UNIVERSITY LIBRARIES

Workshop presented at the Libraries Research & Innovative Practice Forum on June 14, 2018

GOALS

1. Gain familiarity with a new active learning technology
2. Use Kahoot! to build a simple classroom quiz
3. Know how to ask for help! ☺

WHY KAHOOT?

Kahoot! is a simple tool that can help instructors to seamlessly blend lecture, participatory activity and assessment in library instruction sessions.

- Pre- and post-session assessment data can be collected on the spot, during the session ensuring 100% response rate
- Student participation is visible - you can see how many students are playing and responding in real time
- Instructors can use the Kahoot to shape the discussion or lecture responsively, depending on where students struggle
- Students can honestly assess gaps in their own knowledge, and comparison to classmates can motivate them to close those gaps
- Fast pace and live results – it's fun!
