is compounded by age and/or disability. Utilizing interdisciplinary feminist education to unite campus women and to link town and gown is essential for improving women's lives.

Charlotte Morgan-Cato, Lehman College-CUNY
Stress in Your Face: A Neighborhood Based Community and University Partnership Effort for Women's Personal Growth and Empowerment
The author examines the efforts of an urban Women's Studies Program to develop a community based women's studies initiative in collaboration with grassroots organizations servicing a low-income neighborhood in New York City. A new neighborhood organization emerged organized around the goal of "self-empowerment".

Irene E. Harvey, The Pennsylvania State University
Bringing Them In and Sending Them Out: Opening the Doors of Academia
The author focuses on sending students out into the community and bringing community leaders into the classroom. Topics include service learning and its relation to postmodern theory and practice as well as the implicit assumptions of community leaders in their work experience and treatment of others.

EUROPEAN WOMEN AND WAR
L504B
Indira Kajosevic, CUNY
Women's Bodies in the Public Space
Despite the war, feminists from the former Yugoslavia, continue to discuss the issues they have in common. Sometimes officials try to discourage these women with tactics such as the non-issuing of visas. The author presents their story.

Mary Ellen Doona
The Irish Sisters of Mercy: Forgotten Women of Crimean Nursing
Britain pocketed its religious and racial biases against the Irish and sent fifteen Irish Sisters of Mercy to the Crimean War (1854-1856). Once they returned to Ireland, they quested their story fearful of reprisals against their race and religion, and their story was lost to women's history.

AGEISM AND HEALTH: A CONSCIOUSNESS-RAISING WORKSHOP
L301
Aging is not a medical condition; it is a natural process. The medical system tends to dismiss, trivialize, neglect, misdiagnose, and overmedicate old women and fails to see them as people with unlimited possibilities. This workshop will help participants unravel their health concerns and the ageist treatment by medical and health care providers.

Carolyn Wright, NY Statewide Resource Center for Geriatric Educ.
Alicia Nather, SUNY-Brockport
WOMEN'S STUDIES, ACTIVISM, COMMUNITY ORGANIZATIONS AND PHILANTHROPY: BUILDING CONNECTIONS
W206
This session describes collaborative work between several Women's Studies teachers in Boston and their allies in women's grassroots community organizations in the Boston area. Presenters discuss how to foster the links among academics and activists so as to encourage upcoming generations of students committed to and knowledgeable about efforts for social change beyond the academy.

Frinde Maher, Wheaton College
Marie Kennedy, University of Massachusetts, Boston
INTEGRATING THE OLD WITH THE NEW: COMBINING EARLY MODERN LITERATURE WITH ACTIVISM
W201
The members of this panel teach Early Modern British Literature as their major "traditional" field. All are involved in activism in a variety of ways. Panelists discuss how they have (or at times have not) found ways to integrate their traditional teaching with their activism.

Gail Cohee, Emporia State University
Joan Pong Linton, Indiana University
Theresa D. Kemp, University of Wisconsin, Eau Claire
This session highlights five remarkable women spanning one millennium who challenged masculinist literary and critical paradigms. These women, Hrotsvit of Gandersheim (ca. 935-ca. 1002), Margery Kempe (ca. 1372-after 1438), Sor Juana Inés de la Cruz (1648/51), Aphra Behn (1640-1689), and Susan Glaspell (1876-1948), engaged in subversive poetics that work within but also against the structures available to them, creating new matrices within which to understand female art and power.

Helene Scheck, SUNY-Albany
Subversive Wisdom: Replication and Reification in Hrotsvit's "Sapientia"

Virginia Blanton-Whetsell, Marist College
'1 her seyn that ye am a wikkyd man': Subversive Poetics in the Autobiography of Margery Kempe

Terezinha Fonseca, Queensborough Community College
Subversive Strategies - Exploring Feminism and Argument in Sor Juana de la Cruz' Works

Ellen Higgins, University at Albany
A Stitch in Crime: Needlework as the Instrument of Oppression and Agency

Radio Subversions: Women and Broadcasting, Then and Now
S222
The panel explores the roles considered normal for women in early Broadcasting through the 1950s; feminist and lesbian media practices and principles, which emerged during the second wave of feminism; and radio subversions that women are creating today on community, web, and pirate radio.

Donna Halper
Frida Werden, WINGS
Jennifer Abod, Brooklyn, NY

Still Struggling to Exist: Women's Studies at Resource-Poor Institutions
L251A
Roundtable participants seek to address the particular challenges faced by women's studies faculty, students, and administrators in resource-poor institutions with the intention of continuing the NWSA tradition of recording the struggles of women’s studies in the academy, offer strategies to those engaged in such struggles, and to foster dialogue on an issue that is of increasing relevance.

Lisa Botshon, University of Maine, Augusta
Audrey Fisch, New Jersey City University
Colette Morrow, Purdue University
Mollie Whalen, Stroudsburg University
Sandra Donaldson, University of North Dakota
Tonia St. Germain, Eastern Oregon University

Building Two-Way Streets: Finding Friends and Colleagues Across the Women and Gender, Science and Technology Divide
L308
The panelists, an entomologist, a molecular biologist, a geneticist, an engineer, and a social scientist, have developed a sustaining relationship over our shared interest in feminist analyses of science and technology. In this panel, we describe our process by way of encouraging others to develop the collaborations necessary to foster feminist science studies.

Mary Wyer, North Carolina State University
Donna Cookmeyer, North Carolina State University
Hatice Ozturk, North Carolina State University
Mary Barbercheck, North Carolina State University
Marta L. Wayne, University of Florida

The Researchers and the Researched: Responses from, Relating with, and Empowerment of Research Participants
S183
The panelists look at diverse aspects of and relationships with participants in three different research projects. Insights into how responses from participants may differ based on differing methodologies, the changing nature of the researcher/researched relationship, and collaborative designs that provide opportunities for the empowerment of participants will be explored.

Elana Newman, University of Tulsa
Sexual Abuse and Assault Survivors: What Do We Know About the Participants Response to Research Participation

Batya Weinbaum, Cleveland State University
Involving Participants in Research: In the Field in Israel, 1999

Sharon Jacobson, SUNY-Brockport
Nothing About Us Without Us!

Crossing Disciplinary Boundaries: A Course on Earth Science and Environmental Justice
L504A
Panelists discuss how feminist commitments and visions for the fields of geology and philosophy helped develop an interdisciplinary course on environmental justice. Topics include future work in environmental justice as informed by feminist concerns.

Virginia Ashby Sharpe, The Hastings Center
Brooke Densmore, Vassar College
Jill Schneiderman, Vassar College

Women's Status
L309
Jackie Chambers, University of Missouri, Columbia
Sweeping Change?: Professionalism, Women's Status, and the 19th-century Domestic Science Movement
The author examines how apparently ultraconservative “Domestic Science” movement of the mid-nineteenth century worked to encourage women’s efforts to gain greater personal and professional status.

Myung Joo Kim, University of Tulsa
Rebecca West’s Subverting the Gendered Politics: Reading “Black Lamb” and “Grey Falcon”

The author examines how West understands the oppressed people, the Slavs and their situation, and restores them to their own place in her imagination and history. The author looks closely into how things are subverted by West and how the feminist point of view plays in it.

Patricia Ould, Salem State College
Pamela Shaw-George, Salem State College
James Stoll, Salem State College
Men, Intimate Relationships, and Socialized Narcissistic Power

A common phenomenon in our culture provides a fertile foundation for some boys and men to go to violent extremes or to have dysfunctional intimate relationships. We have named this phenomenon ‘socialized narcissistic power’ (SNP). SNP is defined by the relationship among narcissism, gender role identity, and locus of control.

AMERICAN AND EUROPEAN ANTI-RACISM

L506B

Becky Thompson, Simmons College
In All Its Incarnations: White Antiracist Activist Culture and Politics

The author assesses frameworks for doing antiracism that have been developed by white people in the last fifty years in the U.S. The author also examines what antiracist culture feels and looks like ‘in all its incarnations’ for white activists.

Catherine Raissiguier, University of Cincinnati
Dreams of Invasion: The Politics of Sexuality and Immigration in France

The author analyzes the ways in which queers and immigrants in France have emerged as threats to the nation within right wing discourses. The author also discusses grassroots coalitions that have begun to address these discourses as well as the political practices they have generated.

Melinda Plastas, Bowdoin College
African American Women and the Making of Women’s Inter-War Perspectives on Peace and Pan-African Consciousness

The author explores the complicated nature of middle class African American women’s relationship to World War I and the post war women’s peace movement and argues that leading African American women’s experiences can be viewed as pre-war patriotic propagandist. The author explores the lessons that can be learned today from the peace consciousness of leading black women during the 1920s and 1930s.
Concurrent Sessions Saturday, June 17, 2000 1:30pm - 2:45pm

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Session</th>
<th>Title</th>
<th>Presenters/Panelists</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>W205</td>
<td>What's Happening to Feminist Presses and Feminist Bookstores?</td>
<td>Wheelock 21</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>W206</td>
<td>Revolutionary Women in Cuba, Ireland, and China</td>
<td>Jan Cannavan, Independent Scholar Jan Cannavan, Independent Scholar</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td>Sandra Brown, Publisher, KIT, Knowledge, Ideas, &amp; Trends, Inc.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td>Susan Hawthorne &amp; Renata Klein, Publishers/Editors Jean MacRae, New Words Bookstore</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td>Becky Thompson, Simmons College</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>L301</td>
<td>Stretching the Boundaries of War and Peace</td>
<td>Cynthia Deitch, George Washington University</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td>Bonita Hampton, William Paterson University</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td>Eileen Boris, University of Virginia</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td>Kathe Johnson, Women &amp; Poverty Public Education Initiative—WPPEI</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td>Marie Kennedy, University of Massachusetts, Boston</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td>Margaret M. Wehrer, Syracuse University</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>L306</td>
<td>The Lecherous Professor in the 20th Century: The Debate and Reality of Consensual Relationships</td>
<td>Mary L. Ertel, Central Connecticut State University</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

Festival Sessions Saturday, June 17, 2000 1:30pm - 2:45pm

- What's Happening to Feminist Presses and Feminist Bookstores?
  - Wheelock 21
  - Feminist bookstores and feminist publishers have undergone serious problems as the “superstores” have taken over book distribution and sales. As a result, e.g., feminist presses have had an increase in the number of book returns with some returns as high as 50%. At the same time Feminist bookstores are under severe pressure, particularly as superstores have moved into the neighborhood often forcing closure of a feminist bookstore. So what's a feminist reader, scholar, activist, student to do? This panel will offer suggestions by the very people involved in publishing and bringing feminist literature to you.

- Strengthening the Boundaries of War and Peace
  - Cynthia Deitch, George Washington University
  - Bonita Hampton, William Paterson University
  - Eileen Boris, University of Virginia
  - Kathe Johnson, Women & Poverty Public Education Initiative—WPPEI
  - Marie Kennedy, University of Massachusetts, Boston
  - Margaret M. Wehrer, Syracuse University

- The Lecherous Professor in the 20th Century: The Debate and Reality of Consensual Relationships
  - Mary L. Ertel, Central Connecticut State University
  - Negotiating the Non-Negotiable: An Analysis of Printed Consensual/Amorous Relationship Policy at Selected Universities
  - Mimi Schippers, Albion College
  - Sexual Harassment / Sexual Agency?: A Theoretical

- Revolutionary Women in Cuba, Ireland, and China
  - Jan Cannavan, Independent Scholar
  - Sandra Brown, Publisher, KIT, Knowledge, Ideas, & Trends, Inc.
  - Susan Hawthorne & Renata Klein, Publishers/Editors
  - Jean MacRae, New Words Bookstore
  - Becky Thompson, Simmons College

- Theorizing Anti-Imperialism: Feminist Narratives from the American 1890s
  - Kristin Sorensen, Bloomington, IN
  - Weili Ye, University of Massachusetts, Boston
  - Gender, Trauma, and the Cultural Revolution
  - The author examines the emotional turmoil caused by the Chinese Cultural Revolution in the lives of urban youth, especially young women.

- Theorizing Anti-Imperialism: Feminist Narratives from the American 1890s
  - Tania Ramalho, William Paterson University
  - Sexual Harassment / Sexual Agency?: A Theoretical
Exploration of Gendered Sexuality on Campus

EXCITABLE SPEECH, WOMEN’S RIGHTS, AND CITIZENSHIP: CRITICAL GLOBAL/LOCAL FEMINIST PERSPECTIVES
S251A
Using cross-cultural and local perspectives, panelists will discuss issues of agency, of silencing women’s voices, and address ways in which women’s movements negotiate human rights discourses.

Mecke Nagel, SUNY-Cortland
The Promise of Dis-Locating Cultures

Ann Ferguson, University of Massachusetts, Amherst
Women’s Movements and the Struggle for Citizenship

Tracy Edwards, University of Wisconsin, Madison
Understanding Silencing

INTRODUCING STUDENTS TO FEMINISM IN THE INTRODUCTORY WOMEN’S STUDIES COURSE
E308
This workshop brings together instructors of the introductory women's studies course including the editors of the text “Women: Images and Realities, A Multicultural Anthology” to discuss the challenges of teaching about feminism to contemporary students. It will include a participatory discussion with workshop participants.

Nancy Schniedewind, SUNY-New Paltz
Amy Kesselman, SUNY-New Paltz
Barbara Horne, Nassau Community College
Jenna Rossi, SUNY-Buffalo

MENTORING WOMEN IN SCIENCE AND ENGINEERING
LEAVING SCIENCE
S222
Lack of mentoring is often listed as one of the causes of the deficit of women in science and engineering. Panelists each explore some aspect of mentoring women in science, math, and engineering.

Anne Preston, Haverford College
Leaving Science

Wendy Katkin, SUNY-Stony Brook
Project WISE

Sarah Hall Sternglanz, SUNY-Stony Brook
Ann Sutton SUNY-Stony Brook
The WISE Mentoring Experience

RESETTING RESISTANCES: WORKING THROUGH INSTITUTIONS
S251B
This panel considers resistances to and resistances within women’s studies as the field is institutionalized and as it meets other institutions. We examine Introduction to Women’s Studies place in universities’ core curricula, collaboration with K-12 public educators, and the institutionalization of ‘standardizing dilemmas’ in Women’s Studies itself.

Peggy Fisher, Georgia State University
Reevaluating the Introduction to Women’s Studies Curriculum: Creating Spaces for Resisting Students

Alexa Adams, Georgia State University
Assessing Women’s Studies’ Role in Public School Reform Efforts

Susan Talburt, Georgia State University
Difficult Knowledges: Thinking Women’s Studies

BUILDING ALLIANCES WITHIN WOMEN’S STUDIES: EXPLORING THE POTENTIAL OF MENTORSHIP
W201
The purpose of this roundtable discussion is to further explore the issue of feminist mentorship within the academy, and to specifically interrogate the potential of such relationships within the field of Women’s Studies. What are the hindrances and rewards of successful mentoring relationships in Women’s Studies?

Tiffany Worboy, Emory University
Jenny Higgins, Emory University
Jenna Nelson, Emory University
Kirsten Rambo, Emory University

MEDIA AND IMAGE
L506B
Deborah Caslav Covino, Florida Atlantic University
Beauty Marks: Policing Abjection and Hiding Scars in the Y2K Aesthetic Clinic

The author posits the contemporary aesthetic surgery clinic as a prominent cultural institution that polices the abject body, and argues that the surgical scarring of the female breast is the site where aesthetics and abjection confront one another.

Carolyn Lea, Bowling Green State University
Infomercials and the Construction of a Diet Culture in America: Regulating the Female Body

The author examines the ways in which infomercials participate in a discourse of fall and salvation, maintaining the myth of woman as Eve, and positioning women as children whose bodies are in need of regulation by male experts.

Leigh Felesky, Oregon State University
A Trip to New York: Women’s Magazine Editors’ Perspectives on the Relationship Between Advertising and Editorial Content

The author examines the real life, everyday occurrences of the decisions made in regard to the content of women’s magazines focusing on the relationship between editorial and advertising content in mainstream women’s magazines.

FEMINISTS WORKING FOR SOCIAL TRANSFORMATION: TRANSGLOBAL PEDAGOGIES FOR PRAXIS
L504A
Globalization is bringing about drastic economic, political, and social changes in the present world order. These changes have adverse material effects on women’s lives, especially in Third World contexts. Global restructuring led the authors to reconfigure Women’s Studies courses to address these changes. Suggestions for facilitating classroom process in women’s studies courses and helping students and teachers to work together for feminist social transformation and towards a feminist democracy are presented.

Anna M. Agathangelou, Oberlin College
Tamara Spira, Oberlin College
Sarah Kaiksow, Oberlin College

FEMINISM
L309
Cynthia Burack, Ohio State University
Conflict and the Anxiety of Difference: Black Feminism and Group Politics
This paper examines the ways in which black feminist theorists negotiate and theorize anxieties related to in-group ‘difference’ and conflict, and suggests contributions of black feminist thought to a theory and praxis of identity group politics.

Miriam Liss, University of Connecticut
Carolyn Hoffner, Chicopee, MA
Mary Crawford, University of Connecticut, Storrs
How Beliefs About Feminism Relate to Feminist Identity
One reason women do not self identify as feminists may be that they misunderstand what feminists believe. The authors analyze results from a study that indicate that cultural feminism is a contested ideology, while self-ascribed feminists do not endorse cultural feminism, non-feminists think they would.

Sherry Gorelick, Rutgers
Identity Politics, Feminism and Peace
The author explores and defends identity politics, focusing upon its positive aspects. Perceived as a cause of war, identity politics may also serve as the grounding for coalition work, a base for movements for justice and peace.

TEACHING WOMEN’S STUDIES FROM A DIVERSE WOMEN’S STUDIES PH.D. PROGRAM: HOW MANY WAYS
L501B
A diverse group of multi-talented women share their experiences as teachers of women’s studies in diverse settings. They will talk about ‘globalizing women’s studies courses’, the process of constructing and teaching an ‘international’ introduction to women’s studies courses and much more. DOUBLE SESSION (part one)

Claire Cummings, Clark University
Barbara Shulman, Clark University
Cynthia Enloe, Clark University
Deidre Hill, Clark University
Denise Sutton, Clark University
Elora Chowdury, Clark University
Gabriel Atchison, Clark University
Insoon Kwan, Clark University

Marcia Lagerwey-Commeret, Clark University
Michelle Matisons, Clark University
Michelle Rowley, Clark University
Patricia Melzer, Clark University
Young-Rae Oum, Clark University

CLASS ACTIVISM
C104
Daylanne K. English, Bowie State University
New Women, Old Strategies?: The Class Politics of Reproduction in the United States (1920s and 1930s)
The author compares the class politics of women’s fertility during the 1910s and 1920s. The author argues that we are again at risk of establishing the reproductive and social freedom of ‘new’ middle-class women at the expense of poor (and often non-white) women. Topics include welfare reform, eugenics, and reproductive technologies.

Debra Osnowitz, Brandeis University
Low-Wage Women in Nonstandard Jobs: Some New Directions for Activism
Recent initiatives to address the needs of low-wage contingent work force suggest both remedies and strategies for women struggling on the margins. Renewed activism and proposed public policy can promote inclusion and equality for women most in need of self-sufficiency.

Magdalena J. Zaborowska, Tulane University
Home is Nowhere to be Seen: Architectures of Female Migration
The author explores aspects of Polish visual culture and literature in an international context demonstrating the ways in which gendered representations of female identity are contingent on the metaphors of space, location, and migration.

THINKING THROUGH ‘THE IMPOSSIBILITY OF WOMEN’S STUDIES’
W203
In “The Impossibility of Women’s Studies” Wendy Brown defines the story of women’s studies in the academy as a necessary error, arguing against feminism’s continued institutionalization ‘in the form of degree-granting programs in the university’. This roundtable addresses issues raised by Brown and invite broad audience discussion.

Laura Green, Yale University
Laura Hyun Yi Kang, University of California, Irvine
Laura Wexler, Yale University
Robyn Wiegman, University of California, Irvine
Concurrent Sessions Saturday, June 17, 2000 3:00pm - 4:15pm

Saturday 3:00 pm

FROM TRANSFORMATION-SPEAK TO TRANSFORMATION-DO: MOVING FROM THEORIES OF RACE, GENDER AND CLASS INTERSECTIONS, TO PRACTICES OF ORGANIZATIONAL JUSTICE AND CHANGE

S251A

The intersection/simultaneity of race, gender, and class as identity and social processes will be examined in the context of organizational change efforts in South Africa and the United States, where feminist(s) theory(ies) have been applied in organizational change efforts. Common strategies for expanding the application of feminist theories are derived.

Bridgette Sheridan, Boston College
 Succees and Challenges Toward Organizational Transformation; Gender Justice in South Africa and 2nd Wave Feminism in the United States

Ruby Marks, University College of London
 Giving Birth to the New in the Womb of the Old: Complications of Labor in the Transformation Process of South Africa

Evangelina Holvino, Simmons Graduate School of Management

Feminisms and Organizational Change in the United States: Working the Simultaneity of Gender, Race, and Class

CREATIVE NARRATIVES/DOING HISTORY

C308

This panel considers the relation between narratives and history from three different starting points. Coming from literature, anthropology, and sociology the panelists consider fictional texts, personal narratives, social scripts, and other forms of narrative as sources and as interpretive devices for histories that escape more conventional methods.

Marilyn R. Schuster, Smith College
 Making History With Lesbian Fiction

Elizabeth Lapovsky, Kennedy University of Arizona
 Being Known as a Bastard in Childhood: A Woman's Tale

Ann Arnett, Ferguson Smith College
 Lover's Lane Murder Stories: Narratives of Sexualty, Class, and Nationhood in Colonial Jamaica

MENOPAUSE: POLITICS, PRODUCTS, AND PERSPECTIVES

L308

Panelists explore menopause as a complex social, economic and political issue. Drawing on longitudinal data, we will present women's own experiences of menopause. Then panelists explore common misunderstandings about osteoporosis, finally examining the risks, benefits, and marketing of the new 'designer' estrogens.

Phyllis Kernoff Mansfield, Pennsylvania State University
 The Experience of Perimenopause

Nancy Worcester, University of Wisconsin, Madison
 Osteoporosis: Shifting the Emphasis From Disease to Health Promotion

Marianne Whatley, University of Wisconsin, Madison
 Designer Estrogens and Phytoestrogens

NEW AND OLD WORLDS: WOMEN IMMIGRANTS IN THE UNITED STATES

S251B

This panel presents some new perspectives and research findings on the experiences of women immigrants. Issues of mothering and employment, sexuality and religious identity affecting women immigrants will be discussed by the presenters using narratives as the source of information and to provide new theoretical insights on the lived experience of women immigrants.

Oliva M. Espin, San Diego State University
 Sexuality and Language in the Life Narratives of Immigrant Women

Huma Ahmed Ghosh, San Diego State University
 *The 'Other' Side of the Discourse: Muslim Women's Identity in the U.S."

Doreen Mattingly, San Diego State University
 Beyond Family versus Employment: Mothering, International Immigration, and Domestic Service

Susan E. Cayleff, San Diego State University, Discussant

POCKETS OF HOPE: THE NEXUS OF FEMINIST AND CRITICAL THEORY

W203

Pockets of hope are spaces where teachers and students are building democratic communities, co-structuring knowledge, rethinking relations of power and democratic practice, and engaging in projects of social change. This panel presents four such pockets of hope addressing community building, pedagogy, leadership and mentoring, and building alliances.

Patricia A. Gozember, Salem State College
 Eileen de Los Reyes, Harvard University

Al Ferreira, Cambridge Rindge and Latin High
 Donna San Antonio, Appalachian Mountain Teen Project, NH

Holly Manoogian, Appalachian Mountain Teen Project, NH

LOCATING FEMINISM'S SUBJECT/OBJECT: IMPLICATIONS OF THE (UN)MARKED

W205

This panel addresses the often problematic implications for the "unmarked" subject/object of U.S. feminism within various contexts: women's studies programs, domestic violence organizations, and nursing. The panel emerges out of the intersection between long-standing women of color critiques of white, straight, middle-class feminism and the feminist whiteness literature that attempts to theorize strategies for white antiracism.

Aimee Carillo Rowe, University of Washington
Concurrent Sessions  Saturday, June 17, 2000  3:00pm - 4:15pm

I've Got Mine: White Feminist Compliance and the (Im)Possibility of Cross-Cultural Alliances
David Rubin, University of Washington
The 'Unmarked Subject' Meets His (sic) Ma(r)ker Or, A White Boy in Women's Studies: What's 'Positionality' Got To Do With It?
Serena Maurer, University of Washington

The Unmarked 'Object' Still Rules the Shelter: A Look at Battered Women's Advocates (In)ability to Move Beyond a Limited Construction of the Battered Woman

FEMINISM, POST-FEMINISM, AND RESISTANCE IN THE CLASSROOM: TEACHING INTRODUCTORY WOMEN'S STUDIES AT THE MILLENNIUM
W206
This presentation focuses on the challenges of teaching Introductory Women's Studies with students who have simultaneously integrated resistance to feminist studies at the same time that they have taken for granted the benefits that such political activity has brought about. This workshop will provide an overview of many of the challenges faced by Introductory Women's Studies instructors and will suggest ways of addressing these challenges through innovative contents and teaching procedures.

Susan M. Shaw, Oregon State University
Janet Lee, Oregon State University

GETTING BACK TO FEMINIST PRAXIS: SUBVERTING POSTSTRUCTURALISM'S ETHICAL IMPASSE L504B
Poststructuralism has created impasses in feminist theory, affecting our understanding of the very possibility of: solidarity across racial differences; feminist political praxis; and mutuality in moral performance.

Kathy Miriam, University of California, Santa Cruz
From Normative to Performative or The Expressivist Turn in Feminist Theory
Bonnie Mann, SUNY-Stony Brook
Critical White Studies and Feminist Praxis: The Kantian Sublime and Native American Sovereignty
Susan Stocker, Goucher College
Feminist Moral Efficacy: Aristotle vs. Levinas

WRITING WOMEN'S MOVEMENT HISTORY S222
Writing women's movement history is a fact or a challenge. Four author/activists come together for a conversation about the politics and historiography of the enterprise.

Sheila Tobias, Tucson, AZ
Susan Brownmiller, New York, NY
Ruth Rosen, University of California, Davis
Harriet Woods, Discussant

FEMINIST THEORIES OF KNOWLEDGE IN RESEARCH AND PRACTICE
L301
Panelists discuss how feminist epistemologies challenge traditional theories of knowledge, the reshaping of feminist epistemologies themselves as they are applied in specific research settings, and on the intersection of feminist theories of knowledge with everyday uses of knowledge.

Helen Gremillion, Indiana University
Feminist Knowledge in Psychotherapy: A Narrative Approach
Anna M. Martinson, Indiana University
Feminist Theories of Technological Knowledge
Sarah Wilcox, University of Maine, Orono
Gay Communities as Knowledge Communities: Applying Feminist Theories of Knowledge

ACADEMIA AND COMMUNITY: ISSUES IN ALLIANCE, EMOTION, AND APPEARANCE
W201
This panel aims to discuss varied perspectives on alliances and divisions between academic circles and the larger community. The panelists will address such issues as race, class, and geography; the practice of postmodern theory; appearance; recruitment of participants for research; and the building of alliances from a black feminist perspective.

Sandrien Boyce, University of Massachusetts, Boston
Alliances From a Black Feminist Perspective
Tara Hanson, Simmons College
The Politics of Emotion and Experience as Strategies for Social Change
Andrea Hinderling, Simmons College
Lookism in Academia and the Community: Theory versus Reality
Jennifer Rosenbaum, Simmons College
Issues of Research Recruitment Strategy and Outreach to Female Minority Participants
Sarah Champ, Simmons College
Pragmatic Academic Communities
Siobhan Eaton, Simmons College
Diversity and Division: The Challenges of Forging a Feminist Community

WRITERS SERIES - WHEELOCK 21
Convener: Carol Biewener
Jyoti Puri
Woman, Body, Desire in Post-Colonial India: Narratives of Gender and Sexuality
Based on interviews with more than fifty middle-and upper-class Indian women, this groundbreaking study sheds light on important issues of class, nationhood, gender, and identity in India. Woman, Body, Desire in Post-Colonial India has been described as “one of the few books that brings together post-colonial and sexuality studies” in addition to the interrelation of globalism, nationality, and gender. Puri
Concurrent Sessions

Saturday, June 17, 2000  3:00pm - 4:15pm covers previously neglected topics such as menstruation, gay and straight sexual experience, sexual harassment and assasault, marriage and motherhood.

Pramila Venkateswaran
Women’s Pens, Wombs, and Other Milestones
Join a poet on a journey exploring issues women writers experience: the process of composing, juggling mothering and writing, challenging patriarchal institutions such as marriage and religion, and witnessing the wonder in the experiences of the female body.

Our Students, Ourselves: Introducing Women’s Studies to Undergraduates  L309
This discussion is intended to facilitate a dialogue between instructors who teach Introduction to Women’s Studies and students who enroll in this course. It is designed to explore and assess the variety of ways feminist scholars attempt both through pedagogical and curricular choices —to introduce students to women’s studies.

Robyn L. Rosen, Marist College
JoAnne Myers, Marist College
Jessica Cooper, Marist College
Kendra Hanson, Marist College

Teaching Women’s Studies From a Diverse
Women’s Studies Ph.D. Program: How Many Ways  L501B
A diverse group of multi-talented women share their experiences as teachers of women’s studies in diverse settings. They will talk about ‘globalizing women’s studies courses’, the process of constructing and teaching an ‘international’ introduction to women’s studies courses and much more. DOUBLE SESSION (part two)

Claire Cummings, Clark University
Barbara Shulman, Clark University
Cynthia Enloe, Clark University
Deidre Hill, Clark University
Denise Sutton, Clark University
Elora Chowdury, Clark University
Gabriel Atchison, Clark University
Insook Kwan, Clark University
Marcia Lagerwey-Commeret, Clark University
Michele Mattox, Clark University
Michelle Rowley, Clark University
Patricia Melzer, Clark University
Young-Rae Oum, Clark University

Women’s Studies in Eastern and Central Europe: A Cross-cultural Dialogue  L306
This roundtable discussion will bring together activists and academics from both Eastern and Central Europe and the U.S. to address the problems and possibilities of developing Women’s Studies programs in Eastern and Central Europe. Topics to be addressed include: exporting women’s studies, power and feminist paradigms, dialogues between east and west, Balkan women and post-colonial reality, Belgrade 98, the status of feminist in the Czech Republic and eastern Europe, and more. DOUBLE SESSION (part one)

Arthur redding, Oklahoma State University
Biljana Kasic, Zagreb Women’s Center
Carol Hurd Green, Boston College
Dada Duhaecck, Belgrade Women’s Center
Elena Gavova, European Humanities University, Minsk
Iva Popovicova, Rutgers University
Jasmind Lukic, Central European University, Budapest
Orsholya Arva Berty, Yale University
Patricia Mapp, University of Wisconsin
Penka Skachkova, Ithaca College
Valerie Sperling, Clark University

Entering the 21st Century with ‘This Bridge Called My Back’, Activating the Visions of Radical Women of Color  S183
How much change have we seen since “This Bridge’s” publication almost twenty years ago? What is the current status of transcultural feminist dialogues and practices, especially concerning issues of race? Roundtable participants assess the current status and moving onward, to envision additional change. DOUBLE SESSION (part one)

AnaLouise Keating, Aquinas College
Amala Levine, The Millbrook Symposium
Angela Moreno, The Funding Exchange
Deborah Miranda, University of Washington
Ellen Gil-Gomez, Ohio State University
Indigo Violet, The New School
Jacquie Alexander, Connecticut College
Judith Witherow, Independent Writer & Health Activist
Kimberly Springer, Williams College
Lorena M. Gajardo, University of Toronto
Nada Elia, Brown University
Renae Bredin, California State University, Fullerton
Ramona Ortega, Manpower Demonstration Research Corporation
Simona Hill, University of Susquehanna
Teresa Marcias, University of Toronto

If It’s Like This Everywhere, Why Do I Want to Leave?: A Workshop on Academic Women’s Career Decisions  L506B
This workshop focuses on the processes of making career decisions for women at all stages of an academic cater. In the first part of our workshop, we reflect on academic women’s career choices, and on the various factors that impact women’s career decisions concentrating on one specific decision which plagues many academic women: “Should I leave this job?” The second part of the workshop is participant oriented.
RELIGION AND NATIONALIST IDENTITY

L504A
Banu Subramaniam, University of Arizona

Archaic Modernities: Orientalism and Contemporary Religious Nationalism in India

Religious nationalists in contemporary India have revived the orientalist fantasies of the glories of an ancient India. Using a comparative analysis of the orientalists and religious nationalists, the author shows how religious nationalists use orientalist discourse to forge a new vision for a Hindu India that is at once also ‘modern’.

Eloise A. Buker, Denison University

A Strategy for Subverting Nationalism: Sr. Anna McAnany and Political Transformation in the Multicultural Context of Hawaii

Sr. Anna McAnany’s story reveals how an Irish-American woman became a political leader in Hawaii where eighty percent of the citizens are people of color. Drawing on the work of Carol Gilligan and Joan Tronto, the author argues the Sr. Anna subverts the violence of nationalism and domestic violence by politicizing the ethics of care.

Sherifa Zuhur, American University in Cairo

The Mixed Impact of Feminist Subversions in Fin de Siecle Egypt

Although the Egyptian government’s moderate secularist approach has afforded gains in status, legal reforms, feminist expression, and visibility for elite and middle-class women, particularly those in the professions, social conservatism regarding change in gender roles, and Islamist sentiments are also present. The result, in the last decade of the 20th century, has been an extraordinarily mixed message with regard to feminist propositions, ideas, and programs.
Saturday 4:30 pm

HISTORIOGRAPHY
L504B
Marjorie G. Jones, New School for Social Research
Absence of Evidence (Is Not Evidence of Absence)
The author argues that women of the Middle Ages had more political freedom than women of the 19th century and addresses the question: Why, as men began to acquire more and more individual liberties in the modern era, did women lose theirs?

Mary Wyrick, Buffalo State
The Iconography of Women and War
Instead of representing history as a parade of conquests, educators can use women's art to look at war and terrorism through perspectives of the conquered. The author proposes how feminist art education can transform attitudes toward power and violence.

Sarah Johanson, Gainesville, FL
Gerda Lerner: A Woman of History
The author focuses on Gerda Lerner's study of Sarah and Angelina Grimke of South Carolina and on the sisters' involvement with the women's movement through their work with the abolitionist movement.

TRANSSEXUALISM IN A GENDERED SOCIETY
S222
Aimee Van Wagenen Wrin, Boston College
Theorizing Gender (Inequality): Overlaying Social Constructionist and Poststructuralist Maps
The author maps the connections and disconnections between two seemingly analytically distinct paradigms, social constructionism and poststructuralism, through theories of gender and gender inequality.

Denise J. Bates, University of Waikato, New Zealand
Mapping Gender: Towards a More Inclusive Theory of Gender
Current theories of gender usually marginalize transsexuals as either victims, agents-provocateurs, or conspirators, occupying gendered space somewhere outside 'normal' gender. The author proposes a new reading of engenderment that includes such people into the gendered landscape in a non-pathological way, and provides insights into the wider construction of gender.

Kimberly Surkan, University of Minnesota
Becoming Female and Living to Tell About It: Transsexual Autobiographies as Narratives of Gender Transformation
By telling a story of one person's conflict with the prescription of gender mapped onto sex, transsexual autobiographies reveal much about normative sex and gender roles in society.

SELF-ADVOCACY AND LIBERATION: BUILDING A FEMINIST EDUCATIONAL PLATFORM IN K-12 AND ADULT/POSTSECONDARY TRAINING FOR PRESERVICE TEACHERS AND FOR PROFESSIONAL DEVELOPMENT
S251A
The goals for this session include illuminating topics and related issues to stimulate discussion on the need to develop a feminist educational platform for teacher education in both the K-12 and adult/postsecondary areas. Advocacy and liberation will serve as the key concepts for developing a feminist platform.

Barbara K. Curry, University of Delaware
Self-Advocacy and Equity as Foundations for a Feminist Educational Platform
Joanne M. Golden, University of Delaware
Critical Literacy as a Key Concept for a Feminist Educational Platform
Pamela A. Sandoval, Indiana University Northwest
Teaching as a Mom Thing in a C.E.O. World

COMING OF AGE IN ACADEME: REKINDLING WOMEN'S HOPES AND REFORMING THE ACADEMY, ROUTLEDGE, 1999:
AN INTERVIEW WITH JANE ROLAND MARTIN
L301
Jane Roland Martin, renowned American philosopher of education, has authored a significant book at women at work in higher education. Martin contends that feminist scholars have traded their idealism in order to gain a place in the academy. The interview consists of a brief overview of topics and allows for a free-flowing conversation with this significant figure in Women's Studies.

Betty Smith Franklin, Goucher College
Jane Attanucci, Wheelock College

LEARNING FROM FEMINIST ACTIVISM
W203
Feminist activism is presented from three different settings: first, a participatory action research (PAR) project in Western Massachusetts; second, G.I.R.L.S. (Growing individuals reacting to life's struggles); third, a series of community dialogues where the focus is changed by community participants as they discuss their children's education.

Carole Biewener, Simmons College
What's Talk Got to Do With It? Poststructuralist Action Research and Social Change in Western Massachusetts
Marie Celestin, Simmons College
Girls as Activists

WOMEN'S STUDIES AND DISCIPLINARY PROFESSIONS:
DO WE SUBVERT OR ARE WE SUBSUMED?
L308
Women's Studies faculty attempt to subvert the disciplinary culture from its masculinist, objective, and/or narrowly defined disciplinary basis towards more feminist sub-
Concurrent Sessions  Saturday, June 17, 2000  4:30pm - 5:45pm

FEMINIST JOURNALS AND THE TENURE TRACK  W205

Feminist inquiry seeks to transform foundational assumptions of traditional disciplines. Since feminist scholarship must co-exist with the academic reward system, we must assess how feminist journals best serve as venues for promoting scholarly work. Panelists will explore the politics of publishing in feminist journals and strategies for meeting tenure expectations.

Marilyn C. Smith, Appalachian State University, Moderator
Margaret McFadden, Appalachian State University  Editor, National Women's Studies Association Journal
Judith A. Howard, University of Washington  Editor, Signs: Journal of Women in Culture and Society
Carolyn Allen, University of Washington  Editor, Signs: Journal of Women in Culture and Society
Sue Armitage, Washington State University  Editor, Frontiers: A Journal of Women's Studies

FILM SESSION  THE WAY HOME  W206

The Way Home Experiential Journey is an interactive presentation on race, gender and class with a focus on oppression through the lens of race. This session should particularly benefit teachers, trainers, students and anyone interested in eradicating individual, institutional and societal racism through the support of dialogue, interactive experiences and ideas for constructive action. Discussion to follow.

WOMEN'S STUDIES IN EASTERN AND CENTRAL EUROPE: A CROSS-CULTURAL DIALOGUE  L306

This roundtable discussion will bring together activists and academics from both Eastern and Central Europe and the U.S. to address the problems and possibilities of developing Women's Studies programs in Eastern and Central Europe. Topics to be addressed include: exporting women's studies, power and feminist paradigms, dialogues between east and west, Balkan women and post-colonial reality, Belgrade 98, the status of feminist in the Czech Republic and Eastern Europe, and more. DOUBLE SESSION (part two)

Arthur Redding, Oklahoma State University
Bilijana Kasic, Zagreb Women’s Center

ENTERING THE 21ST CENTURY WITH ‘THIS BRIDGE CALLED MY BACK’, ACTIVATING THE VISIONS OF RADICAL WOMEN OF COLOR  S183

How much change have we seen since “This Bridge’s” publication almost twenty years ago? What is the current status of transcultural feminist dialogues and practices, especially concerning issues of race? Roundtable participants assess the current status and moving onward, to envision additional change. DOUBLE SESSION (part two)

AnaLouise Keating, Aquinas College
Amala Levine, The Millbrook Symposium
Angela Moreno, The Funding Exchange
Deborah Miranda, University of Washington
Ellen Gil-Gomez, Ohio State University
Indigo Violet, The New School
Jacquie Alexander, Connecticut College
Judith Witherow, Independent Writer & Health Activist
Kimberly Springer, Williams College
Lorena M. Gajardo, University of Toronto
Renae Bredin, California State University, Fullerton
Ramona Ortega, Manpower Demonstration Research Corporation
Simona Hill, University of Susquehanna
Terese Marcias, University of Toronto

FEMINISMS AT THE CROSSROADS: EAST EUROPEAN WOMEN AND WESTERN FEMINIST THEORY  L504A

Why has feminism received such a bad rap in Czech society, almost equally from women and men? This panel examines the idea that Czech women are already emancipated as one possible explanation for the negative perception of feminism. The panel also explores the need for an active dialogue of feminist theory in Czech culture in order to combat the rising rate of eating disorders.

Simona Fojtova, University of New Mexico
Condemnation Before Exploration: Why Do Czech Women Resist Western Feminist Theory?
Vera Eliasova, Rutgers University
Points of Departure for Czech Feminism: Should We Go 'Back' To Europe
Dana Cervenakova
Images of Thinness in Czech Landscape: Emerging Discourse on Eating Disorders
Pavla Vesela, Duke University
East Meets West Where Past Meets Present: East European and Anglo-American Feminism

TEACHING EARLY MODERN WOMEN WRITERS: A PANEL SPONSORED BY EARLY MODERN WOMEN (EMW) S251B

This panel addresses methods of teaching early women writers discussing directions in scholarship on 17th-century women poets, commentaries on early women writers from 1500-1700, and a methodology for teaching 18th-century women writers through student editorial projects.

Jeslyn Medoff, University of Massachusetts, Boston
An Early Anthology of Early Modern Women's Poetry: Kissing the Rod and Seventeenth-Century Women's Poetry Twelve Years On Helen Ostovich, McMaster University
Elizabeth Sauer, Brock University
The Preparation of a Pedagogical Project on "Reading Early Women: Texts in Manuscript and Print, 1500-1700"
Heidi Hutner, SUNY, Stony Brook
Teaching Women Writers in the Restoration and Eighteenth Century
Margaret Thickstun, Hamilton College, Discussant

UNDERSTANDING AND TRANSCENDING THE CLOTHESLINE PROJECT: A LESSON IN ACTIVISM C308

Three Simmons students examine aspects of the Clothesline Project. The broader implications of domestic violence within a community focusing on activism via the Clothesline Project are presented.

Jodi H. Cohen, Simmons College
Elana Climo, Simmons College
Stephanie Simard, Simmons College

50% + 50% = 200%: SUBVERTING THE ‘DOUBLE DUTY’ OF WOMEN’S STUDIES/ETHNIC STUDIES JOINT APPOINTMENTS L309

The plight of jointly appointed faculty in Women’s Studies/Ethnic Studies and more traditional departments is discussed. This roundtable will discuss how institutional arrangements that allow for the growth of small developing programs/departments and interdisciplinary work serve to perpetuate and reify histories of marginalization while simultaneously offering a place of resistance and subversion.

Mary K Bloodsworth, Washington State University
Carmen R. Lugo-Curry, Washington State University
Kendal L. Broad, University of Florida
Shelli B. Fowler, Washington State University
Professional Development / Continuing Education Institute
Saturday, June 17, 2000

THE PROFESSIONAL DEVELOPMENT / CONTINUING EDUCATION INSTITUTE
VIOLENCE IN SCHOOL/VIOLENCE IN SCHOOLING
DAY SCHEDULE AND WORKSHOPS

8:00 - 9:00 - REGISTRATION AND COFFEE
MAIN CAMPUS BUILDING - FACULTY STAFF LOUNGE (MAIN REGISTRATION AREA)

9:00 - 10:30 - PLENARY SESSION
REED AUDITORIUM, MASSACHUSETTS COLLEGE OF PHARMACY
VIOLENCE IN SCHOOL/VIOLENCE IN SCHOOLING
Christina Brinkley, Theresa Perry, Jane Hardin, Gail Dines

10:45 - 12:00 - SESSIONS: BACKGROUND, HISTORY, KNOWLEDGE

12:00 - 12:45 - LUNCH SESSION - C103
Jane Hardin, Simmons College
Sandra Caruso, A Columbine High School Parent
A Discussion of the events that have occurred since last year’s tragedy in Littleton, CO

1:00 - 2:00 KEYNOTE ADDRESS
REED AUDITORIUM, MASSACHUSETTS COLLEGE OF PHARMACY
Christine Sleeter, California State University, Monterey Bay
An Empowering Curriculum as an Alternative to Violence

This talk will examine key themes that constitute an empowering curriculum. The themes are drawn from an analysis of ideas that emerge in scholarship in women’s studies, ethnic studies, and other critical studies, and in the work of Paulo Freire. It will be argued that one of the reasons youth turn to violence is that they feel powerless to address real issues affecting their lives; this is particularly true of youth from historically oppressed groups. Adults working with youth can help them examine real issues and take action toward those issues, following processes similar to those Freire used. The intellectual work in ethnic studies, women’s studies, and other critical studies provides guidance to educators in identifying and framing those issues to construct an empowering curriculum.

2:15 - 3:30 - SESSIONS: STRATEGIES FOR CHANGE

3:50 - 5:00 - CLOSING PANELS: STRATEGIES FOR CHANGE
Professional Development Institute Sessions - 10:45 am

Session One: Background, History and Knowledge

TOWARDS AN UNDERSTANDING OF AFRICAN AMERICAN SCHOOL ACHIEVEMENT
WHEELOCK 24B

This workshop examines the nature of the task of achievement for African Americans as a racial caste group, and in the post-civil rights era. The author argues that counter-hegemonic, figured school communities are critical to high academic achievement among African American children and youth.

Theresa Perry, Wheelock College

RADICAL INTERVENTION: USING THE MEDIA AS A TRANSgressive TOOL to ERADICate INTELlectual VIOLENCE IN SCHOOLS
WHEELOCK 25

From television and music to newspapers and magazines, the media can only generate positive results if it is constantly questioned and pressured to do so; social change can only occur if it is supported by healthy open-minded education and supplied with a public outlet like youth-produced media. This workshop explores how teachers can use the media to address issues of racism and sexism in our society.

Celina De Leon, Teen Voices
Alison Amorosa, Teen Voices
Trina Jackson, Teen Voices

USING MULTICULTURAL CHILDREN’S LITERATURE EFFECTIVELY
WHEELOCK 24A

There is a great body of children’s literature that purports to be multicultural. Not all of this literature actually addresses multicultural issues in positive and effective ways. This workshop will examine books that are both problematic and positive. It will also discuss how to use the literature effectively in helping children develop their critical consciousness.

Terry Meier, Wheelock College

WHAT GIRLS ARE LEARNING: IN AND OUT OF THE CLASSROOMS, CORRIDORS, AND COMMUNITIES
WHEELOCK 14

In Boal theatre work, voice and moral agency are rehearsed in attentive classroom settings. Students and faculty come together around scenarios based on dilemmas present in real community life and explore them from their real standpoints in a structured activity. An intergenerational team will lead an introduction to Boal work and describe cases from real campus settings.

Betty Smith Franklin, Goucher College
Beth Popelka, Wheelock College

RACISM AND SEXISM IN SCHOOL AND SOCIETY
C106

Jennifer Lemon, University of South Africa

Teaching and Transforming Gender Studies in a Changing Society: The Challenges of South African Feminist Discourses

This paper addresses the critical issues and challenges faced by the transformative process of designing curricula and teaching Gender Studies by means of distance education in South Africa in a new democratic dispensation. It addresses the specific issues that inform feminist theoretical debates in South Africa within an essential sociopolitical and historical context. It necessarily examines the intersections of race, class, gender and sexual orientation in a context of radical social and cultural transformation.

VIOLENCE BY THE NUMBERS: THE MISUSE OF ACCOUNTABILITY BASED SCHOOL REFORM
HOLMES SPORTS CENTER, ROOM 1

This workshop addresses high-stakes testing for children as a misuse of accountability and standards based school reform. Guidelines are offered for equitable assessment practices that promote high standards, inform learning and teaching, and that benefits all teachers.

Roberta Altman, Bank Street College
Donna McKibbens, Wheelock College

(RE)-CLAIMING MATHEMATICAL INTELLIGENCE
HOLMES SPORTS CENTER, ROOM 2

Too many students experience the mathematics classroom as a scary and boring place where they are expected to memorize rules that make no sense. Yet the mathematics classroom can also be a place of great empowerment, community and beauty, where students of all ages learn to explore intricate patterns, learn to construct logical arguments and work together. This workshop will look at who benefits from the “drill and kill” model of math education and explore alternatives which welcome those who have been excluded from mathematics.

Debra Borkovitz, Wheelock College
Helen McGah, Dallin School and Wheelock College
Minai Kam, Another Course to College

VIOLENCE AGAINST GIRLS AND WOMEN IN THE SCHOOL, THE HOME AND POPULAR CULTURE
EVANS HALL LOUNGE

Carol Sheffield, William Paterson College

Teaching and Learning about Sexual Violence: Subverting the Popular Culture

Nancy Worcester, University of Wisconsin, Madison

Schools Respond to Dating and Domestic Violence: A Doing Multicultural Work: Working Within the School as an Institution
Wheellock 24A
This workshop will explore how teachers can include the voices, experiences and history of the people are not found in the standard curriculum. Examples from the classroom will be given and the responses of the children will be discussed.

Rita Tenorio, La Escuela Fratney

"Black is ... and Black Ain't": Discursive Violence and Sites of Memory in American Literature
Dance Studio
This workshop explores fiction as a prism through which to view history and memory as they pertain to the African-American experiences in the U.S., and that of Black women in particular.

Joyce Hope Scott, Wheelock College leaders can be encouraged to act as empowered bystanders who can confront abusive peers and work towards preventing male bullying and violence against women.

Jeff O'Brien, Center for the Study of Sport in Society

SCHOOL CULTURE AND VIOLENCE: PROVIDING SCHOOLS AND TEACHERS WITH DISCURSIVE AUTHORITY TO NARRATE, INTERPRET AND ADDRESS FEAR

HOLMES SPORTS CENTER, ROOM 2

This panel explores the gendered and racialized representations that have emerged in the interpretation of the Columbine massacre, offers a qualitative study with teachers about their feelings of fear as a result of this increased school violence, and introduces somatics pedagogy as a feminist strategy to combat fear and violence that reaches across ethnic, class, gender and racial boundaries.

Jill Lynch, Ohio State University
Lu Bailey, Ohio State University
Maryanna D. Klatt, Ohio State University

THE CHICANO CIVIL RIGHTS MOVEMENT: DOCUMENTARY AND DISCUSSION

BARTEL HALL DINING ROOM

Marie Celestin, Simmons College

Professional Development Institute - Closing Panels

3:50 pm

STRATEGIES FOR CHANGE

Conference participants will split up into activist-based groups to work on organizing for social change. Each participant will select a particular area they wish to pursue further and develop short-term and long-term strategies for bringing about social change in their area of expertise.
When Valda Lewis asked me to write a tribute to Dana Shugar, I agreed immediately, even though I can't give a chronology of her participation in NWSA or even my relationship with her. I don't remember specific meetings, places, times. I don't know when we first met, or did NWSA together for the last time. But here's what I do remember...

Joan M. Garry
Executive Director of Gay, Lesbian, Alliance Against Defamation (GLAAD)

Lesbian Images in the Media and the Impact on Culture and Society

Joan M. Garry is the executive director of the Gay & Lesbian Alliance Against Defamation (GLAAD), the nation's lesbian and gay media advocacy organization. GLAAD's mission is to promote and ensure fair, accurate and inclusive representation of individuals and events in all media as a means of eliminating homophobia and discrimination based on gender identity and sexual orientation. Under Ms. Garry's leadership, GLAAD has nearly doubled its staff and budget since her arrival in May, 1997.

Willa J. Taylor
Community Activist and former Chair of the National Black Lesbian and Gay Leadership Forum (NBLGLF)

Who Speaks for Lesbians of Color in the National Agenda

Willa Taylor received her MFA in film from American University in 1986 after 12 years as a linguist in the U.S. Navy. Through her production company, RealJob, she produced the radio series, Profiles in Black, for Armed Forces Radio; Dark Eyes, Visions of Black Women, for the 1987 Women's International Film Festival; and the award winning series, A Women's Place, for cable television. Taylor also served as Cultural Festival Director for Gay Games IV. She has been the Educational Program Coordinator for Lincoln Center Theater since 1992 and is responsible for developing and coordinating a comprehensive educational outreach program targeting New York City's public schools. In addition to her work in the arts, Taylor served as Chair of the Board for the National Black Lesbian and Gay Leadership Forum which advocates on behalf of the black LGBT community in order to fight the spread of AIDS/HIV.

Bette Tallen
NWSA Governing Council member, Lesbian Caucus and Jewish Caucus member

Who Speaks for Lesbians in NWSA

A born and bred New Yorker, Dr. Tallen has spent over 25 years working with institutions of higher education as both a faculty member and administrator. Currently at the University of Central Florida, she is the Assistant Director of Diversity Programming. She has also consulted and conducted training for many not-for-profit agencies and groups in the community. She has published several articles in the area of women's studies, specifically in feminist theory and women and health issues. Her 1990 article on "Women and 12 Step Programs", received the Distinguished Publication Award from the Association of Women in Psychology. She currently serves as head of the Ethics and Equity Committee. She is also a Seminole County Guardian ad Litem.
In San Francisco in 1955 Del Martin and Phyllis Lyon, with six other Lesbians, founded the Daughters of Bilitis, the first national Lesbian organization. They have been a couple for 47 years and have been active in the Lesbian, Gay, Bisexual, Transgender and Women's Movements. Both were among the founders of the Council on Religion and the Homosexual (1964), Citizens Alert (1965), Lesbian Mothers Union (1971), Alice B. Toklas Memorial Democratic Club (1972), La Casa de las Madres (1976), San Francisco Feminist Democrats (1978).

Both were delegates to the White House Conference on Aging in 1995, Martin appointed by Senator Dianne Feinstein and Lyon by Congresswoman Nancy Pelosi. They also keynoted the Conference on Lesbian and Gay Aging held by Senior Action in a Gay Environment and Fordham University in 1998. They currently serve on the Advisory Board to Gay and Lesbian Outreach to Elders and are active members of Old Lesbians Organizing for Change.

Lyon was a co-founder of sex education organizations National Sex Forum (1968) and The Institute for Advanced Study of Human Sexuality (1976). She was a co-founder of the Citizens Advisory Board to the Center for Special Problems (1973), Chairperson in 1978. She served on the San Francisco Human Rights Commission (1976-87) and was Chairperson in 1982-83.

Lesbian Institute 10:15

GAY (AND LESBIAN?) POLITICS: LESBIANS IN THE GAY RIGHTS AND QUEER MOVEMENTS C318

While the phrase "gay and lesbian rights" slips easily off the tongue and "queer" as envisioned by Teresa de Lauretis in her influential introduction to the 1991 special issue of Differences, makes possible a synthesis of gay and lesbian concerns, neither the gay nor the queer movements have provided comfortable spaces for the lesbians. Lesbians have continually had to fight to have their difference, their social location as women, acknowledged. The papers in this panel discuss this problem through an examination of the homophile, gay liberation, and queer movements.

Amy Hauer, Ohio State University
The "Homosexual Bill of Rights": Lesbian Identity and Politics in the Homophile Movement JoAnne Myers, Marist College
Voices in the Gay Malestream Barbara Love, Danbury, CT

BUTCH, FEMME, AND TRANS: CONTESTED IDENTITIES E303

This panel addresses Butch, Femme, and Trans identities based on the personal experiences of the panelists, reflections on membership in queer organizations and feminist and queer theory. In addition, the panelists interrogate feminist and lesbian feminist resistance to butch/femme and queer identities.

Donna Ezrol, William Paterson University
Arlene Holpp Scala, William Paterson University
Jen Probst, William Paterson University
Stephanie Koncicki, Westfield, NJ

Yi-Miao Huang, George Washington University
Do Ask, Do Tell: Identity Issues and Lesbian Activism Among East Asian American Lesbians

Through interviews with six East Asian-American lesbians, the paper examines issues of identities in this specific lesbian community. The author also examines possible strategies and approaches for activism both in and beyond Asian-American lesbian communities.

MEDIA ADVOCACY TRAINING E209

GLAAD Workshop Academics and Media Advocacy

This session explores the value and role of academics in media advocacy.

SAPPHO AND THE ACADEMY: LESBIAN, BISEXUAL, AND HETEROSEXUAL PROFESSORS AND STUDENTS REACT TO LESBIAN STUDIES C308

A Lesbian History professor and a female heterosexual Psychology professor will discuss, along with our lesbian, bisexual and heterosexual students, the effect of our sexual orientation on our interpretation of course material in Lesbian Studies, and what else goes on in the classroom besides exchange of subject matter—what is the subtext?

Sarah Hall Sternglanz, SUNY-Stony Brook
A Heterosexual Psychology Professor Teaches "The Psychology of Women's Sexual Orientation"
Diana Millillo SUNY-Stony Brook, Student Response
Helen Rodnite Lemay, SUNY-Stony Brook
A Post-Sexual Lesbian Former Heterosexual History Professor Teaches "Historical Perspectives on Gender Orientation Issues"
Anya Mukarji-Connelly, CUNY Law School, Student Response
Janine Savastano, SUNY-Stony Brook, Student Response
Karla Hernandez, SUNY-Stony Brook, Student Response
Kristen Raju, SUNY-Stony Brook, Student Response

GENDER IN THE CLASSROOM C106

Jill Mackey, Lincoln University
Do Cultural Diversity Classes Help Change Negative Attitudes Toward Lesbians and Gay Men? One Educator's Experience

Using Herek’s (1988) “Attitudes Toward Lesbians and Gay Men Scale” (ATLG), the presenter examines pre- and post-semester attitudes of Cultural Diversity students toward lesbians and gay men. Can education change negative attitudes, especially among those whose religious beliefs preclude tolerance toward homosexuals?

Jennifer Lemon, University of South Africa
Teaching and Transforming Gender Studies in a Changing Society: The Challenges of South African Feminist Discourses

This paper addresses the critical issues and challenges faced by the transformatory process of designing curricula and teaching Gender Studies by means of distance education in South Africa in a new democratic dispensation. It addresses the specific issues that inform feminist theoretical debates in South Africa.
within an essential sociopolitical and historical context. It necessarily examines the intersections of race, class, gender and sexual orientation in a context of radical social and cultural transformation.

Lauri Fuller, Northeastern Illinois University
Teaching Lesbian Cultures: Struggles to Center Lesbianness Without Normalizing Whiteness

The author discusses some troubling aspects of the ways that, in a mostly white context, teaching and learning about lesbians and lesbian cultures can normalize whiteness. Even when discussions emphasize identities as relational by specifically explaining how and in what ways understandings of Lesbianness are mediated by race, class, and gender, whiteness can become norm.

A LESBIAN COMMUNITY IN TRANSITION:
PHOTOGRAPHS CELEBRATING THE WOMEN OF CHERRY GROVE

C104

This slide presentation of photographs documents diverse members of the lesbian community of Cherry Grove, New York during the past fifteen years. Cherry Grove, a somewhat isolated summer community, is a microcosm of gay and lesbian life. The images included capture the variety of women who comprise the community, one of the few such self-defined enclaves worldwide.

Susan Kravitz, Nassau Community College

NEGOTIATING IDENTITIES: POSTMODERN BISEXUAL/LESBIAN BODIES AND SPACES

C302

This panel explores the notions of how bisexual and lesbian identities are negotiated and problematized. Within the investigation of postmodern and/or postcolonial discourse, we find an interrogated subject, a breakdown of binary concepts, and the possibility to reconfigure identity. Bisexuality, fatness, African Diaspora, and queer rap identity all serve to permeate and mediate embedded notions of discrete and concrete subject positions.

Jessica Simmons, San Diego State University
A Fragmented Sense of Self: Negotiating National and Queer Identities in the Literature of the African Diaspora

Shaun Walsh, San Diego State University
Rap, Race, and Sexuality: Queen Pen’s Presentation of Queerness

Janet Lorenzen, San Diego State University
Bisexuality: Essentialism, Identity Politics, and a Reasoning for Identity

Sarah M. Tillery, San Diego State University
A Queer Sense of Self: The Politics of a Fat Lesbian Identity

LESBIAN ARTISTS IN CONTEMPORARY SOCIETY: SURVIVAL STRATEGIES

WHEELOCK 21

While many lesbians are hungry for art reflecting their lives, lesbian artists are often stifled by financial setbacks and other barriers. The presenters discuss the impact of current arts and media trends on lesbians including personal experiences as lesbian artists.

Martha Richards, The Fund for Women Artists
Karen Williams, Cleveland State University
Susan Stinson, Northampton, MA
Lesbian Institute 1:30

LESBIAN-THEMED PEDAGOGY: A MULTI-DISCIPLINARY PERSPECTIVE
E303

This session provides a forum to discuss the problems and potentials of presenting material on lesbians in a variety of academic courses. Facilitators from visual arts, history, political science and anthropology will present the main topics addressed in course material and the pedagogical issues these topics create.

Evelyn Blackwood, Purdue University
Pat Boling, Purdue University
Sally Hastings, Purdue University
Susan Ressler, Purdue University
Anne Charles, University of New Orleans

Lesbian Studies and Queer Theory: A Long-Term Relationship?

This paper suggests strategies for reconciling postmodern politics and queer pedagogy with lesbian feminist principles and practice in the community, in the classroom and in the academy. It examines the impact of queer thinking on pertinent founding precepts of women’s studies and lesbian feminism and measures the effectiveness of the resulting amalgam.

“LESBIAN” UNDER ERASURE: THE POLITICS OF LANGUAGE AND FIGURATION
C302

We examine twentieth-century constructions of figures that refer directly or indirectly to the term “lesbian”, but, for various reasons, do not embrace it, developing instead other terms to refer to sites marked with female same-sex desire. The papers raise the questions of how women’s studies/lesbian studies can address diversity, cultural differences, and identity politics.

Monica Bachmann, University of Michigan, Ann Arbor
Queers and Ex-Gays: Post Lesbian Figures at the Millenium
Ruth Vanita, University of Montana
All Sapphism as Far as I’ve Got: Mirrlees’ Quest for “Lesbian” Ancestry
Suparna Bhaskaran, Antioch College
Framer Framed: Queer ‘Native’ Diasporic Ethnography and Inversions/Perversions of Citizenship
Glynis Carr, Bucknell University
The Concept of ‘Nature’ in Homophobic and Pro-Lesbian Discourses, 1945-1969

This paper examines the concept of ‘nature’ and ideas of what constitutes ‘natural’ and ‘unnatural’ sexualities for women in the post-WW II period. Understanding how ‘nature’ is related to concepts of normality, morality, and health in homophobic and pro-lesbian discourses enables a more coherent, effective response to homophobia.

MEDIA ADVOCACY TRAINING
E209

GLAAD Workshop
Persistant Intentional Media Defamation
Using Dr. Laura as a case study, this session explores the best strategies for countering such defamation.

IDENTITY
C318

Julia Balen, University of Arizona
Performing Community: Negotiating Les/Bi/Gay/Trans Identity in the Gay Choral Culture

Looks at negotiations of identity within mixed Les/Bi/Gay/Trans choruses to ask how the chorus and individual members deal with overt and internalized oppressive dynamics within the “community”.

Sandra Faiman-Silva, Bridgewater State College
Negotiating Difference: Gay/Straight Community Conflict in Provincetown, MA

Provincetown, MA has become a year-round lesbian and gay community. Recently lesbians have entered the forefront of local life around efforts to adopt an anti-bias school curriculum. This paper explores how gender diverse populations create, maintain, negotiate, and resolve gender differences in community conflict arenas, sometimes masking social class antagonisms.

LET’S LAUGH ABOUT SEX
E206

Karen Williams, Cleveland State University

You are invited to take a look at the lighter, brighter side of lesbian relationships. Uncover the more enjoyable, playful aspects of interactions that are often overshadowed by trauma, misinformation, and ignorance. Become empowered toward greater self-awareness, self-love, and self-acceptance.

BREAKING OUR SILENCES, SHARING OUR LIVES: THE MAKING OF 1970s AND 80s LESBIAN ANTHOLOGIES
C308

Before Lesbian Studies, we transformed silences into language in collections of coming out stories. Editors, contributors, readers, teachers will share herstories of these early Lesbian anthologies.

Rosemary Keefe, University of Wisconsin, Superior
Margaret Cruikshank, Waldoboro, ME

100
NWSA AND THE LESBIAN CAUCUS, INTERVIEWS WITH FOUNDING MEMBERS
C106
This is a ‘work in progress’ in documentary/interview format on the founding mothers of NWSA and the early years of the lesbian caucus. A fascinating insight on the views, attitudes and tenacity and the integral beginnings and struggles of lesbians and lesbian pedagogy within NWSA.

Tucker Farley

Lesbian Institute 3:00

CREATING COMMUNITY AND FINANCIAL SECURITY FOR OLDER LESBIANS
C318
A discussion of building community and financial security for older lesbians through a newly-formed, non-profit organization: Triangle Interests. Topics include credit union and financial services, retirement/life care communities, and other critical needs of older lesbians both in academia and in local communities.

Arleen B. Dallery, La Salle University
Suzanne Baxter, Gulph Mills, PA

Anne I. Naughton, City College

Home Grown: Old Lesbian Support Systems, Ageism and the Intergenerational Rift
Who do Old Lesbians draw on when they form their financial, social, physical and emotional networks? How do these “fictive kin” and “chosen family” networks encourage intergenerational reciprocity and bonding? What are lesbians doing to solidify and invent avenues of intergenerational contact and support in the face of ageism and youthism?

WORKING WITH LESBIAN, BISEXUAL, TRANS, AND GAY ISSUES IN EDUCATION THROUGH DRAMA
C106
This workshop is designed to sensitize participants to the complexities of working with lesbian, bisexual, trans, and gay issues in schools, to help participants examine their own biases, confront homophobia, heterosexism, and genderphobia in others, and help their own students deal with these issues. DOUBLE SESSION (part one)

Arloene Holpp Scala, William Patterson University
Paula Ressler, New York University
Tania Ramalho, William Paterson University

Sharon Stonekey
Creativity, The Market, and Homophobia: Three Pieces by Sharon Stonekey
The artist presents three short pieces that poignantly demonstrate the current dilemma for lesbian artists: to create work “acceptable” to heterosexual audiences and access a mainstream market or remain true to lesbian sensibility and content to be marginalized as a “lesbian writer”.

THE HISTORY, EVOLUTION & INFLUENCE OF THE WOMEN’S MUSIC PHENOMENON ON THE LATE 20TH CENTURY WOMEN’S MOVEMENT
E206
A presentation/workshop describing the experience and evolution of the phenomenon known as ‘women’s music' from its beginnings in the early 1970s to present day. The author describes and illustrates her vast experience with songs, stories, gossip and analysis of festivals reflecting the second greatest organizing force for Lesbians (after softball) during the last decades of the 20th century.

DOUBLE SESSION (part one)

Alix Dobkin

MEDIA ADVOCACY TRAINING

GLAAD Workshop Media Essentials

This interactive session will provide you with the basic tools necessary to take the opportunity to bring fair, accurate and inclusive portrayals of our lives to the public. Topics include how to * identify opportunities to get your organization’s message out in the media, * construct a basic communications strategy in conjunction with an issue or event, * establish and maintain relationships with media professionals and media outlets in your area, * shape, control and direct your message according to the audience you are targeting, * skills to persuade listeners, readers and viewers to understand your issues better, * be a resource to the media, to provide assistance in coverage, and give you an opportunity to help create story ideas, provide sources, and create additional angles to cover, * develop interview skills and techniques that will help you take charge of interview situations and use them to your advantage.

CAN'T JUDGE A BOOK BY ITS COVER

Joyce C. Cote, Cranston, RI

At Least I Don't Look Like I Drive a Big Rig or How To Be a Y2K Lesbian Poster Child

The author considers the ways lesbians internalize outside oppressive forces which dictate acceptable appearance and behaviors for women in general. How butch is too butch? How fat is too fat? Who makes the rules?

Joy Sapinoso, San Diego State University

Creating Diverse Representations of Lesbian Sex

EASE ON DOWN THE ROAD

Meghan Herner San Diego State University

You and Me...and The Girls

“You and Me...and the girls” is an original story in which the author argues that fiction can illustrate theory in a way that eases a tension within Lesbian Studies. The story portrays a polyamorous lesbian relationship, with all the beauty and difficulty involved.

Sara Crawley, University of Florida

Fiction or Fact?: Using Feminist Methodology to Legitimize the Analysis of Fiction as Social Science

Positivistic notions of data collection prevent social scientists from grappling with social issues that are newly emerging or those in which respondents are difficult to locate or are reticent to respond. The author contends that feminist epistemologies allow social scientists to interpret a wide variety of cultural artifacts as “data”.

Yvonne Keller, Miami University of Ohio

The Search for a Usable Past: Homophobia, Lesbian Pulp Fiction, and Lesbian History

What are the conditions that allow homophobia to become part of a “usable past” for lesbian communities, historians, and literary critics? This paper takes up this question by examining how two post-Stone-wall generations address homophobia in the form of lesbian pulp novels.

TOOL FOR TRANSFORMATION: COOPERATIVE INQUIRY AS A FEMINIST PROCESS FOR HEALING FROM INTERNALIZED OPPRESSION - A STUDY OF JEWISH LESBIANS

Penny Rosenwasser, California Institute of Integral Studies

The author demonstrates: how the cooperative inquiry method was a transformative tool for Jewish lesbians exploring internalized anti-Semitism/homophobia/sexism; what we learned about internalized oppression and healing strategies; and how this process can be an empowering intervention strategy in general for lesbians exploring internalized oppression.
Lesbian Institute 4:30

THE HISTORY, EVOLUTION & INFLUENCE OF THE WOMEN’S MUSIC PHENOMENON ON THE LATE 20TH CENTURY WOMEN’S MOVEMENT
E206

A presentation/workshop describing the experience and evolution of the phenomenon known as ‘women’s music’ from its beginnings in the early 1970s to present day. The author describes and illustrates her vast experience with songs, stories, gossip and analysis of festivals reflecting the second greatest organizing force for Lesbians (after softball) during the last decades of the 20th century. DOUBLE SESSION (part two)

Alix Dobkin

WORKING WITH LESBIAN, BISEXUAL, TRANS, AND GAY ISSUES IN EDUCATION THROUGH DRAMA
C106

This workshop is designed to sensitize participants to the complexities of working with lesbian, bisexual, trans, and gay issues in schools, to help participants examine their own biases, confront homophobia, heterosexism, and genderphobia in others, and help their own students deal with these issues. DOUBLE SESSION (part two)

Arloene Holpp Scala, William Patterson University
Paula Ressler, New York University
Tania Ramalho, William Paterson University

OUT OF THE CLOSET: RESTRUCTURING THE LBGT CENTER
C318

Participants strategize to bring the LBGT[C out of the closet at a Minnesota university. We are determined to secure adequate staff positions (currently: none) and resources for LBGT[C programming (current annual budget: $300); to add “T” to its official name, and to determine an appropriate placement of the Center in the University reporting hierarchy.

Carol Perkins, Minnesota State University, Mankato
Joanna Hirvela, Minnesota State University, Mankato
Molly Doyle, Minnesota State University, Mankato
Natalie Johnson, Minnesota State University, Mankato

THE POLITICS AND PLEASURES OF WOMEN DOING DRAG
W201

This paper addresses the ways in which the theoretical approaches of Women’s Studies can be applied to the re-emergence of drag king culture. Through looking at The First International Drag King Extravaganza, the authors investigate the ways that activism, theory and entertainment can come together to begin valuable discussions on various issues within drag king culture.

Donna Troka, Emory University
Julie Applegate, Columbus, OH

SEXUALITY AS WE AGE: THE SECRET IS, IT GETS BETTER
C302

Stereotypes about women and aging can negatively affect our sex lives even if we know better. This workshop applies experiential knowledge and current research to lesbian sexuality in the middle and later years.

Elaine Wheeler

MEDIA ADVOCACY TRAINING
E209

GLAAD Workshop Media Essentials

This interactive session will provide you with the basic tools necessary to take the opportunity to bring fair, accurate and inclusive portrayals of our lives to the public. Topics include how to * identify opportunities to get your organization’s message out in the media, * construct a basic communications strategy in conjunction with an issue or event, * establish and maintain relationships with media professionals and media outlets in your area, * shape, control and direct your message according to the audience you are targeting, * skills to persuade listeners, readers and viewers to understand your issues better, * be a resource to the media, to provide assistance in coverage, and give you an opportunity to help create story ideas, provide sources, and create additional angles to cover, * develop interview skills and techniques that will help you take charge of interview situations and use them to your advantage.

LESBOPHOBIA IN THE 21ST CENTURY: WHO CARES?
E303

Increasingly, culturally pluralistic Australians are addressing the sexual diversity of society around them and the negative impact of lesbophobia in their lives. Since the 70s literature and art has begun to reflect this culture. The high incidence of poverty amongst lesbians, social isolation, homelessness, violence, and suicide has prompted this panel of four speakers to ask difficult questions and to respond to the widespread effect of lesbophobia in our society.

Susan Clements, Deakin University, Australia

Lesbophobia Inhibits Health Care
Laurel Guymer, Deakin University, Australia

Feminist Futures: Lesbian Visibility

Rhonda Bunbury, Deakin University, Australia

Youth Literature Reflects Lesbianism

Suzanne Bellamy, Deakin University, Australia

The Lesbian Visual Surreal

HEATHER’S MOMMY SPEAKS OUT: HOMOPHOBIA, CENSORSHIP AND FAMILY VALUES

C104

Heather Has Two Mommies has been challenged from coast to coast and the author has been called “America’s most dangerous writer.” She will speak about censorship, homophobia, and lesbian family rights.

Leslea Newman, Northampton, MA

Lesbian Studies Institute Sponsors

THE NATIONAL WOMEN’S STUDIES ASSOCIATION (NWSA)

UNIVERSITY OF RHODE ISLAND, WOMEN’S STUDIES DEPARTMENT

LESBIAN CAUCUS

SUBARU

Subaru cars and sport utility vehicles come in all shapes and sizes. Subaru supports the community as the proud founding sponsor of the Rainbow Endowment. The Rainbow Card benefits community health, civil rights and cultural interests. Subaru of America, Inc. is a wholly owned subsidiary of Fuji Heavy Industries Ltd. of Japan. Headquartered near Philadelphia, the company markets and distributes Subaru vehicles, parts and accessories through a network of 590 franchised dealers across the United States. The company is among the fastest growing brands in the automobile industry and was recently named “Most Improved Car Company in the World” by the London-based Financial Times Automotive World Magazine.

GAY.COM

Gay.com, The Gay Network, is the leading provider of interactive services for the gay and lesbian community. An inclusive GLBT site, with content and channels catering to the diverse needs of the community, Gay.com is the most trusted gay and lesbian site, according to Greenfield Online research. It is also the most popular site for the lesbian community, with a women’s space, women’s message boards, lesbian-specific travel information, women’s relationships advice and chat areas designed especially for women. With 2.5 million unique visitors a month, and over 2,000 network affiliates, Gay.com is the #1 gay and lesbian site on five continents and is based in San Francisco.

GLAAD

The Gay & Lesbian Alliance Against Defamation (GLAAD) is dedicated to promoting and ensuring fair, accurate and inclusive representation of individuals and events in all media as a means of eliminating homophobia and discrimination based on gender identity and sexual orientation. GLAAD was founded in New York in 1985 by a group of writers in response to defamatory, sensationalistic reporting by the New York Post. GLAAD has truly become the nation’s lesbian and gay media advocacy organization with offices from coast to coast.
Towards a Feminist Pedagogy of Science

Sunday 8:30am

C106

Towards a Feminist Pedagogy of Science

Cl06

Anita Long, University of Vermont

The Impact of Cooperative Group Learning on the Attitudes of Women in Post-Secondary Science

The author reports on a research project which looked at attitudes of women in an introductory chemistry class at the beginning and end of the semester. By comparing students who used Supplemental Instruction (SI), a facilitated small group study program, with students who did not use group work, this research explored the importance of learning in relationship to others.

Banu Subramaniam, University of Arizona

Singing the Morning Glory Blues: How to Weave Culture into Experiments on Nature

The author suggests ways in which we can use the vast resources of feminist studies of science to simultaneously study ‘nature’ and ‘culture’ in experiments on flower color variation in morning glories.

Barbara Whitten, Colorado College

Feminist and Multicultural Pedagogy in Physics: A Status Report

In the last decade, several dynamic and innovative alternatives to the standard introductory physics course have emerged. The author assesses the feminist and multicultural potential of several innovative introductory physics courses.

Women Doing Drag: Masculinity in Modern Performance

C104

Carol Burbank, University of Maryland, College Park

Ladies Against Women: Jesters Without Kings

The author presents research about Ladies Against Women (LAW), a Berkeley theatre troupe that performed feminist satire throughout the country during the 1970s, 80s, and 90s, when backlash against the second wave of feminism grew with legislative, economic and cultural resistance to social change. The author focuses on the troupe’s use of parody to support and generate activist communities that became increasingly marginalized and demonized as reactionary right-wing organizations and politicians gained power.

Elizabeth Klett, University of Illinois at Urbana-Champaign

The Heart and Stomach of a King: Female Masculinity and Shakespearean Cross-Gendered Performance

The author analyzes British actress Fiona Shaw’s performance as Richard II using Judith Butler’s theories of performativity and Judith Halberstam’s work on female masculinity.

Medical Activism

C318

Marcy Jane Newman, Miami University

War Wounds: Betty Ford’s Public(ity) Battle with Breast Cancer

In September 1974, First Lady Betty Ford waved from her hospital balcony to assure the public that she was recovering quickly from her Halsted radical mastectomy—thus embarking on a publicity campaign—the impact of which continues to be felt in historical, rhetorical, and visual displays of women with breast cancer. The author argues that Ford’s publicity about breast cancer changed breast cancer discourse from traditional female, first ‘Lady’ rhetoric by creating a bold, new kind of female publicity.

Margaret Stubbs, Pittsburgh, PA

Cynthia Pearson, Pittsburgh, PA

Family Caregivers and the Dying: The Invisible Ordeal

The authors draw upon their qualitative research of caregivers of the dying focusing on the qualities of the caregivers’ experience, and conclude with commentary on how health care policy should take lay caregivers into account and provide them with more adequate and non-exploitative support.

Rita Arditti, Women’s Community Cancer Project

Women’s Cancer Activism in the Twenty-First Century

Women’s cancer activism has largely focused on detection and treatment of breast cancer - it is now time to shift the emphasis to PREVENTION. The work of the Women’s Community Cancer Project will be discussed in relation to this principle.

The New Woman

S251A

Marcia Lagerwey-Commeret, Arlington, MA

Radiant Pages: Spaces and Traces of the Absent ‘Feminine’

The author weaves critical, autobiographical, and creative voices while focusing on the frequent textual absence of the “feminine” or womanly intelligence/creativity in twentieth-century American artistic and literary culture. The author explores the resonant, metaphorical spaces of womanly creation and creativity.

Merry Morris, Boca Raton, FL

Campaign Finance Reform and Women Candidates

The author addresses Campaign Finance law and presents analysis to show how women have suffered under the current system. The author addresses election 2000 and what we can and cannot expect from reform and how it affects women’s issues and women’s future political posture.

Susan Gilmore, Central Connecticut State University

Reviving the New Woman: Turn-of-the-Century Subversives in the Millennial Mainstream

The author examines the resurgence of the New Woman in contemporary popular culture including the 1997 film Titanic. To evaluate the impulse to resurrect and redefine the New Woman, we must ask whether she has been either co-opted or revived as a radical model or mentor for Twenty-first Century woman.
OF INTEREST TO WOMEN EVERYWHERE
S251B
Amanda Hart, Minnesota State University, Mankato
Tracking the Defense of Marriage Act of 1996: A Feminist Look Into the Congressional Debates
Through an analysis of the Defense of Marriage Act of 1996, the author interprets the strengths and weaknesses of a proposed same-sex marriage policy. The author identifies strategies to enable the strengthening of all families, regardless of their composition.

Pamela Kemner, UC Clermont College
Bring It On Back Home: Women’s Studies and Women’s Services / UC Clermont College
What is it like for a “non-traditional” first generation rural college student to encounter women’s studies? The author examines the challenges and goals of developing women’s studies and women’s services at an open admissions college that serves primarily second and third generation Appalachian women.

AEROBICS FOR THE MIND II: MORE EXERCISES FOR THE INTRODUCTORY WOMEN’S STUDIES CLASSROOM E207
In this hands-on workshop, we will demonstrate a variety of exercises developed for the introductory women’s studies classroom. These exercises are designed to get students involved and to think about issues such as oppression, racism, classism, homophobia, etc. Participants will be provided with a packet of handouts for the exercises discussed.

John Kellermeyer, SUNY-Plattsburgh
Dian Ulner, Community College of Vermont
WE GOT GAME: WOMEN WRITE THEIR STORIES OF SPORT L504B
Female athletes subvert and transform public expectations of ‘body’, ‘competence’, and ‘strength’. This session focuses on using women’s sport fiction, popular ethnographies of women’s team sport, and female student-athletes’ own writings to examine and teach women’s sporting experiences.

Joli Sandoz, The Evergreen State College
Joby Winans, Independent Scholar
As It Is and Could Be: Women’s Sport Fiction
James Mancall, Harvard University
Because I Love It: Women Athletes in the First-Year Writing Classroom
Teri Bostian, Grinnell College
Beautiful Games: The Ethnography in Women’s Sports Literature

A GROWING CRISIS FOR WOMEN’S REPRODUCTIVE HEALTH CARE: MERGERS OF RELIGIOUS AND SECULAR HOSPITALS IN THE USA L306
Across the U.S. legal women’s reproductive health services—such as abortion, contraception, sterilizations and infertility services—are being banned at community hospitals and clinics. This stealth campaign to eliminate vital women’s health services is taking place through the mergers of religiously affiliated hospitals (such as Catholic or Baptist facilities) with historically nonsectarian community hospitals. The MergerWatch Project of Family Planning Advocates documents how feminists are organizing to fight back. This workshop presents examples of effective feminist community organizing.

Lois Uttley, University at Albany

GRADUATES OF THE WOMEN’S STUDIES MASTER’S PROGRAM AT SAN DIEGO STATE UNIVERSITY TALK ABOUT THEIR EXPERIENCES: AN ORAL HISTORY PROJECT CONDUCTED BY CURRENT STUDENTS IN THE WOMEN’S STUDIES MASTER’S PROGRAM S222
This panel presents a record of a history of women’s experiences and offers useful information to students, the Women’s Studies program at San Diego State University, and new Women’s Studies graduate programs through its creation of an oral history of San Diego State University Women’s Studies Master’s graduates’ expectations and suggestions for improvement.

Laura Adams, San Diego State University
Introduction
Shinobu Hosono, San Diego State University
Methods
Teresa Baker-Evans, San Diego State University
Good Stuff
Meghan Herner, San Diego State University
Room For Improvement
Rebecca Bowman, San Diego State University
Conclusion and Reflection
Joy Sapinoso, San Diego State University, Moderator

WOMEN, GENDER AND CULTURAL CITIZENSHIP IN A TRANSNATIONAL CONTEXT L308
This roundtable discussion investigates the notion of cultural citizenship as it relates to the expansion of civil society and crises of political citizenship solely defined by membership in a nation-state. As women travel and move across national borders and beyond these borders (as with refugees, immigrants, exiles), the issue of cultural citizenship has to be posed in relation to legal, historical and cultural narratives that move across national boundaries with globalized media and material cultures.

Minoo Moallem, San Francisco State University
Hyun Sook Kim, Wheaton College
Leti Volpp, School of the American University
MyYoung Lai, Purdue University
LOADING (EXPLODING) THE CANON: TEACHING LITERATURE AT A WOMEN'S COLLEGE
W201
The panelists (professors of English, French, and Spanish literatures) discuss how they deal with canonicity and the changing concepts of 'canon' in tailoring their courses to students at a liberal arts college for women.

Jennifer Morrison, Regis College
The New Renaissance and the Old: Negotiating the Divide with Today's Undergraduates
Ellen Munley, Regis College
Letting the Outsider In: Contemporary Francophone Women Authors
Lucia Ortiz, Regis College
Issues Facing Latin American Literature Today: Rethinking the Canon in the Classroom
Pat Elliott, Regis College, Chair

FEMINIST AND FREIREAN PHILOSOPHY: CHALLENGING AUTHORITARIAN MODELS
W203
The integration of feminist and Freirean philosophies of education offers a model of the ways in which enlightened and transformative practice can emerge from the application of philosophical theory. To illustrate how we have integrated these philosophies across our different disciplines, we will describe our individual and mutual pedagogical experiences.

Patricia J. Ould, Salem State College
Patricia Gozomba, Salem State College
Sofia Hernandez, Salem State College
Tricia Speid, Salem State College

TEACHING WOMEN'S STUDIES ON THE CONSERVATIVE CAMPUS: PEDAGOGICAL STRATEGIES, ETHICAL CHALLENGES
L506B
This workshop gives participants an opportunity to share experiences, problems, solutions and dilemmas to teaching Women's Studies and using feminist pedagogy on conservative campuses. Participants may discuss different patterns conservatism may take, effective pedagogical strategies, and ethical concerns about these strategies.

Patricia M. Lengermann, George Washington University
Jill Niebrugg-Brantley, Wells College

MULTIPLE LENSES, MULTIPLE STORIES: WOMEN'S STUDIES, AMERICAN STUDIES, JEWISH STUDIES
W205
Through analysis of methodology and participants' personal experiences in the university, this roundtable discussion explores the benefits and difficulties of creating intersections among Women's Studies, American Studies, and Jewish Studies.

Ruth Abusch-Magder, Yale University

Jane Rothstein, New York University
Libby Garland, University of Michigan, Ann Arbor
Leslie Paris, University of Michigan, Ann Arbor

WORKING FROM THE HEART: TEACHERS AND STUDENTS DISCUSS TRANSFORMATIVE WORK
C218
The presenters, as teachers and students, discuss what 'working from the heart' means.

Susan Stocker, Goucher College
Keren Yalon, Goucher College
Robin Kissinger, Goucher College
Sarah Stockbridge, Goucher College

THE FEMINIZATION OF COMPOSITION AND PEDAGOGIES OF CARE
L301
This panel proposes to look at what it means for women writing instructors to enact 'pedagogies of care' in a 'service' discipline that is already regarded in the university as 'soft', while at the same time performing the normative function of preparing students for their 'serious' course work and weeding out those who don't measure up.

Liza Bruna, Brooklyn, NY
The White Woman's Burden: Composition in Missionary Position
Wendy Ryden, Montclair, NJ
Pedagogies of Care or Ruminations on the Meanings of Hard and Soft
Ann Tabachnikov, New York, NY
The 'Mom'-ification of Writing Instruction: Gender and Identities in the Text of the Classroom
Plenary Session
Sunday Plenary, 10:00 - 12:00 pm
HOLMES SPORTS CENTER GYM

TRANSFORMATIONS: FEMINIST/WOMANIST/GENDER/QUEER/...STUDIES--WHERE DO WE GO FROM HERE?

What are the changes and transformations that have been taking place in "women's studies" and "feminist theory," as perspectives claiming alternative identities have emerged and flourished? What are the locations of overlap, distinctiveness, and shared standpoints or goals? What are the attractions or dangers of prioritizing some perspectives as opposed to others?

BARBARA MCCASKILL
BLACK WOMEN IN THE ACADEMY: WHERE ARE WE WOMANISTS NOW?

Barbara McCaskill is an Associate Professor of English at the University of Georgia, where she teaches African American and multicultural American literature. She is Co-Founder and current Editor of Womanist Theory and Research, and she is Chair of the Modern Language Association's Committee on the Status of Women in the Profession.

Professor McCaskill recently published an edition of Running 1,000 Miles for Freedom: The Escape of William and Ellen Craft from Slavery, and she is editing a special issue of WTR on “Black Feminists Theorizing Across the Disciplines” in collaboration with Texas Women’s University Women’s Studies Program (forthcoming Spring 2001). Her essays on contemporary black feminism and early African American feminist writers have appeared in Signs, African American Review, and other publications.

Dr. McCaskill’s remarks will take the founding of Womanist Theory and Research and the Womanist Studies Consortium as a point of departure for discussing how to define and organize black feminist/scholars in the academy. Her talk will be accompanied by slides of WTR publications and the Womanist Studies Consortium website. She will first discuss why a womanist/black feminist presence in the academy is still needed, what such a presence can realistically accomplish, and the importance of funding, administrative support, coalition-building, and faculty/student-driven initiatives to its success.

LISA DUGGAN
WHY THERE IS NO LESBIAN HISTORY: REIMAGINING BODIES AND POLITICS AT THE QUEER/FEMINIST BORDER

Lisa Duggan is a journalist, activist and historian who teaches lesbian and gay studies, queer theory, and the history of gender and sexuality in the American Studies Program at New York University, where she was also Acting Director of the Women's Studies Program during 1998-99. She is co-author with Nan D. Hunter of Sex Wars: Sexual Dissent and Political Culture, author of Sapphic Slashers: Sex, Violence and American Modernity (forthcoming, November 2000), and co-editor with Lauren Berlant of Our Monica, Ourselves: The Clinton Affair and National Interest (forthcoming, January 2001).

Lisa Duggan’s will argue that from within and without the U.S. institutional/ intellectual categories of "women’s" studies and “feminist” politics have been supplemented, challenged and revised by radical women of color in the U.S.; postcolonial writers from around the world; and lesbian, gay, bisexual, transgender and queer activists with varying investments in the university and in movements for gender equality.

These challenges have generated a productive disarticulation of the bodies-practices-politics joined in the category “lesbian.” Historians, particularly, are now confronted with the question of what lesbian history” becomes when the category is carefully investigated and historicized with all the new challenges in mind. How can we retain the progressive specificity of the political project of lesbian feminism in historical scholarship, while jettisoning the class, race, regional/national assumptions that have been attached to it?
Paula Gunn Allen is Professor Emerita of English at the University of California at Los Angeles and presently resides in the San Francisco Bay Area. She is a renowned poet, novelist, critic and scholar, a major voice in Native American literature. She has received many awards for her work, including most recently the Hubbell Medal for Lifetime Achievement in American Literature. She is author and editor of widely studied works including The Sacred Hoop; Spider Woman’s Granddaughters; Grandmothers of the Light; Life Is A Fatal Disease; and The Woman Who Owned the Shadows, among others.

In her recently published Off the Reservation: Reflections on a Boundary-Busting, Border-Crossing, Loose Canon, she writes: “Even in dreams I engaged in the pursuit of freedom. The pieces found in this collection are my later articulations of that unspoken but fundamental way of being.... Each essay is in its own way an assertion that Indians are everywhere.... Fences no more than reservations can confine us.”

Among many admiring comments by reviewers that highlight her ideas and impact: “[Gunn] Allen’s power as a medicine woman derives not from talking skulls but from her own gift as a teller of unkillable tales” (Suzanne Ruta); “Paula Gunn Allen...offers a celebration of Native American women’s literature and a scathing indictment of American academics, presidential politics, aesthetic colonization and ‘intellectual apartheid’” (Patricia Holt).
Advertisers, Book & Craft Exhibitors

* Indicates ad only.

ABAFAZI
Simmons College
300 The Fenway
Boston, MA 02115

Abafazi is an academic journal that focuses on women of African descent and is published twice a year by the African American Studies Department at Simmons College.

Association of American University Presses, Inc.
71 West 23rd Street, Suite 901
NY, NY 10010

Representing the best in academic and scholarly publishing.

Association Book Exhibit
639 South Washington Street
Alexandria, VA 22314

A combined exhibit of professional books from leading academic publishers. Free catalogue available.

ATHENA
108 E. Kirkwood
Bloomington, IN 47408

Cool goddess clothing, jewelry and other fine stuff, plus sign up for a chair or table massage.

Aunt Lute Books
P.O. Box 410687
San Francisco, CA 94141

Aunt Lute Books is an independent, feminist, multicultural press specializing in publication of fiction and social criticism by women of all backgrounds.

Beacon Press
25 Beacon Street
Boston, MA 02108

Books by Lani Guinier, Paula Gunn Allen, and more, plus books on the social history of breastfeeding, matriarchal myths, and other key topics.

Boston Women's Health Book Collective
P.O. Box 192
240A Elm Street
Somerville, MA 02144

The Boston Women's Health Book Collective is a women's health education and advocacy organization best known for the book Our Bodies, Ourselves.

Calyx Books
P.O. Box B
Corvallis, OR 97339

Publisher of fine literature by women for 24 years.

*Canadian Woman Studies
212 Founders, York University
4700 Keele Street
Toronto, ON M3J 1P3 Canada

Canadian Woman Studies is a feminist quarterly which was founded with the goal of making current writing and research on a wide variety of feminist topics accessible to the largest possible community of women.

*Center for Gender in Organizations
Simmons Graduate School of Management
409 Commonwealth Avenue
Boston, MA 02215

Center for Research on Women
Clement Hall 339
The University of Memphis
Memphis, TN 38152-6105

Known for its pioneering work on the integration of race, class and gender, CROW's mission is to conduct, promote and disseminate research on women and social inequality.

Chicory Blue Press
795 East Street North
Goshen, CT 06756

Literary press featuring strong writing by older women.

Clark University
950 Main Street
Worcester, MA 01610

Women's Studies undergraduate concentration, Ph.D. program.

*Cornell University Press
Sage House
512 East State Street
Ithaca, NY 14850

Cornell University Press was established in 1869. All books that carry its imprints have been approved by a Board of Editors, consisting of members of the Cornell University faculty. Cornell University Press, Comstock Publishing Associates, and ILR Press publish general and specialized non-fiction in a wide range of fields.

Feminist Pioneers Directory
780 West End Avenue, Apt. 5D
NY, NY 10025

A project to document contributions of pioneers of the second wave, active between 1963-1973.

*Feminist Majority Foundation
1600 Wilson Blvd, Suite 801
Arlington, VA 22209

The Feminist Majority Foundation is a cutting edge research and action organization dedicated to women's equality, reproductive health, and non-violence, through research and public policy development, public education programs, grassroots organizing projects, and training the next generation of feminist leaders. www.feminist.org
The Feminist Press of The City University of New York
365 5th Avenue, Suite 5406
NY, NY 10016

The Feminist Press at the City University of New York, "a pioneer in discovering, and rediscovering, books by and about women," (Associated Press) and the oldest continuing feminist publisher in the world, celebrates 30 years of publishing in the year 2000. Visit our booth for information on our new books: The Politics of Women's Studies: Testimony from Thirty Founding Mothers; Sisterhood is Powerful (special 30th anniversary edition); and Women's Studies Quarterly: Building Inclusive Science.

Feminist Studies
c/o The Women's Studies Department
University of Maryland
College Park, MD 20742

The journal, Feminist Studies, publishes a variety of work that focuses on women's experiences, on gender as a category of analysis, and that furthers feminist theory.

Feminist Teacher
English Department, University of Wisconsin, Eau Claire
Eau Claire, WI 54702-4004

Feminist Teacher serves as a forum for discussions related to educated and written from a variety of feminist perspectives.

*FRAMELINE
346 Ninth Street
San Francisco, CA 94103-3809

National distributor of lesbian and gay educational film and video.

Frontiers: A Journal of Women Studies
Wilson 12, Washington State University
Pullman, WA 99164-4007

Frontiers: A Journal of Women Studies is a multidisciplinary and multicultural journal that crosses and reexamines boundaries in order to explore the diversity of women's lives as shaped by factors such as race, ethnicity, class, sexual orientation, and region.

HarperCollins Publishers
10 East 53rd Street
NY, NY 10022

Books on women's studies including history, sociology, art, psychology, religion, health, business and resources.

The Haworth Press, Inc.
10 Alice Street
Binghamton, NY 13904

Publishes academic books and journals.

Indiana University Press
601 N. Morton Street
Bloomington, IN 47406

Indiana University Press is a major international scholarly publisher with headquarters on the Bloomington campus of Indiana University.

Jamaicaway Books and Gifts
676 Centre Street
Jamaica Plain, MA 02130

Jamaicaway Books and Gifts is a multicultural bookstore with both adult and children's literature. The store has a diverse range of unique gifts, prints and original art from around the world.

Jewish Women's Resource Center
820 Second Avenue
NY, NY 10017-4504

Originate Jewish Feminist materials and conferences.

The Kent State University Press
P.O. Box 5190
307 Lowry Hall
Kent, OH 44242-0001

Publisher of scholarly monographs and journals and regional and trade books.

Mayfield Publishing Company
1280 Villa Street
Mountain View, CA 94041

Mayfield Publishing is a college textbook publisher committed to providing tools that help solve teaching problems.

McFarland & Company, Inc., Publishers
P.O. Box 611
Jefferson, NC 28640

A scholarly and reference publisher with a large line of women's studies titles.

McGraw-Hill
699 Boylston Street
Boston, MA 02116

McGraw-Hill publishes a broad list of college texts for Women's Studies.

New Moon Studio
P.O. Box 934
West Brookfield, MA 01585

New Moon Studio, www.newmoonstudio.com, creates feminist landscapes and famous womyn in herstory woodcut prints to inspire womyn today and in the future.

New Victoria Publishers
P.O. Box 27
Norwich, VT 05055

New Victoria is a non-profit feminist literary and cultural organization, publishing novels for over fifteen years with over 80 titles in print.

New Words Bookstore
184 Hampshire Street
Cambridge, MA 02139
Advertisers, Book & Craft Exhibitors

New Words is one of the oldest and largest women’s bookstores in the US, offering a wealth of titles from the feminist canon to the cutting edge.

Northeastern University Press
360 Huntington Ave, 416 CP
Boston, MA 02115
Northeastern University Press publishes scholarly and general interest titles in Women’s Studies covering the areas of History, Literature, Sociology, Law & Society, Music, and Women’s Life Writings.

NWSA Journal
109 IG Greer
P.O. Box 32132
Appalachian State University
Boone, NC 28608-2132
The NWSA Journal is the scholarly publication of the National Women’s Studies Association, published by Indiana University Press.

off our backs
2337 B 18th Street, NW
Washington, DC 20009
off our backs is a national, monthly feminist newspaper.

Oryx
4041 N. Central Ave. Ste.
Phoenix, AZ 85012
Oryx is committed to offering publications on critical subjects about women, contemporary issues affecting women, and emerging topics of importance to women.

Pearson Custom Publishing
75 Arlington Street, Suite 300
Boston, MA 02116
Pearson Custom Publishing is the sister company of Addison Wesley Longman, Allyn & Bacon and Prentice Hall, specializing in custom books for colleges and universities across the United States and Canada.

Penguin Putnam
375 Hudson Street
NY, NY 10014

*Resources for Feminist Research
Ontario Institute for Studies in Education/VT
252 Bloor W
Toronto MSS 1V6 Canada
Resources for Feminist Research is an international, bilingual (English/French) journal for feminist research.

*Rhea Cote Robbins
641 South Main Street
Brewer, ME 04412

Wednesday’s Child, published by Rheta Press, is an award winning, creative nonfiction book about the Franco-American culture. The Franco-American Women’s Institute is an organization to raise awareness about the Franco-American women and their contributions to the culture.

Routledge
29 W. 35th Street
NY, NY 10001
Routledge will offer a 20% discount on a wide range of books that will be of interest to NWSA 2000 attendees.

Rowman & Littlefield Publishers
4720 Boston Way
Lanham, MD 20706
Innovative texts for college courses and crossover trade books conveying scholarly trends to an educated readership.

The Scholar’s Choice
1260 Sibley Tower
Rochester, NY 14604
The Scholar’s Choice exhibits scholarly books and journals from university and academic publishers.

Seal Press
3131 Western Avenue, #410
Seattle, WA 98121
Seal Press is an independent, women-owned publisher specializing in quality fiction and non-fiction by women writers.

Social Security Administration
6401 Security Blvd, 4300 WHR
Baltimore, MD 21235
The Social security program has been the most successful domestic program, providing economic protection for Americans of all ages, for the past 60 years.

South End Press
7 Brookline Street, Suite I
Cambridge, MA 02139-4146
Progressive non-profit publisher.

Spinifex Press
P.O. Box 212
504 Queensberry Street
North Melbourne,
Vic 3051, Australia
Spinifex Press is an independent feminist press, publishing innovative and controversial fiction and non-fiction by Australian and international authors.

Spinsters Ink
32 East First Street
Duluth, MN 55802
Spinsters Ink publishes feminist fiction and non-fiction; 20% show discount!
St. Martin’s Press, Scholarly & Reference Division
175 Fifth Avenue
NY, NY 10010
Cutting-edge publisher of scholarly books encompassing all aspects of gender studies.

State University of New York Press
State University Plaza
Albany, NY 12246
Publisher of scholarly and trade books, focusing on the humanities, social sciences, and fiction.

*Subaru of America
Sponsor of the NWSA Dana Shugar Lesbian Studies Institute

Teachers’ College Press
1234 Amsterdam Avenue
NY, NY 10027
Publisher of works on the cutting edge of theory, research and practice in education.

Triangle Interests
128 Leverington Street
Philadelphia, PA 19127
Triangle Interests seeks to build community and financial security for older lesbians.

Unitarian Universalist Women’s Heritage Society
2 Elm Street
Malden, MA 02148
The Unitarian Universalist Women’s Heritage Society is a resource center and network of scholars and other folks interested in the influence of liberal religion on the lives of women in history and in the impact of these women on the world.

University of Chicago Press
5801 S. Ellis Avenue
Chicago, IL 60637
The University of Chicago Press publishes a wide range of scholarly books, including titles in the fields of women’s studies, gay and lesbian studies, and gender studies.

University of Michigan Press
839 Greene Street
Ann Arbor, MI 48106
Scholarly publisher of feminist and gender studies and related fields in the humanities and social sciences.

University of Minnesota Press
111 Third Avenue South, Suite 290
Minneapolis, MN 55401
A nonprofit, scholarly publisher that supports the intellectual activities of the University of Minnesota.

University Press of New England
23 S. Main Street
Hanover, NH 03755-2055
University Press of New England publishes scholarly books in a variety of fields including women’s studies, Jewish studies, nature/environment, and many more.

Wages for Housework Campaign
P.O. Box 11795
Philadelphia, PA 19101
The Wages for Housework Campaign is an international, multiracial, grassroots women’s network for recognition of all the unwaged work women do, including the double-day, low-waged work outside the home on top of unwaged work in the home and in communities, and for this work to be compensated.

Francie Wolff
Interlibrary Loan, Duane G. Meyer Library
Southwest Missouri State University
Springfield, MO 65804
Francie Wolff, author of Give the Ballot to the Mothers: Songs of the Suffragists...A History in Song, video and book, will be representing Denlinger’s Publishers.

Women, Ink.
777 United Nations
NY, NY 10017
Women, Ink. is a project of the International Women’s Tribune Centre to market and distribute books on women and development worldwide with a focus on the Global South.

Women Make Movies
462 Broadway, Suite 500L
NY, NY 10013
Women Make Movies, the nation’s largest distributor of films and videotapes by and about women, is a non-profit feminist, multicultural media organization which provides services to both the producers and users of women’s media.

*Women’s Educational Industrial Union
356 Boylston Street
Boston, MA 02116
Shop with us to empower women and families in Greater Boston.

Women’s Project
2234 Main Street
Little Rock, AR 72206
The Women’s Project, working for social and economic justice since 1981, uses educational and organizing strategies to create a world free of discrimination, violence and economic injustice.

The Women’s Review of Books
Wellesley College
Wellesley, MA 02481
The Women’s Review of Books, in existence since 1983, is a monthly magazine that publishes reviews of new books by and about women, in all fields, from trade, academic and small presses.
Women’s Studies Librarian for the University of Wisconsin System
430 Memorial Library
728 State Street
Madison, WI 53706

The Women’s Studies Librarian’s Office for the University of Wisconsin System publishes Feminist Collections and other resource publications and maintains a women’s studies Internet gateway at http://www.library.wisc.edu/libraries/WomensStudies/

The Writings of Mary Baker Eddy
175 Huntington Avenue
Boston, MA 02115

Writings of Mary Baker Eddy, speakers bureau for college classrooms, exhibits for university libraries, student unions, women’s centers, etc.

*Zeitgeist Films, LTD.
247 Centre Street, 2nd Floor
NY, NY 10013

Zeitgeist Film Ltd’s collection of the best in independent and international cinema has been accumulated over the past 12 years by working with the most talented and innovative film makers in the U.S. and abroad.
The Center for Gender in Organizations at SIMMONS Graduate School of Management is an international resource for improving effectiveness in organizations through strengthening gender equity.

Working at the intersection of scholarship and practice, CGO focuses on five sets of activities:

Research - To understand the gender dynamics in organizations and their impact on organizational performance.

Action Learning - Catalyze and support change projects in organizations to foster gender equity and workplace effectiveness.

Education - Develop courses for women leaders and organizational change agents as well as customized programs for organizations.

Convening - Convene scholars and practitioners working on cutting edge issues of gender and diversity in organizations.

Resource - Disseminate new knowledge and information on gender in the workplace.

To learn more about the Center for Gender in Organizations, visit our website at www.simmons.edu/gsm/cgo

T: 617.521.3876
E: cgo@simmons.edu

Co-Directors: Deborah M. Kolb and Deborah M. Merrill-Sands
It's Not a Choice. It's the Way We're Built.

Subaru All-Wheel Driving System.
In every car we make.

Maximum traction, agility and safety. Experience the performance of the Subaru All-Wheel Driving System in the versatility of the Outback, the ruggedness of the Forester and the get-up-and-go of the Legacy GT Limited. To test drive one of our family of cars, stop by your nearest Subaru dealer, call 1-800-WANT-AWD or visit our Website at www.subaru.com.

Subaru supports the community as the proud founding sponsor of the Rainbow Endowment. The Rainbow benefits health, civil rights and cultural interests. For more information or to apply, call 1-800-99-RAINBOW.

SUBARU
The Beauty of All-Wheel Drive.
THE END OF THE CLASS WAR stories by Catherine Brady
Irish American working-class women's lives.
"...beautifully crafted..." Publishers Weekly
$14.95 paper

BLACK CANDLE (REVISED EDITION)
poetry by Chitra Banerjee Divakaruni
Poems about women from India, Pakistan, and Bangladesh.
"Deeply human, unabashedly feminist..."
Booklist
$12.95 paper

CALYX A Journal of Art and Literature by Women
PO Box B • Corvallis, OR 97339
Toll-free: 1-888-FEM-BOOK • E-mail: calyx@proaxis.com

Frameline Distribution
Film + video catalog 2000
Award-winning films and videos for Women & Gender Studies
For more information and to receive a FREE 2000 catalog call (415) 703-3854.

An Indispensable Resource for the Feminist Reader Canadian Woman Studies is a feminist quarterly founded with the goal of making current writing and research on a wide variety of feminist topics accessible to the largest possible community of women. Our most recent issue,
"Women in Conflict Zones" explores the lived experiences of women in war-torn countries and their strategies for peace and nation-building. Upcoming issues include: National Identity and Gender Politics; Young Women:
Activists, Feminists, Girls; Women, Art, and Activism; Sex; Latino Women; Farm Women; Women and Health; and more! Insightful, informative, and inspiring, Canadian Woman Studies belongs in every woman's library!

Don't Miss a Single Issue! Subscribe Today!

☐ Yes! I want Canadian Woman Studies delivered right to my door!
☐ Start my subscription with the Winter 2000 issue, "Women in Conflict Zones!

Name__________________________
Address__________________________
City ___________________ Prov. ________ Postal Code ____________ Country__________

Annual Subscription Rate: $50 + $12.00 (postage) = $62.00. Please make cheque payable (in either U.S. or Cdn. funds) to:
Canadian Woman Studies, 212 Founders, York University, 4700 Keele Street, Toronto, ON, M3J 1P3. Tel: (416) 736-5356
Fax: (416) 736-5765 Email: cwscf@yorku.ca Please visit our web site: http://www.yorku.ca/org/cwscf/home.html
Camera Obscura
Of Ideology
SARAH KOFMAN
Translated by Will Straw

"A focused and tightly argued discussion of the camera obscura—and the visual more generally—in learned and well-crafted essays that present a sustained critique of metaphor and ideologies."—Nicole Fermon, Fordham University. $39.95 cloth, $16.95 paper

Line Drawings
Defining Women Through Feminist Practice
CRESSIDA J. HEYES

"An engagement with issues of great political urgency and intellectual complexity that manages to be responsive and responsible both to practice and to theory. ... An exciting, promising, and relatively unexplored way of addressing and repairing the often disabling splits between theory and activism."—Naomi Scheman, University of Minnesota. $39.95 cloth, $17.95 paper

Is the Fetus a Person?
A Comparison of Policies across the Fifty States
JEAN REITH SCHROEDEL

"This unique book takes a broad and inclusive sweep, covering abortion laws, drug abuse/narcotic exposure laws, fetal battering ... and more. Jean Schroedel show[s] how these policies and practices are all related and should be examined through the same lens, as responses to the same real-world problem."—Deborah Stone, author of Polite Paradox: The Art of Political Decision Making. $29.95

We'll Call You if We Need You
Experiences of Women Working Construction
SUSAN EISENBERG

"[A] splendid book that weaves together oral histories of thirty women from ten states plus the District of Columbia. ... At a time when affirmative action is practically an insult, Susan Eisenberg's book unashamedly demonstrates that affirmative action works, and more of it works better."—Women's Review of Books. AN ILR PRESS BOOK. $14.95 paper

Alias Olympia
A Woman's Search for Manet's Notorious Model and Her Own Desire
EUNICE LIPTON

"Beautifully written—brisk, poignant and humorous. ... A witty critique of the art historical profession and a sexy, sad memoir with a happy ending. ... The most original art book to emerge from my feminist art generation."—Women's Review of Books. $11.95 paper

Feminism and Suffrage
The Emergence of an Independent Women's Movement in America, 1848-1869
ELLEN CAROL DUBOIS

With a New Preface

"DuBois has given us a work of scholarly insight written in an animated style; she is generous in her portraits of and quotes from the foremothers. For feminists today, this book is a critical reminder that alliances are best made from a position of independently acquired strength."—Ms. Magazine. $15.95 paper

Hostile Environment
The Political Betrayal of Sexually Harassed Women
GWENDOLYN MINK

"Mixing passion with logic, this brave book exposes the regime of disbelief that envelops survivors of sexual harassment with yet another 'hostile environment.' After Gwendolyn Mink's defense of the rights of sexually harassed women, there is no excuse to confuse the abuse of power with consensual sex."—Eileen Boris, University of Virginia. $21.95
Feminist Majority Leadership Alliances are a national network of pro-choice, feminist, student-run campus organizations that work together to raise public awareness of pro-choice issues through the Choices Campaign. Online, the Choices Campus Community (www.feministcampus.org) connects students, faculty and feminist leaders using chats, bulletins, FREE Online Organizing Workshops and other activist resources. On campus, Leadership Alliances have access to a national team of campus organizers and a wealth of activist resources. Join now by visiting www.feministcampus.org, or call 703.522.2214!

Feminist Majority Foundation
1600 Wilson Blvd., Ste. 801
Arlington VA 22209
703.522.2214 Fax 703.522.2219
campusteam@feminist.org

Join the New Frontier of Feminist Scholarship

Sign up at the NWSA conference to receive a free desk copy to accompany orders for the classroom

The NWSA Journal is the scholarly publication of the National Women's Studies Association, published tri-annually by Indiana University Press. The Journal publishes research in all areas relating to gender. Reports, book reviews, archives, and other shorter pieces that are relevant to Women's Studies will also be considered for publication.

Scholarly articles from 20-30 pages in length should be submitted in triplicate, with parenthetical notes and a complete references page formatted according to the Chicago Manual of Style (14th Edition) to:
Margaret (Maggie) McFadden, Editor, NWSA Journal, 109 IG Greer, Appalachian State University, Boone, NC 28608, 828-262-6541; nwsaj@appstate.edu

Drop by our table in the book exhibit.
number 1
The journal proudly presents the three winners of the Feminist Studies Graduate Student Award for the best article submitted during the 1998 contest. Other articles draw from the past: one explores makeup as an indicator of female agency, sexuality, and citizenship during World War II while another argues that the upsurge of women opera composers during the late 18th century was an ironic consequence of Rousseau’s musical work and aesthetic theorizing. We have two review essays: one analyzing recent Black feminist criticism, and the second reviewing feminist interventions in the culture of images; as well as a commentary that looks at the lives of writers and sisters, Katherine Du Pre Lumpkin and Grace Lumpkin in an effort to understand how identities emerge and change over time; and a cluster of poetry and fiction by Filipina women writers.

number 2:
A Special Issue on Women and Health
Articles include two examinations of obstetrics: one historical and the other an ethnographic study of obstetrical ultrasound. Other articles examine the problems facing feminist demographers as they explore the gendered dimensions of maternal education and child health; the female orgasm in Second Wave feminism; and the creation of a feminist health agency in the 1960s that helped US women obtain abortions in Mexico. One review essay looks at medical practice and women’s access to abortion before and after Roe v. Wade; and the second explores the reappraisals of psychoanalytic theory and practice by lesbian and gay theoreticians. Three commentaries share first-hand accounts of living with long-term illness: the effects of crippling arthritis; the struggle to regain memory after the removal of a brain tumor; and a teenage girl’s grappling with her mother’s diagnosis of cancer. Fiction, poetry, and art complement the issue.

number 3
A Special Issue: Women of the Indian Subcontinent
Articles explore the age of consent debate in colonial Bengal as a liminal moment in the discourse of the “woman question”; how domestic servants in contemporary India negotiate their identities as men and women; the locations and dislocations of traveling in the Himalayan region of India; while a reexamination of the work of Kamal Das emphasizes the locational politics of textual reading practices. Review essays analyze sexuality, law and the colonial state; gender and the South Asia diaspora; gender, violence, and partition; and the woman’s movement in India today. The issue also contains an art essay that looks at South Asian quilt makers and their work; as well as contemporary fiction and poetry.
New and Forthcoming Titles from HarperCollins Publishers

First They Killed My Father:
A Daughter of Cambodia Remembers
Loung Ung ($23.00 hardcover)

Stiffed: The Betrayal of the American Male
Susan Faludi ($27.50 hardcover)

Telling: A Memoir of Rape and Recovery
Patricia Weaver Francisco ($13.00 paperback)

Crashing the Net: The U.S. Women's Olympic Ice Hockey Team and the Road to Gold
Mary Turco, Ed.D. ($12.00 paperback)

 Beauty Fades, Dumb is Forever:
The Making of a Happy Woman
Judge Judy Sheindlin ($12.00 paperback • $18.00 audio)

As Nature Made Him: The Boy Who Was Raised As A Girl
John Colapinto ($26.00 hardcover • March 2000)

The Western Women's Reader: The Remarkable Writings of Women Who Shaped the American West Spanning 300 Years
Lillian Schlissel and Catherine Lavender, Editors ($18.00 paperback • March 2000)

The Case Against Hillary Clinton
Peggy Noonan ($23.00 hardcover • April 2000)

Love, Ellen: A Mother/Daughter Journey
Betty DeGeneres ($14.00 paperback • April 2000)

Every Woman Should Go to Law School or Read This Book
Margaret Basch, Esq. ($14.00 paperback April 2000)

The Girls of Summer, The U.S. Women's Soccer Team and the Championship That Changed Everything
Jere Longman ($25.00 hardcover • May 2000)

Everything and Nothing: The Dorothy Dandridge Story
Dorothy Dandridge and Earl Conrad ($13.00 paperback • May 2000)

The First Partner: A Biography
Joyce Milton ($14.00 paperback • June 2000)

Amelia Earhart's Daughters: The Wild and Glorious Story of American Women Aviators from World War II to the Dawn of the Space Age
Leslie Haynsworth and David M. Toomey ($14.00 paperback • June 2000)

La Grande Thérèse: The Greatest Scandal of the Century
Hilary Spurling ($20.00 hardcover • July 2000)

Slut!: Growing Up Female with a Bad Reputation
Leora Tanenbaum ($13.00 paperback • July 2000)

Why the Best Man for the Job Is a Woman: The Unique Female Qualities of Leadership
Esther Wachs Book ($24.00 hardcover • August 2000)

Nine and Counting: The Women of the Senate
Barbara Boxer, Susan Collins, Dianne Feinstein, Kay Bailey Hutchison, Mary Landrieu, Blanche Lambert Lincoln, Barbara A. Mikulski, Patty Murray, Olympia J. Snow ($25.00 hardcover • August 2000)

Connecting: The Enduring Power of Female Friendship
Sandy Sheehy ($25.00 hardcover • August 2000)

Paper Daughter: A Memoir
M. Elaine Mar ($13.00 paperback • August 2000)

Women at the Podium: Memorable Speeches in History
Selected and Introduced by S. Michele Nix ($14.00 paperback • August 2000)

TO ORDER: 1-800-331-3761

www.harpercollins.com
JEWISH WOMEN’S LITERARY ANNUAL

JEWISH WOMEN’S RESOURCE CENTER
820 Second Avenue
New York, NY 10017-4504

ORDER YOUR SUBSCRIPTION AND SEE!

$18 for three issues
Single issue $7.50

Henny Wenkart, Editor

Contributing Editors:
Enid Dame
Grace Herman
Helen Papell
Mindy Rinkewich
Leyle Silbert

REVIEW
JEWISH WOMEN’S LITERARY ANNUAL

From poetry about the prophetess Miriam to accounts of their romances with Israeli soldiers, Jewish women are now connecting their Jewish and female sides in poetry and prose as never before. Henny Wenkart’s anthology is a wonderful compilation of some of this marvelous writing. With authors such as Lesléa Newman and LILITH’s poetry editor Alicia Ostriker, this book covers a wide variety of personal subjects, from women in the Bible to their own grandmothers. This collection provides outstanding examples of some of the best Jewish women’s writing today.

—Sara N.S. Meirowitz
Lilith Magazine
Women, Science, and Society
Sue V. Rosser

"Will transform, our health and lives, the environment, and the future"—Anne S. Kasper, Ph.D., founding member of the U.S. Women's Health Movement

2000 / 176 pp. / Pb, $22.95 / 3942-1 / Cl, $50 / 3943-X

Transforming Critical Thinking
Thinking Constructively
Barbara J. Thayer-Bacon

"Inheritor the Wook, Barbara J. Thayer-Bacon urges us to consider the body and its passions, caring connection, and practical context."—Jim Garrison, Virginia Polytechnic and State University

2000 / 216 pp. / Pb, $22.95 / 3924-3 / Cl, $48 / 3925-1

Pedagogies of Resistance
Women Educator Activists, 1880–1960
Margaret Smith Crocco, Petra Munro, and Kathleen Weiler

"These courageous stories encourage me to believe that demonstration methods of education are possible, and that we may yet turn inside the great waves of coercion that now engulf our schools."—From the Foreword by Nel Noddings

1999 / 144 pp. / Pb, $19.95 / 6297-0 / Cl, $44 / 6298-9

Pioneering Deans of Women
More Than Wise and Pious Matrons
Jana Nidiffer

"A fine, crisp narrative of educational change and innovation. Nidiffer tells a fascinating story of four pioneering deans of women and the innovations they created as they determined to enhance opportunities and community for women students."—Joyce Antler, Brandeis University

1999 / 208 pp. / Pb, $26.95 / 3914-6 / Cl, $56 / 3915-4

"Stalwart Women"
A Historical Analysis of Deans of Women in the South
Carolyn Terry Bashaw

Foreword by Linda Eisenmann

"Carolyn Bashaw's well researched and original study adds an important and fresh perspective to the scholarly literature on women in the educational professions."—Lynn D. Gordon, University of Rochester

1999 / 192 pp. / Pb, $24.95 / 6299-7 / Cl, $52 / 6300-4

Women in Power
Pathways to Leadership in Education
Barbara Curry

Foreword by Maxine Greene

"Offers us a unique perspective on an important topic that is at once readable and informative"—Maxine Colm, University of Delaware

2000 / 128 pp. / Pb, $21.95 / 3910-3 / Cl, $44 / 3911-1

Classrooms and Courtrooms
Facing Sexual Harassment in K–12 Schools
Nan Stein

Foreword by Pat Schroeder

"If you want to know what girls and boys are really up against, from the school yard to the legal front, this is the book to read."—Susan Faludi, author of Backlash: The Undeclared War Against American Women

"Deftly explores and punctures the myth that bullying surrounding sexual harassment is an isolated incident."—Bill Bigelow and Linda Christensen, editors of Rethinking Schools

"Stein helps educators find clarity in the murky ground where harassment flourishes and shows adults and students understand that they can do something in the face of unjust treatment."—Marge Scherer, Managing Editor, Educational Leadership

1999 / 168 pp. / Pb, $18.95 / 3878-6 / Cl, $41 / 3879-4

Stop by our exhibit to see these titles and other great books from the Athene Series

Join us for a glass of wine and meet the authors (day & time TBA)
Running Against the Wind
The Struggle of Women in Massachusetts Politics
Betty Tavmor
$26.95 cloth

Gender and Community Policing
Walking the Talk
Susan L. Miller
$50.00 cloth • $20.00 paper

Harsh Punishment
International Experiences of Women's Imprisonment
Edited by Sandy Cook and Susanne Davies
$50.00 cloth • $22.50 paper

Reading Sport
Critical Essays on Power and Representation
Edited by Susan Birrell and Mary G. McDonald
$50.00 cloth • $20.00 paper

Saving Bernice
Battered Women, Welfare and Poverty
Jody Raphael
$45.00 cloth • $16.95 paper

Rape on the Public Agenda
Feminism and the Politics of Sexual Assault
Maria Bevacqua
$50.00 cloth • $18.95 paper

New Edition
Belle Moskowitz
Feminine Politics and the Exercise of Power in the Age of Alfred E. Smith
Elisabeth Israels Perry
Foreword by Kathryn Kish Sklar
$20.00 paper

NEW IN PAPERBACK
Women Pioneers for the Environment
Mary Joy Breton
$16.95 paper

SECOND EDITION
Witch-Hunting in Seventeenth-Century New England
A Documentary History, 1638-1693
Edited by David D. Hall
$47.50 cloth • $16.95 paper

Louisa May Alcott
A Biography
Madeleine B. Stern
$20.00 paper

Civil War Sisterhood
The U.S. Sanitary Commission and Women's Politics in Transition
Judith Ann Giesberg
$40.00 cloth

Women's Work and Public Policy
Kathleen A. Laughtin
$40.00 cloth

Life-Writings by British Women, 1660-1815
An Anthology
Edited by Carolyn A. Barros and Johanna M. Smith
$50.00 cloth • $20.00 paper

THIRD EDITION
The Northeastern Dictionary of Women's Biography
Jennifer S. Uglow
Revised by Maggy Hendry
$49.95 cloth

NORTHEASTERN
University Press
360 Huntington Avenue, 416CP
Boston, Massachusetts 02115
www.neu.edu/nupress
To order call 1-800-666-2211

PLEASE VISIT OUR EXHIBIT TABLE.
PEARSON CUSTOM PUBLISHING

and

The Women's Studies Department of The Ohio State University

Present

A New Edition of

Reading Women's Lives

Reading Women's Lives is a custom program designed and developed specifically for Women's Studies.

Preview our new list of classic and cutting edge articles on CD-ROM.

Select the readings you'd like to include on our order form and Pearson Custom Publishing will create your version of Reading Women's Lives!

Stop by the Pearson Custom Publishing booth for more information on Reading Women's Lives.

Reading Women's Lives

Revised Edition

PEARSON CUSTOM PUBLISHING 75 Arlington St., Suite 300, Boston, MA 02116
1-800-777-6872 Dbase_pub@prenhall.com www.pearsoncustom.com
YOU ARE INVITED to join our network of historians, scholars, and grassroots feminists, exploring the intersection between what a woman believes and what she accomplishes in the world.

Considering the number and significance of women in history who were affiliated with the Unitarian and Universalist movements, we suspect that the influence of liberal religion has been liberating for women.

For Universalists like Judith Sargent Murray, Clara Barton, and Mary Livermore.

For Unitarians like Susan B. Anthony, Frances Watkins Harper, Dorothea Dix, Lucy Stone, and Julia Ward Howe.

Our resources include books, papers, and original writings.

AND ANNOUNCING OUR NEWEST RESOURCE—

Please contact us for more information.

The Unitarian Universalist Women’s Heritage Society
2 Elm St. • Malden, MA • 02148
(781) 321-3979
uuwhs@aol.com
http://www.uuwhs.org

Women's Educational & Industrial Union

Power Shop.
Shop with us to empower women and families in Greater Boston.

Unique Gifts • Jewelry • Cards & Journals • Home & Bath

- Specializing in designs by women and women-owned companies
- Proceeds support service and advocacy programs for women

An extraordinary gift shop with a past and a purpose... Since 1877

356 Boylston St., Boston
(near the Public Garden)
617-536-5651, ext. 164
www.wei.org

You are invited to join our network of historians, scholars, and grassroots feminists, exploring the intersection between what a woman believes and what she accomplishes in the world.

Considering the number and significance of women in history who were affiliated with the Unitarian and Universalist movements, we suspect that the influence of liberal religion has been liberating for women.

For Universalists like Judith Sargent Murray, Clara Barton, and Mary Livermore.

For Unitarians like Susan B. Anthony, Frances Watkins Harper, Dorothea Dix, Lucy Stone, and Julia Ward Howe.

Our resources include books, papers, and original writings.

AND ANNOUNCING OUR NEWEST RESOURCE—

Please contact us for more information.

The Unitarian Universalist Women’s Heritage Society
2 Elm St. • Malden, MA • 02148
(781) 321-3979
uuwhs@aol.com
http://www.uuwhs.org
NEW IN WOMEN’S STUDIES

Margaret Hope Bacon
Abby Hopper Gibbons
Prison Reformer and Social Activist
$19.95 pb. • isbn 0-7791-4498-8

Ulrike Boehmer
The Personal and the Political Activism in Response to the Breast Cancer and AIDS Epidemic
$18.95 pb. • isbn 0-7914-4550-X

Carole Bell Ford
The Girls
Jewish Women of Brownsville, Brooklyn, 1940–1995
$16.95 pb. • isbn 0-7914-4364-7

Miriym Glazer, editor
Dreaming the Actual Contemporary Fiction and Poetry
by Israeli Women Writers
$23.95 pb. • isbn 0-7914-4558-5

Andrea L. Harris
Other Sexes
Rewriting Difference
from Woolf to Winterson
$15.95 pb. • isbn 0-7914-4456-2

Janet Kalven
Women Breaking Boundaries
A Grail Journey, 1940-1995
$19.95 pb. • isbn 0-7914-4332-9

State University of New York Press
20% Conference Discount
at SUNY Press Display

D. Fairchild Ruggles, editor
Women, Patronage, and Self-Representation in Islamic Societies
$19.95 pb • isbn 0-7914-4470-8

Arvind Sharma, editor
Women Saints in World Religions
$19.95 pb • isbn 0-7914-4620-4

Arvind Sharma and Katherine K. Young, editors
The Annual Review of Women in World Religions Volume 5
$12.95 pb • isbn 0-7914-4346-9

Megan Simpson
Poetic Epistemologies
Gender and Knowing in Women’s Language-Oriented Writing
$18.95 pb • isbn 0-7914-4446-5

Susan Talburt
Subject to Identity
Knowledge, Sexuality, and Academic Practices in Higher Education
$23.95 pb • isbn 0-7914-4572-0

www.sunypress.edu
FEMINISM AND ISLAMIC FUNDAMENTALISM
The Limits of Postmodern Analysis
Haideh Moghissi
1999 • 128 pp. • 1-56499-590-6 • $19.95 pb.
Zed Books

WORKING CLASS CULTURE, WOMEN, AND BRITAIN, 1914-1921
Claire A. Culleton
2000 • 240 pp. • 0-312-22541-5 • $45.00 d.

RECLAIMING GENDER
Transgressive Identities in Modern Ireland
Edited by Marilyn Cohen and Nancy J. Curtin
1999 • 304 pp. • 0-312-21337-9 • $49.95 d.

TO BE YOUNG WAS VERY HEAVEN
Women in New York Before the First World War
Sandra L. Adickes
2000 • 304 pp. • 0-312-23335-8 • $16.95 pb.

"WOMAN, YOUR HOUR IS SOUNDING"
Continuity and Change in French Women's Great War Fiction, 1914-1919
Nancy Sloan Goldberg
1999 • 256 pp. • 0-312-17070-4 • $45.00 d.

LITERARY FEMINISMS
Ruth Robbins
2000 • 302 pp. • 0-312-23808-2 • $19.95 pb.

WOMEN AND THE RISE OF THE NOVEL, 1405-1726
Josephine Donovan
2000 • 192 pp. • 0-312-23997-4 • $18.95 pb.

WOMEN AND POWER
Fighting Patriarchy and Poverty
Jo Rowlands and Emma Zapata
2000 • 224 pp. • 1-56499-804-2 • $22.50 pb.
Zed Books

SHADOWBOXING
Representations of Black Feminist Politics
Joy James
1999 • 242 pp. • 0-312-22070-7 • $26.95 d.

WOMEN AT SEA
Travel Writing and the Margins of Caribbean Discourse
Edited by Lizabeth Paravisini-Gebert and Ivette Romero-Cesareo
May 2000 • 256 pp. • 0-312-21996-2 • $49.95 d.

DREAMS AND DESTINIES
Marguerite Yourcenar
1999 • 160 pp. • 0-312-21289-5 • $21.95 d.

THE GIRL
Constructions of the Girl in Contemporary Fiction by Women
Edited by Ruth O. Saxton
1999 • 208 pp. • 0-312-22578-4 • $18.95 pb.

RELIGIOUS FUNDAMENTALISMS AND THE HUMAN RIGHTS OF WOMEN
Edited by Courtney W. Howland
1999 • 354 pp. • 0-312-21897-4 • $45.00 d.

SAME-SEX LOVE IN INDIA
Readings from Literature and History
Edited by Ruth Vanita and Saleem Kidwai
June 2000 • 368 pp. • 0-312-22169-8 • $49.95 d.

FEMINISM, FEMININITY AND POPULAR CULTURE
Joanne Hollows
2000 • 192 pp. • 0-7190-4395-6 • $19.95 pb.
Manchester University Press

DAUGHTERS OF THE GODDESS, DAUGHTERS OF IMPERIALISM
African Women Struggle for Culture, Power and Democracy
Ififi Amadummer
2000 • 320 pp. • 1-56499-806-9 • $27.50 pb.
Zed Books

FEMINISTS DOING DEVELOPMENT
A Practical Critique
Edited by Marilyn Porter and Ellen Judd
2000 • 256 pp. • 1-56499-694-5 • $25.00 pb.
Zed Books

GLOBALIZING CONCERN FOR WOMEN'S HUMAN RIGHTS
Diana Zoelle
2000 • 224 pp. • 0-312-22818-4 • $49.95 d.

SHATTERED SUBJECTS
Trauma and Testimony in Women's Life-Writing
Suzette A. Henke
2000 • 240 pp. • 0-312-23098-2 • $18.95 pb.

ARGUING WITH THE PHALLUS
Feminist, Queer and Postcolonial Theory: A Psychoanalytic Contribution
Jan Campbell
June 2000 • 256 pp. • 1-56499-444-6 • $22.50 pb.
Zed Books

FEMALE GENITAL MUTILATION
A Radical Guide to Worldwide Laws & Policies
Anika Rahman and Nahid Toubia
2000 • 192 pp. • 1-56499-773-9 • $25.00 pb.
Zed Books

GENDER VIOLENCE IN AFRICA
African Women's Responses
December Green
1999 • 304 pp. • 0-312-21943-1 • $49.95 d.
Order Now and Save $200

THE ROUTLEDGE INTERNATIONAL ENCYCLOPEDIA OF WOMEN
GLOBAL WOMEN’S ISSUES AND KNOWLEDGE
FOUR VOLUME SET
Edited by Cheris Kramarae and Dale Spender

“A must purchase for libraries and a wonderful addition to a scholar’s library. This reference work makes good on its promise to provide a truly cross-national, multicultural set of perspectives...”

—Donna J. Haraway, Professor, History of Consciousness Department, University of California at Santa Cruz

“This is the first women’s studies encyclopedia with a truly global perspective... will become the standard reference source for the field.”

—Marlene Manoff, 1999-2000 Chair of the Association for College and Research Libraries Women’s Studies Section

“A ‘must’ for university, college and school libraries, public libraries, resource centers and community organizations. A great help to anyone needing to access accurate accounts of women’s concepts, practices and issues across the globe.”

—Greta Hofmann Nemiroff, Coordinator of Women’s Studies, Dawson College, Montreal, and President of the Sisterhood is Global Institute

This important new resource:
• Features the world’s most esteemed feminist voices, from Women’s Studies pioneers to the new scholars, writers and activists who are shaping the future of women around the globe.
• Reviews women’s issues around the world, with regional surveys of women’s education, psychology, feminist activism and theory, spirituality, health care systems and much more.
• Includes over 900 signed A-Z entries from 70 countries
• Provides extensive cross-references, bibliographies at the end of all articles, index and a other valuable reference tools.

December: Four volume print set: 1800 pp: Hb 0 415 13274 6: $140.00

ENCYCLOPEDIA OF FEMINIST THEORIES
Edited by Lorraine Code

Featuring over 500 signed entries from an international team of contributors, the Encyclopedia includes over 50 biographical entries, plus comprehensive coverage of the key concepts associated with gender theory. Entries cover topics such as:
• Biologism
• Deconstruction
• Queer Theory
• Ecofeminism
• Socialist Thought
• Reproductive Rights
• and much more, with cross references and bibliographies.

Editorial Board:
Ien Ang, University of Western Sydney • Lynda Birke, University of Warwick • Sarah Franklin, University of Lancaster • Judith Grant, University of Southern California • Regina Graycar, University of New South Wales • Penny Harvey, University of Manchester • Stanlie James, University of Wisconsin • Ruth-Ellen Joeres, University of Minnesota • Linda Lopez-McAllister, University of South Florida • Pat Mellingcamp, University of Wisconsin • Chandra Mohanty, Hamilton College • Beverly Skeggs, University of Lancaster

August: 520 pp: Hb 0 415 13274 6: $140.00

BIOGRAPHICAL DICTIONARY OF WOMEN IN SCIENCE
PIONEERING LIVES FROM ANCIENT TIMES TO THE MID-20TH CENTURY
Two Volume Set
Edited by Marilyn Ogilvie and Joy Dorothy Harvey

This milestone work combines who’s-who-style access to fast facts with biographical details on nearly 3000 scientists and their lives, works and accomplishments around the globe. A-Z signed entries, bibliographies, index.

June: 1500 pp: Hb Set 0 415 92038 8: $195.00

Sample entries and lists of entries and contributors are available for Routledge International Encyclopedia of Women and the Biographical Dictionary of Women in Science. Explore them on your visit to www.routledge-ny.com/women

For these and other exciting titles, please visit the Routledge booth in the exhibits area.
Save 20% off list price! Visit our website at www.routledge-ny.com
Sojourner
The Women's Forum
Linking academy and community for 25 years

“I couldn’t manage without it!”
—Katha Pollitt, columnist for The Nation

For a year of progressive feminist news, culture and commentary you won’t find anywhere else, send $26 to:
Sojourner: The Women's Forum, PO Box 3000, Denville, NJ 07834
PUBLISHED 11 TIMES/YEAR WITH A DOUBLE SUMMER ISSUE
MENTION NWSA AND GET $2 OFF

call 1-888-475-5996 for MC / VISA orders

A feminist journal of critical analysis and innovative research.
RFR/DRF is on the cutting edge of Canadian and international scholarship.

RFR/DRF
RESOURCES FOR FEMINIST RESEARCH

Four issues each year:
$38 Canada*/$58 Foreign
RFR/DRF, 252 Bloor St. West
Toronto, Ontario, Canada M5S 1V6
*GST incl.

ABAFAZI
The Simmons College Journal of Women of African Descent

Founded in 1991 by Dr. Michael Williams, ABAFAZI is a unique, refereed academic journal whose title is derived from the Ndebele language of southern Africa and means women. ABAFAZI publishes scholarly essays, interviews, book reviews, art, and literature.

Subscribe Now!
In honor of the 21st NWSA Conference we are pleased to offer a discount rate:
ten dollars for individuals and twenty dollars for institutions

Write or Call Us
ABAFAZI. Simmons College. 300 The Fenway. Boston, MA 02115-5898. 617.521.2256.

Visit Us on the Web
www.simmons.edu/abafazi

“[ABAFAZI] is the ‘necessary bread’ to the heart and mind and spirit.”
—Dr. Miriam DeCosta Willis
New Voice in an Old Debate

The Abortion Myth
FEMINISM, MORALITY,
AND THE HARD CHOICES WOMEN MAKE

Leslie Cannold
Foreword by Rene Denfeld

Leslie Cannold, an American bioethicist working in Australia, forges a new ethics of abortion in her groundbreaking book. Drawing on her study of women's experiences and attitudes toward abortion, she documents the difficult choices women make and the moral and ethical reasoning they bring to bear on the question of abortion. In the lived experience of women, she finds a practical ethics of abortion in which termination is not only a moral response to an unplanned pregnancy, it may be the only moral response.

"Leslie Cannold breaks through the all too predictable forms the abortion debate has taken and shows that in focusing on the question of a woman's rights to control her own body and a fetus's right to life, we have neglected the issue of motherhood and a woman's responsibility for her child. To introduce a new set of ethical issues into such a longstanding controversy is a remarkable achievement." —PETER SINGER, Princeton University

"It is motherhood, chosen or imposed, that is central to the abortion debate. Yet the rights and responsibilities of motherhood have been largely ignored on both sides of the politicized abortion debate. As much as the women in Cannold's book disagree on abortion, they tend to agree on the importance of motherhood... Motherhood, Cannold tells us, is the common ground on which a more complex understanding of abortion can occur." —RENE DENFELD, from the Foreword

Wesleyan University Press $25.00 cloth
Wednesday's Child is beautiful stuff, a defiant and poignant memoir that transcends the personal. It is an important book because it gives us a glimpse of the almost unmined Golconda of literary source material in Franco-American lives.

—E. Annie Proulx

Paper • $12.50 +$3 S/H
89 pps. • 0-9668536-0-1
Available from Rheta Press
641 South Main Street
Brewer, Maine 04412-2516
RJCR@aol.com • 207-989-7059
For reviews, scholarly critiques, & ordering information:
http://members.aol.com/RobFAM10/WedC.html
also available at Amazon.com

Used in many university classrooms as a text book.
GOLDEN GLOBE NOMINEE
BEST FOREIGN LANGUAGE FILM

OFFICIAL GERMAN SELECTION
ACADEMY AWARDS

OPENING NIGHT FILM
49TH INTERNATIONAL BERLIN FILM FESTIVAL
WINNER OF TWO BEST ACTRESS SILVER BEARS

"A sensuous portrayal of Berlin women coping with the chaos of wartime."
—LOS ANGELES TIMES

“A blockbuster that raises your consciousness as it keeps you on the edge of your seat.”
—BAY AREA REPORTER

Aimée & Jaguar

A film by MAX FÄRBERBÖCK

The true story of two women whose love affair blossoms in Berlin in 1943—amid the constant threat of bombing raids and despite certain persecution. The film is based on Erica Fischer’s best-selling book published in 1994, which told the story of Lilly Wust, a German officer’s wife whose life decisively changes when she meets Felice Schragenheim, a few and a member of an underground organization.

OPENING THIS SUMMER
AVAILABLE FOR CLASSROOM RENTAL
AND OPEN SHOWINGS WINTER 2000
ZEITGEIST FILMS LTD (212) 274-1989
www.zeitgeistfilm.com
New for 2001!
Feminist Frontiers, Fifth Edition
Richardson, Taylor, and Whittier
Available August 18, 2000

New for 2000!
Women and Gender: A Feminist Psychology, Third Edition
Crawford and Unger

Lectures on the Psychology of Women, Second Edition
Chrisler, Golden, and Rozee

The Masculine Self, Second Edition
Kilmartin

Women and the American Experience, Third Edition
Woloch

The Meaning of Difference: American Constructions of Race, Sex and Gender, Social Class, and Sexual Orientation, Second Edition
Rosenblum and Travis

Exploring GenderSpeak: Personal Effectiveness in Gender Communication, Second Edition
Ivy and Backund

For more information, to request an examination copy of any of these texts for course consideration, or to request a McGraw-Hill Women's Studies catalog, call 1-800-338-3987, contact your local McGraw-Hill representative, e-mail women@mcgraw-hill.com, or write on your college letterhead to: McGraw-Hill College Division, Comp Processing & Control, P.O. Box 445, Hightstown, Nj 08520-0445. Visit us on the World Wide Web at www.mhhe.com/socscience/womensstudies
Subject Index

Entries refer to keyword, presenter, page number

A
- abjection, Covino, 83
- abortion, Ehrlich, 39; Ferree, 56; Yanow, 40
- academic pitfalls, Shaw, 38
- active learning, Partelenco-Barehmi, 70
- activism, Boonin, 55; Cohee, 79; Cummings, 61; Evans, 63; Hoskins, 57; Joseph, 66; Mahler, 79; Mazumdar, 72; Meiners, 71; Norsigian, 50; Osnowitz, 84; Shah, 72; Stone, 66; Thompson, 81; Yoon, 60; Zandy, 40
- administration, Carruth, 71
- African women, Beoku-Betts, 60
- agency, Nagel, 83
- aging, Hanish, 79; Nather, 61; Wright, 79
- antiracism, Russo, 74; Jenefsky, 62
- Arab women, Steet, 35
- archival research, Steadman, 63
- arctic, Legler, 37
- assessment, Olson, 49
- Atwood, Templin, 56
- autobiography, Bates, 89; Cumings, 53; Elrod, 35; Haghani, 56; Hubert, 35; Lagerwey-Commerer, 105; Pinsky, 69; Surkan, 89

B
- backlash, Baust, 64; Burbank, 105; Nelson, 69
- black communities, Thompson, 57
- black feminist theory, Locke, 69
- black women writers, Menke, 79
- body, Rodriguez, 62
- bonding, Benokraitis, 64
- breast cancer, Newman, 105
- butch-femme identity, Ezrol, 98
- butch-femme roles, Huang, 98

C
- cancer, Arditti, 105
- caregivers, Stubbs, 105
- Chicana, Garcia, 56
- Chicana literature, Gonzalez, 60
- college, Wiley, 70
- communication style, Koppelman, 70
- community, Harvey, 79; Mulvey, 75
- conflict, Burack, 84
- consensual relationships, Ertel, 82
- contradictions, Goueffic, 73
- creativity, Stonekey, 101
- critical paradigms, Scheck, 80
- cultural context, Shapiro, 53

D
- dance, Dickson, 53
- decision making, Balen, 51
- deconstructions, Taylor, 72
- disability, Getz, 60
- domestic science, Chambers, 80
- domestic violence, Baker, 67; Chessin, 36; Cohen, 89; Ruminski, 36; Strobel, 36; Worcester, 68
- drag king culture, Troka, 103
- - E -
- enacting feminism, Leder, 51
- environmental justice, Sharpe, 80
- epistemology, Hottinger, 71
- ethics of care, Buer, 88
- ethnicity, Langellier, 34

F
- female athletes, Sandoz, 106
- female circumcision, Kaplan, 58
- feminism, Douglass, 56; Liss, 84; Oaks, 58; Robards, 38; Sorensen, 82; Tobias, 86
- feminist, Machan, 39; Thomas, 43; Way, 51
- feminist activism, Biewener, 89
- feminist economics, Biewener, 38
- feminist education, Gozemma, 85; Szalay, 50
- feminist epistemologies, Crawley, 102; Wilcox, 86
- feminist epistemology, Meaney, 34
- feminist ethics, Hall, 73
- feminist groups, Kajosevic, 79
- feminist movement, Raisissiguer, 69
- feminist oral history, Moynihan, 54
- feminist pedagogy, Fisher, 74; Lengermann, 107; Nathanson, 65; Ould, 107; Rosen, 87
- feminist research ethics, Lunstrum, 50
- feminist scholars, Franklin, 89
- feminist scholarship, Hanson, 86; Kensinger, 51; Smith, 81; Smith, 90
- feminist science studies, Wyer, 80
- feminist spirituality, Bartlett, 73
- feminist studies, Pierce, 52
- feminist subversions, Zuhur, 88
- feminist theory, Bendl, 56; Fojtova, 90; Pryse, 82; Runyan, 64; Stocker, 86
- feminist theory and activism, Brodribb, 57
- feminist values, Dresbeck, 75
- film music, Millard Daugherty, 53
- fine arts, Lewis, 58
- fundraising, Olmsted, 72

G
- gay rights, Hauer
- gay/lesbian families, Miller, 36; Hart, 106
- gender, Armentor, 34; Bartone, 54; Ferguson, 36; Stefanos, 66; Ye, 82
- gender studies, Lemon, 98
- girls, Cohen, 73
- globalization, King, 44
- goddess, Powers, 57
- graduate student, Bailey, 42
- grassroots activism, Venkateswaran, 67
- growth-in-connection, Marcus, 62

H
- health services, Uttley, 106
- history, Schuster, 85
- homophobia, Newman, 104; Scala, 101

I
- identity, MacDonald, 34; Tillery, 99
- identity politics, Gorelick, 84
- illiterate, Campoverde, 35
Subject Index

images of women, Willis, 58 immigrants, Raissiguier, 81 independent scholars, Chase, 74
infomercials, Lea, 83 internet, George, 34

-J-
James Bond films, Carrubba, 42
Jewish, Belzer, 69; Felman, 43; Rosenwasser, 102
Jewish women, Fine, 69; Wolf, 69

-L-
lesbian, Blackwood, 100; Cote, 102; Guymere, 103; Mackey, 98; Sapinoso, 60; Wheeler, 103
lesbian artists, Richards, 99 lesbian community, Kravitz, 99 lesbian organizations, Balen, 100 lesbian pulp fiction, Keller, 102 lesbian relationships, Williams, 100 lesbian studies, Herner, 102; Keefe, 100; Lemay, 98 lesbian studies institute, Applegate, 103; Baxter, 101;
Bellamy, 103; Bhaskaran, 100; Boling, 100; Bunbury, 103;
Clements, 103; Crouchshank, 100; Dobkin, 101;
Dobkin, 103; Doyle, 103; Farley, 100; GLAAD, 100;
GLAAD, 98; GLAAD, 102; GLAAD, 103; Hastings, 100;
Hernandez, 98; Hirvela, 103; Johnson, 103; Koncicki, 98;
Lorenzen, 99; Love, 98; Milillo, 98; Mukarji-Connolly, 98;
Myers, 98; Probst, 98; Raju, 98; Ramalho, 101;
Ressler, 100; Ressler, 101; Sapinoso, 102; Savastano, 98;
Scala, 98; Scala, 103; Simmons, 99; Sternglanz, 98;
Stinson, 99; Vanita, 100; Walsh, 99; Williams, 99 lesbian theory, Herner, 60 lesbian/gay, Perkins, 103
lesbians, Dallery, 101; Faiman-Silva, 100 literacy strategies, Craig, 45 literary analysis, Colton, 74
literature, Adeeb, 69; Boundy, 35; Carr, 69; Fuchs, 38;
Lauter, 43; Munoz, 56; Paxton, 35; Tuttle, 65;
VanHaitsma, 79; Winkle, 75

-M-maternity, Mesh, 49
media, Abod, 80
men, Ould, 80
menopause, Mansfield, 54; Meyer, 42; Whatley, 85 mentoring, Felman, 65; Fernandez, 35; Sternglanz, 83;
Worboy, 83
methodology, Abusch-Magder, 107 militant women, Cannavan, 82 mother, McLeer, 34
motherhood, Henderson, 73
mothering, Espin, 85 multicultural, Schonberger, 38 multicultural development, Hernandez-Gravelle, 49 multiculturalism, Lochte, 73
myth, Caputi, 42

-N-narrative, Stockbridge, 45; Slobin, 75 nation states, Moallem, 106 nationalism, Subramaniam, 88
new woman, Gilmore, 105

-NOW, Trigilio, 44
nurses, Doona, 79
NWSA Caucuses, Parker, 75

-O-
old lesbians, Jacobson, 40; Naughton, 101
older women, Miller, 42

-P-pedagogies, May, 63; Ryden, 107; Barstow, 38
pedagogy, Bergeron, 61; Broad, 37; Cabot, 37; Carr, 37;
Cressy, 34; Fonow, 75; Fuller, 98; Gaynor, 42; Grant, 62;
Hackett, 62; Long, 105; McGuire, 67; Nielsen, 52;
Ramalho, 59; Shaw, 82; Siejk, 42; Talburt, 83; Willis, 35;
Wolff, 73
personal narrative, Bouchard, 69; Wink, 49
Polish culture, Zaborowska, 84 popular culture, Sheffield, 43; Siegel, 53 popular discourse, Luschen, 53 postmodern politics, Charles, 100 professional development institute, Altman, 93; Amorosa, 93; Attancucci, 93; Bailey, 95; Berkovitz, 93; Bowman, 94;
Caruso, 92; Celestin, 95; De Leon, 93; Dines, 94;
Franklin, 93; Hardin, 92; Jackson, 93; Kam, 93; Klett,
95; Lemon, 93; Levin, 94; Lynch, 95; McGah, 93;
McKibbens, 93; Meier, 93; Mizells, 94; Mumford, 94;
O'Brien, 94; Perry, 93; Popelka, 93; Scott, 94; Sheffield,
93; Saposato, 94; Tenorio, 94; Walker, 94; Williams, 93;
Wiltshire, 94; Worcester, 93 program administration, Ghosh, 61 protest actions, Weinbaum, 53 psychology, Greeley, 39
publishing, Woollett, 40

-Q-
quilt making, Rake, 56

-R-rape, Block, 49
recovery, Rhodes, 69 religion, Bernier, 57; Emerson, 37; Kranson, 35 remarriage, Engel, 56 reproduction, English, 84 reproductive rights, Malcolmson, 62 research methodology, Jacobson, 80 retirement, Freibert, 63

-S-
second wave feminist movement, Fischesser, 72 service learning, Bojar, 54
sexual diversity, Bachmann, 100 sexual dysfunction, Higgins, 42
sexuality, Kafer, 43
social construction, Van Wagenen Wrin, 89 subversion, Kim, 80; Shankar, 60

-T-
teacher education, Curry, 89
teaching, DiPalma, 61; Dottolo, 70; Elliott, 107; Froines, 57; Schniedewind, 83; Stocker, 107 technology, Leonard, 60; Nordine, 34; Rosser, 89 textbooks, Kurth, 61
Subject Index

theory, Franklin, 58
third wave feminism, Keating, 87 transformation, Holvino, 85; Horn, 36

- U -
US imperialism, Koikari, 36

- V -
violece, Sharlach, 49

- W - war, Wyrick, 89
welfare, Patton, 56
welfare reform, Deitch, 65; Deitch, 82; Schellenberg, 54;
Smith Madsen, 40
whiteness, Helmbold, 54
women, Bernstein, 87; Bhatt, 49; Bracken, 42; Carr, 100;
Condravy, 38; Donahue, 57; Johnson, 64; Jones, 89;
Kasper, 44; Linton, 67; Powell, 67; Riley, 60; Roper, 73;
Whitton, 56
women and science, Severin, 54
women and war, Plastas, 81
women in science, Whitten, 105 women instrumentalists, Fink, 34 women of color, Bowen, 49; Morgan-Cato, 79 women writers, Lott, 70
women writing, Rowe, 65
women’s bodies, Klein, 51; Kuo, 51
women’s centers, Lisker, 50; Zaytoun Byrne, 44
women’s empowerment, Getz, 71
women’s health, Agathangelou, 60
women’s magazines, Felesky, 83
women’s movements, Johanson, 89
women’s oral history, Hough, 63
women’s poetry, Lundquist, 59
women’s rights, Cordilia, 49
women’s services, Kemner, 106
women’s sexuality, Ulner, 37
women’s spirituality, Pare, 64
women’s spirituality centers, Kautzer, 57
women’s sports, Kittredge, 73
women’s stories, Powell, 60
women’s studies, Aagerstoun, 39; Agathangelou, 83;
Bloodsworth, 91; Bogad, 34; Carpenter, 58; Cummings,
84; D’Alleva, 36; Fiol-Matta, 44; Fish, 62; Goodstein, 39;
Hendren, 71; Herner, 106; Hill, 55; Kahn, 40;
Kellermeier, 106; Kim, 73; Kimmich, 74; Kitch, 52;
Luhmann, 45; Luhmann, 40; MacRae, 82; Marotta, 72;
Maurer, 85; Morrow, 64; Olivia, 66; Redding, 87; Santos,
39; Shattuck, 51; Shaw, 86; Subramaniam, 105;
Tiberghien, 56; Wheeler, 64; Wiegman, 84; Wynters, 41;
Zita, 66
women’s studies faculty, Botshon, 80
women’s work, Albright, 63
women’s writing, Grace, 53 work and family, Polatnick, 64 writing, MacCurdy, 69; Toth, 50

- Y -
young women, Woollett, 43
Presenter Index

Entries refer to presenter, page number

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Presenter</th>
<th>Page Numbers</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Aagerstoun</td>
<td>39</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Abod, 55</td>
<td>Abod, 80</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Abuscho-Magder, 107</td>
<td>Abusharaf, 58</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Adams, 83, 106</td>
<td>Abdi-Hady, 39</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Adeeb, 69</td>
<td>Agathangelou, 60, 83</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Aguiar, 53</td>
<td>Agwu, 62</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Albeda, 38</td>
<td>Albright, 63</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Alexander, 87</td>
<td>Allen, 40, 75, 90</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Altman, 93</td>
<td>Ambrosino, 75</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Amorosa, 93</td>
<td>Anderson, 81</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Applegate, 103</td>
<td>Barber-Braun, 37</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Arditti, 62, 105</td>
<td>Bandyopadhyaya, 72</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Armitage, 90</td>
<td>Barrett, 73, 84</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Asch, 50</td>
<td>Bardi, 39</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Atchison, 84</td>
<td>Atanucci, 58, 89, 93</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Auther, 39</td>
<td>Bachmann, 100</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Baier, 57</td>
<td>Bailey, 42, 75, 95</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Baker, 58, 67</td>
<td>Baker-Evans, 106</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Baling, 51, 100</td>
<td>Balle, 53</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Banchetti-Robino, 50</td>
<td>Bandayopadhyaya, 72</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Banning, 62</td>
<td>Banner-Braun, 37</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Barbercheck, 54, 80</td>
<td>Barfield, 44, 53</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Barfield, 44, 53</td>
<td>Barker, 38</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Barker, 38</td>
<td>Barret, 34</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Bartow, 38</td>
<td>Bart, 40</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Bartlett, 73</td>
<td>Bartone, 54</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Bates, 89</td>
<td>Bauer, 71</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Bauer, 71</td>
<td>Baust, 64</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Baxter, 101</td>
<td>Bell, 51</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Bellamy, 103</td>
<td>Belzer, 69</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Belzer, 69</td>
<td>Bendl, 56</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Benes, 62</td>
<td>Benokraitis, 64</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Benokraitis, 64</td>
<td>Beoku-Betts, 60</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Bergeron, 61</td>
<td>Bernier, 57</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Berkovitz, 93</td>
<td>Bernstein, 87</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Bernier, 57</td>
<td>Berty, 87</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Bevacqua, 74</td>
<td>Bhaskaran, 100</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Bhatt, 49</td>
<td>Bhattacharjee, 72</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Bickford, 65</td>
<td>Biewener, 38, 89</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Biswas, 72</td>
<td>Blackmore, 44</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Blackwood, 100</td>
<td>Blantoni-Whetsell, 80</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Block, 49</td>
<td>Bloodsworth, 37, 75, 91</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Bloom, 63</td>
<td>Blum, 62</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Bogad, 34</td>
<td>Bojar, 54</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Boling, 100</td>
<td>Bolker, 76</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Bomber, 67</td>
<td>Boonin, 55</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Boris, 81, 82</td>
<td>Bositan, 106</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Botshon, 80</td>
<td>Bouchard, 69</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Boundy, 35, 50</td>
<td>Bowditch, 58</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Bowen, 49</td>
<td>Bowers, 55</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Bowman, 94, 106</td>
<td>Boyce, 86</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Bracken, 39, 42</td>
<td>Brander, 51</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Bratton, 44</td>
<td>Braunscheider, 58</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Broad, 87</td>
<td>Bread, 61</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Breuning, 37</td>
<td>Breine, 37</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Brice, 71</td>
<td>Brinkley, 60</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Broad, 37, 91</td>
<td>Brodribb, 57</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Bromberg, 71</td>
<td>Brown, 37, 82</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Brown, 86</td>
<td>Brown, 86</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Bruna, 107</td>
<td>Bullock-Jordan, 66</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Bunker, 88</td>
<td>Bunbury, 103</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Bullock-Jordan, 66</td>
<td>Burack, 75, 84</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Burbank, 105</td>
<td>Burge, 50</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Burghardt, 39</td>
<td>Burntchell, 41</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Butler, 90</td>
<td>Byrne, 38</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Byerly, 54</td>
<td>Byrne, 38</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Bystydzienski, 44</td>
<td>Cabot, 37</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Cahill, 38</td>
<td>Cameron, 63</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Cameron, 63</td>
<td>Campbell, 45, 75</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Campoverde, 35</td>
<td>Cannavan, 82</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Cannon, 43</td>
<td>Caplan, 50</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Caputia, 37, 42, 50, 67</td>
<td>Carney, 61</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Carpenter, 58</td>
<td>Carr, 37, 69, 100</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Carroll, 54</td>
<td>Carrubba, 42</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Carruth, 71</td>
<td>Caruso, 65, 92</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Castillo, 39</td>
<td>Cayleff, 65, 85</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Celestin, 89, 95</td>
<td>Cemali, 65</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Cervenakova, 90</td>
<td>Chambers, 80</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Childers, 72</td>
<td>Chandley, 45, 58, 84</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Chowdhary, 50</td>
<td>Clements, 103</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Climo, 89</td>
<td>Coffield, 41</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Cohee, 79</td>
<td>Cooppe, 41</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Cohen, 73, 89</td>
<td>Cohee, 79</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Colton, 74</td>
<td>Conode, 70</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Comeau, 70</td>
<td>Condavv, 38</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Cooke, 85</td>
<td>Cookney, 80</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Cooper, 87</td>
<td>Cooper, 87</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Cordilia, 49</td>
<td>Cosego, 66</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Cote, 102</td>
<td>Covino, 83</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Cotton, 38</td>
<td>Coelho, 82</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Coelho, 82</td>
<td>Culligan, 80</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Cunha, 75</td>
<td>Curnow, 80</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Deitch, 65, 82</td>
<td>Dell, 44</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Dennison, 59</td>
<td>Denison, 80</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>DeShazer, 52</td>
<td>DiCario, 45</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Dickinson, 65</td>
<td>Dickson, 53</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Dienes, 50, 67, 94</td>
<td>DiPalma, 61</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Doblin, 101, 103</td>
<td>Dodson, 62</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Donahue, 57</td>
<td>Donaldson, 80</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Donnelly, 82</td>
<td>Doona, 79</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Dottolo, 70</td>
<td>Douglass, 56</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Doyle, 103</td>
<td>Dreke, 71</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Denevsky, 87</td>
<td>Dresbeck, 75</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Duffy, 63</td>
<td>Dulanek, 36</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Dungan, 85</td>
<td>Eagan, 63</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Eaton, 86</td>
<td>Eck, 54</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Edwards, 83</td>
<td>Ela, 51, 87</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Ehrlich, 39</td>
<td>Eliasova, 90</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Ellermann, 65</td>
<td>Elliott, 107</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Elrod, 35</td>
<td>Emerson, 37</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Emmett, 53</td>
<td>Engel, 56</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Engelhardt, 63</td>
<td>English, 84</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Enloe, 84</td>
<td>Epstein, 76</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Ertel, 82</td>
<td>Esayan, 34</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Espin, 85</td>
<td>Esposito, 74</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Evans, 63</td>
<td>Ezrol, 54, 98</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Fainman-Silva, 100</td>
<td>Fambrough, 53</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Farkas, 75</td>
<td>Farley, 101</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Fast, 37</td>
<td>Feinberg, 74</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Felish, 42</td>
<td>Felesky, 83</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Felix, 62</td>
<td>Ferree, 56</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>
Presenter Index

Ferreira, 85
Ferri, 63
Fetner, 74
Fetterley, 82
Fine, 69
Fink, 34
Fiof-Matta, 44
Firth, 40
Fisch, 80
Fischesser, 72
Fisher, 62
Fishman, 40
Fletcher, 75
Foyan, 45
Fojtova, 90
Fonow, 75
Fonseca, 80
Forbes, 51
Forcey, 62
Foster, 63
Fowler, 91
Frank, 38
Franklin, 39, 58, 89, 93
Freelander, 70
Freibert, 63
Fried, 40
Frid, 43
Froines, 40, 57
Fuchs, 38
Fuecher, 34
Fuller, 71, 74, 98
Fulmer, 53, 70
Gabriner, 66
Gajardo, 87
Galvan, 74
Gapova, 87
Garica, 56
Garland, 107
Garrett, 66
Garrison, 58
Gaynor, 42
George, 34
Gerber, 63
Getz, 50, 60, 71
Ghosh, 61, 72, 85
Gierach, 42
Gilbert, 54
Gil-Gomez, 87
Gilmore, 105
Gines, 50
Giordano, 67
GLAAD, 98, 100, 102, 103
Gleeson, 43
Golden, 89
Gonzalez, 60
Goodstein, 39
Goodwin, 37
Gorelick, 84
Gorikle, 50
Goueffic, 73
Gozenza, 85, 107
Grace, 53
Grant, 40, 62, 67
Greeley, 39
Green, 84, 87
Gremillion, 86
Grewal, 58, 66
Grossman, 62
Guymer, 51, 103
Hackett, 58, 62
Hagahan, 56, 66
Hall, 73
Hallman, 71
Halper, 80
Hammonds, 62
Hampton, 51, 59, 82
Hanish, 79
Hanson, 87
Hanson, 86
Hardin, 92
Harding, 37
Hart, 106
Harvey, 79
Hastings, 100
Hauer, 98
Hawthorne, 42, 51, 82
Heffernan, 54
Heinrich, 38
Helmbold, 54
Helmers, 43
Henderson, 73
Hendren, 71
Henriquez, 55
Hernandez, 39, 57, 58, 98, 107
Hernandez-Gravelle, 49
Hernner, 60, 102, 106
Herzig, 62
Hesby, 34
Higgins, 42, 80, 83
Hill, 55, 84, 87
Hindering, 86
Hirsch, 62
Hirve, 103
Ho, 34
Hobson, 40
Hoffner, 84
Hogan, 62
Holgerson, 44
Holvin, 85
Hope, 40
Horn, 36
Horne, 50, 83
Hoskins, 57
Hosono, 106
Hottinger, 71
Hough, 38, 63
Howard, 90
Huang, 98
Hubert, 35
Hughes, 74
Hunt, 51
Hutchinson, 40
Hutner, 44
Iku, 44
Jackson, 93
Jacobson, 40, 51, 61, 75, 80
Jeffries, 38
Jenks, 62
Johanson, 89
Johnson, 39, 64, 82, 103
Jones, 43, 39, 89
Joost, 34
Joseph, 40, 66
Josephson, 62
Kafre, 43
Kahn, 40
Kakisow, 83
Kajosevic, 79
Kam, 93
Kamau, 54, 74
Kang, 84
Kaplan, 58
Kasic, 87
Kasper, 44
Kaspzak, 43
Katkin, 83
Kaw, 60
Kem, 106
Kemp, 79
Kennedy, 72, 79, 82, 85
Kensing, 51, 57
Kern, 67
Kesselman, 83
Khandelwal, 57
Kil, 44
Killian, 60
Kim, 73, 80, 106
Kimmich, 74
King, 44
Kirsch, 66
Kissinger, 107
Kitch, 52
Kittel, 54
Kittredge, 73
Klett, 95
Klein, 51, 82
Koikari, 44
Koniczki, 98
Koppelman, 50, 70, 74
Korenman, 51
Kozik-Rosabal, 44
Kram, 74
Kronan, 35
Krautz, 99
Kumar, 82
Kumari, 51
Kunreuther, 66
Kuo, 51
Kurth, 61
Kwan, 84
LaFond, 58
Lagerwey-Commeret, 76, 84, 105
Lai, 106
Lamb, 62
Lane, 60
Langellier, 34, 38
Lapin, 70
Lassen, 67
Laughlin, 38
Lauter, 43
Lea, 66, 83
Leder, 51, 55
Lee, 44
Lee, 86
Legler, 37
Leigh, 39
Lemay, 98
Lemon, 98
Lengerer, 107
Leonard, 60
Levin, 94
Levine, 87
Lewis, 58, 75
Lin, 62
Lindauer, 38
Linton, 67, 79
Lisker, 50
Liss, 84
Lochte, 73
Lock, 69
Locke, 69
Loe, 58
Long, 105
Lorenz, 44
Lorenzen, 99
Lott, 70
Love, 98
Lovrod, 74
Lu, 72
Ludwigsen, 58
Lugo-Curry, 91
Luhmann, 40, 45
Lui, 67
Lukic, 87
Lundquist, 59
Lunstrum, 50
Luschen, 53
Lynch, 95
MacCurdy, 69
MacDonald, 34
Machan, 39
Mackey, 98
MacRae, 82
Mather, 61, 79
Malcolmson, 62
Malone-Hawkins, 63
Malson, 43
Mancall, 106
<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Presenter Index</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Mann, 67, 86</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Manoogian, 85</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Mansfield, 42, 54, 85</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Mapp, 87</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Marcias, 87</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Marcus, 62</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Markens, 62</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Marks, 63, 85</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Marotta, 72</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Marshall, 40, 43</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Martinez, 52</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Martinson, 86</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Mast, 81</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Mastrototaro, 36</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Matacian, 38</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Matison, 84</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>matrix, 66</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Mattingly, 85</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Maurer, 85</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>May, 63, 74</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Mayer, 51</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Mayo, 62, 71</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Mazumdar, 72</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>McNaney, 58</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>McFadden, 90</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>McGahan, 93</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>McGowan, 58, 70</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>McGuire, 67</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>McHugh, 38</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>McKibbens, 93</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>McLeer, 34</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>McNally, 36</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Meany, 34</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Meier, 93</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Meiners, 71</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Melzer, 84</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Menke, 79</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Mesh, 49</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Meskimon, 39</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Meyer, 42</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Meyerowitz, 65</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Micham, 63</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Michela, 58</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Milillo, 86</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Millard Daughtery, 53</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Miller, 42, 36, 65, 72, 75, 89</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Miranda, 87</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Miriam, 67, 75, 86</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Mizells, 94</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Moallem, 58, 106</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Montemayor, 36, 65</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Moreno, 87</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Morgan-Cato, 79</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Morris, 105</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Morrison, 37, 107</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Morrow, 64, 80</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Morse, 49</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Moynihan, 54</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Mukarji-Connolly, 98</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Mulvey, 75</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Mumford, 94</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Munley, 107</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Munoz, 56</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Myers, 52, 87, 98</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Nagel, 83</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Najarian, 72</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Najmabadi, 62</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Namias, 37</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Nathanson, 65, 71</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Nather, 61, 65, 79</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Naughton, 101</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Nelson, 69, 83</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Newlove, 43</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Newman, 80, 104, 105</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Newton, 51</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Nge, 65</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Nichols, 37</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Nicholson, 71</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Niebrugg-Brantley, 107</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Nielsen, 52</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Nienhus, 65</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Nixon, 54</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Nordine, 34</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Norman, 70, 72</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Norsigian, 45, 50</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Novak, 53</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Oaks, 58</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>O'Brien, 56, 94</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Olivia, 66</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Olmsted, 72</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Olson, 49</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Onley-Campbell, 62</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Orenstein, 53</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Orkow, 82</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Ortega, 87</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Ortiz, 107</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Orwin, 40</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Osborn, 59</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Osnowitz, 84</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Ostovich,</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Ould, 45, 80, 107</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Oum, 84</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Ozurtuk, 80</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Pam, 70</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Pare, 64</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Paris, 107</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Parker, 34, 51, 75</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Partelenco-Barchi, 70</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Patton, 56</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Paxton, 35</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Payes, 53</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Pearson, 75, 105</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Peet, 62</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Peluso, 36</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Perkins, 103</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Perry, 93</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Peterson, 58</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Pett, 66</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Phillips, 60</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Pierce, 52</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Pillar, 72</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Pinsky, 69, 70</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Plastas, 81</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Plotnik, 67</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Pol, 39</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Polatnick, 64</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Popelka, 93</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Popovicova, 87</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Powell, 60, 67</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Powers, 57</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Pratt, 38</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Preston, 83</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Price, 71</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Probst, 98</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Pryse, 82</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Puri, 86</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Quintanales, 44</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Raimist, 37</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Raissiguer, 69, 81</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Raju, 98</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Rake, 56</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Ramalho, 44, 54, 59, 82, 101</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Rambo, 83</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Ramras-Rauch, 38</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Randall, 59</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Randolph, 71</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Redding, 87, 90</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Reeves, 75</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Reilly, 39, 72</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Ressler, 100, 101</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Rhodes, 64, 69</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Richards, 99</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Riley, 60</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Rinchart, 42</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Robards, 38</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Robinson, 75</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Rodriguez, 43</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Rodriguez, 62</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Roper, 73</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Roseman, 61</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Rosen, 87</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Rosen, 86</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Rosenbaum, 86</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Rosenbloom, 74</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Rosenwasser, 70, 75, 102</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Rosser, 89</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Rossi, 83</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Rothstein, 107</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Rouso, 63</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Rowe, 65, 85</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Rowley, 84</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Rubin, 44, 85</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Ruminski, 36</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Runyan, 64</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Russo, 62, 71, 74</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Ryan, 74</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Ryden, 107</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Sabino, 39</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Sachdev, 55</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Samdahl, 40</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Sameh, 54</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Samuels, 59</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>San Antonio, 85</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Sanbrano, 67</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Sandoval, 89</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Sandoz, 106</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Sanford, 66</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Santos, 39, 45</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Sapinoso, 60, 102, 106</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Sarker, 40</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Savastano, 98</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Saxena, 67</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Scala, 43, 54, 98, 101, 103</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Scheck, 80</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Schellenberg, 54</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Schippers, 82</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Schneiderman, 80</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Schniedewind, 83</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Schonberger, 38</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Schuster, 85</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Scott, 94</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Seabrook, 37</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Sen, 67</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Severin, 54</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Shah, 60, 72</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Shankar, 60</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Shapira, 38</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Shapiro, 53</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Sharkey, 34, 75</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Sharlach, 49</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Sharpe, 80</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Shattuck, 51</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Shaw, 38, 82, 86</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Shaw-George, 80</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Sheffield, 43, 93</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Sheldoning, 76</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Shepardson, 44</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Sheres, 38</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Sheridan, 85</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Short, 49</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Shulman, 84</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Siegel, 53</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Sijek, 42</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Silver, 75</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Simard, 89</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Simmons, 72, 99</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Simpson, 36, 62</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Skachkova, 87</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Skinner, 53</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Slagter, 51</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Sleeter, 92</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Slobin, 75</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Smith, 70</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Smith Madsen, 41</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Smith, 81, 90</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Snow, 50</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Soady, 66</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Sorensen, 82</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Speid, 107</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Sperling, 87</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Spira, 83</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Sposato, 94</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Springer, 87</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>St. Germain, 80</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Steadman, 63</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Steet, 35</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Name</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>-----------------------</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Stefanos, 66</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Stephens, 50, 60</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Sterling, 39</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Sternglanz, 83, 98</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Stevens, 61</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Stinson, 99</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Stockbridge, 45, 107</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Stocker, 45, 58, 86, 107</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Stoll, 80</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Stone, 61, 66</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Stonekey, 101</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Stracuzzi, 62</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Strobel, 36</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Stubbs, 105</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Stuckey, 74</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Subramaniam, 88, 105</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Suennaga, 49</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Sunderland, 70</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Surkan, 89</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Sutton, 83, 84</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Sweet, 52</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Szalay, 50</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Tabachnikov, 107</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Talburt, 83</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Tallen, 70</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Tan, 72</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Taylor, 39, 67, 72</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Templin, 56</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Tenorio, 94</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Thickstun</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Thomas, 43</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Thomas, 54</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Thompson, 57, 81, 82</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Tiberghien, 56</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Tillery, 65, 70, 99</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Tobias, 86</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Toner, 38, 63</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Toth, 38, 50, 70</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Trigilio, 44, 75</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Triolo, 58</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Troka, 103</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Turnbull, 36</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Turner, 50</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Tuttle, 65, 70</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Ulner, 37, 106</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Uttley, 106</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Van Ness, 50</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Van Wagenen Wrin, 89</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>VanHaitsma, 79</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Vanita, 100</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Venkateswaran, 67</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Verasco, 62</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Vesela, 90</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Violet, 87</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Volpp, 106</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Wagner, 50</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Wagoner, 43</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Walas, 75</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Walker, 67, 94</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Walsh, 70, 99</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Waples, 60</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Warner, 58</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Washington, 64, 60, 75</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Waugh, 72</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Way, 51</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Wayne, 66, 80</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Wehrer, 82</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Weichselbaumer, 38</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Weinbaum, 53, 80</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Weiner, 38</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Weisbard, 51</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Werden, 80</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Wernau, 36</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Wexler, 84</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Whalen, 80</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Whatley, 85</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Wheeler, 64, 103</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>White, 63</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Whitten, 105</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Whitton, 56</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Wiegman, 84</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Wilcox, 86</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Wiley, 70</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Williams, 39, 58, 93, 99, 100</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Willis, 35, 39, 59</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Wilson, 62, 75</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Wilshire, 94</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Winans, 106</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Wink, 49</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Winkle, 75</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Winkler, 59, 61</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Wise, 67</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Wiss, 38</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Witherow, 87</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Wolf, 69</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Wolff, 73</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Woods, 86</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Woollett, 40, 43</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Worboy, 83</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Worcester, 68, 85, 93</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Wright, 79</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Wyer, 54, 80</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Wynters, 41</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Wyrick, 89</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Yalon, 107</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Yanow, 40</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Ye, 82</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Yee, 71, 81</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Yoon, 45, 60</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Zaborowska, 84</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Zachariah, 38</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Zandy, 40</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Zaytoun Byrne, 44</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Zelli, 49</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Zepernick, 44</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Zerai, 60</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Zinekgraf, 43</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Zita, 66</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Zoelle, 65</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Zonana, 71</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Zuhur, 88</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>
See you next year in
Minneapolis, MN, June 13-17, 2001

Special embedded conference:
The Future of Women’s Studies: Is It Feminist?

For more information visit the conference website at
www.nwsa.org/nwsa2001/
(under construction - available soon)
The Simmons Campus and Fenway Area

Simmons College Main Campus
1. Main College Building (MCB)
2. Beailey Library (L)
3. Leaver Hall (S)
4. Park Science Center (S)

Simmons College Residence Campus
5. Morse Residence Hall
6. Mesick Residence Hall
7. Evans Residence Hall
8. Bartol Dining Hall
9. North Residence Hall
10. South Residence Hall
11. Holmes Sports Center
12. Health Center
13. Arnold Residence Hall
14. South Residence Hall

College of the Fenway
A. Wheelock College of Pharmacy and Allied Health Studies
B. Emmanuel College
C. Wentworth Institute of Technology

Graduate School of Management
409 Commonwealth Avenue, Boston
Graduate School of Social Work
51 Commonwealth Avenue, Boston

Note: Map not to scale